

change of the people, who have ever delighted in the study of the sciences, and who have endeavored perseveringly and patiently, to make them useful for the practical purposes of life. To a monk of Cologne—a city not 100 miles distant from this—the credit belongs of having furnished the nations of the earth with gunpowder. Five centuries have elapsed since that period, and notwithstanding the millions of individuals which it has been instrumental in cutting down, it has exercised a salutary influence, civilizing and bettering the condition of the human race. The present edition, if it be not over-estimated, is destined to drive it altogether out of use, and to extend the power of liberal institutions and, through them, Christianity, to the most remote and benighted regions of the earth. America will be so fortified in her strength, as to assume a wholly invincible position with reference to other powers and States; and actuated by the nobility of all desires, to spread her principles and to establish and perpetuate universal peace, the place assigned her in the CHIEF OF NATIONS.

"Whoever the bright orb of heaven shall visit
Her honor and the greatness of her name
Shall be, and make the nation she shall flourish
And, like a mountain cedar, reach her branches
To all the plain about her."

We are greatly gratified to learn that the Hon. John L. Manning has established a scholarship in the S. C. College for the education of indigent and clever young men. This beautiful act of munificence excites more admiration than surprise—coming from one of Col. Manning's liberal heart and enlightened mind—and well merits a name which for three generations has been beloved and honored in our State. The name of the grandfather is inscribed on the field of Eutaw—that of the father, who was a Representative in Congress and Governor of the State, belongs to our history, and is deeply written on the hearts of those who knew him—and now a Manning Scholarship inscribes the name upon the most cherished institution of our State.

In such an appropriation of wealth there is a most complex beneficence. It involves the dissemination of learning—that noblest purpose to which the human intellect can be directed. It relieves the pressure of poverty in cases where that pressure is most bitterly felt—where the instinctive aspirations of vigorous minds and the genial current of high measures are frozen by it. It is an act of gratitude and affection to the donor's Alma Mater, setting an example to others which it is to be hoped may not be without its effect.

We understand that a very broad liberality as to the organization and management of the fund is entrusted to the Faculty, and we doubt not that they will promptly make it as effectual as possible. We are sure their hearts will be engaged in the next to the highest measure of administration.

TO THE PUBLIC.

THE Session of Congress, which is about to terminate, will be long and gratefully remembered by all true republicans for the triumphant success of many of their cherished principles and measures. While we heartily rejoice at the triumph of the principles which it has been our constant effort to advocate and defend, and from which no prosperity, no adversity, can swerve us, we cannot be unmindful of the attitude of both houses of Congress: we allude to the contemplated withdrawal of their patronage from the newspaper press. To this decision we cheerfully bow, sensibly as we are of the patriotic motives which have led to it. But we trust that this decision of Congress increases rather than diminishes in claim to the support of a higher power for that of the people, and to them we confidently appeal to aid us, by their patronage, in sustaining at the seat of government a journal that is indefatigably devoted to the interests of the country.

It is known to every one, that the chief source of sustaining a newspaper is not the magnitude of its subscription list, so much as the advertising patronage which may be bestowed upon it. In large commercial cities, indeed, the latter is usually the concomitant of the former, as it becomes the obvious interest of mercantile men to advertise in those papers which are the most extensively circulated. Washington, however, is differently situated. Deprived of the advertising patronage incident to a mercantile community, and burdened with peculiar and enormous expenses which are not elsewhere incurred, nothing but a very long list of subscribing patrons can sustain a paper in usefulness. If, indeed, even in existence. The proprietors of the "Union" have hitherto spared no pains, and no expense, to make their paper worthy of the metropolis, and worthy of the support of that great party under whose banner they are enlisted. In publishing the most full and ample debates of the two houses of Congress, it is believed, ever before attempted on this continent in a daily newspaper, they have secured the services of the best reporters which the country afforded, but at the enormous cost of $12,000 or $15,000 per year. Their extensive foreign and domestic correspondence is another large item of expense, but the instructive usefulness of which is so highly commended and appreciated as to justify almost any outlay to attain it. Still, it must be evident that these heavy expenses cannot be borne, unless the subscription list is commensurate to the undertaking; and although we can boast of 15,000 subscribers, (including daily, tri-weekly, and weekly,) but this list must be still considerably enlarged to enable the proprietors of the "Union" to sustain all its usefulness and to insure them against pecuniary loss. Invoking then, again, the aid and support of all true friends of republican government, and pledging ourselves to renewed efforts in the cause of the glorious principles we cherish, we offer the following proposals:

The "DAILY UNION" will be published, as heretofore, at $10 per annum, payable in advance. Its character hitherto has been almost exclusively political. We purpose in future to devote a portion of its columns to domestic news of general interest, and to miscellaneous literature, which, without impairing its political influence, may render it the more acceptable to an extended class of readers.

The "SEMI-WEEKLY UNION" will be published every Monday and Thursday, during the recess of Congress, at $5 per annum. This contains all the matter contained in the "Daily Union," except local advertisements. During the sessions of Congress three numbers, instead of two, will be issued, without any extra charge to subscribers.

ENLARGEMENT OF THE WEEKLY UNION.

The "WEEKLY UNION" is issued every Saturday; and as arrangements are in progress to enlarge it near double its present size, we shall soon be enabled to give nearly every article which may appear in the daily and semi-weekly editions, at the extreme low rate of $2. We propose also to give, in this edition, a complete synoptical summary of the proceedings in both houses of Congress—thus rendering the "Weekly Union" a most valuable channel of information to all classes of our country. But, to remunerate us for this enterprise, an extensive subscription list is absolutely indispensable.

We seize this opportunity to add that some delay has taken place in putting our paper to press, which has prevented its early delivery to our readers, and consequently circumscribed its circulation. We shall make arrangements to remedy this defect, and to obviate this objection. After the present week we trust that no complaint will be made upon this subject.

CONGRESSIONAL REGISTER.

In addition to the foregoing, we have resolved to publish, during the sessions of the national legislature, a "Congressional Register," to be issued weekly, and to contain a FULL REPORT of the daily proceedings and debates of both houses. Indeed, the arrangements which we have made with the very best corps of reporters will enable us to give even more full and extended reports than we have produced during this session, superior as we claim them to be to any preceding ones. The Register will be made up from the daily reports in the "Union," carefully revised by an experienced editor, and will constitute a complete and authentic record of the session. An appendix will be added, uniform with the Register and to be sent gratuitously to subscribers, comprising a list of the acts passed during the session, with a synopsis of their contents, and a reference, when necessary, to previous legislation. This will form the most complete history of the sessions of Congress, and will be furnished at the low price of SEVENTY-FIVE CENTS for the next session.

POSTMASTERS are authorized to act as our agents; and by sending us five yearly subscribers, with the subscription money, for either the Daily Semi-Weekly, or Weekly, will be entitled to one copy of the same edition as they furnish us subscribers for.

The CONGRESSIONAL REGISTER will be furnished them on the same terms.

NEWSPAPERS publishing our prospectus, with the notes attached, until the 1st of December next, will be entitled, during the next session of Congress, to receive a copy of the Congressional Union and Tri-Weekly Union.

Copies will be furnished.

- 5 copies of the Daily for $40 00
- 5 " " Semi-Weekly, 20 00
- 10 " " do, 35 00
- 5 " " Weekly, 8 00
- 10 " " " 15 00
- 20 " Congressional Register, 10 00

The name of no person will be entered upon our books unless the payment of the subscription be made in advance.
