

For President, WINFIELD SCOTT HANCOCK. For Vice-President, WILLIAM H. ENGLISH. For Governor, JOHN H. HAGOOD. For Lieutenant-Governor, J. D. KENNEDY. For Comptroller-General, J. C. COIT. For Secretary of State, R. M. SIMS. For Attorney-General, LEROY F. YOUNG. For Superintendent of Education, HUGH S. THOMPSON. For Adjutant and Inspector-General, ARTHUR M. MANIGAUET. For State Treasurer, JOHN PETER REINHARDSON. For Congress—Fourth District, JOHN H. EYSS. For Solicitor—Sixth Circuit, T. C. GASTON.

DR. R. V. PIERCE, OF ROCHESTER, N. Y., who makes pills and sits in Congress, finds the occupations incompatible. Being an honest man he makes more money by pills than by bills, and he has resigned his seat and gone back to his laboratory.

THE DEMOCRATS HAVE ABOUT finished a canvass of Indiana and report a majority of ten thousand. The Republican canvass just concluded shows a Republican majority of ten thousand. The Greenback canvass is not complete. Whether they will also claim a majority of ten thousand remains to be seen. Good counters, these Indiana.

MR. JAMES G. BLAINE RISES WITH A solemn protest that he is not engaged in manipulating the returns, and then prophesies that the result will not be known until the Legislature opens the official returns in January. The returns at Democratic headquarters show pretty conclusively that Plained is elected. Several errors in favor of him have been detected.

THE GEORGIA CANVASS RATTLES along excitedly. Both factions are in dead earnest and each is trying to capture the colored vote. Strange to say Colquitt seems most popular with Republicans, though representing the organized Democracy. Colquitt papers claim for their men a majority of fifty thousand. They will take less.

JOHN W. FORNEY TELEGRAPHED ON Saturday from Pittsburg, the Gibraltar of Pennsylvania Radicalism, that the largest mass-meeting in Western Pennsylvania since 1840 was then assembled for Hancock. Ben Butler was speaking and he was to follow. The chairman was Marshall Swartzwelder, one of the most influential Republicans in the West, and there were one hundred and thirty Hancock Republican vice-presidents. According to Forney, Western Pennsylvania is ablaze for confederation and Hancock.

DR. J. G. WESTMORELAND, of Atlanta, in a communication to the paper charged Senator Brown with sitting in the Executive office during Colquitt's absence on the stump, and having his son to draw checks to bribe Republicans to vote for Colquitt and a Brown Legislature. Mr. J. S. Brown, a son of the Senator, pronounced this a lie, and Dr. Westmoreland challenged him. Both parties were put under bond, and nothing since then has transpired, though it is reported that bloody specks still float upon the political horizon.

COOKING HAS MADE A GREAT SPEECH in New-York, arraigning the Solid South. They are poor, he says, and therefore not entitled to rule. He predicts all sorts of dreadful things from Democratic supremacy, among them the subdivision of Texas into four States with eight Senators, the jacking of the Supreme Court, and the repayment of the illegal cotton tax. It is worthy of remark that the only place, during this campaign, at which the name of the Republican President, Hayes, has been reported as being hissed, was this self-same meeting.

Indiana, Indiana is red-hot and still heating. The unexpected result in Maine has served the Democrats to desperation and aroused the Democrats to the liveliest enthusiasm. The Greenbackers are also playing on a harp of a single string, with praiseworthy energy—the single string being the re-election of De la Matry to Congress. All the celebrities are looking to the Hoosier State. Senator Barnum directs the Democratic campaign in person, with English, Hendricks, McDonald, Voorhees and Landers, as adjutants. Ben Butler, Grant, Brown, Lyman Trumbull, General Sherman and McQuade and others will mount the rostrum in a few days. On the other hand, Logan, New, Dorsey, Harrison, Stoughton, Bob Ingersoll and a whole team of lesser Radical lights are whooping up the State for Garfield. The New York Herald says the first attempt of the Democrats was to coquette with the Greenbackers, by offering to support De la Matry for Congress in return for a withdrawal of the Greenback State.

