Twenty-Six Bodies Along the Licking River Are Swept Away and Great Damage Was Done.

A dispatch from Salyersville, Ky., says six bodies were taken from the swollen waters of the Licking river and fearing that great damage has been done and that more lives have been lost as a result of a cloudburst near the headwaters of the stream, rescuing parties have left there for the mountain regions to the east.

The dead are:
Mrs. John Sheppard.
William Conley.
Unidentified dead.
A white man, aged about 50.
A white boy.

Telephone connection with the scene of the cloudburst has been cut off. It is known that twenty-six houses were washed away.

Eastern Kentucky has been deluged with heavy rainfalls for practically a week and the storm, which is understood to have been a cloudburst, has put the waters of the already swollen Licking, entirely out of its banks. The wreckage was observed floating past Salyersville at daylight and the work of roping houses and rescuing live stock was begun. This resulted in a short time in the finding of four bodies.

There are no cities or towns of any size above Salyersville on the Licking, but there are several mountain villages and the country is fairly well populated. The region is difficult of access and although there are no railroads, wire communication is carried on when conditions are normal.

Six bodies have been recovered. They include Mr. and Mrs. Gayheart and child. John Conley and John Welnerman, farmers, are among those reported missing.

"FAVORITE SON" DEAD.

Senator Daniel, of Virginia, Passes Away at Lynchburg.

John W. Daniel, senior Senator from Virginia, and for more than thirty years Virginia's "favorite son," died at the Lynchburg Sanitarium, at 10:35 o'clock Wednesday night, his death being due to a recurrence of paralysis. The immediate cause of his death was a cerebral hemorrhage, sustained at noon, in the right portion of his brain, involving the right side. This was in addition to the paralysis of the left side, which was sustained last winter, while in Florida for his health.

The statesman's illness began with a slight attack of apoplexy, in Philadelphia, last October, which kept him from being in his seat at the opening of Congress last December. Only once since that had he appeared before an audience, and that was for an informal talk in January.

The end came almost without a struggle. Indeed, the family present could not notice the slight struggle which was noted by Dr. Waugh.

HAMILTON IS ELECTROCUTED.

He Killed an Affinity Who Tried to Shake Him Off.

Angelo Hamilton, who was convicted of murdering Mrs. Sallie B. Hix, at Lynchburg, Va., June 13, 1909, was put to death in the electric chair in the Virginia state penitentiary at Richmond early Friday. Mrs. Hamilton came to Richmond with her children to intercede with the governor for the commutation of Hamilton's sentence.

The crime for which Hamilton was electrocuted was committed in Lynchburg, Va., June 13, 1909. Hamilton had been infatuated with the woman and she had sought to free herself from him. On that night Mrs. Hix went to a dance. Hamilton followed her to the hall. On the way home Hamilton shot her several times. He was 25 years of age.

COTTON MILLS CLOSED FRIDAY.

Will Cut Off One-Twelfth of Cotton Goods Output.

The great curtailment movement among the mills of the Piedmont began Friday, July 1st. Mills in North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia will close down until the morning of the 15th. Out of 3,000,000 spindles 2,750,000 have signified that they would join in the curtailment which will be at least a month in all during the summer. The movement will mean a cutting off of from 1,000,000 to 2,000,000 pieces of cloth or one-twelfth of the output.

Mr. August W. Smith, president of the Woodruff mills, when asked Thursday night about the closing down of the mills said:
"There is a loss in every pound of cloth we are putting out and we have to curtail to cover in part this loss and create a demand for our goods. I should say the output will be cut down one-twelfth by the curtailment which will be done this summer, and which will amount to in all about four weeks' time."

Mr. John A. Law, president of the Saxon Mills said:
"There will be the largest curtailment among the cotton mills of Spartanburg county ever known. The price of manufactured goods is out of proportion with the price of cotton. A great many of the mills will close down on the first of July and others on the 25th."

BRIDES ONLY FEW HOURS.

Married Two Prisoners That Had Received Death Sentences.

Two brides were made widows a few hours after the wedding ceremonies were performed in the penitentiary at Valladolid, Yucatan, says a dispatch from Mexico City, Mexico, when their husbands faced a firing squad selected to execute them in accordance with sentences passed upon them after trial by the war department for sedition and murder, the accusation growing out of their participation in the recent uprising at Valladolid. For several days a number of prisoners have been on trial. Three were sentenced to death and executed Thursday afternoon; three were sentenced to fifteen years and four were sentenced to 13 years and four months in prison.

Immediately after the death sentences were pronounced on the three men charged with murder two were permitted to marry before they were executed. Their requests were granted by the authorities and the young women to whom they were engaged went to the prison at the hour agreed upon for the marriage ceremonies.

Appearance of Mysterious Wife the Cause of Tragedy.

