The Cotton Caterpillar.

A gentleman from West Wateries reports to us that the cotton worm has made its appearance over there. However, not much damage has been done yet, and it is hoped that something may happen to keep them back until cool weather comes on.

Citadel Cadets.

The examination of applicants for the free scholarships for this county for admission to the Citadel academy in Charleston, came off on the 29th inst. Dr. D. L. Desaussure, Prof. S. H. Clark and Capt. T. H. Clarke comprising the Board of examiners. There were but two applicants for the position—Master John S. Gilbert and Gatewood Workman. It is probable that both of them will be appointed as each county is entitled to two.

Struck by Lightning.

During the storm on last Saturday afternoon lightning struck a large pine tree near the depot, tearing the tree fearfully. The electric current then glanced off to the railroad track, and the shock from the concussion broke a great many glass in the windows of the southern end of the depot.

On the same afternoon the lightning struck Mr. E. G. Ellerbe's stable and killed a fine thorough bred colt.

To Have Good Sidewalks.

According to an ordinance which passed its first reading by Council on last Monday, all owners of lots fronting on Broad street between King and DeKalb streets are compelled to make good sidewalks in front of their respective lots by paving it with brick or stone. All who fail to carry out the provisions of the ordinance will incur a heavy fine. We know this is good news for pedestrians, and especially to persons with tender feet. Our sidewalks are a disgrace to the town, and should have been repaired long ago.

Our Town Charter.

The present charter under which the town of Camden was created a corporate body was granted in 1791. Since that time the powers invested in the board of councilmen have been enlarged, but no new charter has ever been called for. Up to that time the town was indebted to King George III for its charter, which was granted about 1756. This original charter was kept as a relic in the Council Chamber until some time after the close of the late war when some worthless thief stole it from its resting place, and its whereabouts since then is unknown.

For the Better Protection of Life.

At the meeting of Council on Monday last the question of stopping the continual firing of pistols and guns on our streets at night was discussed, and the ordinance relating thereto was so amended as to impose a fine of from $1 to $50, or from one day to thirty days in the County Jail, or both, fine and imprisonment at the discretion of the Council upon any person found guilty of violating this ordinance. This action was thought necessary in order to protect the lives of our citizens from the bullets that are sent flying around in every direction by reckless and drunken rowdies who do not seem to care for the old ordinance that imposes a fine of only $1. By the time a few of them are made to pay $50 into the town treasury, it is to be hoped that the

A Merited Promotion.

We are pleased to learn that Mr. Donald McQueen, formerly a resident of Camden, but who for some years has been head book keeper in the S. O. R. R. office at Columbia, is to be promoted to the position of agent for the S. O. R. R. in that city in the place of Mr. A. B. DeSaussure, who resigns his position to go to Richmond, Va. Mr. McQueen is one of the most competent and thorough business men to be found anywhere, and his ability and integrity entitle him to any position of honor or trust that could be conferred upon him. Merit deserves its reward.

In Demand.

Notwithstanding the scarcity of money in this section at the present time, applications for Camden city bonds continue to come in. The people know that it is the best and safest investment they can make—better than government bonds, for the city bonds pay 7 per cent interest, while the government bonds pay only 3 1/2 and 4 per cent. At the present rate of application it is probable that the whole authorized issue will be taken up as soon as it can be got ready. Our town is comparatively out of debt, and can at any time pay all demands against it, hence its good name.

Turn Out.

Every member of the Democratic clubs in this county should turn out when their club meets to elect delegates to the county convention. That convention should be a representative body of the Democrats of the county, so as leave no room for grumbling after nominations are made. We want unity in the party, and every man who has the interest and welfare of his county at heart will do his duty in trying to induce stragglers to come back and bring it about. A good ticket will bring them back, and this good ticket can only be put in the field by a representative body, therefore let us work to that end.

First Bale.

The first bale of new cotton was brought into town by Mr. Alexander Johnson on the 24th inst., and sold to Capt. Wm. Clyburn for 17 1/2 cents. The grade was low middling.