From the New York Herald, September 14th. The Republicans of Maine seem to have "reckoned without their host." Instead of the handsome victory which they boastfully proclaimed on Saturday and Sunday they have had a narrow escape from defeat—if indeed it be an escape, which is improbable. The gains on the vote of last year, which they so confidently predicted, have turned out to be losses. The result is calculated to encourage, not them, but the Democrats. The Republicans have done their utmost in canvass. No stone has been left unturned. Senator Blaine has managed the campaign in person; his animating voice has been heard in every part of the State. Besides a host of native orators a great array of first rate speaking talent has been subsidized from other States, making the canvass one of the liveliest in recent years. Maine boasts of a large number of sailors, and a great number of the Republican canvassers were called home to vote. All of the government clerks in Washington who are citizens of Maine got leave of absence and reduced railroad fares to participate in the election. The arrangements for canvassing aged persons to the polls were very complete. The weather has been fine, and the weather favored the Democrats. Moreover, Mr. Weaver, the greenback candidate for the Presidency, was induced to go to Maine and attempt to divide and demoralize the fusionists. And yet in spite of all these efforts and advantages, the Republicans have either lost the State or have come so near losing it as to make their recent boasts ridiculous. They estimated their majority at not less than five thousand, and some of the more sanguine put it as high as ten thousand. It is falling off from great expectations to find it doubtful whether they have a majority at all, and not improbable that the fusion ticket is elected.

A GIRL'S LONG NAP.—Scarcely less astonishing than Dr. Tammes' recent feat of fasting is the condition of a young lady, the daughter of the Mayor of Trumbull, a large iron breeder, who is said to be fast asleep since the second week in January, with the exception of a few hours of semi-wakefulness at intervals of from six to eight weeks. It appears that she lies plunged into a profound slumber and entirely unconscious of all that goes on around her night and day, reclining on her right side, and covered over her head with a light gauze spread over her head. Nutrition, evidently in a liquid form, is daily administered to her, which she swallows without awaking for a second. She is a pretty, slender girl, of a pallid complexion; but she does not lose in weight during her trances of from forty to sixty days, and when awake exhibits cheerful disposition and an eager desire to perform such household tasks as her strength enables her to fulfill. Her father is a well-to-do man, who has considered several eminent medical men in the hope of discovering some remedy for his daughter's morbid condition, which entails serious anxiety upon the other members of his family; but all efforts hitherto made to keep the morbidly asleep have resulted in total failure. Since the case of the sleepy child at Trumbull, no such interesting subject for study and observation on the part of the faculty has arisen since that of the strangely somnolent burgomaster's daughter of Trumbull.—London Telegraph.

A TERRIBLE REVENGE.—A little lady satisfied herself with a peculiar revenge recently at the Grand Central Hotel in Tahoe City, on Lake Bigler, Nevada. The place is a kind of Western summer resort. The lady came there with her two children, all dressed in very costly and even painful. The smells of vomit and blood up their noses at her; she must be nobody, so she was given to understand that she must consider herself smothered. This thing went on for some days, till at last she sent home to San Francisco for the rest of her clothing and those of her children. Next morning she came to breakfast in a magnificent morning dress made by Worth, and profusely ornamented with diamonds, and her two little children were dressed up to look as pretty as pictures. Everybody seemed anxious to see "good morning, Mrs. Smith," but Mrs. Smith didn't get out a word to any very cordial extent, but she looked at the snobs. She did what politicians required but that was all, and was extremely distant to all. She cut them this way for about a week, then packed up her fine Saratoga trunks and sent them home, and remained her plain and comfortable vacation clothes.

RENDERING COTTON GOODS INCOMMODIOUS.—Dr. Keizer, of the State Board of Health of Michigan, in a report addressed before a sanitary meeting in that State, has made an excellent suggestion that cotton fabrics, with special reference to articles of clothing—could be prevented from taking fire by the simple expedient of adding a little borax to the starch with which the goods in question are dressed. The quantity recommended is a teaspoonful of borax to each pint of starch after the latter is dissolved in water. The use of the borax is entirely unobjectionable, being quite harmless and very cheap. The speaker showed by experiment that muslin, and even the most gauzy and flammable textile starch could be made to take fire and burn with a blaze; and he most properly inferred that if cotton fabrics are starched and underclothing were prepared by this simple method, many distressing accidents and frequent loss of life from the ignition of clothing might be prevented.—Detroit's Chronicle.

