

The Herald and News.

Entered at the Postoffice at Newberry, S. C., as 2nd class matter. E. H. AULL, EDITOR.

Friday, October 23, 1914.

The press reports of the European war which come from London and Paris almost invariably carry a statement that the allies are advancing. If these statements have been even half true, the allies should have been all over Europe by this time.

Will somebody please tell the Newberry Herald and News that the congressional primary in the third district has been held for this year. A continuous performance in politics is not to be desired.—Greenville Piedmont.

Really this is a very bright remark and contains wonderful information. Was there a campaign this year? And who were the candidates and was any one elected? We have really forgotten all about it. Now and then some brilliant editor in another district tries to get off something smart about it. The Herald and News has other things of more importance just now to engage its attention. Just take your own advice, Piedmont, and all will be well.

PERMANENT WORK.

County Supervisor Chappell is doing some excellent work on the public road leading from Newberry to Longscores and on to Belfast. He is doing what should be done always when an effort is made to have any sort of improvement on the public road. He is grading down the hills and the little rises in the road, by taking the dirt from these and putting it in the low places in the road. You get a much better grade and the road is kept in better condition much easier, and he has also built a bridge across the Lewie branch and raised the road so there will scarcely ever be sufficient high water to prevent crossing. The piers are of rock and concrete and the structure is permanent and lasting.

The trouble we have had in Newberry in all permanent road work, or even attempt at it, is, in the first place the roads are left too narrow, and in the next place no provision is made for maintenance, and there is scarcely any use to build a permanent road, or even attempt to do so, unless arrangements are made for the care and maintenance of the road.

Supervisor Feag's built a good road between Newberry and Prosperity and it would have cost only a nominal sum each year keeping it up, but it is now in holes and gullies and unless something is done will continue to get in worse condition. The same will be true of any other roads where it is attempted to do permanent work.

CLEAN UP.

The board of health has ordered Boundary street school to close for two weeks on account of diphtheria among some of the children. This we suppose is proper.

We do not know whether it is the duty of the board of health or the city officials or the individual, but there is need in this town for some one to do some cleaning up. It does not take extraordinary eye sight or close observing to reach this conclusion. Some one has said that "Cleanliness is next to godliness" and whether this is a scriptural quotation or not, whoever said it spoke a parable.

It seems to us that what we need is cooperation on the part of the health department, the city department and the individual citizen. In fact we believe that the individual citizen should look after the cleanliness of his own premises and surroundings, whether it be his residence or other property. He should not wait to have the health department call his attention to matters of such vital importance. Certainly he should cooperate with the health department.

One of the cleanest and most healthful towns that we have seen in the United States was one that had no city government and no health department and it was a city much larger er than Newberry. Each property owner looked after the cleanliness and neatness of his own premises and each vied with the other in seeing who could keep the neatest and cleanest place. We are getting too much to look to government and officials to do what we should do ourselves. Clean up. It is healthful. It looks better.

THE BOND ISSUE.

The senate has passed the cotton bond bill by a very large majority. It will no doubt go to the house with the sentiment in that body as strong in its favor. We believe, it will be ratified by the people.

It seems to us that it would have been better to have made the amount 50 million so as to have cared for the crop properly. As The Herald and News has heretofore stated, we believe that the whole thing is contrary to the spirit and principles of our government, but these are extraordinary times and if we can get any relief, the legislature would be justified in doing some extraordinary things. We frankly admit that we do not exactly understand and comprehend this bond scheme; how we are going to get money when we get the bonds. The cotton bond, of course, will be backed by the State, but unless some other arrangements have been made, how are we to get money for the bonds any more easily than we could get money for our warehouse receipts. In other words, this is a time such as we have never experienced when it was not so much collateral that you needed as money. Heretofore, we could always get money when we had collateral, but now it seems that you can't get money even with the best collateral.

Suppose, for instance, that we had ten bales of cotton of 500 pounds each and we sold it to the State and received in return a $500 cotton bond, and we left it in our bank, and then should send a check on that bank to somebody we owed in Richmond or Baltimore, would the bank honor our check, our would it write across it that we had no funds, though that bank held our $500 State bond? If some arrangement could be made with the reserve bank or the regional bank or the federal government by which one or all these would give us money for our State cotton bonds, we could see where this bond issue would be a great benefit in the relief of the present stringency, provided the machinery for carrying it out could be put in operation without too much delay.

It seems to us that some years ago, when there was a panic in Wall street, President Roosevelt directed the secretary of the treasury practically to turn over to J. Pierpont Morgan some 25 million dollars of government money to save the speculators of Wall street from bankruptcy. If such a thing could be done by the president to save speculators in a crisis, we do not see why congress could not do something to save a great producing section of the country from bankruptcy when that section produces the great clothing product of the world, but, whatever is done ought to be done right now, and along with it the assurance should be given that the production of cotton would be very materially reduced during the next year.

Thornwell Messenger. A boy scout as of course you know is supposed to do one good deed each day. "What good deed did you perform today?" once asked a lady of a Liverpool scout. "Oh," said the young hero, "mother had only enough castor oil for one dose so I let my sister take it!"

Mollohon School.

The opening exercises of Mollohon mill school were held Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

The devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. Edw. Fulenwider, after which the patrons and pupils present had the pleasure of hearing a very interesting address by Dr. G. Y. Hunter, of Prosperity, in which was stressed most forcibly the importance of teaching physiology in the schools.

The school has been equipped with new desks for this session. The enrollment was larger than formerly at the beginning and the school looks forward to a most prosperous session. The school is being taught by Misses Anna Dickert and Eula Darby.

NOTHING BETTER FOR WEAK WOMEN

"I Never Spent Any Money That Did Me So Much Good as That I Spent for Vinol."

Bellefontaine, Ohio.—"I wish every tired, weak, nervous woman could have Vinol for I never spent any money in my life that did me so much good as that I spent for Vinol. My nerves were in a very bad condition, making me very weak, tired, and worn out and often drowsy headaches. I had tried cod liver oil, doctor's medicines, and other preparations without benefit.

"One day a friend asked me to try Vinol. I did and soon my appetite increased, I slept better and now I am strong, vigorous and well and can do my housework with pleasure."—Mrs. J. F. LAMBORN, Bellefontaine, Ohio.

Nervous, weak, tired, worn-out women should take Mrs. Lamborn's advice and try Vinol for there are literally thousands of men and women who were formerly run-down, weak and nervous, who owe their good health to Vinol.

It is the medicinal, tissue building elements of the cod's livers, aided by the blood making, strengthening influence of tonic iron, contained in Vinol, which makes it so efficient in all such cases.
