A WORD ABOUT OUR CITY

A TOWN WITH ALL MODERN CITY CONVENIENCIES.

Read What Luxuries Orangeburg Offers Prospective Residents and Then Think It Over.

In our travels up and down this good old State of South Carolina from the mountains to the seashore we will say, without any intention of indulging in mere phrases to please or flatter the people of the goodly little city of Orangeburg, that we have never seen a place of its size that equals it in all respects. It surpasses all we have ever seen in natural beauty and scenery. The same may be said of its streets and its stores and beautiful residences, and churches and school houses. All combine to make a lovely little city.

Then too, Orangeburg has all the modern comfort of a large city without any of its inconveniences from heat and crowded flats. Orangeburg has a fine system of waterworks and sewerage, owned and operated by the city for benefit and comfort of her people. She also owns an electric lighting plant, which furnishes lights to the city as well as the citizens, and power for operating numerous small and large industries. All the presses and machinery in The Times and Democrat office is run by electric power furnished by the city electric plant.

Orangeburg has the Gamewell Fire Alarm System to summon her excellent fire department to the scene of a fire. She has paved sidewalks and streets, and other comforts for those who live within her borders. We do not say these things in a boastful way but simply to let those who do not live here know what we have in the way of modern conveniences and comforts. These are public utilities owned by the city and operated for the benefit of all the people at or about cost. In this respect Orangeburg surpasses many of the large cities of the country, which shows she is abreast of the time.

The business concerns of the city are on a solid foundation and are able to meet all competition by selling goods at most reasonable prices.

The banks have a combined capital, surpassing many larger towns in the State. They are ably officered, conservatively managed, and are doing their full share towards the development of legitimate enterprises and business ventures. Then we have flourishing building and loan associations that help men of no means to buy comfortable homes.

We will enumerate some of the advantages that Orangeburg enjoys. Six Protestant denominations are represented here with congregations, so are the Catholics and Hebrews among white people, and three Protestant denominations are represented among the colored people. Two fine large brick school houses are provided for the white children, with a corps of nearly twenty teachers, and a good frame building for colored children, with six teachers. Orangeburg is well provided with schools and churches.

Superstition and distrust, with which secret orders were once regarded by a large number of people, was, happily, long ago dispelled, and today the lodge sands as one of the champions of the home and family. Wherever society has reached a high state of development, secret and fraternal orders have their greatest stronghold. Orangeburg has the Masons, Odd Fellows, Knights of Pythias, The Elks, Knights of Honor, Woodmen of the World and several smaller social clubs among the secret or fraternal orders.

During the last quarter of a century a movement among women, remarkable for its scope and intent, has spread from one end of the country to the other. It is known as the women's movement, and is recognized among people who give thought to the sociological progress of the race, as the most noticeable step forward recorded in the evolution of womanhood. In this broad movement Orangeburg has her full share, and its widening influence permeates all grades of society.

The name of our town stands for a picture in the minds of all who have lingered even for a few fleeting days within the charm of its wooing beauty. It stands not alone as a present picture, but as the future ideal of its own loyal citizens. It is unique among other towns of the State, as an ideal little city of homes, even as the whole county is unique for its wealth, fertility and manifold attractions. Orangeburg is noted for its handsome business house and beautiful homes.

There is not a better or cleverer lot of people on the planet than those who make up the citizenship of Orangeburg. Her professional and business men will compare favorably with those of any community anywhere. Her citizens and mechanics, and her young men, are all patriotic and loyal. Our girls are the prettiest and sweetest in the world, but this could not be otherwise, when the charm and beauty of their mothers are noted. Orangeburg is a city of beautiful women and many men.

20,000 BY 1920.

Won't You Be One of That Happy Number.

The Chamber of Commerce of Orangeburg is making a strong effort to make Orangeburg a city of 20,000 inhabitants by the next census. Orangeburg is the best city in the State as you can very well see by looking over the matter in the various pages. The city is in the middle of the county, which has the largest number of individual farms in South Carolina.

Paved streets, electric lights, water works, sewerage, two railroad lines, fine residence sites, good roads from all nearby towns, everything that goes to make a town awaits you in Orangeburg. You will be welcomed and everything done that can be done to make your new home a pleasant and profitable one. Orangeburg invites everybody to make their home in Orangeburg.

It May Be You, Too.

How many times have you read of men who first failed in business, then taking a fresh start pushed on until the goal of success was theirs? If it was your fault, we have nothing to offer; but if there was no opening for you, come to Orangeburg. An opening awaits every man who has the grit to stick at it and the determination to succeed.
