ORANGEBURG--THE BEST TOWN IN THE CAROLINAS

(Reprinted from Our Booster Trip Edition.)

It would be hard to say that any city is the "best" city in South Carolina, yet that is what we are going to claim for Orangeburg. The fact that Orangeburg is the best city in the whole state is what we are going to prove—and it is no hard task to prove that it is the best from many standpoints. It is situated in the best county in the State from a farming viewpoint, and, as farming is the chief asset of every county in the State, Orangeburg takes high rank for that reason.

For its size, we fearlessly say that Orangeburg can show more than any other city in these parts. More paved streets, more banks, more business, more school children, better water, better wages, better sewerage system, larger business houses, finer looking buildings, handsomer homes, splendid health and better moral and homelike atmosphere by actual comparison, than any other city of like size or larger in the State. The city maintains the best volunteer fire department of its size in the Southern States.

The hotel accommodations are equalled only by cities of double our population and are surpassed by very few cities of double our size. The railroad facilities are unsurpassed now and a new road is rapidly nearing completion. It is possible to leave Orangeburg in any direction in the morning and reach any point of the State by early afternoon. Now add to these assets a splendid college with several hundred boarding scholars for white and two of the largest negro colleges in the South, and you have a consuming population during the business season of about 2,500 in addition to our regular population.

Orangeburg grows constantly and rapidly and substantially; 2,900 people in 1890; 4,400 in 1900; and 6,000 in 1910. Note the even rate. This signifies that the false boom is unknown that characterizes the unhealthy growth of a great many cities. For the means of support of these 6,000 people we have in addition to the regular trade from the country, two cotton mills, two fertilizer factories, six printing offices, one ice factory, one cotton oil mill, one brick yard, two iron foundries, one steam laundry and several lumber and planing mills, besides a number of minor factories, bottling works, etc.

The city has grown without any concerted unity on the part of its business men in the past. In fact, it has grown in spite of no organized effort. Simply couldn't help but grow. Now we have entered upon a new era.

Our people are pulling together. The business men of Orangeburg pay a salaried official to talk and boost Orangeburg City and County. We are going to grow more rapidly now. We are going to reach out for larger things. Yes, the Chamber of Commerce, composed of the most progressive men of the city are organized to work together. The old theory of begrudging the other man his success, has been discarded. The business men have actually organized to study and criticize each others advertisements in a helpful way. We want every body to succeed in Orangeburg for there is room here for every one now and many thousands besides that are coming here to live in the next decade. Come and live with us and we will help you.

Yes, the men of Orangeburg are working together now. Several large enterprises are headed this way through combined effort on the part of the business men. The grave of the knocker is dug. No room here for the pessimist. The real growth of Orangeburg has just begun. The growth in the past has been natural. We are going to add to this natural growth, the growth by enterprise, that made cities like Spartanburg, Charlotte, Atlanta, Birmingham, Jacksonville. We want every one to learn that Orangeburg is the best situation for a city in South Carolina. Our nearest competitors of like size are further away than the competitors of any city in the State. Look at the map! Sumter is 44 miles away, Columbia 50 miles, Charleston 80 miles and Aiken over 50 miles! Surrounded by an incomparable farming country these distances mean something.

Now look at the location of every one of the thirteen cities in the State having 5,000 people or more and notice the nearness of their competitors. Our nearest competitor is Sumter and nature has provided a large stream as a barrier half way. Orangeburg is going to build up rapidly as the trading centre for this fine country lying all around us between our competitors.
Orangeburg was the twelfth city in importance in South Carolina, in 1900, there being eleven larger places. In 1910 we ranked tenth, there being only nine larger places. We outstripped Union and Newberry in the decade race between 1900 and 1910, both of them situated in the much boasted Piedmont Section. In this same decade, Sumter dropped from fifth to sixth place. Orangeburg will rank not lower than sixth city in South Carolina by 1920. Watch the prophecy of our slogan, "20,000 by 1920."

