able to The Times and Democrat, Orangeburg, S. C., by registered letter, check or money order.Felder is working off some more hot air. He should either put up or shut up.One could use a whole pile of stones by throwing at every dog that barks at him.The Democratic party could not make a greater blunder than to nominate a reactionary for president next year.Secretary Wilson of the Agricultural Department, should be bounced.
He is no friend of the farmers of the South.President Taft admits that there is a probability of the Republican party being defeated in the next presidential election.We are perfectly willing for W. R.
Hearst to come back into the Democratic party if he will go way back, sit down and keep quiet.The man who like the celebrated Mecawber waits for "something to turn up" should remember that heaven does not help the man who does not act.Isn't it strange how much trouble some men take to "put their schemes through" when all that is necessary is to leave them alone and they will "fall through."Newspapers of a town work for it day and night. They do all they can to build up a town and bring business to it, but they are often unappreciated by the very people they help.Gov. Blease paroled "Red Mike" on the recommendation of the penitentiary physician and officials because he has tuberculosis. So that must not be counted against the Governor.It is a demonstrated fact that cotton can be picked by machinery just about as good and cheaper than by hand. This means a revolution in the gathering of the South's great crop, which will prove a wonderful help.No greater injury can be done to a teacher than to condemn her at home in the presence of pupils. There are many who persist in believing and encouraging that a school teacher is never to be regarded with other than suspicion.It was a repulsive and morbid taste that led the crowd to take articles of clothing from a dying aviator to keep as souvenirs. Evidently it was not the love of sport, but that of sensationalism which animated such a desire.All the avocations, professions and trades of life are opening their doors to admit the women. Some are going into their own, and some are going into other people's business. In our admiration for the new woman there is danger of forgetting the wife and mother and woman's true sphere as a home maker.To tolerate with easy going indulgence all kinds of evils in the belief that everything will eventually come out all right is not optimism but foolishness. To be sure the optimistic man does believe that goodness and right will ultimately prevail, but he also knows that it can come only as men of right thought and judgment exert themselves to gain the desired end.There are two little words, simple enough in themselves, that introduce untold trouble in the world and responsible for more gossip, scandal and harm than any two words in the English language.
These two words are nothing more than, "They say." They have done more to ruin reputations than all other things. If you never quote what "they say" you may be quite certain you are not a gossip.If you have made up your mind to live in this town, then stand up for it, and if you know positively no good, then silence is golden. Do all you can to help along every man who is engaged in legitimate business. Do not send away for everything nice you want and still expect the home men to keep a stock to suit the whim of one or two customers. The success of your fellow townsmen will be your success.Life is not one unvarying experience of temptations and hardships as some persons think. Such an idea creates discontent and disheartenment. There is a whole lot of inspiration in life as well as things that are vicious and it is well for people, especially young people just starting out for themselves, to keep that fact in mind. Put the emphasis upon life's inspirations and upon the many, and splendid opportunities, and before every right thinking, living and ambitious young man and woman.

State Carnival of Crime.

The Newberry Observer says:
"There has never been so much shooting and killing in South Carolina within the memory of the writer. It is not confined to negroes either, but many whites are killing and being killed. And there are other crimes that are more rampant than usual, especially such as are connected with the illegal sale of liquor. In these two respects the state is in a bad fix. Two towns, Union and Dillon, have found conditions so bad that they have held citizens meetings to take some action; though these towns are probably no worse than others. What is the matter?"

There is no denying the fact that there is more crime committed now in the State than was ever known before. It is seen on every hand. Before the dispensary was voted out and prohibition adopted by nearly all the counties, the Observer laid nearly all the shootings and killings in the State at the door of the Dispensary, and claimed that prohibition would cure the evil. We did not think so then, nor do we think so now. The trouble is prohibition does not prohibit.

When the Observer admits that "there has never been so much shooting and killing in South Carolina within the memory of its editor," it admits that prohibition has failed to bring us the blessings it claimed it would. Prohibition has planned out about like we predicted it would when it was being discussed. The vile stuff sold by the blind tigers for whiskey is responsible largely for the carnival of crime that is now passing over the State. It makes men demons and murderers.

So-called whiskey taken from blind tigers in different parts of the State and analyzed showed it to be a most fiendish decoction, with only whiskey enough in it to make it smell like whiskey. It was composed largely of cocaine and other vicious drugs. As an old toper, who got knocked out by this vile stuff once said, one good stiff drink of it would make a Jack rabbit spit in a bull dog's face. That is what is the matter. Keep the people from drinking this vile stuff and we will have less shootings and killings in South Carolina.

Hard to Dodge Them.