As a sequel to the appearance of a woman in Uniontown, Pa., registered at a hotel as Mrs. Mad Rosenberg, the man whose name she thus used, committed suicide by firing a bullet through his head. It was not known to his friends that the man had married a second time, but the woman declares she became his wife in Pittsburgh. Rosenberg was worth about $100,000 and for many years had been a principal stockholder in the Arch Distillery company. Early in the morning of his death he appeared on the streets and discussed business matters with his friends. He was 60 years of age and had been living a retired life for a number of years.

A brother of Mr. Wadsworth, took his life in a Greensboro hotel last year.

On last Tuesday the little girl ran a nail in her foot, but little attention was given, the parents thinking of course, that she would soon be well. On Saturday she was taken violently ill and Sunday morning lockjaw set in. The little one was the pride of her parents and her death has cast a pall of sorrow over the entire household. Her remains were laid to rest in the Lexington city cemetery Monday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock.

BULLETS HIT NINE.

One Principal Dead, Other Dying and Bystanders Wounded.

One man is dead, one is dying and seven other persons are in hospitals with more or less serious wounds as the result of a duel fought on one of the most crowded thoroughfares of Cleveland, O. The trouble started in a quarrel between Frank Viena and Antoine Mercurio over the alleged ill-treatment of his wife by Mercurio. The two men were standing in front of a saloon when they drew revolvers and began firing at each other. A number of persons rushed forward to separate them, but before the shooting could be stopped Viena was dead, Mercurio fatally wounded, and seven stray bullets had found billets in as many of the bystanders.

BEARS CHARMED LIFE.

Bullet Passes Through His Body Without Fatal Result.

Robert Roberts, of Oak Grove, La., believes that he bears a charmed life. He was the guest the other day of his neighbor, Jacob McGahl. To celebrate the occasion McGahl decided to have fried chicken for dinner and invited Roberts to help corral a pullet. When the host fired a Winchester rifle the chicken's neck was severed and at the same time his guess was perforated by the bullet on the rebound. The bullet passed entirely through Roberts' body, but in spite of this he ate the chicken dinner and the doctors say he will get well.

ELPHANTS ON RAMPAGE.

Charge Dwelling But Are Stopped by Stout Maple Tree.

Angered by the efforts of trainers to separate them from two small elephants, two big elephants belonging to a circus Friday engaged in a wild charge down the main street of Greeley, Colo.

The elephants, which were chained together crashed through a fence into the front yard of a resident, tearing up lawn and shrubbery. They were making straight for the house, which would in all probability have been wrecked in the collision, when they were brought to a stop by a stout maple tree on either side of which they attempted to pass.

AN APPRECIATION

Of Judge Dantzier Passed by the Anderson Bar.

Last Monday the Anderson Bar Association passed resolutions on the death of Judge Dantzier. After several speeches by members of the Bar and Judge Watts as to Judge Dantzier's fine character and as to his ability as a judge the following resolutions were ordered by the Court spread upon our minutes and the Court adjourned until Tuesday morning in respect of the deceased Judge's memory. The resolutions were:

"Whereas, Hon. Chas. G. Dantzier, of the Circuit-court in this County, state has died since the last session of the Circuit court in this county; and whereas, we the members of the Anderson Bar Association desire to place on record our appreciation of his services to the state as a Judge and our testimony of his character as a man:

"Therefore be it resolved: That in the death of Honorable Chas. G. Dantzier the State of South Carolina has lost an able and impartial jurist, one in whose judicial mind was combined justice and mercy; and who in the discharge of his duties as judge was controlled by the law as he understood it, and by an earnest desire that so far as his decisions could effect the result of litigated cases before him, right should triumph and justice prevail.

Resolved further: That on the several occasions when he has presided, as Judge at Anderson, he endeavored himself to the members of the Bar by his courtesy and patience in his genial manner and his social intercourse with us. He was a righteous Judge, a patriotic citizen, a genial friend, and as such we deplore his death. To his wife and family to whom he was deeply devoted we extend our sympathy.

"Dated Anderson, S. C., June 27, 1910. And signed by J. E. Breazeal, M. L. Bonham, G. H. Geiger, Committee.

NOTOUS SCENES.

Police Charge Carlists and Nationalists in Spanish Town.

A dispatch from Bilbao, Spain on Thursday says there were further disturbances growing out of the strained relations between the government of Premier Canalejas and of the Vatican. A crowd composed of Carlists and Nationalists surrounded the palace of the Governor of the province and shouted: "Down with the Governor!"

The police were summoned and charging the demonstrators with fixed bayonets, wounded a number of them. The capitol has been the scene of many civil clashes. In 1874 it withstood a long siege by the Carlists.

Auto Ditched.

