THE BRADFORD SPRINGS FEMALE ACADEMY

The exercises of this Institution will be resumed on the 15th of January, 1847. The interest manifested towards his en terprise, has induced the Principal to purchase the establishment, and he is now engaged in making extensive improvements on the buildings and grounds.

The location, after having undergone the test of more than a half-ceutury, as a place of resort for health, certainly needs no new commendation. And the writer, (having a very strong consumptive tendency. from his own experience during the last very severe winter, believes that the dryness of the atmosphere renders this one of the best winter, as well as summer residences, that can be selected in the Southern country. As regards health, economy, and freedom from the influences that ofte: retard the progress of young ladies in vil lages and towns, this Institution present peculiar advantages: to which may be added, refined and intelligent society in its

It is the purpose of the Principal to build up an institution in which a thorough and, at the same time, accomplished edu cation may be obtained; and regarding all education as radically defective, which spirit and precepts of the Gospel, he will and intelligent members of society.

The Southern and Western LITERARY MESSENGER AND REVIEW. FOR 1847.

This is a Monthly Magazine devoted to very department of Literature and the Fine Arts. It is the union of Simms' Southern and Western Monthly Magazine and Review," of South Carolina, with "THE SOUTHERN LITERARY MES-SENGER.

The Messenger has been established more than Twelve years, - much longer than any other Southern work ever existed,-during which it has maintained the highest rank among American Periodicals. Under this new Title it will strive to extend its fame and usefulness.

its contributors are numerous,-embracing Professional and Amateur writers of the first distinction; so that its pages will be filled with the choicest matter, of great variety, - such as Reviews, Historical and Biographical Sketches, Novels, Tales, Travels, Essays, Poems, Critiques, and Papers on the Army, Navy and other National Subjects .-Party Politics and Controversial Theology are excluded.

Whilst the "Messenger and Review"

addresses itself to the SOUTH AND WEST. and confidently appeals to them for even a more extensive patronage to the only Literary Journal of long and high standing, in all their wide borders, it is not sectional,-having always circulated widely in the North and East, and aimed at impart ing a HIGHER NATIONAL CHARAC TER to our Periodical Literature. THE THIRTEENTH VOLUME. Will commence on the 1st of January, 1847; and neither pains nor expense will he spared to make it eminently worthy of patronage. Among other things, it will contain a HISTORY OF VIRGINIA ; and arrangements will be made for procuring a regular and early sapply of Notices of New Works and other Literary intelligence. Orders for the work can be sent in lished in monthly numbers. Each number contains not less than 64 large super-royal pages, printed on good type, and in the best manner, and on paper of the most beautiful quality.

2. The 'Messenger and Review' is mailed en or about the first day of every month in the year.
