FELT BAD ALL THE TIME

Shellhorn Lady Suffered a Great Deal, But Is All Right Now.

Shellhorn, Ala.—In a letter from this place, Mrs. Carrie May says: "A short time ago, I commenced to have weak spells and headaches. I felt bad all the time, and soon grew so bad I couldn't stay up. I thought I would die. At last my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, and it helped me; so he got some more. After I had taken the second bottle, I was entirely well. I wish every lady, suffering from womanly trouble, would try Cardui. It is the best medicine I know of. It did me more good than anything I ever used." Cardui is a woman's tonic—a strengthening medicine for women, made from ingredients that act specifically on the womanly organs, and thus help to build up the womanly constitution to glowing good health. As a remedy for woman's ills, it has a successful record of over 50 years. Your druggist sells it. Please try it. N. B.—Write to: Ladies' Advisory Dept., Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn., for Special Instructions, and 64-page book, "Home Treatment for Women," sent in plain wrapper, on request.

THE ORPHANS' DAY

THE CUSTOM TO BE GENERALLY OBSERVED THIS YEAR.

Plan to Give Assistance to All the Orphan Institutions in the South in Their Work.

The State says this is the month in which orphan work day is observed throughout a number of Southern States, and this year the special day appointed falls on the last Saturday in September, the 30th. Friends of the various orphanages everywhere will devote this day to the interest of the "homes of the homeless," in which respective denominations are interested. The Methodists in South Carolina will help their orphanage at Columbia and the Georgia Methodists will help their orphanage in Decatur; the Baptists in this State will assist their orphanage at Greenwood, and the Georgia Baptists theirs at Hopeville; and the Presbyterians in South Carolina, Georgia and Florida and other friends outside of these States, will give aid to the Thorwell orphanage at Clinton.

The origin of the custom of observing orphanage day is interesting. It was the successful development of an idea conceived by H. L. Crumley of Atlanta, who put his plan before the friends of the Decatur orphanage at that city. Each one interested agreed to donate the entire earnings of a certain day to the assistance of the institution.

Those who were regularly employed simply gave the amount of one day's salary, and those who had no work undertook to earn something on "orphanage day" to add to the general increase. Even the smallest contribution was not despised and the income of the orphanage from that first excellent custom has been adopted by a great many other denominational orphanages to the advantage of the institutions and to the gain of the hundreds of little children whom they shelter.

The fall—the harvest season—has been chosen as an appropriate time for this gathering in of dollars and cents. Farmers having sold their cotton and other farm products have more ready money in the fall than at any other time, and are more able to assist in refilling the treasuries of the orphanages which are generally desisting in doing the work of sweet charity.

Because the first Sunday in October is observed as Sunday school rally day in the Presbyterian church, it has been decided by the Presbyterian orphanages not to observe the Saturday just before this Sunday as "orphan work day," but to observe instead the 23rd of September, and collections will be taken up by the superintendents of the Sunday schools on Sunday, September 24. It is hoped that this year the observance will be more general and the results more generous than ever before and that many will welcome this opportunity of assisting the orphanage after the long and trying summer.