Rev. E. E. Lashly and Ralph Biedler a hardware man from Fostoria, O., were instantly killed Friday, and M. A. Stoneburier and James McConnell were probably fatally injured when their automobile jumped into a ditch near Sandusky. The steering gear got out of order and the chauffeur lost control.

Banker Shot by Unknown Man.

J. H. Givens, president of the Bank of Laurel Hill, Fla., and manager of the Florida-Alabama Timber company was shot from ambush on the night of June 30, as he was proceeding on horseback to his home in Laurel Hill. Two charges of buckshot struck him in the arm and leg, but is not likely to prove fatal. There is no clue to these would-be assassins.

BOASTS OF CRIME

YOUTHFUL BURGLARS CAUGHT RED-HANDED.

Boys Are 17 and 18 Years Old and Come of Respectable Families.—Had Kit Full of Tools.

Two well dressed young men, 17 and 18 years old, were caught before dawn Thursday, leaving one of the prominent apartments in Washington, which they admitted they entered for purposes of robbery.

They were Ely B. Runyon, who says he is the son of Mrs. Emily E. C. Runyon, a physician of Richmond, Va., and Julian D. Wychard, son of a former newspaper publisher in North Carolina.

Each of the youthful burglars was armed with revolvers and they had a complete burglar's kit, including a dark lantern. The flashing of the dark lantern was seen by a policeman who made the arrests. A recent robbery of the home of Edward A. Moseley, secretary of the interstate commission, has been traced to the boys.

When captured the boys had entered the office of a physician, and finding nothing they wanted, departed to discover a more lucrative field for their efforts when the policeman saw their lantern.

The two boys said they came to Washington Tuesday night and registered at a hotel. Went out shortly after midnight to operate in a fashionable section of the city. Runyon boasts of exploits in various cities of the West, saying he had been trained as a burglar by an adept who is now serving time. Wychard claims that he recently met Runyon in Atlanta, where he had lived, and traveled with him without knowing his occupation until the two came to Washington. The boys will be given a hearing in a few days.

A TIME PUZZLE.

Residents of Augusta Bothered by Four Times.

Augusta, Ga., is the only city in the country having four different times and all of them in use. It is on the ninetieth meridian, and the railroads Georgia use Central time, while the Carolina roads use meridian or Eastern time. To try to avoid confusion the city has a local time of its own, which is half way between the two. But what really adds to the complicated situation is the fact that farmers in the surrounding country nearby all use "sun" time, which is different from all the others. This last named time is controlled by the almanac that is in every Southern farmer's home, especially that of the colored farmer.

A stranger has some difficult and amusing experiences if he stops the average Augusta person on streets and asks the hour. He is probably told, "It's ten o'clock by Georgia railroad time, 30 minutes to ten city time and nine o'clock if you are going out into Carolina." If the person asked is a farmer the stranger, if he will wait until the calculations and an astronomical observation are made, probably will be furnished with an answer of, "Well, I reckon stranger, it's about nigh on to half-past nine o'clock."

HIGHWAYMEN CONVICTED.

Four Negroes to Pay Death Penalty for Crime.

The four negroes Charles Walker, Jim Black, Charles Julian and Ed Weaver, charged with the murder of Motorman Brown, in the Druid Hills street car hold-up at Atlanta several weeks ago, were convicted of first degree murder and was sentenced to hang. Although Walker and Weaver had made written confessions of their guilt and implicated the two other negroes, they swore on the stand in the trial court that the confession was untrue. There is no doubt of the guilt of all the men that have been convicted.

STATE AUTOMOBILE LAWS.

Provide for Use of Cars on Country Roads.—Speed Limit.

Magistrate B. F. Wilson, of Anderson, said the other day that there were many people who owned automobiles and who did not know the state laws regulating them while on the country roads. It seems to be the impression of most people that they can operate their cars as fast as they want to once out of the city limits, but this is a mistake. Following are a few interesting bits of law from the acts of the general assembly.

"No person shall operate a motor vehicle on a public highway at a rate of speed greater than is reasonable and proper at the time and place, having due regard to the traffic and use of the highways as to the condition or so as to endanger the life, limb or property of any person or in any event at a rate greater than fifteen miles an hour."

Upon approaching a crossing, bridge, step descent, or a curve a person shall have their machine under control and operate it at a rate of speed not greater than six miles an hour, and in no greater than is reasonable and proper, having due regard to conditions.

"The driver of a motor vehicle shall give notice by blowing a horn, bell or otherwise so as not to frighten the animals and to use precautions to insure the safety of persons and property. It is also necessary to bring the car to a stop if it is seen that the horses are frightened."

"It is necessary to stop the car at a signal from one who is in the highway and who is driving a wild animal. The raising of a hand may be considered a signal to stop. It is also necessary to remain stationary until such an animal could be removed. It is necessary for an automobilist to give the right of way to the driver of a horse or a mule and he shall go to the right of the road."