Where shall one find refuge from germs? It matters not what one eats, wears or uses he is confronted with noxious micro-organisms bearing all kinds of latinized names that to the eye seem more formidable than the organisms themselves. If one takes up a dollar bill it is crawling with germs, though for some reason that fact does not make the bill less attractive or cause one to decline it. The cushions in a railroad car count their microbes by the millions yet people still persist in traveling and manage to live. Conductors on street cars handle millions of germ infested transfer and other tickets and yet are immune from contagion.

And so it runs. If a man goes on a journey he is exposed to microbes that imperil his life, and if he stops at home there is still the same danger. He must not fondle a cat, or pet a dog, or kiss his wife and children lest legions of these minute organisms play havoc with his health.
If a man seeks refuge in reading he is told that a book, from outside covers to the very center, is inhabited by countless germs ready to fasten upon him with deadly effect. Where, then, shall a man find a sure refuge?
Is life under the circumstances worth the living?

In truth isn't this germ business overworked? That due precaution against infection should be taken is but right, and that much of the advice as to germs is wise no one can question. But there is mischief in exaggeration in that it makes the lives of some timid people one of misery.
After all isn't it a wonder if all that is said about deadly germs is true, that there is anyone alive to tell the tale? Or that any of our forefathers managed to escape them. They knew nothing of the existence of the germs, and they did nothing to avoid them, yet some of them lived long lives.

Claim to Descend From Kings.

It is in the fitness of things that the great yearning for old world titles displayed by many American heiresses should be followed by the claim of royal ancestry by some American millionaires. The Astors are claiming descent from the Stuart kings of Scotland and the Rockfel-lers are sure that they are of the old masterful Plantagenet stock of England. J. P. Morgan is yet to be heard from, but some of his characteristics lead to the belief that he is of the Tudor line.

To be sure the claims of the Rockefellers and Astors are not yet quite established. It seems that at some period or other in the past a mother or father, husband or wife was missing, but little defects like that may be no real barrier when great wealth and an oblique Herald's College are taken into account.
With the claims of these distinguished men established beyond all doubt the foundation of an American aristocracy will be firmly laid. Already many of the proud sons of Newport and Pittsburgh have habits and character strongly reminiscent of Charles II and George IV.

Who knows but that in some magnificent palace on the banks of the Potomac or Hudson, or on the shores of one of the great lakes a haughty Tudor, or courtly Stuart, or inflexi-ble Plantagenet may wear the kingly crown and hold in his firm grasp the sceptre of state? There is, perhaps, but one obstacle in the way, but it is enough, and that is the sturdy common sense of the liberty loving plain people.

In Omaha, Nebraska, the police have grown tired of trying to stop "joy riders" from breaking the speed limits by ordinary means. Now they have placed "thank-you-marks" on all the paved streets and boulevards.

These are raised places about 200 feet apart and about six inches high.
The poor "joy-riders" have a rough road to travel in Omaha.

HER FRIEND'S GOOD ADVICE

The Results Made This Newburg
Lady Glad She Followed Suggestion.

Newburg, Ala.—"For more than a year," writes Myrtle Cotherm, of this place, "I suffered with terrible pains in my back and head. I had a sallow complexion, and my face was covered with pimples. Our family doctor only gave me temporary relief.

A friend of mine advised me to try Cardui, so I began taking it, at once, and with the best results, for I was cured after taking two bottles. My mother and my aunt have also used Cardui and were greatly benefited.

I shall always praise Cardui to sick and suffering women." Cardui is a purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, tonic remedy for women, and will benefit young and old.

Its ingredients are mild herbs, having a gentle, tonic effect, on the womanly constitution.

Cardui has helped a million women back to health and strength.

Have you tried it? If not, please do. It may be just what you need.

anooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn., for Special Instructions, and 64-page book, "Home Treatment for Women," sent in plain wrapper, on request.

antiseptic and healing.

Here's Proof

"I have used Sloan's Liniment for years and can testify to its wonderful efficiency. I have used it for sore throat, croup, lame back and rheumatism, and in every case it gave instant relief."

REBECCA JANE ISAACS, Lucy, Kentucky.

SLOAN'S LINIMENT

is excellent for sprains and bruises. It stops the pain at once and reduces swelling very quickly.

Sold by all dealers.

It is very clear that Dr. Wiley is the man on top. This gives joy to the consumer and anguish of heart to the unscrupulous manufacturer and trad-

ARE YOU MIXED

On Buying a Suit and Over- Coat for Yourself or Boy?

It's pretty hard to know what to do, isn't it, when every clothing in town has "the best at the lowest price" and all "give satisfaction" and "money back?" And all beat the tailor to pieces, and "save you a half to a third," and all that. It comes down to the question of faith in somebody. Is there

ONE STORE

in Orangeburg that has been conspicuously faithful for many years, whether it sold you a Collar Button, a Hat, Suit of Clothes, or whatever it was? Is there in town that usually does more than it says? Is there in town whose buyers want and demand the best?

Is there?

in town that has made prices lower? Is there in town that has built up standards all through its busi-
