Guaranty Loan and Trust company of Cheraw has been commissioned, with a capital of $15,000. The petitioners are J. W. Malloy, A. G. Meiklejohn, J. L. Andrews and P. B. Huntley.

From Rev. R. W. Cato's talk we are led to believe that he does not intend to run for office this year, or any other year for that matter. Ask him.

The Journal was in error in saying last week that Miss Eula Mangum won first prize in the spelling match at Chesterfield. It was Miss Eula Funderburk of Mangum school.

One firm here has sold more than fifty thousand dollars worth of fertilizer already, and still they haul! Several cars were hauled in the rain yesterday. We hope the guano manufacturers will not own the country next year.

The Monroe Journal has changed from a weekly to a semi-weekly, the days of issue being Tuesday and Friday. The first issue since the change was published Friday. We wish the publishers success in their venture.

A freight train was wrecked about half way from Cheraw to Chesterfield Saturday morning and the track was torn up 50 or 100 feet. There were no trains until late in the afternoon and the mail did not reach here until after night.

Mangum school, taught by J. C. Gathings, will close next Friday. Five Forks school, taught by Miss Sallie McColl, will close on Saturday. Zion school, taught by J. C. Blackwell, will

Dr. J. W. Gale, of Mt. Croghan, has moved his family to Pageland and they now occupy the H. J. Ogburn house in the southern part of town. Dr. Gale has charge of Mangum's drug store. He is a licensed druggist and has had about 25 years experience. He is a good citizen, and the people of Pageland welcome him and his family.

Drs. H. B. Hood and W. B. Earl, supervising inspectors for cattle tick eradication, are here and the efforts to destroy all ticks in Chesterfield county have been renewed. They expect to work at least four men in the county during the summer, and hope to visit every farm in the county during the next few weeks. All farms where ticks are found will remain under quarantine. Then they expect to visit every quarantined farm every two or three weeks during the summer and instruct and aid the farmers in spraying or dipping their cattle. One concrete dipping vat has been constructed in the county, and four more are in sight. These dipping vats may be used by any number of farmers in a community. Those who do not have enough cattle to build a vat will use the spray pump for spraying the cattle. These will cost about $5,00 and may be used by several farmers. Quarantined cattle may be moved from farm to farm by permission of the inspector, and may be moved into North Carolina by dipping and getting permission from the inspector.

Mr. W. T. King's mule became frightened at a bicycle at the railroad crossing near Rose Hill Monday and broke the bits. Mr. King alighted without injury, save a sprained wrist, and the mule ran far enough to break a shaft, but did nothing of a serious nature. Mr. King had regained control of his faculties by Monday afternoon and was able to speak without visible signs of emotion.

Back in December we cut off quite a number of names from our mailing list, just as we said we would do, and then we turned a number of these over to a collection agency. Last week we received a batch of the excuses that were sent in to the agency when the delinquents were made to feel that paying time had come at last, and some of them are dandies.

Alberta, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Smith, of Lanes Creek township, died last Thursday night. She had an attack of measles a few weeks ago and she never fully recovered. She was a bright child, and was the idol of the home. The little body was laid to rest at Mt. Moriah Friday afternoon in the presence of a large number of friend and relatives.

Farmers often become impatient when we have a late spring and begin to plow before the soil is dry. It is well to remember that land plowed wet is in worse condition than before, and that all work of this kind is worse than wasted. If you can't wait for your land to dry after a rain you had better hitch up and come to town, go fishing, or better still, get your hammer and saw and hang that broken down door or gate, make a better windlass for the well or fix the pump.

Mr. U. F. Moore attended the horse show in Camden last week.

The Ruby school closed April 7th with exercises by the children.

and wishing to move same should apply to me for permits to avoid trouble. GEO. A. PLEXICO, Cattle Inspector Chesterfield Co.
