The church member who refuses to pay for the preaching of the gospel is to be pitied.

The march of democracy goes onward, and the man that attempts to impede it will be ground to bits.

The difference between failure and success is frequently marked by waiting for opportunities to come by and getting out and hustling for them.

The poetess who mourns that men heard of the old fellow out in Missouri who had eight affinities Brer Taft boasts of being a middle roader. That, is true. He discusses nothing out west that is calculated to cause a political ripple between the Republican factions.

With most people there is something in the shake of the hand and the manner of speaking that tells whether or not there is a warm sympathetic heart back of it.

There are many ways to bring up children . Some are trained up, others are dragged up, and still others are left to shift for themselves. How are yours being brought up?

Many people who would shrink from throwing their life away by one rash act are getting rid of it piecemeal by fast living, or neglect of health, or by worry and overwork.

The Greenville Daily Piedmont says the ideal husband is found only in novels or the cemetery. That may be all true, but Brother Booker ought not to be letting such secrets out.

Young man, don't mistake common sense and hard work in business for luck. All so-called "lucky hits" in business are in nearly every case brought about by applied common sense and hard work.

Whenever the relations of a man is something wrong. To enjoy life and be able to look every man in the face squarely, one should be on the best terms with his conscience.

doubtless most beneficent things for the people more. the fellows who get the profits from them, but not for the consumers who have to pay for the music. This being the case, why then should they be protected in their raid.

"Only fools are afraid of trouble between Japan and the United States," said Prof. Inazee Nitobe, who is specially commissioned by the mikado to present a message of peace and a better understanding to the people of the United States.

Napolean's prophecy of republicanism stalking throughout all the world is being slowly but surely fulfilled. Yet some so-called statesmen in this country have the face to prate about the "caprice of the majority" or "the rule of the mob." Such men are out of date.

During the discussion of the reciprocity question in Canada some very hard things were said about President Taft and our people generally by some of the speakers. It is well to remember that such talk is for campaign purposes only, and it should not cause ill-feeling among the people who live on either side of the border.

Partizan politics at the North and West have modified very much in the last few years. Political bosses can no longer hand over the party vote of a State to this or that candidate as of yore. That was true once in some states, but today people think as never before and because they think they are going to decide for themselves.

President Teft laments his many blunders: deplores the divisions in his party which have arisen under his reign: would rather have been chief justice than president anyway; didn't want the latter job from the start, but will do the best he can to hold it down. We are sorry for him, and hope he will be relieved of his onerous duties as soon as possible.

The cold blooded assassination of Stolypin, the Russian premier recently by a young Jew, has not resulted as some feared it would in a crusade against the Jews generally in Russia. This self-restraint is an agreeable surprise, and is in striking contrast to former days when, with or without reason, pograms, in which Jew frequent and widespread.

ernment such as we have in this glorious land of ours. There has been considerable discussion of the "initiative, refundum and recall" of late. These proposed reforms would enlarge the powers of the people very materially and yet they are fought by men who have been called to high station by the people. Governor Mann, of Virginia, hold office under a system that allowed the recall of officials. He went on to say, "It would reduce the officeholder to the level of a puppet. It would make him a reed swayed in the wind by every breath of public prejudice. Such a position would be unsupportable, and if it ever comes ing to do with a system." The Anderson Mail, which we believe claims to be a Democratic newspaper and a believer in a republican have ceased to love, could not have form of government, gives its endorsement to what Gov. Mann says and pronounces it sound doctrine. The Newberry Herald and News, another supposed Democratic newspaper and a beilever in our republican form of government, endorses what Gov. Mann says as well as what the Mail says about it, and says "this sounds very much like Gov. Mann had been reading The Herald and For Sale-One 30 H. P. Boiler; one News," and speeringly goes on to say, "Of course, it is good Democratic doctrine. All this stuff about what we call recall of judges is the worst kind of political rot.' The Times and Democrat does not agree with the Mail that it is sound doctrine to deny the people the right to recall a judge or any other official that fails to do his duty, nor with the Herald and News that "all this stuff about what we call recall of judges is the worst kind of political rot." If the people have sense enough to elect governors, congressmen, senators, and other officials of high and low degree, they surely have sense enough to sustain officials when they do right or recall them when they do wrong. So far as we are concerned we would much rather rust the "caprice of the majority" than the "caprice of one man, whether he be a judge or some other official. A "caprice of the majority" may have elected Gov. Blease to the highest office in South Carolina, but The Herald and News would hardly claim for that reason that the people cannot be trusted to exercise political and his conscience are strained there authority over all officials. Neither would The Times and Democrat. The fact that the people did not do in that case what The Times and Democrat would have done, is no evidence that the people did not do as well as In a speech at St. Louis recently The Times and Democrat could have President Tast made the remark that done in selecting a governor. Now then if the people of South Carolina can elect a governor, we fail to see where it would "be the worst kind of political rot" to discuss the propriety of giving them the right to call down a bad judge. The Mail and The Her-The tariff protected trusts are ald and News ought to learn to trust

They Know What It Means.

