

Local News

The Jeffersonian, of Jefferson, has changed hands. Prof. R. F. Ulmer is now manager and W. A. Green remains editor.

The Cheraw Chronicle announced in big headlines last week that Woodrow Wilson has accepted an invitation to speak at Cheraw's annual big day some time in July, and promises full particulars later.

Little Nell, the six months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Pigg, Jr., died last Wednesday and was buried at Pageland Baptist church Thursday. This little one had been sick for several weeks and death came as a relief to the little sufferer.

The weather is still dry and much cotton is still under the ground. Probably one-fourth or one fifth of the sandy land in this section has been planted again because of the havoc wrought by the wind last week. Rain is anxiously looked and hoped for.

Mr. Jady Huntley, son of Mr. David Huntley, and Miss Alice Burch, daughter of Mr. Charlie Burch, both of Mt. Croghan, were married last night in Elizabeth church by Rev. B. S. Funderburg. This is a very popular young couple, and a host of friends join in congratulations.

The first game of ball of this season will be played on the diamond here Friday afternoon. Ruby and Pageland will each try for the first game, which is expected to be a good one. See the line-up in another place, and then be on hand if you enjoy a good game of ball.

Master Bynum Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Moore, had a larger bone of his leg broken a few inches above the ankle last Saturday afternoon on the ball ground in southern part of town. He attempted to slide to third base which was held by Ward Cato. Their legs became entangled and both fell, and in the fall the leg was broken as above stated. Bynum is getting along nicely.

Mr. T. B. Smith thinks that a choir of Pageland's singers can sing with any choir in Chesterfield or Union counties. He desires to arrange a few contests to be held in July or August, and any person who thinks he can sing or who thinks he can collect enough singers to beat those who sing in the several churches here may see or write Mr. Smith and begin practice, for practice will be needed.

Mr. T. Ed Wright was burned about the hands in a rather peculiar way one day last week. He is a painter by trade, and he cleaned his gloves with gasoline before breakfast and just after breakfast he drew them on and started to work. He struck a match to light his pipe and when he did the fire flashed over his hands and burned and blistered both hands so that he is still unable to work.

Toward the last of last week the report began to circulate that a boat had sunk and drowned about fifty of the old soldiers at the reunion at Jacksonville, which number included Mr. Mode Horne and Mr. Willis Jenkins who went from Pageland. These and others did not come home as early as a few who soon tired of the crowds and the relatives of these men were becoming alarmed sure enough. Monday's train brought the tardy ones in and there was no evidences of struggles in the water. There, of course, had been no grounds for such reports for no boat had sunk and nobody was drowned.

Mr. Leroy Gregory, who has been with the Arlington hotel in Hot Springs, Ark. for about two years, is visiting relatives in Pageland. He reports that crops are in fairly good conditions on the route he came, but says it is rather wet in the Mississippi valley, and that there were good seasons as far north as Atlanta.

The commencement exercises of the Pageland graded school begin tonight, and will continue through Thursday and Friday nights. The exercises tonight will be by the primary department, followed by an address by Lieut. Governor Chas. A. Smith, and will begin at 8 o'clock. Tomorrow night the intermediate department will give a play entitled "Josiah's Courtship." Friday night the high school will give "The Widow McGinty."

Mrs. Fannie Jordan, widow of the late W. T. Jordan, died at her home about 5 miles south of Pageland Monday night, after an illness of only a short time with paralysis. Her body was laid to rest in the cemetery at Zion yesterday afternoon, after services by Rev. J. W. Quick. She was about 68 years old, and was a member of Bethlehem church. She was a good woman and a kind mother. She is survived by a large family of children.

Mrs. J. C. New, of near Jackson Springs, N. C., died suddenly Sunday morning. She was in her usual health when her daughter, Mrs. R. L. Hinson, left there Friday morning to spend a few days here. A telegram came Sunday saying that she was dead. She was about 70 years old. Five children survive: Mrs. B. F. Gathings, of Morven; Mrs. R. L. Hinson of Rockingham; Mrs. J. E. McDavid, of Raeford; Mrs. M. H. Dawkins and Mr. J. R. New, of Pageland. Mr. M. H. Dawkins and Mr. J. R. New left Sunday night to attend the funeral.

Mr. Lewis Kellough and Miss Eula Arant were married Sunday afternoon about 3 o'clock by Notary Public J. D. Watts at his home in the southern part of town. Mr. Kellough is a native of Union county, but has been engaged in sawmilling in this section for several years. He is an enterprising and popular young man. Mrs. Kellough is a daughter of Mrs. Charlotte Arant, of the Five Forks section, and is attractive and prominent in the social circles of her community. Congratulations and best wishes are extended by a host of friends.

Mr. L. L. Clapp, a fruit tree agent, of Liberty, N. C., was found dead in bed at the Griggs boarding house at Cherterfield yesterday morning by his companion, Mr. L. M. Shoffner, when he attempted to wake him for breakfast. He was in his usual health when he retired for the night, having worked during the day as he was accustomed to do. His death was due to apoplexy. The two men had been at Cherterfield for some time and intended coming to Pageland yesterday. Their home is at Liberty, N. C., and they were agents for the Piedmont nursery located in the western part of Alamance county about 22 miles from Greensboro. The deceased was about 28 years old. His body was carried home on the afternoon train for burial. He usually slept until breakfast, but Mr. Shoffner is an early riser. Yesterday morning he left him asleep, as he thought, and later went back to call him to breakfast, and found him cold in death, and realized that he had slept with the dead. He was shocked beyond speaking and rushed out of the room in breathless haste. The men had been together much and were on the best of terms, it seems. They were school mates in their younger days, and their associations had been pleasant. There is no suspicion of foul play. He is survived by a wife and six children.

The Journal is renewing its efforts to get into the homes of its Union county readers on Thursday, the next day after publication. No stone will be left unturned and if it is possible the Journal will be delivered on time instead of a day late. Our reader in complaining about unnecessary delay said, "A letter will come from Georgia quicker than our paper from Pageland." He is right, and there ought to be a way to cut out this delay and get the papers to the reader on Thursday instead of Friday.

DOES THAT MEAN ANYTHING TO YOU?

IT LOOKS LIKE THE NAME OF A MEXICAN GENERAL. DOESN'T IT? WELL, IT IS ALL IN THE WAY YOU LOOK AT A THING—SOME FOLKS GO THROUGH LIFE BACKWARDS ANYWAY!

Do you buy your groceries from a store in Kalamazoo or haul your butter and eggs to Constantinople? If you do you are doing things backward.

Do you write a check for your life insurance, say "Good bye, Bill, till the funeral," and send it to "Wall Strett" or somewhere to enrich another state? If you do you are doing things WORSE than backwards---

You are Doing Things Backwards With Your Eyes Wide Open.

Turn those peculiar looking words that you see at the top of this advertisement around, put them on your next check for insurance and you will get all that any GOOD company can give you, and every penny of your money will work here in your State where it will help your business.

The best business men in Chesterfield county have bought over a MILLION DOLLARS insurance in the OLDEST, LARGEST Legal Reserve company in South Carolina. If you are not one of them, you have been doing things backwards.

ASK ABOUT OUR NEW "INCOME POLICY." It's cheaper.
