

OFFER MANY PRIZES

THE SECOND SOUTH ATLANTIC CORN EXPOSITION.

Several Classes Named in Announcement Issued by Those in Charge of Organization.

The second South Atlantic Corn exposition will be held in Columbia, December 15, 1911. Prizes aggregating $8,000 will be awarded to the exhibitors and contestants in corn-raising, throughout South Carolina, Georgia and North Carolina.

The legislative commission of South Carolina in charge of the exposition include A. D. Hudson, Newberry, president State Corn Breeders' Association and chairman of the corn exposition; E. J. Watson, Columbia, commissioner of agriculture; D. N. Darrow, Clemson College, superintendent of the extension work at Clemson; L. D. Baker, Bishopville, of the United States demonstration work, and W. R. Perkins, Clemson College, professor of agriculture at Clemson.

All entries must be made with C. C. Porter, Columbia, superintendent of entries, prior to December 9, 1911. The aim of this corn exposition is for educational advancement, demonstrating how to breed and select seed corn, gathering and storing the crop properly, that the quality may be improved. Lectures will be delivered every afternoon and night on corn-growing and kindred subjects. There will be displays of labor-saving machinery with demonstrations by the exhibitors.

Exhibits will be brought from the experiment stations of South Carolina, Georgia and North Carolina.

The following is a description of the classes of entry, showing prizes offered at the South Atlantic Corn exposition to successful exhibitors:

IMPOSING TRADES DISPLAY.

One of the Features of the Orangeburg County Fair.

A trades display will be one of the features of the County Fair. Beginning at 10:30 at the Atlantic Coast Line Depot the parade will pass through Broughton, Russell and Railroad Avenue on its way to the Fair grounds, where it will arrive about 11 o'clock. When the program begins, Mr. Atticus H. Marchant has been named as Chief Marshal and will have charge of the parade.

There will be two committees of judges. One, composed of gentlemen, will award the prizes for the most appropriate float; while the ladies committee will award the $10 prize to the house most tastefully decorated, which is situated on the line of the parade.

Already about forty of the enterprising firms of the city have declared their purpose of being represented in this display, and the number will increase to even more before the parade takes place. This will be a very beautiful and pleasing spectacle.

Bull Swamp Items.

Mr. L. K. Etheridge, who was recently burnt out will soon have his store rebuilt.

Cadets Mack, Reed and Gibson were on a brief visit to their homes last week.

Mrs. H. M. Hydric and daughter, Catherine, have returned after spending some time in Sumter.

Mrs. G. B. Reed of this section will exhibit at the County Fair a centerpiece made from the first yard of cloth woven in Orangeburg. XYZ.

Some Additional Premiums.

The County Fair authorities have announced the following additional premiums to be added to those in the printed list. In the mule department prizes of $4 and $2 will be given to the best twin mules. (Premium No. 317 a). In the Field Crop Department prizes of $1 and $50 will be given for best half-bushel Apple seed oats (Premium 11a), best half-bushel red rust proof oats, (Premium 11b), best half-bushel Burt oats, (Premium 11c).

Fire Tuesday Night.

An alarm of fire was sent in Tuesday night about 8 o'clock from box 28. This being the business section a crowd gathered immediately. The fire was in one of the small stores behind Nixon's grocery store, occupied by negroes. The fire was soon put out.

NEWS OF THE THEATRE.

Several Good Shows Booked for This Place During Fair Week.

"The Rosary," Can an evil mind breeding evil thoughts exert an adverse influence upon an entire family, bring that family to ruin, and the members of the household remain in ignorance of the reason for their unhappiness? This is the question that "The Rosary," a beautiful new play from the pen of Edward E. Rose and produced by Messrs. Rowland and Clifford, answers in the affirmative. It will be seen at the Academy of Music next Monday night.

To prove the situation, a typical American family is shown; a young wife, her devoted husband, their friends and the material surroundings which wealth can produce.

Then comes a parring note, so slight that even the most sensitive could hardly hear it. Rather it is a subtle discord of the atmosphere. No one knows when it comes or the reason of its being; but it grows—grows, more and more apparent. Now it swells into suspicion and doubt, then blind rage and the household is rent, its happiness gone.

Then rises the other power, a higher spiritual note, which swells upon the ear until its beauty and divine harmony bring the discordant souls of the family back to peace and full accord.

Conditions such as are shown in "The Rosary" exist in many American homes today. In some the cause has only just begun; in others misery and sorrow are always at the door. But "The Rosary" in any case points the way to happiness and peace. Its production has been made not so much with an idea of profit as for the higher purpose of bringing happiness to the American home.

"The Rosary" comes direct from a three months run in Chicago, another company is proving the season's dramatic sensation in New York City, where it is crowding the Garden Theatre nightly.

Coburn's Greater Minstrels.

That big laughing, musical fun shop, Coburn's Greater Minstrels, will be the next attraction at the Academy of Music on next Tuesday, Nov. 14th.

