Negro Accus d of Attempted Criminal Assault, i Lodged in Charleston

Jall After Exciting Flight Following advices from Governor Blease's offi e, Sheriff Owens early Wednesday afternoon secretly removed from the Dorchester County jail Clinton Glover, the negro suspected of h: ving attempted to commit criminal assault upon a respected white wo can of St George. The sheriff attenpted to reach the Governor personally, but he was in New York, and I is private secretary advised that the prisoner be conveyed to the Stat Penitentiary for safe-

The sher ff also attempted to communicate with Solicitor Hilderbrand in an effort to get a special term of Court to try the negro. It was his belief that a speedy trial would be a tendency to discourage the wreaking of summar vengeance. The solicitor, however, is spending some time at Glenn Springs and could not be reached Should the sheriff be successful in his effort to get the negro within the walls of the Penitentiary, there is lit le doubt but that the movement to secure a special term of Court will be taken up.

The blocdhounds from the county chain gang reached the scene of the crime at a out 2 o'clock this morning, which was a little more than three hours after the occurence. There was some little delay, due to the fact that one of the automobiles had to be supplied with gasoline bebefore the return trip could be made. The dogs were immediately carried near the window from which the suspect leaped after having been freightened by the screams of the woman

Little dificulty was had in getting the trail, which led by a circuitous route to the home of the negro, who had been previously apprehended and lodged in the county jail. After having reached the home of the negro, the dogs trailed to the jail where the negro had been previously taken.
