RAILROAD SCHEDULE. Up Day Train 9:55 A. M. Down Day Train 7:30 P. M. Up Night Train 2:20 A. M. Down Night Train 11:53 P. M.

LOCAL.

FOR MAYOR GEO. BOLIVER.

ALDERMEN JAS. F. IZLAR. JOHN M. THOMPSON. J. W. CANNON. J. W. MOSELEY.

BIBLE SOCIETY. The Orangeburg Bible Society will meet at the Lutheran Church to-morrow evening, address by the Rev. J. B. Campbell.

HORSES FOR SALE. See W. A. Merouys advertisement in another column, he is offering a lot of good horses, and a wagon cheap for sale.

NEW COTTON. The first bale of new cotton was sold in our market on 24th August to Messrs Bull, Scoville & Pike for 13 cts., this was brought by Mr. M. Ulmer.

SUMMER WATCHMAN. What has become of our friend? We have not seen him for the past three weeks, we know he has not "gone up" but would like to see him come down our way.

BASE BALL "JUNIOR". The "Independants" of this place played a game with the "Four Holers" yesterday we have not learned the result yet but have no doubt the Independants will be O. K.

HAM FRY. We cannot report the proceedings of the sweet crowd that indulged in the above, in this issue, but the "minutes" will appear next week. A little patience gentlemen, and you shall see yourselves as others saw you.

ELECTION. We publish to-day a ticket for Mayor and Aldermen that we feel free to recommend to our fellow citizens, and have no doubt of the election of the gentlemen, if they consent to serve, that, trust they will do, for the general good.

T. KOHN & BRO. Change their advertisement with this issue, go and buy some of their cheap long cloths, they have lots of goods that they do not mention, but would show with pleasure, and want out of the way before the new stock comes in.

RURAL CAROLINIAN. This interesting Monthly puts in its appearance again, with its September issue, full as usual with an interesting variety of matter, peculiarly interesting to farmers. The planter who does not read this Magazine, must be behind the age.

Dr. A. M. Snider brought in for our inspection a splendid Otter, which he had fairly run down and killed, he was a rousing big fellow, and the Doctor being anxious to take him alive, ran him for a long time, through woods and water, but was finally compelled to kill him.

MOVING. Mr. Crumper still has Mr. Ezekiel's house in the street, and at the date of these writings, has it squirming around Mr. Louis' corner, we rather think the best plan would have been to pull down the house, and move it piece meal or else sold it, but "every one to his taste" as the old &c., said.

BAGGING AND TIES. C. D. Kortjeh has just received a very large supply of the above, of all prices and grades, he bought before the recent advance in the market, and can sell cheap, all you cotton packers go and see him, besides these he has a magnificent stock of boots and shoes, groceries, liquors &c.

JUDGE THOMPSON H. COOKE. In paying our town a flying visit, and receiving many pleasant greetings, and hand shakes from his old friends, although Greenville claims him now, this place is the Judge's old home, and he may come back to this Circuit yet. It scarcely necessary to say his honor looks well.

HORSE NOTES. Mr. J. W. Cannon tells us in his advertisements that he has opened a livery and sale stable, upon the lot in rear of his store, and will buy, sell, hire, trade, or feed, any thing in the horse, mule, or jackass line, the old Kentucky statesman "Henry Clay" has taken apartments there and will receive visitors until further notice.

TRIAL JUSTICES' COURTS. Business in this line has been quite active, with both of the Trial Justices for this place, during the past week, various cases of assault and battery, petit larceny, trespass, ejection, &c., &c., have been disposed of, and lots of trifling and petty quarrels made up between the parties, and they sent home rejoicing.

THE MARKET. We call the attention of our friends through the country to our report of the cotton and provision markets in this issue, this report we shall continue through the season. The gentleman whose names appear in them have kindly consented to correct them weekly, and farmers may rely upon their correctness.

DERMATOLOGIST. Superinduced by the signification of this pre-coetenean word the synonym of the nomenclature inherent to prestidigitators, we would explain that Mr. A. H. Lewin is a barber and a first class one too, see his advertisement, fresh from the great Metropolis he has all of the scientific touches, necessary to the proper manipulation of hair or beard. Try him on our guarantee.

