Orangeburg, S. C., by registered letter, check or money order.It is now said that Bailey is against Lorimer. Possibly he has had his ear to the ground lately and the rumblings from Texas have waked him up.Fifty or more people have already died from the heat in the Northern cities. Why don't the poor parched up folks who live North come South for the summer?Gov. Woodrow Wilson will be in Columbia this week, where he will make a speech to the press gang.
We have read several of his speeches and they are all good.That Ware Shoals story is being explained yet. We would advise newspaper reporters to follow the advice of old Davey Crockett, "be sure you are right, and then go ahead."The Greenville Piedmont is given credit for discovering "that if a man's sins don't find him out his wife will." We thought Mrs. Eve made that discovery many thousands of years ago.Gov. Dix says Bryan deserves "a high place in history." He already has it, and the little three for a quarter editors that are continually peeking at him can't reduce it the one millionth part of an inch.If Mr. Carnegie would tell all he knows about the steel trust, we fear that some eminently respectful gentlemen, as this world reckons respectability, would become pensioners on Uncle Sam's bounty.The Democratic House has determined to make the Republican Senate vote on the farmers' free list bill if congress has to stay in session until next December. That is right.
The Republicans should be made to toss the mark.Speaker Champ Clark will be the Democratic nominee for presidential honors believes Senator Robert L.
Taylor of Tennessee, who has just completed a "swing around the circle." The Times and Democrat picks Wilson as a winner.It is perfectly natural for such frecks as Senator Heyburn, of Idaho, to fight the bill for the election of United States Senators by the people.
If we had such a law, men like Heyburn could never get elected to the Senate, and he knows it.The Charlotte Observer says Insurgent Leader Francisco I. Madero, Jr., is prudent in refusing to visit Mexico City until President Diaz has resigned. Perhaps he has read Aesop —as every one should do—and remembers how the fox showed his wisdom by refusing to obey King Lion's invitation because all the tracks at the cave-mouth pointed one way.Another of the Old Guard of the State Press has answered roll call.
Col. T. B. Crews, Editor and proprietor of the Laurensville Herald, was called from labor on last Saturday night and is now with loved ones who had preceded him to the better land. One by one these old men that have given character and tone to the louring press of the State pass away.
We shall miss them.It is explained that the democratic members of the senate oppose the reference of the Lorimer case to a special committee because to do so might "hurt the feelings" of Senators Bailey, Paynter, Fletcher and Bankhead, who were members of the committee on privileges and elections, which whitewashed Lorimer at the last session, and are still members of it. The truth should be established in the case regardless of the feelings of any one.We regret to learn of the death of Col. T. B. Crews, Editor of the Laurensville Herald. He was nearly eighty years of age, and had been connected with the press of the State for over sixty years. He was a true man, and had scores of friends who will regret to hear of his death. He was a gallant soldier of the Lost Cause and had been honored politically by the people of his county more than once. We always met him at the Press Association meetings, and now that he will not be there, they will not be the same to us.It is pretty hard to reconcile all the stories that have been told about that Ware Shoals matter. The mill managers flatly contradicts the statement that they refused to shut down because their employees wanted to hear Gov. Bleese. On the contrary, they say that no such request was made, and that as far back as May 1, notice had been given to the employees of the mill that a general holiday would be given on the day the Governor was to speak. Was this statement about the holiday posted as aimed by the mill people? If it was that clears the mill people, and leaves the others to fight it out.

The Farmer Feeds All.