RAPIDLY GAINING WEALTH.—Honesty won pennies fall into the pocket slowly. Fortunes that spring up like Jack's bean-stalk have either no foundation, or are built up by tricky art and cheating. There is no more ungodly expedient than that if a man gets rich rapidly he does so at the detriment of some other person. Some are indeed accumulate wealth rapidly without incurring the charge of dishonesty; for the world judges very leniently of successful efforts. But if their acts be subject to the test of Bible law, they will be found violative of sublime code. The merchant, by one venture, gains a profit of many thousands. No human law is outraged. But is not his gain another's loss, and has he not broken that Divine injunction which bids us have as tender a regard for the interests of our neighbor as for our own? Has he not, in making this lucky bargain, taken a measure of some one's folly or misfortune? All subjects to this test—and it is by this that we are to be finally judged—how few could come forth with the remark "honest" upon them!

WHERE PRINTERS DON'T GO.—A printer doesn't rush to the doctor every time he is out of "sorts." Nor to the baker when he wants "flour." Nor to a wood pile when he wants a "stick." Nor to the cabinet shop when he wants "furniture." Nor to the bank when he wants "quoin." Nor to his girl when he wants "go to press." Nor to a lawyer when he has a "dirty case." Nor to old cheese when he wants "five matter." Nor to a butcher when he wants "fat." Nor to a pump when he is thirsty and has five cents in his pocket.—Buffalo Courier.

VALUABLE PUPPETS.—Remenyi's 3 fiddlers are valued at $13,000. The oldest, "the Prince," was made hundreds of years ago by Nicoli Amati, value $6,000. It is seldom used. The second, "the Princess," was made by a pupil of Amati, the celebrated Stradivarius, and is used for concert purposes, value $5,000. The third instrument was made by Mr. Colton, of Belmont. The work is done entirely by hand. Should Mr. Colton live to be a very old man, he will only be able to complete about fifteen puppets. Remenyi calls it "the Crown Prince."

From the New York Herald, September 14th. The Republicans of Maine seem to have "reckoned without their host." Instead of the handsome victory which they boastfully proclaimed on Saturday and Sunday they have had a narrow escape from defeat—if indeed it be an escape, which is improbable. The gains on the vote of last year, which they so confidently predicted, have turned out to be losses. The result is calculated to encourage, not them, but the Democrats. The Republicans have done their utmost in canvass. No stone has been left unturned. Senator Blaine has managed the campaign in person; his animating voice has been heard in every part of the State. Besides a host of native orators a great array of first rate speaking talent has been subsidized from other States, making the canvass one of the liveliest in recent years. Maine boasts of a large number of sailors, and a great number of the Republican canvassers were called home to vote. All of the government clerks in Washington who are citizens of Maine got leave of absence and reduced railroad fares to participate in the election. The arrangements for canvassing aged persons to the polls were very complete. The weather has been fine, and the weather favored the Democrats. Moreover, Mr. Weaver, the greenback candidate for the Presidency, was induced to go to Maine and attempt to divide and demoralize the fusionists. And yet in spite of all these efforts and advantages, the Republicans have either lost the State or have come so near losing it as to make their recent boasts ridiculous. They estimated their majority at not less than five thousand, and some of the more sanguine put it as high as ten thousand. It is falling off from great expectations to find it doubtful whether they have a majority at all, and not improbable that the fusion ticket is elected.

A GIRL'S LONG NAP.—Scarcely less astonishing than Dr. Tammes' recent feat of fasting is the condition of a young lady, the daughter of the Mayor of Trumbull, a large iron breeder, who is said to be fast asleep since the second week in January, with the exception of a few hours of semi-wakefulness at intervals of from six to eight weeks. It appears that she lies plunged into a profound slumber and entirely unconscious of all that goes on around her night and day, reclining on her right side, and covered over her head with a light gauze spread over her head. Nutrition, evidently in a liquid form, is daily administered to her, which she swallows without awaking for a second. She is a pretty, slender girl, of a pallid complexion; but she does not lose in weight during her trances of from forty to sixty days, and when awake exhibits cheerful disposition and an eager desire to perform such household tasks as her strength enables her to fulfill. Her father is a well-to-do man, who has considered several eminent medical men in the hope of discovering some remedy for his daughter's morbid condition, which entails serious anxiety upon the other members of his family; but all efforts hitherto made to keep the morbidly asleep have resulted in total failure. Since the case of the sleepy child at Trumbull, no such interesting subject for study and observation on the part of the faculty has arisen since that of the strangely somnolent burgomaster's daughter of Trumbull.—London Telegraph.