The first bale of last year was brought in on the 10th of August by Mr. E. L. McGoy, and was bought by Capt. Wm. Clyburn for 15 cents per pound. It was two weeks earlier than the first bale for this year.

Since writing the above we learn that two more bales were brought in on the 25th inst., one by Col. L. M. Smith and one by Joe Belton. They were bought by Capt. Clyburn at good figures.

Labor Union.

It is reported around town that during the past week the shoemakers and other tradesmen have formed labor unions and will refuse to work for any one for less than a certain scale of prices adopted by them. It is also said that the common laborers have formed a union and will strike for higher wages. We doubt the latter report as most of the laborers are under contract, and if they refused to work at the contract price they would get into more trouble than they bargained for. The first may be true, but no one will be hurt much by the move. It is presumed from remarks made by the negroes that J. Hendrix McLane, the Greenback advocate, started the business here, as nothing was heard of it until after he came to Camden.

Rainfall for 1882.

We are indebted to Mr. Colin McRae for a statement of the rain fall in this vicinity for this year, from January 1, 1882, to August 23, 1882, showing the number of days in each month upon which rain fell and the amount:

Days.	Inches.
Jan. 10	3.73
Feb. 7	2.11
Mar. 8	4.18
Apr. 7	2.38
May 4	2.36
June 7	3.98
July 7	2.98
Aug. 10	8.18
Total 60	31.70

Thus it will be seen that during the present month we have had about twice as much rain as during any other month in the year. For sixteen years past there has been more rain in August than in any other month.

The Sad Scene Realized.

Miss Rochella Blair, the young lady who committed suicide last week near Camden, was quite an artist, for an amateur, and had spent many of her girlhood hours in putting on paper and canvases scenes drawn from events in her life, or from imagination. Among others was a piece executed some months ago (before her father's death) which represented a young girl lying dead in the woods near a steep hill, and in the form of three angels hovering over her. The picture is said to be a reproduction of the spot and its surroundings where her dead body was found. The body was found on the foot of Paint Hill, one of the highest points in this vicinity, and from the top of which a most beautiful and lovely landscape presents itself to view. On this hill and through the woods surrounding it (her home was on the top of the hill) she had roamed during the years of her early life, and little dreamed, perhaps, that the picture she painted of it a few months ago was to be the scene of her death. But, alas, time in its flight had caused many changes to come over the rosy dreams of childhood. First, the loss of her beloved mother caused the happy heart to bow down in its sorrow as if it were almost too much for her to endure. Then the sad death of her father almost bereft her of reason, and no doubt caused her to commit the rash act that set the weary spirit free to seek that rest which no earthly power can give.

The circus are wending their way southward. One is to be in Columbia shortly.

It is seldom that a peach is seen in this market now. The supply seems to have been exhausted.

The weather during the past week has been very unfavorable for cotton picking, fodder pulling and haymaking.

There are several cases of typhoid fever in and around Camden at this time, but it is not considered a dangerous type.

The Camden Short Line Railroad is now talked about on every side. We hope and believe that work will be commenced on it in a short time.

The railroad magnates have held a meeting in Atlanta recently, and it is rumored that they intend to raise the rates on freight to and from all points in the South.

This is the finest crop year that any one in this section has ever seen, yet there are growers and farmers around here who are already trying to frame excuses to get out of paying their honest debts.

The farmers tell us that the continued wet weather is causing cotton to shed its fruit to an alarming extent. Also, where the weed is very large and full of foliage the moisture is causing the lower bolls to rot.

To follow J. Hendrix McLane, the chronic office seeker, is an effort to place South Carolina under a worse set of plunderers than Republican rule ever did for it. Money is all they want, no matter who has it to pay.

County Nominations—The Grand Jury.

