Than Ourstoff is not often that we venture to advise our farmers what to do about their farms, from the simple reason that we have a sort of a sneaking idea that they know more about their, business than we do, but, in view of the chert corn crop this year, we must be excused for offering just two words of ad-vice, and they are, "Plant Oats." Yes, friends, plant oats early and often. They are a good thing to have around the plantation when corn is scarce.

That is an interesting article from the Greenville News upon the subject of extensive grape growing near that city, and it should afford food for reflection to our people who have all along neglected this and kindzed industries. Of course 1t is not necessary to go into the business on such a large scale in order to make it profitable, for a few acres can be made to return as much in profits as many times the area in cotton. Let us have a few instances of grape growing as -a husiness.

Many Southern exchanges are recom mending young men to become brick masons, since these command $6 a day. The young doctor is advised to throw away his pill box, the incipient lawyer the green bag and the clerk his ledger of yard stick. The $6 per day argument is good, but every man investing in a trowel and snatching up brick and mortar would not necessarily make a brick mason. The dizzy heights of success are not more easily reached in masonry than m other avocations.

A Connecticut Mystery.

The authorities of Stratford, Conn. are earnestly engaged in the investigation of one of those murder mysteries in which that State may be said to abound -the death of Mrs. Rose Ambler, whose bruised body, with the clothes half torn off and bearing many marks of a conflict between the victim and her murderer, was found lying near a garden wall in a lonely place near the village. A colored man-Bostou White-was arrested on suspicion of having committed the murder, but a severe examination failed to connect him with it. Suspicion next fastened upon N. S. Ambler, the dead woman's divorced husband, but he has pretty successfully met it by proof that he was at another place at the time the murder was committed. One witness testifies to having seen a large, tall man and waiting on a little bridge where the unfamily fortunate woman was to pass, a short time before the murder was probably committed, and another testifies to havhas the largest and most complete stock ing seen her and a large, tall man walking together shortly afterward; but there is no clew to show who this mysterious person was. The authorities are baffled. They have followed up every clew discovered, but the tragedy remains as dark and mysterious as the murder of Mary Stannard, whose body was found in the same neighborhood five years age, or that of pretty Jennie Cramer, whose body was found in the water at New Haven two years later.

CONVICTED. -Thomas L. Shields who killed Jomes G. Sitton, of Due West, Abbeville, in Mecklenburg county. N.C .. has been convicted and sentenced to be hanged. Shields was a Republican and ex Revenue officer and claimed that Sitton had ruined his sister. Sitton's friends denied this, and claimed that the story of seduction was concocted because he was a witness against Shields in a revenue case, and the latter desired to get rid of him. The jury apparently pelieved this from the evide A negro woman who was hung in is another argument against public executions. The Christian religion is disgraced by such a travesty, and evilminded persons are encouraged to "go to Jesus" via the scaffold. Let the mouths of all such blaspheming wretches be shut."

SUPREME LODGE, KNIGHTS OF HON-OR.-LOUISVILLE, KY., June 1st, 1883.-EDWARD B. HARPER, President. 55 Liberty St., New York City .-DEAR SIR :- I have carefully examined into the objects and plans of the Mutual Reserve Fund Life Association, and I am profoundly impressed with its system. It undoubtedly presents many advantages peculiar to itself, and beside combines various principles which have proved successful in the experience of other associations. It offers protection at a cost within the reach of almost every one, on a purely mutual basis, and therefore must be recognized as an organization of and for the people. It will, without doubt, prove an eminent success. I have so favorably regarded the Reserve

Fund Association that I have given your agent here my application for a certifi Gate of $10,000. Very repectfully, B.

A RIGHT STEP .- Gov. Thompson's prompt action in arresting and placing under peace bonds the belligerant parties in the Lipscomb-Thomas-Gonzales embroglio and thus preventing further trouble is highbly commendatory. Had the Governor of Georgia acted with equal judgment and decision in the Cox-Allston affair which occurred at the Capital of that State several years ago the life of the gallant Allston might have been spared. Gov. Thompson did not interfered, but he took the matter in hand in time and thus prevented trouble, bandit, Frank James, by what they are Deep Rock in Syphons at Patrick's.