A TERRIBLE REVENGE.—A little lady satisfied herself with a peculiar revenge recently at the Grand Central Hotel in Tahoe City, on Lake Bigler, Nevada. The place is a kind of Western summer resort. The lady came there with her two children, all dressed in very costly and even painful. The smells of vomit and blood up their noses at her; she must be nobody, so she was given to understand that she must consider herself smothered. This thing went on for some days, till at last she sent home to San Francisco for the rest of her clothing and those of her children. Next morning she came to breakfast in a magnificent morning dress made by Worth, and profusely ornamented with diamonds, and her two little children were dressed up to look as pretty as pictures. Everybody seemed anxious to see "good morning, Mrs. Smith," but Mrs. Smith didn't get out a word to any very cordial extent, but she looked at the snobs. She did what politicians required but that was all, and was extremely distant to all. She cut them this way for about a week, then packed up her fine Saratoga trunks and sent them home, and remained her plain and comfortable vacation clothes.

RENDERING COTTON GOODS INCOMMODIOUS.—Dr. Keizer, of the State Board of Health of Michigan, in a report addressed before a sanitary meeting in that State, has made an excellent suggestion that cotton fabrics, with special reference to articles of clothing—could be prevented from taking fire by the simple expedient of adding a little borax to the starch with which the goods in question are dressed. The quantity recommended is a teaspoonful of borax to each pint of starch after the latter is dissolved in water. The use of the borax is entirely unobjectionable, being quite harmless and very cheap. The speaker showed by experiment that muslin, and even the most gauzy and flammable textile starch could be made to take fire and burn with a blaze; and he most properly inferred that if cotton fabrics are starched and underclothing were prepared by this simple method, many distressing accidents and frequent loss of life from the ignition of clothing might be prevented.—Detroit's Chronicle.

RAPIDLY GAINING WEALTH.—Honesty won pennies fall into the pocket slowly. Fortunes that spring up like Jack's bean-stalk have either no foundation, or are built up by tricky art and cheating. There is no more ungodly expedient than that if a man gets rich rapidly he does so at the detriment of some other person. Some are indeed accumulate wealth rapidly without incurring the charge of dishonesty; for the world judges very leniently of successful efforts. But if their acts be subject to the test of Bible law, they will be found violative of sublime code. The merchant, by one venture, gains a profit of many thousands. No human law is outraged. But is not his gain another's loss, and has he not broken that Divine injunction which bids us have as tender a regard for the interests of our neighbor as for our own? Has he not, in making this lucky bargain, taken a measure of some one's folly or misfortune? All subjects to this test—and it is by this that we are to be finally judged—how few could come forth with the remark "honest" upon them!

WHERE PRINTERS DON'T GO.—A printer doesn't rush to the doctor every time he is out of "sorts." Nor to the baker when he wants "flour." Nor to a wood pile when he wants a "stick." Nor to the cabinet shop when he wants "furniture." Nor to the bank when he wants "quoin." Nor to his girl when he wants "go to press." Nor to a lawyer when he has a "dirty case." Nor to old cheese when he wants "five matter." Nor to a butcher when he wants "fat." Nor to a pump when he is thirsty and has five cents in his pocket.—Buffalo Courier.

VALUABLE PUPPETS.—Remenyi's 3 fiddlers are valued at $13,000. The oldest, "the Prince," was made hundreds of years ago by Nicoli Amati, value $6,000. It is seldom used. The second, "the Princess," was made by a pupil of Amati, the celebrated Stradivarius, and is used for concert purposes, value $5,000. The third instrument was made by Mr. Colton, of Belmont. The work is done entirely by hand. Should Mr. Colton live to be a very old man, he will only be able to complete about fifteen puppets. Remenyi calls it "the Crown Prince."

