

Local News

Rev. J. A. McGraw will fill his regular appointments next Sunday—Zoar, Prices and Pageland.

News comes from Kershaw that Policeman C. M. Gregory had nine blind tigers in the lock-up Monday morning and was out on track of several others.

Report of the quarterly meeting of the Woman's Missionary union at Liberty Hill last Friday was received too late for this issue. It will be published next week.

Mr. Hugh Phifer, son of Mr. Emsley Phifer, and Miss Atha Mills, daughter of Elder J. T. Mills, both of Marshville township, Union county, were married Sunday afternoon by Esq. W. L. Thomas.

Rev. T. C. Irby sends The Journal a potato which is in the exact form of a snake running says the Monroe Journal. That potato is just like a snake down to the toss of the head and the switch of the tail, and it is twenty-seven inches long.

The 15-month old daughter of Mr. O. J. Funderburk, of route two, was severely burned recently, and the little one has been suffering great pain. It is hoped that the burrs will not prove fatal. The child walked too near the fire and its clothing caught.

Mr. W. Otis Tucker and Miss Beulah Watts were married at the residence of the officiating minister, Rev. J. M. Sullivan, last Wednesday evening about 8 o'clock. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. James T. Tucker, of Lanes Creek township, Pageland.

The old fiddlers convention at the school building Friday night was attended and enjoyed by a good-sized crowd. The winners in the contests were as follows: J. H. Whitmore, 1st violon; W. M. Mangum, 2nd violon; Coleman Carter, banjo; R. F. Smith, guitar; J. H. Whitmore and R. F. Smith, duet.

Mr. R. F. Smith has rented the old bank building and barn adjoining and the larger part of the land belonging to the Pageland Land company. He will move into this building and use this barn as his sales and trade stand and will farm the land he has rented in connection with this property.

Collections for the relief of suffering Belgians were taken at three of the Sunday schools Sunday and the total collection was $9.35. The M. P. school lead with $5.30, the Baptist school was next with $2.57 and the Presbyterian school gave $1.48. The M. E. school proposes to make an offering to this cause a little later. The collections Sunday would have been larger if it had been generally known that these collections would be taken.

Cheatam, the 10-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Ross, of the Faulks section of Union county, was shot and painfully wounded in the foot and leg on Thanksgiving day while out hunting with other boys. Boy Collins, son of Mr. Gilbert Collins, discharged the gun that inflicted the wound. The boys were on opposite sides of a little branch near Mr. Henry Sherrin's and when the expected "cotton tail" passed between them Boy shot to kill him. Honeysuckle vines obstructed the view and he did not know he was shooting the other boy. Some 25 or 30 shot took effect in the foot and leg up to the knee, but the wound was not a dangerous one.

The people of his circuit will be pleased to know that Rev. J. A. McGraw comes back to Pageland for one more year. The people of all the denominations are glad that this good man is to labor among us for another year.

Mr. Albert Baker died at the home of his son, Mr. M. L. Baker, in Lanes Creek township, Sunday morning about six o'clock, and the body was buried at Philadelphia Baptist church Monday about noon, the services being conducted by Rev. E. C. Snider. Mr. Baker was sixty-nine years and a day old, and his death removes one of the best citizens of the community. He was a member of Philadelphia church, having moved his membership from White Plains, where he joined when he was young. He was true at heart and he tried to live a consistent life before his children, his neighbors and his God. Mr. Baker, then a boy of 16, volunteered in his father's stead at the outbreak of the Civil war, and served in Georgia, South Carolina and Virginia before he became sick at Petersburg, Va., where he lay for 3 months in a hospital. He was finally discharged on account of ill health, his discharge being signed by Jefferson Davis. He came home and stayed a few months in 1862 until his health improved and then he volunteered again. He was stationed this time on Sullivan's Island near Charleston and was in Captain John Evans' company with the late Rev. John Turner, Mr. H. H. Evans and others. His health since the war had been unusually good, and Saturday was the first day he had been unable to rise from his bed since the war. He had been in poor health for about 3 weeks but he was confined to his bed only one day. He was raised near White Plains in this county, where he lived until after the war. Then he moved to Union county and lived two years; then to Lancaster county for eight years, after which he made his home in Union county until his death. He is survived by the following brothers and sisters: William Baker, of Lancaster, George Baker and Mrs. Lydia Bailey, of Lancaster county, Mrs. Mollie Gardner, of Kershaw, Mrs. P. J. Davis, of Lanes Creek, and Mrs. James Funderburk, of Stanley county, N. C. One son Mr. M. L. Baker, and three daughters survive: Mrs. Lester Riggins, and Mrs. H. L. Autry, of Lanes Creek township, and Mrs. E. B. Autry, of Douglass, Ga.

BAPTIST, J. M. Sullivan, Pastor. White Plains next Sunday at 11 a. m. Saturday at 2:30 p. m. Center Grove school house 3 p. m. All members of White Plains are requested to be present Saturday afternoon. Business of importance.
