

HAPPILY MARRIED

TWO YOUNG HEARTS MADE TO BEAT AS ONE.

Rev. Samuel W. Danner and Miss Pearl E. Felder Joined in Holy Wedlock.

A happy marriage, and one of the prettiest thus far in this month of marriages, was solemnized according to the impressive ritual of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, at high noon Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. D. Felder, on Glover street, when their eldest daughter, Miss Pearl Evelyn, became the happy and beautiful bride of Rev. Samuel W. Danner, of the South Carolina conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. The parlor, where the marriage was solemnized, had been decorated by deft hands, and beautiful flowers and ferns had been so placed that the scene was one of beauty long to be remembered by all who were present.

To the sweet strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, skillfully rendered on the piano by Miss Marie Arant, the bridal party entered the parlor promptly at the hour appointed, high noon. First came Miss Alma Bowman, of Orangeburg, and Miss Mollie Holman, of Orangeburg. Mr. Ralph Shieder, of Grover, and Dr. F. J. D. Felder, Jr., of Charleston, next entered, and were followed by Miss Pauline Dukes, of Bowman, and Miss Sallie Wannamaker, of Orangeburg. Next to advance were Mr. Hennie Chaplain, of Neeces, and Mr. Frank Shuler, of Providence. Then followed Dr. Carl Able, of Leesville, with Miss Annie Rast, of Cameron. Then came the bride, accompanied by her maid of honor, Miss May Felder, the bride's sister.

Just as the bride approached the bay window, in which stood the officiating clergyman, the Rev. Chas. B. Smith, presiding elder of the Orangeburg district, she was joined by the groom, who, with his best man, Mr. Tillman Shealy, of Leesville, had entered the parlor by a door from another room. During the ceremony the bride and groom stood under a large bell made of white tissue paper suspended from the ceiling. The happy young couple was soon joined in holy wedlock by the Rev. Mr. Smith, and then came the warm, hearty congratulations of the large concourse of friends who had gathered to witness the union of the young couple.

Always lovely, and of a winsome style peculiarly her own, the bride never looked more beautiful than in her wedding gown of white satin. Her flowers were a beautiful mass of bride roses, showered with lilies-of-the-valley. The maid of honor was attired in a handsome gown of blue satin, and the other attendants of the bride were attired in pure white. All carried beautiful flowers and made, with the bride, a most charming picture, appropriately set off by the gentlemen of the bridal party. It was a lovely scene, long to be remembered by all who witnessed it.

After the ceremony came the wedding dinner, and it was a real dinner, such as is served on wedding occasions, in the country, where they have plenty to eat. There were all kinds of meat, including chicken pie and roast turkey. Several kinds of salads, pickles sweet and sour, cakes of all kinds. But what is the use to attempt a description of this elegant dinner, that was served to the hundreds of guests present. Everything that the most fastidious taste might crave was there in abundance. The dinner was served in the spacious dining room on two long tables, beautifully decorated. Here and there on them were handsomely fed cakes.

There was a large number of friends present, many of them being from a distance. Rev. Mr. Danner is a member of the South Carolina conference and is now stationed at Grover, where he and his bride will reside. We congratulate him on winning such a charming life companion as Miss Felder. They left on the Southern at six o'clock for their home, and with them went the best wishes of a large number of friends. The popularity of the bride was attested by the large number of beautiful and useful presents she received. "She is married and gone, and the farewell word is spoken. She has been wooed and won, and the family circle is broken."

Bank Increases Capital. At an important meeting of the directors of the People's bank of this city, held Wednesday, it was decided to increase the capital stock of the bank from $30,000 to $50,000. Muckenfuss, vice president; J. W. Culler, cashier; W. L. Glaze, Jr., assistant cashier; T. P. Schifley, bookkeeper; Glaze & Herbert, solicitors; A. M. Salley, R. E. Copes, G. L. Salley, W. L. Glaze, W. C. Crum, B. F. Muckenfuss, D. O. Herbert, J. F. Rickenbaker, A. J. Thackston and H. C. Wannamaker.

Citizen's Meeting at North. A very important citizen's meeting will be held at the high school building in North on Monday, June 12 at three o'clock. The County Board consisting of I. W. Bowman, C. J. Rast and L. W. Livingston will be present at this meeting. Important educational questions will be discussed and a full attendance of the citizens of North school district No. 34 is earnestly requested.

SOCIAL NOTES OF INTEREST.

Wannamaker-Dew Marriage Announced—Other Society News.

In a few days the Dixie Library will be moved to their new home next to the Presbyterian church. Work has been almost completed on the building and only the finishing touches are yet to be added. The charter for the organization has been received in the city and before long the new Dixie Library will be in readiness for business at their own home. Quite an improvement has been made on the once dilapidated shack that occupied the space where the rejuvenated and gaily painted library sight now stands.