Always a favorite, the company this year promises to outdo its former popularity and establish a record mark both in capacity, business and excellence of program. Manager Coburn has brought together an entirely new organization, new people, new music, new ideas and is keeping to his policy of bigger and better each season.

He believes his patrons want new faces, new acts, new jokes and each season a change completely of environment to keep his attraction up to its high standard in minstrelsy, and spares neither time, money or effort to effect that result. Some splendid voices this year, better than ever, a fine program of the best and latest songs assure a musical treat,—while the comedy is in the hands of recognized funny men, whose ability has been established with other attractions of merit and whose antics have secured them a position with this company after careful thought and consideration.

Watch this column for further notice of the features of the big show.

"The Girl From Rector's."

The Atlanta Journal of September 10th, says: "The Grand opera house, under the management of William Arthur Mattice, threw open its doors to theater-goers of the season of 1911-12, Saturday afternoon, with "The Girl from Rector's." The matinee, by the way, likewise marked the beginning of the winter theatrical season in this city, a season that promises more to the patrons of the drama in Atlanta than they have ever had before.

"The Girl from Rector's" is as good as its reputation. It was a play that contains little narration, all the accidents and surprises taking place before the eyes of the audience; nothing is told, it is all found out; and it is found out in such a manner and under such circumstances that the audience is kept in constant laughter. The plot involves several married couples who are more or less in love with half of the other couple, and, truly, there is much to be found out.

"There was not a weak spot in the cast. Miss Dorothy Dalton, in the role of "The Girl," Louie Sedaine, takes her part exceptionally well. Graceful, pretty, and displaying an excellent voice and dancing ability in the one song of the play, she scored a decided hit! The men are all good and of about equal ability. Each character is important enough to have a 'chance' and as each character stands for a different type of humor, the variety in the 'chances' is decidedly pleasing. The same may be said of the three other women characters in the play.

"On the whole "The Girl from Rector's" may be described as a hopeless tangle, in which each one of the characters is a strand involved in the knot. How the knot is finally straightened out is indescribable and funny, and therein lies the amusement of the play."

This show will be seen at the Academy of Music Friday evening, Nov. 17th.

To the Public.

We wish to thank the people of Orangeburg and adjoining counties for their liberal patronage at our auction sale of horses and mules last Monday. We gave as promised a clean auction, every horse and mule being sold, without reserve to the high dollar and without bidding. We also beg to announce that we will be back at the same place Monday, Dec. 4th, 1911 with fifty head more of horses and mules to be sold in the same way.

THINK THEY HAVE FIEND.

Who Caused the Wreck of Train at Swansea on Monday.

The offer of a reward of $1,000 for the arrest with evidence to convict by the Seaboard Air Line Railway and the capture and placing in Lexington Jail of Lawrence Robertson near Swansea by authorities after blood-hounds had been obtained from the State penitentiary were the features of the investigation of the wreck near Swansea early Monday morning.

The wreck was caused by some one breaking the lock on the switchstand and throwing the train on the siding. The train ran into some box cars, one of which was knocked into splinters. Another was thrown on its side across the main line and seven cars were shoved about 200 yards down the siding, which is a downgrade. The boiler was partly on its side and the tender, which was turned around in the wreck, was alongside the boiler and the baggage car which was next the engine was beside the tender and the south end of it thrown beyond the plot of the boiler. Engineer Pitchboard was the only person killed by the accident.

When the news of the accident was received in Columbia blood-hounds were sent for and Lawrence Robertson was trailed to his home. In order to prevent trouble the negro was brought to Columbia and sent through to Lexington to the county jail. He denies having anything to do with the matter. The coroner's jury held an inquest in the case and a formal verdict as to the cause of the death was rendered.

LUMBER PLANT SHUTS DOWN.

Santee River Cypress Lumber Company Quits Work.

The Santee River Cypress Company at Ferguson has shut down because it is said that the big corporation has not been making any money. The Santee River Cypress Lumber Company is the second largest lumber concern in the State and the lumber trade will feel the effects of such a big plant shutting down.

Saturday evening, when the plant shut down over Sunday, a notice was posted that the plant would be shut down from then on for the next six months or longer. It is understood that all of the logging camps were called out of the swamp some time ago and it was reported at the time that the plant would shut down as soon as all the timber then on the yard was cut up.

All of the skidders have been boxed up and those who have recently been there states that everything indicates that the plant will not open up at any time soon. Mr. Francis Bedler, the chief owner is now at Ferguson and it is rumored plans are now under way for the sale of the plant, but how much truth can be attached to this rumor is not known.

FOUR HOLE NEWS.

Farmers in Trouble—School and Church News.

The farmers are having a hard time gathering their crops, cotton pickers it seems cannot be had at any price. They are offered sixty and in some places seventy-five cents per hundred, and cannot be had for that price. A cotton-picking machine would have plenty to do this year. It is hoped that it will not be long before they will be here. The farmers are holding their cotton for better prices.