HOOK AND LADDER. We learn that parties from Blackville are negotiating with the Elliott Hook and Ladder Company for the purchase of their apparatus, a new Company having been formed at that place. The Elliotts we hear are disposed to part with their Truck, with a view of getting another of a different style, and better suited to the particular views of the Company. The apparatus they now have is a first rate one, and they may go further and fare worse.

PROFANITY. It is seldom that any one, can spend a half hour upon our street, without being greeted with a selection of choice profanity, that grates harshly upon the ears of those unaccustomed to this accomplishment. Cursing and swearing are especially prohibited by the General Statutes of our State, and a specific fine laid down for this misdemeanor, and besides Trial Justices are required to take cognizance of such offences. We publish this, for the benefit of those parties who are in the habit of engaging in angry discussions upon the public streets, and forgetting themselves, use such language as bring them within the reach of the law.

METHODIST CHURCH. We see that this building is undergoing repairs, and we are glad to see it too, it has shown for sometime past the evident want of it, and now our Methodist friends have taken the matter fairly in hand, there is no doubt but that they will see the church put in proper order. We learn that they intend to expend about six hundred dollars in the repairs, preparatory to the annual meeting of the M. E. Church, South, which occurs at this place in December next.

MAJ. A. B. KNOWLTON. We had the pleasure on Thursday, of welcoming home this gentleman, the Major has been making an extended tour through the Northern and Western States, and part of Canada, and comes back home thoroughly invigorated, and prepared for the approaching winters work. He speaks in the highest terms of the Western crops, and of the general appearance of plenty, that pervades the entire country. Judging from the fine appearance of the Major we would like to take just such a trip ourselves.

FIRE. We learn that on Thursday last, about 8 A. M., the dwelling of Mrs. A. S. Tharin at her Poplar Spring's place, caught fire from the stove pipe, and was entirely consumed together with all of its contents, the loss will reach three thousand dollars, and has no insurance upon it.

Mrs. Tharin wishes to thank her neighbors, white and colored, for their kind assistance, unfortunately the fire had progressed too far, to render their efforts of any avail, except in the preservation of the outbuildings. We sympathize with Mrs. Tharin in this misfortune.

A DRAMA. "SHOE FLY" IN 3 ACTS. ACT THE FIRST. Merchant discovers two pair of shoes taken from his store and hidden under his back steps, informs his partner, and both keep a look out for the thief to come for them, no thief come.

ACT THE SECOND. Night comes on, and merchant hides behind an old barrel, with five barrels in his hand, and still looks out for thief, nine o'clock arrives and so does thief. Tableau, merchant springs on him and presents the five barrels, then thief runs, merchant shoots wildly falls down, shoots again, thief runs, curtain falls to slow music.

ACT THE THIRD. Merchant recognizes thief, gets warrant from Trial Justice, thief apprehended, brought up, pleads guilty, pays fine and costs, majesty of the law satisfied, go and sin no more, Selah. Curtains falls again.

HOW TO DO IT. We stopped in at the corner store yesterday, and Bill was trying to fold up a coat he had been showing a customer, first he doubled the collar in, smoothed down the back, and carefully turned over the two sides, the coat was all right, but one sleeve hung out, so Bill looked a minute, unfolded it, and said "confound," straightened the coat out, rubbed it down, patted its back, folded up both sleeves, turned one lappel over and then the other, then in folding both together a button caught in his sleeve and pulled the cussed thing all to pieces, just then Bill said "drat" he was a little vexed, but Bill is all pluck and he determined to beat that coat, if it took him all winter, so he opened it to its full extent, carefully turned the collar down, got up on the counter and stamped it, jumped down and folded one front over, went to the scales and got the five hundred pound weight, and mashed it down, doubled up the sleeves, and remarked again "drat" folded the other side, and mashed that with the weight, folded the two edges together, and said "drat" caught the tail, turned it over just up to the collar, and smoothed down the turning place, just then Willie jerked the piece of string from under it to tie up some sugar with, and pulled the coat off the counter, Bill did not say "drat" but it sounded as if it began with a D. he may be wrestling with that coat yet for all we know.