From the New York Herald, September 14th. The Republicans of Maine seem to have "reckoned without their host." Instead of the handsome victory which they boastfully proclaimed on Saturday and Sunday they have had a narrow escape from defeat—if indeed it be an escape, which is improbable. The gains on the vote of last year, which they so confidently predicted, have turned out to be losses. The result is calculated to encourage, not them, but the Democrats. The Republicans have done their utmost in canvass. No stone has been left unturned. Senator Blaine has managed the campaign in person; his animating voice has been heard in every part of the State. Besides a host of native orators a great array of first rate speaking talent has been subsidized from other States, making the canvass one of the liveliest in recent years. Maine boasts of a large number of sailors, and a great number of the Republican canvassers were called home to vote. All of the government clerks in Washington who are citizens of Maine got leave of absence and reduced railroad fares to participate in the election. The arrangements for canvassing aged persons to the polls were very complete. The weather has been fine, and the weather favored the Democrats. Moreover, Mr. Weaver, the greenback candidate for the Presidency, was induced to go to Maine and attempt to divide and demoralize the fusionists. And yet in spite of all these efforts and advantages, the Republicans have either lost the State or have come so near losing it as to make their recent boasts ridiculous. They estimated their majority at not less than five thousand, and some of the more sanguine put it as high as ten thousand. It is falling off from great expectations to find it doubtful whether they have a majority at all, and not improbable that the fusion ticket is elected.

A GIRL'S LONG NAP.—Scarcely less astonishing than Dr. Tammes' recent feat of fasting is the condition of a young lady, the daughter of the Mayor of Trumbull, a large iron breeder, who is said to be fast asleep since the second week in January, with the exception of a few hours of semi-wakefulness at intervals of from six to eight weeks. It appears that she lies plunged into a profound slumber and entirely unconscious of all that goes on around her night and day, reclining on her right side, and covered over her head with a light gauze spread over her head. Nutrition, evidently in a liquid form, is daily administered to her, which she swallows without awaking for a second. She is a pretty, slender girl, of a pallid complexion; but she does not lose in weight during her trances of from forty to sixty days, and when awake exhibits cheerful disposition and an eager desire to perform such household tasks as her strength enables her to fulfill. Her father is a well-to-do man, who has considered several eminent medical men in the hope of discovering some remedy for his daughter's morbid condition, which entails serious anxiety upon the other members of his family; but all efforts hitherto made to keep the morbidly asleep have resulted in total failure. Since the case of the sleepy child at Trumbull, no such interesting subject for study and observation on the part of the faculty has arisen since that of the strangely somnolent burgomaster's daughter of Trumbull.—London Telegraph.

A TERRIBLE REVENGE.—A little lady satisfied herself with a peculiar revenge recently at the Grand Central Hotel in Tahoe City, on Lake Bigler, Nevada. The place is a kind of Western summer resort. The lady came there with her two children, all dressed in very costly and even painful. The smells of vomit and blood up their noses at her; she must be nobody, so she was given to understand that she must consider herself smothered. This thing went on for some days, till at last she sent home to San Francisco for the rest of her clothing and those of her children. Next morning she came to breakfast in a magnificent morning dress made by Worth, and profusely ornamented with diamonds, and her two little children were dressed up to look as pretty as pictures. Everybody seemed anxious to see "good morning, Mrs. Smith," but Mrs. Smith didn't get out a word to any very cordial extent, but she looked at the snobs. She did what politicians required but that was all, and was extremely distant to all. She cut them this way for about a week, then packed up her fine Saratoga trunks and sent them home, and remained her plain and comfortable vacation clothes.

RENDERING COTTON GOODS INCOMMODIOUS.—Dr. Keizer, of the State Board of Health of Michigan, in a report addressed before a sanitary meeting in that State, has made an excellent suggestion that cotton fabrics, with special reference to articles of clothing—could be prevented from taking fire by the simple expedient of adding a little borax to the starch with which the goods in question are dressed. The quantity recommended is a teaspoonful of borax to each pint of starch after the latter is dissolved in water. The use of the borax is entirely unobjectionable, being quite harmless and very cheap. The speaker showed by experiment that muslin, and even the most gauzy and flammable textile starch could be made to take fire and burn with a blaze; and he most properly inferred that if cotton fabrics are starched and underclothing were prepared by this simple method, many distressing accidents and frequent loss of life from the ignition of clothing might be prevented.—Detroit's Chronicle.

RAPIDLY GAINING WEALTH.—Honesty won pennies fall into the pocket slowly. Fortunes that spring up like Jack's bean-stalk have either no foundation, or are built up by tricky art and cheating. There is no more ungodly expedient than that if a man gets rich rapidly he does so at the detriment of some other person. Some are indeed accumulate wealth rapidly without incurring the charge of dishonesty; for the world judges very leniently of successful efforts. But if their acts be subject to the test of Bible law, they will be found violative of sublime code. The merchant, by one venture, gains a profit of many thousands. No human law is outraged. But is not his gain another's loss, and has he not broken that Divine injunction which bids us have as tender a regard for the interests of our neighbor as for our own? Has he not, in making this lucky bargain, taken a measure of some one's folly or misfortune? All subjects to this test—and it is by this that we are to be finally judged—how few could come forth with the remark "honest" upon them!