If it was not for the farmer and his farm and what he makes on it this great country of ours would not today be considered the richest and greatest country on the planet.
Notwithstanding the fact that he is plundered morning, noon and night out of much of his hard earned money by the operations of the tariff, he still manages to make enough to feed himself and the balance of us. Yet he is hardly considered when it comes to legislation. The men he sends to represent him in Congress plucks him for the benefit of rich constituents who can afford to spend large sums to influence legislation.All of the above is fully verified by the fact that the exports from the United States in the fiscal year 1911 will probably exceed by about three hundred million dollars the figures of last year, and cross the two billion dollar line. The figures of exports of the bureau of statistics, department of commerce with April, show and excess of 268 million dollar over those in the corresponding months of last year, and for the single month of April, an excess of 25 million dollars over April of last year, thus indicating that the growth in exports in 1911 will approximate 300 million dollars, and the total exports of the year probably exceed two billion dollars.What are the principal causes in this enormous growth in exports in 1911 when compared with 1910? It is well known that in certain articles, such as wheat, flour, cattle, meats and others of this class, exports of 1911 are less than those of earlier year in the history of the ing off in these important staples, of which the United States has in the past been such a large exporter, the total value of merchandise exported seems likely to show a larger growth in 1911 than shown by any earlier years in the history of the foreign trade. Exports of cattle in the ten months ending with April show an actual falling off of over 2 1-2 million dollars in value when compared with the corresponding months of 1910.Wheat shows a falling off of about 23 million dollars in value in the ten months in question, compared with the corresponding period of the earlier year; canned beef, fresh beef, oleo oil, and tallow, all show a decline in the quantity exported in the pared with the corresponding months ten months ending April when com-of the preceding year, yet in that same ten months the total value of all exports from the United States is 268 million dollars greater than in the corresponding months of the preceding year. What is the cause? The cause of so large a growth in certain articles as to overcome the loss in certain other articles and still create a gain of 268 million dollars over the figures of last year is chiefly the high price of cotton and the increased outward movement of manufacturers.Exports of cotton for the ten months ending with April show alone an increase of 143 million dollars over the corresponding months of last year, the total value of cotton exported in the ten months ending April being 549 million dollars, as against 406 million dollars of last year. The average export price per pound during the ten months ending April was higher than the average in any full fiscal year during the last quarter of a century. Corn also shows a gain, the value of exports in the ten months ending with April being nearly 28 million dollars, against a little more than 21 million in the same months of last year, while meat and dairy products show an increase of about four million dollars in 1911 over the 1910 period. The chief cause of the large increase in 1911 over 1910 are found in the large exportation and high price of cotton, and the large exportation of manufactures of all kinds.

Senate Has Improved.

The United State Senate is rapidly changing its personnel and becoming a more representative body. It can no longer be called the leading millionaire club of America. The number of millionaires in it has perceptibly decreased in the last few years.
According to the calculations of the Philadelphia Inquirer no less than 350,000,000 worth of senators has been ripped from the upper branch by an operation as simple as the one that left Adam without one of his ribs. The late Democratic cyclone had much to do with it. From present indications there will have to be formed an association for the conservation of our millionaires in the senate unless it is to become the poor man's club.The death of Stephen B. Elkins, of West Virginia, carried $15,000,- 000 out of the senate. The retirement of Nelson W. Aldrich, of Rhode Island, carried $10,000,000 away.
Four million went with Eugene Hale, of Maine, when he made way for Senator Johnson, elected by the Democratic legislature. Chauncey M. Depew, of New York, director in thirty-two different railroads walked off with $7,000,000. It was his own and he had a right to walk off with it, but the senate in the aggregate became just that much poorer and better.Then there was John Kern, of New Jersey, who, while scarcely in the class of Elkins, was worth $5,000,- 000. When he left another five million man bit the dust, so far as the senate was concerned. In the broad, sweet fields of private life wandered Nathan B. Scott, of West Virginia, with his $4,000,000. With him, along the rose-bordered byway, went James P. Tallaferra, of Florida, with $3,000,000. Hughes, of Colorado, died, removing another $2,000,000.There was $50,000,000 right at one clip. The men elected to replace these millionaires are virtually poor men, or, at least, what the world considers poor in these days of big fortunes. Watson, of West Virginia, who replaced Elkins, is about the only millionaire, in the batch of baby members. He is worth $2,000,-000. Senator O'Gorman, of New York, is by no means wealthy, and he expects to be obliged to support his large family on $7,500, which is his salary in the senate. He used to receive $17,500 as judge of one of the New York courts, and he admits now that it is not going to be easy to keep up the senatorial pace on $7,500. Senator Money, of Mississippi, who retired with the last congress, was a poor man, and John Sharp Williams, who succeeded him, is not wealthy.