"Violators of these acts shall be fined from ten to one hundred dollars or imprisoned not more than thirty days."

"Before operating a car in any county it is necessary to secure from the clerk of court a certificate saying which is numbered and this number must be placed on the back of the car. The owner's address and a brief description of the car must be given. The registration fee is $1. Ten days are allowed an owner in which to register his car."

ORDERS AGAINST CLUBS.

Temporary Injunction Issued Against Three in Columbia.

At Columbia Judge DeVore in the circuit court recently granted three orders on motion of Attorney General Lyon, requiring three social clubs in the city to show cause before him on July 1 why they should not be perpetually restrained from the sale of spirituous liquors. The orders were granted upon affidavits made that liquors had been purchased at the three places in violation of the dispensary law.

Those against whom the orders are directed are the Savoy club, situated at 1219 1-2 Taylor street, of which P. W. Bessinger and Heyward B. Smith are named as in charge, and J. L. Shull as the property owner; the Jackson Club, at 914 Gervais street, L. E. Levin and Everland being named as in charge, and S. L. Sweeney as the property owner; and the third order being directed against G. H. Geiger, Harry Lehman and William T. Thompson for violation of the dispensary law at 912 Gervais street. G. H. Geiger being also the owner of the premises.

Unless an adequate defense is made to the orders granted a perpetual injunction restraining the use of the premises for the illegal purposes charged will be passed by the court.

Anti-Prizefight Bill.

The Georgia senate Friday morning reconsidered its action Wednesday in passing the anti-prize fight bill and amended it so as to prohibit all boxing contests to which admission fees are charged and in which contestants are paid for their services. It was put up to a vote and passed. The bill now goes to the house.

Gave Bachelor Her Baby.

Pretending that she had left her pocketbook in the waiting room in Manhattan, N. Y., a young woman asked Martin Stearns, a Brooklyn bachelor, to hold her baby while she hurried back to get the purse. An hour and a half later he was still holding the baby for the woman failed to return.

Prison doors closed on John B. Lombard, of Framingham, Mass, last week, for a period of not less than ten nor more than fifteen years. He confessed to having forged town notes to the amount of $300,000 in the past ten years, while serving as town treasurer. He is 60 years of age.

Coffin Waited Fifteen Years.

The last wish of Hilary Roberts, a manufacturer of Savannah, Ga., was fulfilled last week when he was buried in a coffin made by himself 15 years ago. He was 77 years of age.

ASSESSORS FIX VALUES

STATE BOARD OF EQUALIZATION TO MEET SOON.

Matter of Placing All Property on Basis of True Valuation Will Be Discussed.

It is anticipated that Comptroller General Jones will announce soon the date for the meeting of the State board of equalization. The meeting is held during the summer, usually, in the month of June or July, and the work of the board is to act upon the findings of the county boards and to take any action on tax questions that is deemed necessary.

The most important resolutions that came before the board last year was that affecting the assessing of property at full value. This resolution, introduced by Jeremiah Smith, of Horry, was defeated by a vote of 23 to 8.

As this is the year for the reassessment and as the county board have been busy with the tax question in the several counties of the State, the meeting of the board this year is of special interest. It is thought that the tax question will receive more than ordinary consideration. The tax question has been brought into the campaign very forcibly this year.

The Taxable Property.

As shown by the comptroller general's report for the year 1910 the following is the amount of taxable property in South Carolina:

For county purposes, taxes	960,664

State Board of Assessors

The State Board of assessors, consisting of State officials, assesses railroad and like property.

The Southern Express company property in South Carolina last year was assessed at a valuation of $277,557. The total value of the Pullman cars operated in this State was $140,292; the total valuation of telephone and telegraph companies was placed as follows:

Western Union	$522,427
Atlantic Postal Telegraph-Cable company	$103,613
American Telephone and Telegraph Company of South Carolina	$205,750
Southern Bell Telephone company	$571,848
Local companies	$125,665

The actual value of cotton mills as fixed by the State board was $51,260,505. The actual value of cotton oil mills was placed at $2,853,418.

The assessments for fertilizer plants was placed at $3,164,477. The value of railway property was fixed at a little 'over' $44,000,000.

BLOWS UP SIXTEEN.

Five Men are Killed and Eleven Are Injured in Minnesota.

Five men were killed and 11 injured, two of them probably fatally, by an explosion, which first wrecked and then set fire to the saloon of Edward Bushay, five miles of Minneapolis, Minn., on the Anoka road. Edward Bushay, proprietor of the place, and George Miller were so badly burned that they will die. The explosion of a gas tank in the basement blew the roof from the building, and fire started immediately. In half an hour the building was a mass of burning wreckage. Ernest Osterchild, a porter, rescued both Bushay and Miller from death in the fire.

DESPERADO CAPTURED.