WHERE PRINTERS DON'T GO.—A printer doesn't rush to the doctor every time he is out of "sorts." Nor to the baker when he wants "flour." Nor to a wood pile when he wants a "stick." Nor to the cabinet shop when he wants "furniture." Nor to the bank when he wants "quoin." Nor to his girl when he wants "go to press." Nor to a lawyer when he has a "dirty case." Nor to old cheese when he wants "five matter." Nor to a butcher when he wants "fat." Nor to a pump when he is thirsty and has five cents in his pocket.—Buffalo Courier.

VALUABLE PUPPETS.—Remenyi's 3 fiddlers are valued at $13,000. The oldest, "the Prince," was made hundreds of years ago by Nicoli Amati, value $6,000. It is seldom used. The second, "the Princess," was made by a pupil of Amati, the celebrated Stradivarius, and is used for concert purposes, value $5,000. The third instrument was made by Mr. Colton, of Belmont. The work is done entirely by hand. Should Mr. Colton live to be a very old man, he will only be able to complete about fifteen puppets. Remenyi calls it "the Crown Prince."

THE LITTLE MEAT-PIECE CHEST—May Apple Liver Pills are the most reliable in the world and entirely vegetable. Price 15 cents for large boxes. Sold by all Druggists in this country.

MACON, GA., July 1, 1879. I have fed Shonett's Stock Feed on my horses with the best results. I had one horse turned over to me for which the owner would have given me $500. I fed him with the Stock Feed for two weeks, I can give him $500. My wife has tried it, also on her chickens, which were eating rapidly with cholera, and she did not lose one after giving the first dose.

DR. J. E. MOORE'S Hair Restorer—We give you "Tectina" (Teething Powders) our little grandchild with the earliest results. The effects were almost magical and certainly more satisfactory than from anything we ever used.

ASTORIA, OREGON, July 4, 1879. I am one of the unfortunate sufferers from Graves or disease of the Kidneys and find more relief from your "Bainin's Bile Beans" than any other medicine I have used. I feel that I can truly say that I have been cured. I would like to see you in person and give you my thanks. I have written you a letter and hope you will receive it. I am very truly yours, J. E. MOORE.

ASTORIA, OREGON, July 4, 1879. I am one of the unfortunate sufferers from Graves or disease of the Kidneys and find more relief from your "Bainin's Bile Beans" than any other medicine I have used. I feel that I can truly say that I have been cured. I would like to see you in person and give you my thanks. I have written you a letter and hope you will receive it. I am very truly yours, J. E. MOORE.

ASTORIA, OREGON, July 4, 1879. I am one of the unfortunate sufferers from Graves or disease of the Kidneys and find more relief from your "Bainin's Bile Beans" than any other medicine I have used. I feel that I can truly say that I have been cured. I would like to see you in person and give you my thanks. I have written you a letter and hope you will receive it. I am very truly yours, J. E. MOORE.

ASTORIA, OREGON, July 4, 1879. I am one of the unfortunate sufferers from Graves or disease of the Kidneys and find more relief from your "Bainin's Bile Beans" than any other medicine I have used. I feel that I can truly say that I have been cured. I would like to see you in person and give you my thanks. I have written you a letter and hope you will receive it. I am very truly yours, J. E. MOORE.

ASTORIA, OREGON, July 4, 1879. I am one of the unfortunate sufferers from Graves or disease of the Kidneys and find more relief from your "Bainin's Bile Beans" than any other medicine I have used. I feel that I can truly say that I have been cured. I would like to see you in person and give you my thanks. I have written you a letter and hope you will receive it. I am very truly yours, J. E. MOORE.

ASTORIA, OREGON, July 4, 1879. I am one of the unfortunate sufferers from Graves or disease of the Kidneys and find more relief from your "Bainin's Bile Beans" than any other medicine I have used. I feel that I can truly say that I have been cured. I would like to see you in person and give you my thanks. I have written you a letter and hope you will receive it. I am very truly yours, J. E. MOORE.

