Movements are on foot at Marshville to build an oil mill and install electric lights. Good for Marshville. We hope she will get both, for we don't know of a town any where that needs them more.

Mr. J. H. Whitmore will open a picture gallery in Mrs. Redfearn's wood building on McGregor street in a few days. He is an experienced photographer. See his advertisement in another column.

Mr. Leroy McColl has signed a contract with the Charlotte Railway of $125.00 per month. He will leave in a few days to practice.

Mr. Frank W. Walters, who has been at Angelus for more than a year, has moved to Pageland, and occupies the T. A. Funderburk house in the western part of town. Mr. Walters is a native of Union county and is well known in this section. He will deal in cattle, and sell fertilizer.

It seems that the legislature will pass what they call the vital statistics bill, which is a bill to require a record to be kept of every birth and every death in the state. The record will probably be kept by the secretary of the medical association in each county, who will be assisted by physicians throughout the counties. A penalty will be provided for failure to report a birth or death to the proper officer.

Mr. R. S. McLeod, who has been with Mr. W. T. Edgeworth for several months, has accepted the position as salesman with the Cheraw Mercantile Co. and will leave about the 10th of this month. Mr. McLeod is well known here and in Cheraw, and is known as one of the best salesmen in the county. He is strictly honest and is very energetic. He will be a valuable addition to the sales force of this popular firm.

Mr. Braughton Sellers was shot in the abdomen and breast last Wednesday while out hunting about a mile from his home near Mt. Croghan. He was standing upon a stack of lumber with his gun standing by him when the gun slipped through a crack, the hammer striking the lumber with enough force to discharge the gun. The load of shot took effect in the abdomen and glanced upward just over the heart, making a long flesh wound, very painful but not serious. He is getting along nicely.

Mr. J. H. Ratliff, is now our representative at Mt. Croghan, and he will be pleased to have your subscriptions, advertising and job printing. He promised us a weekly news letter, which we dare say will be of interest to many of our readers who do not live near Mt. Croghan and of course to all who live in that section. Mr. Ratliff is the efficient postmaster at Mt. Croghan, and he is highly recommended as a man suited to this work.

The heaviest fall of snow seen in fifteen years fell in this section Wednesday afternoon and night and Thursday morning. Estimates of the depth of the snow range all the way from nine to twenty-four inches, but ten inches would probably be about right, though many contend stoutly that it was more than twelve. The weather is still very cold and some of the snow is still on the ground. The thermometer registered eighteen degrees above zero yesterday morning, which is several degrees colder than it had been this winter. The wind has been from the north west for two days, and it is fair and cold.

Columb... missionar... stated yesterday that during the past month inspectors from the department have been most carefully checking up the sizes of packages of meal and grits that the various millers have been shipping into the markets of this State and the investigation has revealed a situation that has long been suspected, but was not positively known to exist.

The inspectors have weighed up stock on hand in many portions of the State. Shipments of 25-pound sacks have been found to run short weight in almost every sack, some of them showing a shortage of from 1-4 pounds to, in some instances, three pounds. The differences on the larger sizes have corresponded. In every instance the goods have been tied up under orders from the commissioner of agriculture and the manufacturers and shippers have been required to bear the expense of having the packages resacked to full weight before the goods have been allowed to go to the consumers and to refund to all dealers the value of the goods not delivered.

Congress Will Not Adjourn Soon

Washington, Feb. 28.—With the problem of drafting satisfactory trust legislation becoming more complicated as congressional committees dig more deeply into the subject early adjournment of congress becomes doubtful. Administration leaders declared today that trust legislation must be enacted in order to carry out the Democratic party's pledges; but it is equally essential, in their opinion, to consider the situation so carefully that no mistakes be made.
