

Increase in Subscription.

As noticed last week the price of the Herald is, from this date, increased to FIFTEEN DOLLARS for three months. Parties sending us ten dollars for subscription will be credited with that amount for two months.

April 13.

Personal.

General Hood and Mrs. Jeff. Davis and family passed through our town Sunday.

We were pleased to notice, also, the Hon. Porcher Miles, and Dr. W. T. Wragg, the former stopping at the Martin House, and the latter the guest of Dr. Ogier.

Salisbury, N. C.

Was attacked on Wednesday the 13th, at daylight, by Stoneman's raiders, 6000 in number. Our force, only 500 strong, could make but feeble resistance, and being at once surrounded, were nearly all captured. But few were killed or wounded. Out of the number it is supposed that only 40 men escaped.

False Rumors.

The many startling rumors afloat since our last issue are, as far as known, unconfirmed. Among the many were that Charlotte had fallen into Stoneman's hands, and that he was marching on Chester, tearing up the rail road as he came along. This is not believed. It is supposed now that Stoneman has not reached Charlotte yet, nor has it been evacuated. The rumor that Gen. Lee had been captured is entirely unfounded, and is believed to be a lie of the enemy's.

What Brigham has to Say!

Brigham Young, the latter day saint, is anxious for the advancement of his kingdom upon the ruins of a wreck of matter and a crush of worlds: In a recent sermon, he said:

"The North prays that their swords may strike into the heart of every rebel, and I say amen! and the South prays that the North may be cut down on a thousand battle-fields, and again I say, amen!"

The men all killed in this Kilkenny fight, we wonder if the old patriarch does not contemplate taking care of the women.

More Light.

Cut off as we are from railroads, telegraphs, and mail bags, we have to depend sometimes upon gas-bags, and the way the "ignorance and credulity of the unsuspecting" is exercised by reliable, is a marvel. The mists and fogs which surround us by day envelop us by night in folds of blackest darkness—for we have not even a tallow dip to shed a sickly, glimmering ray upon the gloom. Would that the chemist might unfold a plan—give us a condenser—for converting these vaporous gas-bags into a fluid capable of emitting light. It might not be impossible for that great, progressive science—chemistry—to evolve light enough to chase away the vague, indefinite, shadowy fantasies from the brain of these mid-night, hap-hazard dreamers.

The Gourmands.

The Anderson Intelligencer pithily notices an editorial of the Greenville Enterprise, in which that editor makes a feeling call upon the country folk to come to the rescue of the village and bring in largely of supplies for the Legislators about to assemble in solemn deliberation. The demand is quite moderate, as all that will be required are, "hams, beef, mutton, turkeys, chickens, butter, eggs, wheat, flour, corn, vegetables, dried fruits, milk, potatoes, &c. Oh, the gourmands! what appetites they must have, and how hungry they will be. As almost everything available, in this time of scarcity, is mentioned, it is left to the imagination to infer what the etcetera means. In sober seriousness, we trust our good law-makers will pay more attention to the important considerations resting upon them, than to their stomachs.

Easter Sunday.

Last Sunday the Festival of Easter was celebrated in St. Luke's (Episcopal) Church.

"This festival, for antiquity and excellence, takes the precedence of all other festivals. It was observed from the very first ages; the only dispute being, not about the propriety of the festival itself, but about the proper day on which it was to be observed. The observation of Easter was at length fixed to one and the same day, by the great general Council of Nice."

The Church was beautifully dressed with evergreens and flowers—a time-hallowed custom—in commemoration of the joyful event of the Savior's resurrection. "Christ our passover is sacrificed for us, and is also risen from the dead, and become the first fruits of them that slept."

The anthems, psalms, lessons, collect, epistle and gospel were all appropriate to the day.

Deaths at the Soldier's Hospital.

Since the 13th instant three soldiers departed this life at the Wayside Hospital. J. Compton, Co. B., 5th Ala., on the 13th April; H. C. Pittman, Co. C., 6th, Ala., on the 15th, and J. E. Byrd, Co. G., 22d Missouri, on the 16th.

The last moments of the dying soldiers were cheered by the presence and kind attention of the ladies who visit the hospital, and the efficient nurses in attendance.

We have been requested to advertise for an active, good natured boy, about fourteen years old, for the hospital.

An appeal is here made to the benevolent, the kind-hearted, friend of the soldier, both in town and country, to send in any little substantial or delicacy usually needed in a hospital. Clean old linen and cotton bandages are also a felt want.

FOR THE HERALD.

The People's Appeal to Delt.

Father of all, of Holy will,
Hear now our cry, beseeching still:
Thy favor, in our country's cause,
To save it from impending woes.

The land thou gavest us, yet our own,
The land of birth, our country, home,
We lose, unless thy favor saves
Thy people from the fate of slaves.

Fathers, husbands, brothers and sons,
Gray-hairs and youth, together run,
Forward, to shield, to save their all.
Alas! what legions daily fall.

Wounded, in pain, weary and sad,
Backward turn many, to homes they had.
But few there be, find homes any more.
The sword and torch, found them before.

Mothers, daughters, sisters and wives,
With sorrow sit, in tears and sighs,
O'er the loss of home and friends,
Waiting the hour, their misery ends.

Hopes and pleasures once enjoyed,
Peace and happiness unalloyed.
Crushed and black, by dismal care,
And sorrows, Oh! too hard to bear.

For endless sins, and evils great,
We're punished Lord, yet what a fate
Awaits thy people, humbled, low,
Thine instrument, our cruel foe.

Thy mercy Lord, we humbly seek
Like trusting children, now so weak,
Avert! from us this dreadful doom,
For love of thine, thy precious son.

Just God, forgive us, all the past,
Give peace, give happiness at last;
Our country, and thy people free,
The Honor, Glory, be to thee.

FROM THE COAST.—From the Macon Telegraph we learn that some weeks ago Colonel Clinch, of the Fourth Georgia Cavalry, and a party of his men, dashed into Fort McAllister, at Genesis Point, and captured the working force of negroes engaged in dismantling the work. About forty were brought away, together with a number of horses. It will be remembered that this was the first point struck by Sherman on reaching the coast, and that it gave him a commanding base for subsequent operations. The fleet opening fire on Colonel Clinch and his party, prevented the work from being held had it been designated to do so.

The attention of a housekeeper was called to a pot of ley hominy. She called the cook and directed the corn to be taken out and they saved, first trying it and finding it to be better soap than she had paid two dollars a pound for. There was about three pecks of corn and thirty quarts of strong ley; and it boiled for four hours. The hominy was cleansed and eaten. This is no joke, and the man who talked of making soap from shucks must have meant corn. This lady has eleven quarts of better soap than some of our hard cases would have charged her full forty dollars for.