ASTORIA, OREGON, July 4, 1879. I am one of the unfortunate sufferers from Graves or disease of the Kidneys and find more relief from your "Bainin's Bile Beans" than any other medicine I have used. I feel that I can truly say that I have been cured. I would like to see you in person and give you my thanks. I have written you a letter and hope you will receive it. I am very truly yours, J. E. MOORE.

ASTORIA, OREGON, July 4, 1879. I am one of the unfortunate sufferers from Graves or disease of the Kidneys and find more relief from your "Bainin's Bile Beans" than any other medicine I have used. I feel that I can truly say that I have been cured. I would like to see you in person and give you my thanks. I have written you a letter and hope you will receive it. I am very truly yours, J. E. MOORE.

ASTORIA, OREGON, July 4, 1879. I am one of the unfortunate sufferers from Graves or disease of the Kidneys and find more relief from your "Bainin's Bile Beans" than any other medicine I have used. I feel that I can truly say that I have been cured. I would like to see you in person and give you my thanks. I have written you a letter and hope you will receive it. I am very truly yours, J. E. MOORE.

ASTORIA, OREGON, July 4, 1879. I am one of the unfortunate sufferers from Graves or disease of the Kidneys and find more relief from your "Bainin's Bile Beans" than any other medicine I have used. I feel that I can truly say that I have been cured. I would like to see you in person and give you my thanks. I have written you a letter and hope you will receive it. I am very truly yours, J. E. MOORE.

ASTORIA, OREGON, July 4, 1879. I am one of the unfortunate sufferers from Graves or disease of the Kidneys and find more relief from your "Bainin's Bile Beans" than any other medicine I have used. I feel that I can truly say that I have been cured. I would like to see you in person and give you my thanks. I have written you a letter and hope you will receive it. I am very truly yours, J. E. MOORE.

ASTORIA, OREGON, July 4, 1879. I am one of the unfortunate sufferers from Graves or disease of the Kidneys and find more relief from your "Bainin's Bile Beans" than any other medicine I have used. I feel that I can truly say that I have been cured. I would like to see you in person and give you my thanks. I have written you a letter and hope you will receive it. I am very truly yours, J. E. MOORE.

ASTORIA, OREGON, July 4, 1879. I am one of the unfortunate sufferers from Graves or disease of the Kidneys and find more relief from your "Bainin's Bile Beans" than any other medicine I have used. I feel that I can truly say that I have been cured. I would like to see you in person and give you my thanks. I have written you a letter and hope you will receive it. I am very truly yours, J. E. MOORE.

ASTORIA, OREGON, July 4, 1879. I am one of the unfortunate sufferers from Graves or disease of the Kidneys and find more relief from your "Bainin's Bile Beans" than any other medicine I have used. I feel that I can truly say that I have been cured. I would like to see you in person and give you my thanks. I have written you a letter and hope you will receive it. I am very truly yours, J. E. MOORE.

ASTORIA, OREGON, July 4, 1879. I am one of the unfortunate sufferers from Graves or disease of the Kidneys and find more relief from your "Bainin's Bile Beans" than any other medicine I have used. I feel that I can truly say that I have been cured. I would like to see you in person and give you my thanks. I have written you a letter and hope you will receive it. I am very truly yours, J. E. MOORE.

ASTORIA, OREGON, July 4, 1879. I am one of the unfortunate sufferers from Graves or disease of the Kidneys and find more relief from your "Bainin's Bile Beans" than any other medicine I have used. I feel that I can truly say that I have been cured. I would like to see you in person and give you my thanks. I have written you a letter and hope you will receive it. I am very truly yours, J. E. MOORE.

ASTORIA, OREGON, July 4, 1879. I am one of the unfortunate sufferers from Graves or disease of the Kidneys and find more relief from your "Bainin's Bile Beans" than any other medicine I have used. I feel that I can truly say that I have been cured. I would like to see you in person and give you my thanks. I have written you a letter and hope you will receive it. I am very truly yours, J. E. MOORE.

ASTORIA, OREGON, July 4, 1879. I am one of the unfortunate sufferers from Graves or disease of the Kidneys and find more relief from your "Bainin's Bile Beans" than any other medicine I have used. I feel that I can truly say that I have been cured. I would like to see you in person and give you my thanks. I have written you a letter and hope you will receive it. I am very truly yours, J. E. MOORE.

ASTORIA, OREGON, July 4, 1879. I am one of the unfortunate sufferers from Graves or disease of the Kidneys and find more relief from your "Bainin's Bile Beans" than any other medicine I have used. I feel that I can truly say that I have been cured. I would like to see you in person and give you my thanks. I have written you a letter and hope you will receive it. I am very truly yours, J. E. MOORE.

