The warehouse recently built by the cotton warehouse company is now ready for storing cotton.

Cotton on this market brought from 6.35 to 6.50 yesterday. We can't say what a day may bring forth.

The average date for frost in this section is about October 10th. Today is the 14th and there are no signs of frost.

Mr. J. A. Arant is preparing to erect a cotton warehouse on one of his lots just west of the business section of town.

Page camp W. O. W. meets next Saturday night at 8 o'clock. Some new members to be initiated, all members requested to be present.

Mrs. C. M. Peninger was carried to John Hopkins' hospital in Baltimore Friday for treatment. She has been in bad health for several years.

Mr. J. C. Sanders has been drawn to serve on the jury at the Federal court which convenes in Columbia November 3rd.

The Chesterfield Baptist association will be held with the Wolf Pond church Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week. Delegates and visitors who desire conveyance from Pageland should write Mr. W. L. Rape or Mr. R. F. Carnes, Monroe, R. F. D. 10 at once.

The price of a shave is still ten cents, the increased length of faces not having cost any more to be shaved.

Their faces grow longer longer.

Mr. Clayton Horne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Horne, of Pageland, had an arm dislocated at the elbow joint while at work on a dwelling about seven miles from Cheraw last Thursday about 1 o'clock. He is now at Patrick for a few days' rest while the wound is getting well.

Malcom Michael, the negro who killed Mag Smith near Patrick several days ago and escaped, was caught by a Mr. Grant between Patrick and Cheraw asleep on some hay in an old house one day last week. He was promptly lodged in jail to await the next term of court.

Mr. Jesse Price, who stuck a nail in his foot the 6th day of August and took his bed in a few days, was in town one day last week for the first time since the foot became sore. He was on crutches, and his foot is not well yet. He narrowly escaped blood poisoning.

Mr. J. W. Raynor, of Belport, Long Island, writes Mr. T. B. Smith that he expects to return to Pageland with his family in November. It will be remembered that Mr. Raynor purchased property here last year, and he and his family will spend about six months of each year here.

The Journal is requested to say that the regular meeting of the J. O. U. A. M. will be held Thursday night, October 22, at which time all members are requested to be present. New members of the order will be admitted at reduced rates for a limited time.

Mrs. Mollie Wilkerson writes The Journal that she is 42 years old and that she has never eaten a mouthful of cabbage, collards, turnips, hog meat, beef or mutton. She subsists upon milk and butter, syrup and bread. She has good health and can do as much work in the field as any woman, she says. She offers to prove these statements if any one doubts the truth of them.

Mr. L. L. Parker asks The Journal to say that those who contracted for vetch and clover seed in the first order are asked to call and get the seed this week, as no seed will be held later than Saturday, but will be sold to any one desiring to buy.

On the last page of this issue may be found the premium list of the Chesterfield county fair, which will be held November 10, 11, 12 and 13. The managers of the fair do not seem to know that there is a war, and the preparations are being made for a greater fair than ever before. Read the premium list carefully and get ready to take some of the prizes.

The first number of Pageland's lyceum course was given by the Potters Monday night before a good crowd. The people were highly pleased with the entertainment. The promoters of this course appreciate the attention at this the first of the attractions, and while they lose more than a dollar each, they are well pleased with the results of the first number. The next attraction will be about a month from this time.

The protracted meeting closed at the Presbyterian church last night. Rev. Leonard Gill, of Charlotte, assisted the pastor in the meeting and did all the preaching after he arrived last week. He is a strong preacher and his sermons were excellent. He has a vast store of stories and illustrations with which he drives his thoughts into the minds of his hearers. There were a number of professions, and there will probably be several additions to the other churches in town. The meeting has been an uplifting force in the town.

Mr. Reece Hough, a Cheraw hundred feet and terribly mangled his body. From the Ranard hotel the young man saw fire in Davis' store across the street and ran to give the alarm. The huge bell was not securely fastened in its high position at the water tank and the young man's pull brought it down, and it fell with such force that a human being was snatched instantly into eternity. The fatal accident occurred a few minutes past midnight, and the horribly mangled remains were buried Saturday afternoon. Mr. Hough was about 28 years old, a man of fine qualities, highly respected, and he leaves a wife and two children. The fire in Davis Brothers' store was extinguished before very much damage was done by the fire, but the water, smoke and heat added to the damage, which was estimated at about 50 per cent.

"How is it, Johnnie, that you have such a dislike for me?" said Johnnie's sister's caller. "I have never done anything to deserve it."

"Yes, you have," replied the boy. "When you come to see our Cora she always puts the clock, back, and it makes me late for school."—Ex.