The Four Holes Graded School is getting along nicely. The roll is steadily increasing and it won't be long before the patrons will have to lengthen their cords and strengthen their stakes. Make more room to accommodate the pupils.

The beloved pastor of the Four Holes Baptist church, Rev. B. M. Foreman, has resigned and will give up his work here the last of this year. X. Y. Z.

Sheriff Dantzer's Successor.

The St. Matthews correspondent of The State says "there has been no intelligence given out at this place as to who will be appointed by Gov. Blease as the successor to Former Sheriff Olin M. Dantzer. Rumor has named more than one man, but all reports have lacked confirmation. Those who have been mentioned as applicants for the place are: A. E. Hane, John L. Rast, D. F. Antley, F. P. Hill, T. J. McLaughlin. During the interim, J. W. Spigener, coroner, is fulfilling the duties of the office."

Found Their Books Alright.

The St. Matthews correspondent of The News and Courier says: "Mr. C. W. Sawyer, chief clerk to Comptroller General Jones, came down Monday morning to balance up the books in the office of the treasurer and auditor. He did the work between trains and was delighted with results. He complimented the splendid shape in which Mr. P. L. Crider, treasurer, and Mr. J. H. Haigler, auditor, had kept their books, and hoped that all the officers in the State could do as well."

Delegate Was Married.

While attending the recent Lutheran Convention Miss Grace Irick, a delegate from Ellice, was married to Mr. James Young Antley, also of Ellice. The ceremony was performed by Dr. J. H. Wilson, after which the young couple left on a short bridal trip. The marriage ceremony was performed at the home of Mrs. T. E. Stokes.

Colored Farmers to Meet.

A meeting of the Colored Farmers Conference of Orangeburg and Calhoun counties will be held at the County Fair November 17, Friday. This organization was organized by President Wilkinson, of the State State college last summer, and a full attendance is desired.

LUTHERAN CONVENTION OVER.

Meeting Adjourned Tuesday Night—New Officers Elected.

The Missionary Convention of the Lutheran church which has been in progress since Saturday afternoon adjourned Tuesday night after a short business session. The officers for the coming year were elected at the meeting Tuesday afternoon. In our last issue we gave an account of the meeting through Monday.

On Monday night the meeting was called in order by the President, Mrs. M. J. O. Kreps. Mrs. J. H. Harms read a very able and interesting paper concerning the Work Women Have Done in the Foreign Field. After this a stereopticon lecture was given by Rev. E. C. Cronk, ably assisted by Rev. A. J. Strewalt.

At the session Tuesday morning the securing of missionaries for the foreign field was discussed. It was announced at this meeting that Miss Gertrude Simpson, field secretary, had resigned her position in order that she might go to Africa. Her many friends were grieved to part with her, but wished her godspeed in her new work. Prayers were offered for her success.

Tuesday afternoon a meeting was held, and the following officers elected for the coming year. President, Mrs. M. J. O. Kreps; Vice-President, Mrs. M. S. Habernicht; Recording secretary, Miss Kate Eargle; Corresponding secretary, Mrs. S. T. Holman; children's treasurer, Mrs. W. G. Alworden; children's secretary, Mrs. J. H. Harms; Mrs. D. B. Groseclose, treasurer.

At the meeting Tuesday night the remaining business was transacted and the meeting declared adjourned by the President. Most of the delegates left on Tuesday and Wednesday.

GRACE BEATS HYDE.

The Charleston Mayorality Race Was Very Close.

With the last of the twenty-two precincts heard from at 2 o'clock on Wednesday morning, Col. John P. Grace had, on the face of the returns a majority of 85 votes. The vote as tabulated by managers and turned in to the executive committee stood as follows:

Grace 2,999

Hyde 2,805

Hughes 109

A considerable number of votes were challenged, just how many is not yet known. Under the rule of the executive committee challenged votes are put in the ballot boxes and are, therefore included in the figures given above.

It is part of the executive committee to pass upon these challenges and upon any protests that may be made. The committee will meet at noon on Friday for the purpose of considering any protests that may come before it. The result of the election will not be officially declared until after this meeting.

It was one of the most exciting elections that has been held in Charleston since the memorable days of 1876. Crowds thronged the polls and many fist fights took place between Grace and Hyde supporters at different points in the city. After the result of the election was known there were some acts of vandalism committed by the Grace followers.

Lutheran Synod at Pine Grove.

The Lutheran Synod of South Carolina met Tuesday morning in the handsome new Lutheran church at Pine Grove, near Lone Star. The President of the Synod, Rev. James Klarr, of Newberry, called the assembly to order. The first meeting was largely of an introductory character, but the Synod will soon begin its work. The members of the Synod are the guests of the community and will have a pleasant time.