ASTORIA, OREGON, July 4, 1879. I am one of the unfortunate sufferers from Graves or disease of the Kidneys and find more relief from your "Bainin's Bile Beans" than any other medicine I have used. I feel that I can truly say that I have been cured. I would like to see you in person and give you my thanks. I have written you a letter and hope you will receive it. I am very truly yours, J. E. MOORE.

ASTORIA, OREGON, July 4, 1879. I am one of the unfortunate sufferers from Graves or disease of the Kidneys and find more relief from your "Bainin's Bile Beans" than any other medicine I have used. I feel that I can truly say that I have been cured. I would like to see you in person and give you my thanks. I have written you a letter and hope you will receive it. I am very truly yours, J. E. MOORE.

ASTORIA, OREGON, July 4, 1879. I am one of the unfortunate sufferers from Graves or disease of the Kidneys and find more relief from your "Bainin's Bile Beans" than any other medicine I have used. I feel that I can truly say that I have been cured. I would like to see you in person and give you my thanks. I have written you a letter and hope you will receive it. I am very truly yours, J. E. MOORE.

ASTORIA, OREGON, July 4, 1879. I am one of the unfortunate sufferers from Graves or disease of the Kidneys and find more relief from your "Bainin's Bile Beans" than any other medicine I have used. I feel that I can truly say that I have been cured. I would like to see you in person and give you my thanks. I have written you a letter and hope you will receive it. I am very truly yours, J. E. MOORE.

ASTORIA, OREGON, July 4, 1879. I am one of the unfortunate sufferers from Graves or disease of the Kidneys and find more relief from your "Bainin's Bile Beans" than any other medicine I have used. I feel that I can truly say that I have been cured. I would like to see you in person and give you my thanks. I have written you a letter and hope you will receive it. I am very truly yours, J. E. MOORE.

ASTORIA, OREGON, July 4, 1879. I am one of the unfortunate sufferers from Graves or disease of the Kidneys and find more relief from your "Bainin's Bile Beans" than any other medicine I have used. I feel that I can truly say that I have been cured. I would like to see you in person and give you my thanks. I have written you a letter and hope you will receive it. I am very truly yours, J. E. MOORE.

ASTORIA, OREGON, July 4, 1879. I am one of the unfortunate sufferers from Graves or disease of the Kidneys and find more relief from your "Bainin's Bile Beans" than any other medicine I have used. I feel that I can truly say that I have been cured. I would like to see you in person and give you my thanks. I have written you a letter and hope you will receive it. I am very truly yours, J. E. MOORE.

ASTORIA, OREGON, July 4, 1879. I am one of the unfortunate sufferers from Graves or disease of the Kidneys and find more relief from your "Bainin's Bile Beans" than any other medicine I have used. I feel that I can truly say that I have been cured. I would like to see you in person and give you my thanks. I have written you a letter and hope you will receive it. I am very truly yours, J. E. MOORE.

Dry Hides, Sheep Skins, Lamb Skins, Goat Skins, Deer Skins, Otter Skins, Mink Skins, Gray Fox Skins, Coon Skins, Possum Skins, Rat Skins, Rabbit Skins.

Cotton, Beeswax, Wool, Rags, Brns, Copper.

The highest cash prices will be paid.

U. G. DESPORTES.

THE SOUTH CAROLINA COLLEGE.

AGRICULTURE AND MECHANICS.

WILL be opened for the instruction of the young men of the State, on the 15th of OCTOBER, in the buildings of the South Carolina College, with the following Faculty, viz:

Wm. Porcher Miles, LL.D., President and Professor of English Literature.

JAMES WOODROW, Ph.D., D. D., Professor of Geology, Mineralogy, Botany and Zoology.

BENJ. SLOAN, Professor of Mathematics and Natural Philosophy.

WILLIAM BURNETT, Ph.D., Professor of Analytical and Agricultural Chemistry and Experimental Agriculture.

Attention is called to the fact that the room for the year 1880, for further information apply to the Secretary at Columbia, S. C. By order of the Faculty.

BENJ. SLOAN, Secretary of Faculty, Columbia, S. C., August 13, 1880.

LOOKOUT FOR WORTHLESS Imitations. ALL GENUINE SCREWED B