A SMILE FOR YOU.

Geo. O. Baker.

HIS IDEA.

Wix—I see by this paper that more than one-half of the world's population is feminine.
Nix—I don't believe it. If it were so how do you account for the fact that one-half of the world doesn't know how the other half lives?

SO GRUESOMELY.

Hubby—We must go to some quiet, inexpensive place next summer.
Wifey—Great heavens! Don't talk so gruesomely! You know that there are no longer any quiet or inexpensive places except cemeteries.

LOOKING FOR TROUBLE.

"Dearest, how much longer must I wait?"
"Why, we've only been engaged two weeks, and as we are having such a happy time, why do you want to cut it short and get married?"

NEXT PRESIDENT A DEMOCRAT.

Observations of Editor Hoyt During Trip to New York.

James A. Hoyt, editor of the Columbia Daily Record, who has just returned from the Associated Press and American Newspaper Publishers' Association's meeting in New York, has the following to say in his paper Monday afternoon of the political outlook:

"An exceptionally well posted man from the Middle West, having joined very heartily in the applause accorded the President, turned and said: 'The next President will be a Democrat.' 'That was the belief expressed by men from every section of the country there gathered. Despite the respect in which Mr. Taft is held, and despite the certainty that he will be his party's candidate, the prevailing belief is that he will be defeated, or that a Democrat will be elected, or that is what it means. There is not a great deal of talk about who the candidate should be, but the fact that Harmon has carried Taft's own State makes him seem to many the strongest candidate, politically, and the suggestion that the Democratic ticket should be Judson Harmon for President, and Woodrow Wilson, for Vice President, is very popular. That may be the ticket, if Governor Wilson will accept second place, and there is no reason to believe he will not.'

Scramble for Gold in Nevada.

An accurate portrayal of scenes, types and conditions of mining districts in modern Nevada is given by Phillip Verrill Mishels (the author of "Bruver Jim's Baby") in "The Furnace of Gold." Formerly published at $1.50, now 50 cents at Sims Book Store. Watch their window.

HOW TO BE CHEERFUL.

George O. Baker.

THEN IT HAPPENED.

Virginia—What made you think he would propose to me?
Dorothy—Why, when I refused him he said he didn't care what became of him; but perhaps he wasn't serious.

AMONG FRIENDS.

Miss Cutting—So sorry I couldn't see you when you called, but I was just having my hair washed.
Miss Sharpe—And the laundries are so provokingly slow about returning things.

CITING AN EXCEPTION.

"Time is money, you know."
"But I don't know anything of the kind. There's young Dinks, who has plenty of time on his hands, and not a cent in his pockets."

SEEKING A FORTUNE.

Claiming an Interest in Ninety Million Dollars.

A special dispatch from New York to The State says Mrs. J. C. White of Atlanta, Ga., sailed for England Monday bearing a letter she found two weeks ago in a pile of old papers in her home, with which she hopes to lift the veil of mystery which has enveloped the fortune of Richard Hazzard, who came to America from England in 1715 and settled in South Carolina, founding Beaufort Hall. The fortune amounts to $90,000,000 and was left originally to Hazzard by his relatives. He became ill soon after and died and the fortune was left in successive heirs, but in each instance death revealed the establishment of a title. Mrs. White says that her father, William Horton Hazzard, Jr., is the last heir.

She Hesitated—But Was Saved.

A story is told—and very beautifully—of a lady who, though she hesitated, was not "lost" according to the old adage, but was saved. "She That Hesitates"—by Harris Dickson—a good story in a beautiful binding, for fifty cents. Sims' Book Store.

Dead in Woods.

At Lakewood, N. J., Mrs. Charles Turner, a pretty brunette of middle age, was found murdered in the woods behind a studio building on Fulton street, Friday afternoon. The woman's face had been beaten in by a big club, which lay nearby, stained with blood. The body was found by Arnold Turner, a nephew, who was searching for his aunt, who had been missing since Wednesday, when she left her home to deliver some dresses to women inmates of a local sanitarium.

Send in your $1.50 for one year subscriptions to The Times and Democrat. It will be money well spent.

Negro in Danger.

An attempt to assault three white women at New Albany, Ind., Sunday by a negro caused great excitement and threats were made against Robert Hines, a negro from Mount City, Ill., who was arrested. The negro attacked two women, and on being driven off, attacked a neighbor.

Crew of Eight Lost.

All hope of finding member of the crew of the schooner Emma Hawkins, eight negroes, alive has been abandoned after 42 hours search in the vicinity of the wreck in Lake Ponchartrain. The Hawkins was found bottom side up four miles from Pass Manchane, La.

A Message On Parchment Was Found in the Figurehead of an Old Vessel.

And it led to a merry adventure into the interior of Africa. A young army man and a pretty girl were involved in the discovery and a romance ensued that caused Louis Tracy to write "The Message." Now at Sims' Book Store for fifty cents. Sims' Book Store.

The Spirit of '76.

Francis Lynde has shown us a most compelling hero in "The Master of Appleby," a story of Colonial times, and has plucked from those warring days bits of adventure that are both brilliant and thrilling. Selling at fifty cents at Sims Book Store.

Fight About Money.

At Walter, Ala., Monday afternoon F. W. Hoosey shot and killed William Black, a well known citizen. One of Black's sons took the gun from Hoosey and shot him, and when Hoosey's son interfered, shot him also. The fight grew out of a debt, which Hoosey owed Black and for which Black took him to task.

View of "Hell."

Frank Gaysoke, a Pole, is under arrest in Farmington, W. Va., on charge of insanity. His first visit to a mine in which he was engaged to work convinced him the place was hell and caused him to lose his mind.

At The Star Theater, Monday, May 8th, "A TALE OF TWO CITIES," by Dickens.

"A TALE OF TWO CITIES," dramatized from the famous Dickens' novel and produced in three motion picture reels by the Vitagraph Company of America, will be exhibited as follows at The Star Theater, Monday, May 8th:

Each of the three reels is arranged and presented in such a way that it makes a complete story, and taken together it forms the most important motion picture dramatic event. It is said to be the most elaborate dramatic film ever produced, both as to the players appearing in the various parts and the attention to scenery and detail. The most important dramatic motion picture film that has ever been issued by any company in America or Europe is "A Tale of Two Cities," just produced by the Vitagraph Company of America. The picture is in three parts, or reels, and runs nearly an hour, not including intermissions between the reels. It thus furnishes the main part of an entire performance and, will be exhibited as the star feature at The Star Theater, on Monday, May 8th. The film drama, "A Tale of Two Cities," is adapted from the novel of Charles Dickens, and has been produced with a special cast of players and a wealth of scenic display beyond even the previous famous works of this company. It is described by the critics as a masterpiece. "A Tale of Two Cities" is the motion picture treat of the season, being the most important and longest dramatic film ever issued. It can be seen at The Star Theater, on Monday, May 8th. The two principal parts in the Vitagraph film drama, "A Tale of Two Cities," are taken by Florence Turner and Maurice Costello, two famous picture players whose names and faces are familiar to everyone who is in the habit of seeing the films. "A Tale of Two Cities" is a three-reel production, the longest film of a dramatic character ever made.

IT WILL BE EXHIBITED AT THE STAR THEATER, ON MONDAY, MAY 8TH.