Miss Sophie Oliver Tillman, the second daughter of Senator and Mrs. Benj. Tillman will be married to Mr. Henry Wise Hughes on the 28th of this month, at Trenton. This is the second one of the Tillman girls to get married this year. Only a few months ago Miss Lona Tillman became the wife of Mr. Charles Sumner Moore, of Atlantic City, N. J. Senator and Mrs. Tillman have another daughter who is now a student at Winthrop. Mr. Hughes who will be the groom is cashier of the Bank of Trenton and is a former student of the University of South Carolina and is well known throughout the State.

Announcement has been made by the parents of the bride-to-be, of the approaching wedding of Miss Carrie B. Wannamaker to Mr. Howard Preston Dew, of Blacksburg. The marriage will be a quiet affair and no cards have been issued. Miss Wannamaker is one of this city's most beautiful young women and is most popular wherever she is known. Mr. Dew is a successful young business man of Blacksburg.

Mr. Leroy Izlar, who has been professor of English at Staunton Military Academy in Virginia, has returned to his home in this city for the summer. He spent a few days in Columbia on his return trip.

The Winthrop Daughters met yesterday afternoon with Miss Margaret Dukes, on Broughton street.

COMMANDERY INSTITUTED.

Orangeburg Now Has an Organization of Higher Masons.

Orangeburg commandery, No. 9, Knights Templar, was instituted here Wednesday and Wednesday night. It now has a membership of 52 and is one of the best equipped commanderies in the State. The first regular meeting will be held the fourth Thursday after the first Monday of this month. The grand lodge officers who were here to institute the commandery were: George T. Bryan, past grand commander, Greenville; E. P. Miller, grand generalissimo, Bennettsville; J. M. Devin, grand captain general, Charleston; Rev. W. P. Smith, grand prelate, Spartanburg; O. Frank Hart, grand senior warden, Columbia; Sam P. Lanham, grand junior warden, Spartanburg. Besides these officers a number of other high Masons were present.

The work of initiation started at about 10 o'clock Wednesday morning and it was a late hour before the work was concluded, 31 candidates being initiated. A big banquet was given Wednesday night.

The officers of the Orangeburg commandery are: W. W. Wannamaker, eminent commander; T. W. Danzler, generalissimo; W. R. Lowman, captain general.

The new commandery, which is one of the strongest in the State, is composed of some of the highest Masons of Orangeburg, St. Matthews, Ellmore, Eutawville and surrounding country. Capt. W. W. Wannamaker, who is at the head of this commandery, is one of the brightest Masons in the State, and the new organization is bound to be a grand success under his management. He will have the cordial co-operation of other bright Masons, who are members of the new commandery.

Contest Over Election.

A contest is now going on as a result of an election held recently in school district No. 34, in this county. This district comprises the town of North and vicinity. A protest as to the result of the election has been filed with Superintendent of Education L. W. Livingston upon the grounds that persons were allowed to vote who did not present the proper credentials. A hearing will be had in the matter in the next few days. A petition for the special three mill tax levy was presented by the required number of freeholders of that district, and upon that petition the election was ordered. Some opposition was entertained to the special levy and the opponents gave notice that the election should be held according to strict principles or it would be contested. It is claimed that persons voted who were disqualified under the law.

Want it Located Here.

At a meeting of Orange lodge, Knights of Pythias, of this city, held Monday night, the matter of the State grand lodge establishing an orphanage was discussed. It seemed to be the opinion of the members that the grand lodge would at its next session provide for the establishment of an orphanage to be supported by it. In order to secure this orphanage for Orangeburg, a committee, consisting of Frank C. Bryant, G. A. Schifley, Sr., J. T. Liles, Robert Lide and J. S. Bowman was appointed to handle the matter for Orangeburg. This committee will obtain a site for the location of the orphanage, and if the grand lodge decides to establish an orphanage, Orangeburg will make an earnest effort to have it located here.

THE POSTAL LAW

WHY NEWSPAPERS ARE COMPELLED TO OBEY IT.

Subscribers Must Pay up Every Year or the Publisher Must Stop Their Paper.

The following taken from the Publisher's Auxiliary, a newspaper for newspaper people, will more fully explain to our subscribers why it is imperative that The Times and Democrat discontinue sending the paper to every subscriber who is six months or more in arrears on subscription. The Times and Democrat does not have many names on its subscription list that would come under this head, but there are some. The Times and Democrat would like to accommodate all these as long as they feel they should be accommodated, but the rule of the postoffice department must be observed. For the sake of accommodation, do not ask us to carry your name any longer. Come and make some arrangements about it.