MR. EDITOR: It is seldom that I allow my feelings to get the best of me, or enough so, to make me write to the papers, but since the county Democratic Executive Committee think it best to have a convention for making nominations for county offices and the Legislature, I thought I would say something to my country friends by way of request and advice. The convention plan for making nominations has been tried to perfection in this county, and it is seldom that the choice of the people is put forward. Big talking and log-rolling do the work in favor of some one who is not acceptable to the majority of voters, while we like a lot of sheep or slaves, fall into line and follow the man who is an enemy to us. An enemy, because he does not represent us and acts directly opposite to our welfare. Now, I am tired of this nonsense, and I hope that the people from the county will assert their rights and not listen to schemers and big talkers. It is nothing but right and proper, following the example set by all the other counties in the State, that the Convention should nominate the very strongest men in the county, ignoring "ringing" and the innocents who appear to be surprised that there is such a thing as a "ring" in the county. Further, that the convention not only nominate candidates for all the elective offices, but hold a ballot and get the votes of the majority as to who should be recommended for the appointive offices from trial justice up. We want a fair trial for all.

It is time now for the people to have a voice in these matters, and let the politicians take a back seat. No hard or harsh words are intended for any of our present office holders.

There is another matter, Mr. Editor, upon which I should like some light. Court will meet in Camden on next Monday, and I am anxious to know if the Grand Jury are going to make their same old stereotyped presentation? We find this at that office in a neat and orderly condition, and the books properly kept. I, as well as all my fellow citizens, would like to know the financial condition of our county.

I have waited long and patiently to see if the Board of County Commissioners would give some light on the subject, but they do not. Their annual statements are so vague that no one whom I have yet seen is able to understand what they mean. It is possible that they might explain it a person were to go to them, but that is not our business. It should be made so plain that any ordinary man could understand it. Will the Grand Jury examine and give us the desired information—the amount of the county indebtedness, etc.—or will they wait until a peremptory order from the Court compels them to perform their duty? I sincerely hope that no questions for information may be answered.

A Trip to Providence.

RAPID COMM. AUG. 26, '82.
DEAR JOURNAL: I am not in the habit of doing anything in the newspaper line, but hearing you say that there was quite a dearth in the way of news, I thought you might find room in your valuable paper for a few lines about my trip-meeting trip.

Having had an invitation to attend a camp meeting which commenced the first of last week at Providence, we started for that place on Saturday, 19th inst. We did not reach there until 9 o'clock P. M., and it being so late it was impossible to find our friends, so we almost came to the conclusion that we would have to camp out. We kept on trying however, to find shelter, and finally, after traveling around until midnight, we arrived at the house of the Hon. W. D. P., who received us very cordially and did everything to make us comfortable. We have since learned that, owing from old Kershaw, have been entertained by this hospitable gentleman. The next day being Sunday we attended divine services, at 11 o'clock A. M., P. M., and also at night. We heard Mr. Wray Dowell of your town who very kindly assisted the Rev. Mr. Chandler. We were quite surprised to learn that Mr. C. had no assistance during the whole week, and it astonished us to see how well this gentleman held out preaching three consecutive days. He is very earnest and eloquent in his exhortations to bring sinners to God, and we learn that some of our people are being won to the Kingdom.

After having been so long in the land, we were glad to see the Rev. Mr. Chandler, who was very cordial in his reception, and we were glad to see how well this gentleman held out preaching three consecutive days. He is very earnest and eloquent in his exhortations to bring sinners to God, and we learn that some of our people are being won to the Kingdom.

amongst them. The ladies were very kind as to much so that we may be induced to change our old bachelor notions, provided we could get a certain one amongst them to think our way. If anything is that way does happen to us we will be sure to let you know.

Providence is in Sumter county, and is quite a place of resort during the Summer season for people living near the river. They spend about three months there to avoid the poisonous malaria of the swamp. The water is very fine and is said to have some medicinal properties. Some of the scenery in this vicinity is grand and picturesque.

The farmers in this section are all jubilant over the prospect of a fine yield of corn and cotton. Politics rather dull. Greenbackism dead.

Yours truly,
DAMASCUS.
