

GOELET - ROXBURGHE WEDDING.

A Great Sensation In New York—Picturesque Scene Inside the Church, Riots Outside.

The marriage of Miss May Goelet, only daughter of Mrs. Ogden Goelet and one of the richest of American heiresses, to Henry John Innes-Ker, eighth Duke of Roxburghe, was solemnized on Tuesday at St. Thomas Church, New York, Bishop William C. Doane, of Albany, assisted by the Rev. Ernest M. Stires, of St. Thomas Church, performing the ceremony.

A company of two hundred and fifty guests, a small number for an international marriage of such importance, witnessed the ceremony, but masses of palms, shrubs and flowers banked the church so effectively that the great nave seemed far from empty. In the chancel itself, where the ceremony took place, palms, Japanese chrysanthemums and English primroses were combined in an artistic color scheme, with which the orchids on the pulpit and the lillies about the altar toned beautifully.

THE BRIDAL PROCESSION.

Forming in the outer vestibule of the church, the bridal party proceeded down the aisle to the chancel steps, the bride on the arm of her brother, Robert Goelet. She was gowned in white satin veiled with point valenciennes lace and trimmed with wreaths of orange blossoms. Her veil was of tulle and she carried an old-fashioned bouquet of lilies of the valley. The maid of honor, Miss Beatrice Mills, and the other bridesmaids, Lady Isabel Innes-Ker, Miss Martha Johnston, Miss Alice Babcock, Miss Marian Haven, Miss Therese Iselin, Miss Nina Thayer, of Boston, and Miss Pauline Whittier, wore gowns of pink mousseline de soie of the quaint and effective Louis Seize period, combined with ecru lace, toques of pink velvet and sable. The ushers, Hugh Baring, Howard Brassey, Robert Wharton Goelet, Rogers Winthrop, Henry Bull and William Woodward, did not precede the bridal party, as customary, but were seated before the bride entered.

THE SERVICE AT THE ALTAR.

At the chancel steps the bride was met by the Duke and his best man, the Hon Reginald Ward, son of the late Earl of Dudley, and the betrothal service of the Protestant Episcopal Church was read by Mr. Stires. The party then advanced to the altar rail, where the Episcopal marriage ceremony was said by Bishop Doane.

Afterwards the Duke and Duchess went to the home of Mrs. Ogden Goelet, on 5th avenue, where an informal reception, to which only a part of the wedding guests were bidden, was held.

The Duke and Duchess left the Goelet residence in a carriage, to which at the last moment a long white streamer was attached by the ushers, and drove to the grand Central station, where they entered a private car attached to the five o'clock express for Newport.

THE RIOT IN THE STREETS.

Fifth avenue in the vicinity of the church was the scene, before and during the ceremony, of excitement and disorder unparalleled at any of the previous great weddings in New York. From the church to the Goelet residence, a distance of five blocks, the avenue was a surging mob, numbering fully ten thousand persons, mostly women, whom a force of 200 policemen was powerless to hold in check.

Before the service began several hundred women gained entrance to the church and seated themselves in the galleries from which they were forcibly dislodged by a squad of police a few minutes before the arrival of the bride.

When the carriage containing the bride-to-be and her brother, Robert Goelet, neared the church, it was surrounded by women who stopped the horses and, in their efforts to see the bride, clung to the carriage, some of them getting on the steps and thrusting their heads into the open windows. Mr. Goelet called to the police, but it was some moments before the half dozen policemen who rushed to the rescue were able to drive the curious women back and enable the carriage to proceed.

MORE CURIOUS THAN DECENT.

When the carriage of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, which was just ahead of the bride, reached the canopy leading from the curb to the church, the crowd of women banked up twenty-five feet on either side, rushed frantically forward, carrying the solid lines of policemen with them and for a moment choked the entrance. They were forced back only again to rush forward when the bride's carriage drove up. By this time, policemen from other points had been collected there, but in spite of them a group of half a dozen women stooped down and lifted the canvas of the canopy and crawled part way under. They clung to their positions notwithstanding the efforts of the police to pull them away, and several of them managed to keep their heads under the canvas until the bride had passed up.

On the 53d street side fifteen well dressed women crawled down into a coal hole leading underneath the chancel. They could not see anything, but they could hear what was going on above. Policemen had to get in and drive them out.

Four hours after the ceremonies Fifth avenue was still crowded with curious women, many of whom were laden with spoils from the church decorations, for after the invited guests had left, the mob crowded into the church, and before they could be stopped the church was despoiled of many of the floral decorations.

CONSTABLE IN MORE TROUBLE.

Engineer of the Charleston County Jail Has Grady Arrested for Assault.

The State

Charleston, Nov. 10.—Dispensary Constable Grady is in more trouble, having been arrested this morning on a warrant, sworn out by J. A. Gleason, the engineer of the county jail, who alleged that Grady assaulted him yesterday afternoon. Grady is said to have attacked Gleason because the latter had charged that Grady and Hoy were locked up "like cattle" in the jail on Saturday and Sunday. Gleason denies that he had made such a statement to any one. As a matter of fact, the constables were not ill-treated, but, on the contrary, were treated well by the jail authorities during their brief confinement by order of the United States circuit court. Grady will be given a preliminary hearing tomorrow.

Wanted.

We would like to ask, through the columns of your paper, if there is any person who has used Green's August Flower for the cure of Indigestion, Dyspepsia, and Liver Troubles that has not been cured—and we also mean their results, such as sour stomach, fermentation of food, habitual constiveness, nervous dyspepsia, headaches, despondent feelings, sleeplessness—in fact, any trouble connected with the stomach or liver? This medicine has been sold for many years in all civilized countries, and we wish to correspond with you and send you one of our books free of cost. If you never tried August Flower, try a 25 cent bottle first. We have never known of its failing. If so, something more serious is the matter with you.