Italian socialists who number nearly a half million adult men threaten national strike in case their country goes to war with Turkey over the possession of Tripolli. They are made up principally of workingmen manning the industries of the nation.

In Germany the socialists threaten similar retaliatory measures in case the Kaiser's advisers make good their subtle threats to war with France over dominance in Morocco.

Only two years ago thousands of workingmen in Spain rose in riots because of the government's waste-'ul policy in the Riff war. These incidents from Europe are not apt to e duplicated in the United States.

Over there war means misery and nardships for the workingman and his family. The father, husband or son is expected to leave wife and children and place himself in front of bullets and cannon balls. He gets little reward for so doing. He does not enthuse over the prospect.

The above from the Augusta Chronicle is a faithful portrayal of the conditions as they visit in the countries named. The action of the masses against war show that they are in advance of the ruling classes in those countries. The masses have learned by bitter experience what war means to them, and they are right to give notice that they no longer wish to be food for powder to gratify the wish of some king or other potentate.

Will Send Him Back.

Speaking of the senatorial situation in this State the New York World editorially says: "Should Senator Tillman be re-elected he will be almost like a ghost in the Senate. The battles in which he took part in his prime are all ended. The friends that stood by him and the foes that fought him alike are gone. Yet no one would be likely to accuse the old the complaint. statesman of 'lagging superfluous on the stage.' He has always been a brave, stalwart fighter, and it is doubtful if Carolina has a man who could better fill his place." That is about the way the people of South Carolina look at it, and it is for that reason that they will send him back almost unanimously.

"THE STAR SPANGLED BANNER" We are shown the spirit of the time of 1812, and here we are introduced to Dr. Beanes and his family; their friendship for the loyal young and eventually his capture by the anteed. British soldiers. We also see Key's prompt action in arranging to secure his release through the help of President Madison.

From there the story carries us to ris rival on the British battleship, and the release and exchange granted to Dr. Beanes, who is held there a prisoner, and shows us why Francis Ecott Key was on board the ship a prisoner during the bombardment of Fort Mcllenry, which takes us to the inspired moment when Key first wrote his wonderful first and second verses of the Star Spangled Banner on the back of an old envelope. We are also shown the following day, when the Star Spangled Banner was sung for the first time, in an old tavern, where, one Ferdinand Durang, mounted on a table, sang the soulinspiring strain and words that caught the enthusiasm of the time and the old tavern echoed and reechoed with cheer after cheer.

HERBERT L. GAMBATI,

Valuable Plantation for Sale. I am offering to sell as a whole until October the fifteenth, 1911, one of the best cotton plantations in Calhoun County. If not sold as a whole by then I shall cut into small tracts and sell.

This plantation is located within one mile of Lone Star, S. C., and the A. C. L. R. R. runs through place, making it an easy matter to arrange a plantation siding at almost any point. There are 1264 acres in the tract, 430 of which are in swamp and pasture land, 600 acres now in cultivation, and about two hundred that can be cultivated very easily.

The land is a dark soil, practically level and free of stumps; there are twenty good settlements on the plantation, and the average rent for the past twelve years has been 25,000 pounds of lint cotton per annum. I am asking $30,000 for the place, and left as it is entirely to tenants it vields a magnificent return on that amount, but this could be very much increased by push and personal attention, as the character of this land is the very best and repsonds quick-

Mrs. Hansen, In a Letter From Mobile, Tells How She Gained It.

Mobile, Ala.—"I suffered for seven years, with womanly trouble," writes Mrs. Sigurd Hansen in a letter from this city. "I felt weak and always had a headache and was always going to the doctor. At last I was operated on and felt better, but soon I had the same trouble. My husband asked me to try Cardui, I felt better after the first bottle, and now, I have a good appetite and sleep well. I feel fine, and the doctor tells me I am looking better than he ever saw me."

If you are sick and miserable, and suffer from any of the pains due to womanly trouble-try Cardul.

Cardui is successful because it is composed of ingredients that have been found to act curatively on the womanly constitution.

For more than fifty years, it has been used by women of all ages, with great success. Try it. Your druggist sells it. N.