Orangeburg, the Queen of the Edisto! The Edisto soon to be opened to navigation for us; a connection soon to be made with the Seaboard Airline Railway at North for us; the United States Government soon to erect a $60,000 Post Office for us; new factories coming; a United States Fish Hatchery coming; new businesses opening every day. A daily paper, a twice a week paper, a thrice a week paper, once a week paper—keep your eyes on our growth. If you are not prospering in your present community as you would like and as you think your talents warrant, come and cast your lot with us in our tide of prosperity and growth. Grow with us!

How to Cure Insomnia In Summer.

Insomnia is more prevalent in summer than at any other period of the year. The excessive heat causes restlessness, and the HEART AND BRAIN ARE PROMPTED INTO INCREASED ACTIVITY.
A well known New York physician recommends the following method of inducing sleep in the torrid months:
"A bath of moderate duration in lukewarm water just before retiring will be found to be an encourager of sleep.
"But the person should take care not to dry himself thoroughly nor rub himself with a rough towel so that the circulation is stimulated.
"The idea is that by merely wiping off the body so that it is yet damp at the end of the bath the body retains the soothing and quieting effects of the warm water. The stimulus supplied by brisk rubbing would overcome those effects, as would water of extremes of temperature."

A Pointer on Mosquitoes.

A few drops of oil of eucalyptus poured on the pillow will keep away flies and mosquitoes, and mosquito bites rubbed with peroxide will soon cease to sting.

Gin Branch Personal.

All the farmers wives in this section are reporting very poor vegetable gardens this year, but the most of them have plenty of peaches and are canning quite a lot of them. Apples are very scarce.
Everybody in this section are busy for the last week or two pulling fodder, and quite a number of them got their fodder sprinkled.
Messrs. Eugene Thomas and David Thomas, two prosperous farmers of the Providence section spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Ben W. Walling of this section.
Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Dantzer and family of this section spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. Fred H. Ulmer and family.
Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Burk and family spent Sunday with Mr. Milton Ulmer and family of the east Orange section.
Mr. and Mrs. George B. Rast entertained Sunday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Stroman, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Austin, Mr. Cleveland Rickenbaker, Miss Lizzie Rickenbaker, and Miss Cola Sturkey.
Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Dantzer of this section spent Sunday with the former's sister, Mrs. Marion Shuler, of the Providence section.
Miss Pearl Rickenbaker, of the North Augusta section is spending a few weeks in this and Four Holes section with friends and relatives.
Miss Leona Bozard of Reevesville is spending some time with friends and relatives.
Miss Maggie Stoudenmire has resection is spending some time with her sister, Mrs. Thomas Gantt, of near Nees.
Miss Maggie Stoudenmire have returned home from a few weeks visit to her sister's Mrs. John A. Stoudenmire and Mrs. Stoll Sweatman, of the Holly Hill section.

Appropriate Verse.

Wesner and White, a prosperous firm of Cameron, had prepared for each booster when he arrived last Wednesday afternoon a letter, upon which was:
When you are over your three days of boosting,
And feel tired and very much like roosting,
A white King Mattress and Union Spring we recommend,
Until you are ready to boost again.

Sailors Executed.

A dispatch from Madrid, Spain, says the government affirms, in explaining the summary court martial and execution of 26 men of the battleship Numancia, who mutined, that the revolt was a republican plot. A hundred sailors are implicated.

Given Ten Years.

James Johnson, alias Portland Ned, who had just completed a long sentence in the federal prison in Atlanta, was convicted at Spartanburg on last Saturday of robbing the Enoree Manufacturing company's store nine years ago, and was sentenced to ten years in the penitentiary.

Escape in Handcuffs.

While handcuffed together, Jas. Blackburn and Jack Ingham, wanted at Tascosa, Tex., escaped at Bragson, stealing stock, escaped at Bragson, Colo., Tuesday morning. The sheriff in charge of the men fell asleep. The men were arrested at Cheyenne, Wyo.

Bride Too Loving.

At St. Louis, Mo., Philip H. Nickerson, a salesman, cut his arteries in an attempt to end his life because, he said in a hospital where he is recovering, his wife is too affectionate. He has been married only three months, and he says his wife wants to kiss and hug him all the time.
