The best safeguard of nations is found not in big armies and navies but in the pure unadorned homes of the people.

As usual after every election the politicians are busy explaining why some things happened and other things did not.

It is not necessary to eat the whole of a tainted joint of meat to know that it is tainted. Neither is it necessary to be familiar with all kinds of iniquity to know how bad it is.

Tariff is usually a most excellent quality, but no man has a right to exercise it along the line of neglecting his children's education and preparation for future life.

Just as the countless rays of light come from one central sun, and the countless rain drops from some great sea, so the countless rays and drops of goodness which bless this world come from some central and divine source.

Having seems to have been invented to show how a crude, brutal barbarism and a high-toned civilization may exist together in the same individual. When the having does unfortunately occur the natural and correct impression is that barbarism is on top.

Consuming more beer than any other country in the world, the United States leads all nations in the total consumption of malt liquors, wines and distilled spirits, with the enormous total of 2,045,300,000 gallons.

Thanksgiving day means much in the larger sense, and it were well for the country if we added to our present happy domestic and churchly custom of observing it by some distinctly public ceremonial that would associate more directly our well being with the thought of the nation's work and mission.

The State says it can hardly believe that Roosevelt would compromise his personal honor, break his word and betray his friends no matter what the reward.

The resignation of Arthur J. Balfour as the leader of the conservative party in Great Britain was not unexpected.

The war in Tripoli and the revolution in China, in the barbarities that are taking place, recall General Sherman's familiar phrase that "war is hell."

From this distance it looks as if the killing of Policeman Patterson in the streets of Aiken by James Seigler was murder, pure and simple.

Italy seems to be having her hands full in Tripoli and but small sympathy will be given her by other powers.

The Rev. John Haynes Holmes, pastor of the Unitarian Church of the Messiah in New York, must be all sorts of an ass.

History Will Repeat Itself.

The Hon. James Smith, Jr., boss of Essex County, New Jersey, at the recent election in that State, tried to kill off Woodrow Wilson by sending a Republican delegation to the legislature from his county, thus giving the Republicans a majority in that body.

Smith made the Democrats of New Jersey an annex to the Republican trust machine of the State, for which he was well paid as a sugar trust attorney.

Then Smith and his henchmen determined to do Wilson and the real Democratic party all the harm they could.

"But," as the Spartanburg Herald says, "Smith will be fortunate if his 'triumph' does not prove a boomerang.

"In 1892 David B. Hill, boss of New York, decreed that Grover Cleveland should not have the great strength of New York's delegation in the Democratic convention.

Results Point to Harmon.

If the next Democratic Presidential candidate is to be chosen by the results of the late election in the several States the choice would undoubtedly fall on Governor Harmon of Ohio.

These delegates were elected from the same legislative districts as were the members of the Lower House of Ohio's General Assembly were elected last year, when Harmon was elected Governor for the second time.

PEOPLE SHOULD BE CAREFUL. Gasoline Being Sold by Oil Companies for Kerosene.

A dispatch from Walterboro says Mrs. Ellen Driggers, wife of James Driggers, was burned to death at their home there Sunday morning.

It was sold Saturday afternoon by W. O. Mims, and taken from a barrel supposed to contain kerosene oil. It was billed as such, and was so labeled, but an investigation of the contents revealed that it was filled with gasoline instead of kerosene.

This is the second case of this kind that we have heard of in the last few months. In the other case the gasoline exploded and killed a young negro boy.

On account of the number of visitors expected to attend the unveiling of the monument to the women of the Confederacy in Columbia, which begins at noon on Thursday, December 14, the railroads will be asked to put on special trains if the regular schedules are not such as will carry the crowds into Columbia in time for the opening of the exercises.

THOUGHT HER DEATH NEAR

What a Lady in Valley Fork Discovered in Regard to Cardui.

Valley Fork, W. Va.—"I was so weak," writes Mrs. W. A. Thomas, of Valley Fork, "that I could hardly get around in the house. I used Cardui, and now I feel better, and my friends say I look better, than I have for a long time.

I thought I would die, but Cardui brought me around all right. Cardui saved my life, and I do not want to be without it."

The strength-giving properties of this purely vegetable, tonic reward, for women, are not the result of powerful druggery, but of gentle, natural building action, on the womanly organs.

As a general tonic for women, to improve the appetite and build up the system, Cardui is in a class by itself.

Try it today. Sold at all drug stores.

There was positively no by bidding but every horse a mule put up by the Western Horse and Mule Co. was sold as represented to the big dollar.

MY THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION

I have much to be thankful for this year, 1911.

I thank the public whose favor has enabled me to do the biggest jewelry business between two Thanksgiving Days since my first coming to Orangeburg; and I accept this favor as an obligation on me to still further improve my stock and my service in every possible way.

Especially do I thank the many who, after finding my goods, my prices, and my ways satisfactory to them have spoken words of approval to their friends and so have increased the number of my customers.

Most heartily do I thank the many hundreds of eye-glasses and spectacle customers who have recommended me so kindly to their friends for the satisfaction they have received from wearing my glasses.

Finally I thank you for all past favors and sincerely ask for your further valued patronage.

High flyers—yes, indeed, as regards style and durability.

The fit of some hats is enough to make a camel laugh—they FIT but don't "BEFIT"—that's the distinction.

The charm of OUR soft and stiff hats is that they "beFIT" the wearer. If you want that modern of moderns, cosmopolitan air nothing like one of our hats will give it.