Special agents of the postoffice department are traveling around the country dropping into newspaper offices when least expected to examine subscription lists to ascertain if the regulations requiring payment in advance is being observed. Several newspapers have been in trouble, and here is a story told by the Des Moines Capital:

"Editor Fay, of Lyons, Iowa, has been called to Washington city because his subscription list is not as well paid up as the law requires. He will have to explain to the government officials why he has not compelled his subscribers to pay up according to the postal laws. It seems a little tough that country editors have to be hauled up before the government under the charge of violating the federal laws just because they do not eternally keep dunning their subscribers for the small sum they owe on subscriptions, but it is like the end of the world; no one knows when it cometh, and an editor knoweth not what day the inspector may pop in and ask to see his list. And if too many subscribers are behind on this paper, it means trouble with the government. It puts the editor in such a shape that he is compelled to force his subscriptions unless he has an unusually prompt paying list of subscribers."

The Bee, a newspaper published at Jefferson has been jerked up. This is what the editor said about it:

"The Bee this morning received its first official summons from the postoffice department to conform with the ruling which requires the pay in advance. We can no longer send the paper to delinquents, no matter how willing we may be to accommodate them. We sometimes question the right of Uncle Sam to interfere in the conduct of our business and say we shall not extend credit if we want to, but whether right or wrong, we must conform to the regulation. It certainly will distress us greatly to cut off good and long time patrons who we know intend to pay, but are careless about the matter, and if such really want the Bee, we know that they will come to our assistance and relieve us of this embarrassment."

"It is a very dangerous business for a newspaper man to send papers to subscribers who are in arrears. To be deprived of second class privileges which is the penalty of non-compliance with the ruling, puts a newspaper out of business, for the expense of putting a one cent stamp on every paper mailed amounts to more than the profits on the entire subscription business, to say nothing of the increased amount of labor which is acquired in affixing the stamps."

We hope all our subscribers will enable us to comply with this law by paying up.

A Doctor's Neglect. We have received a communication from someone complaining of a certain doctor in one of the small towns of the county not having done his duty in regards to reporting a smallpox case. We feel sure that there is some mistake about this and that adequate precautions were taken to protect the community from the disease. The writer of the article neglected to sign his name to the article he sent in and we have an established rule not to publish any article sent in anonymously, even though initials are signed. The name need not always be published, but must be signed to the article for reference if necessary.

Delegate to Irrigation Congress.

Hon. T. M. Raysor, of this city, was appointed by Governor Bleasdale Wednesday afternoon, a delegate to the National Irrigation Congress. The congress meets sometime in December. It is probable that the subject of drainage will be the most discussed by the congress this year. In selecting Mr. Raysor we feel sure that Governor Bleasdale selected the right man, and we hope that he will be able to attend the congress when it meets. It will be remembered that Mr. Raysor was a delegate to the last congress also.

Death of Mrs. Sandel.

Mrs. Martha Sandel, mother of J. W. and Henry Sandel of this city, died at her home about seven miles from here in the Bowman section of Orangeburg county Tuesday morning. Mrs. Sandel had reached the ripe old age of about 80 years. She was a consistent member of Bethel Methodist church, and will be missed in the community she has lived for many years. The funeral services were held a Bethel church Wednesday morning. Burial took place at the church graveyard.

HAVING A GOOD TIME.

Mr. D. H. Marchant Writes Interestingly of his Trip.

Mr. D. H. Marchant, who has been in Chicago for the last few days attending the annual meeting of the National Association of Piano Dealers writes the following interesting letter telling of the huge exhibition of pianos in the Chicago Coliseum last Saturday. Mr. Marchant was accompanied on his trip by Mrs. Marchant, Misses Leila Marchant and Georgia Culler. The party will reach Orangeburg Monday afternoon. Following is his letter:

"What is undoubtedly the greatest public exhibition of Pianos that the World has ever seen was opened in the Chicago Coliseum last Saturday evening to continue during the week of the annual convention of the National Association of Piano Dealers under whose auspices it is given. 'President Taft officiated at the formal opening. He entered the Coliseum at 7.30, ascended the band stand, in the center of the building; where he faced a cheering throng that crowded aisles and galleries. Victor Herbert's Band played National airs during the President's entrance. Bowing his acknowledgement of the hearty reception given him, the president turned the switch that flooded the building with a blaze of light and the exhibition was formally opened."

"Mr. Taft said: 'I am very pleased to turn this switch and wish you success in your undertaking.' There have been many exhibitions of one kind and another held in the Coliseum, but never has there been one that rivalled the Piano Trade Exhibition in arrangement, in decoration, in lighting and in the magnificence of the displays. I get these facts from competent authorities here."

"The greatest previous piano exhibition was that of 1893 held here at the Columbian World's Fair. At that time fifty Grands and two hundred and sixty-four Uprights were displayed making a total of 314. There are now in the Coliseum more than one thousand Pianos and several hundred displayed in the different hotels because there was not enough space in the Coliseum for all who are displaying. The Player Piano is being featured and is no doubt the Piano of the future."

"This is a great Convention and one of the many things we are trying to do is to have eliminated fraudulent methods of advertising, and guessing contest schemes, that some dealers are practicing and by which they are deceiving the public. Common sense ought to teach a man that he can no more buy a $400 Piano for $200 than he can buy a gold dollar for fifty cents. D. H. Marchant."
