The moving finger writes and having writ moves on,
Nor all your pity nor wit can cancel half a line of it."

We are living in the greatest transition period of the world's history. This I have said many times in the last few years, but now it is patent. We are making history more rapidly and more strikingly than history has been made in a generation or more. The moving finger is writing it and when it is writ can not be cancelled, not a line of it. The changes are wrung so fast that it is hard to keep up with them. The whole world, in an agony of changes. One never knows what a day may bring forth. All our traditions are being shattered as vases broken. Fifty-eight years ago, or thereabout, the young men of this Southland went forth with the God bless you of the mothers of this fair land to battle for local self government and the rights of the States. Today our young men are being sent forth to battle for the nation in a war 3,000 miles across the seas. They have not realized as did the soldiers of the sixties that it is a war for the home and fireside. There is not therefore, that enthusiasm and that martial spirit which prevailed then. But they are true Americans and are going without murmuring and will do their duty like men.

The first instalment of the new army from this county left Newberry on Wednesday morning for Camp Jackson in Columbia. They are a fine body of young men and will do their duty in whatever position they may be placed. Others will follow from time to time until the full quota has been sent. It was a history marking event. The people of Newberry on short notice turned out to give the young men their good will and God speed and a safe return to them after the war is over. Most of the stores closed from 9 to 10 o'clock and the young men, eleven of them, were escorted to the train by the citizens of Newberry the line of march forming at the court house. Mr. W. A. Hill acted as chief marshal with the following assistants: C. G. Blease, R. H. Wright, J. H. Wicker, W. W. Cromer, L. G. Eskridge, T. Roy Sumner, Geo. C. Hipp, J. L. Burns, Dr. Geo. Sibert. The procession was led by the Newberry Concert band.

Then came the Confederate Veterans, Exemption board, selected draft honorees, accepted men who have not been called, U. S. and county officials, Red Cross and other organizations, ministers, women and children and citizens. Some 1500 people assembled at the station. Short and appropriate addresses were made by Mayor Z. F. Wright, Prof. S. J. Derrick and Dr. Geo. B. Cromer and prayer was offered by Rev. F. E. Dibble.

Mr. J. C. Hipp who has been in charge of the Panama canal zone was put in charge of the young men until their arrival in Columbia. One of the young men had only recently married but there was no murmuring and all will do the duty of a good soldier.

Mr. John M. Kinard was chairman of the committee in charge of the parade and introduced the speakers.

"GOD KEEP AND GUIDE YOU"

Washington, Sept. 3.—On the eve of their mobilization, President Wilson today addressed a final word to the drafted men who will make up America's first great national army.

The president's greeting follows: "To the Soldiers of the National Army:

"You are undertaking a great duty. The heart of the whole country is with you. Everything that you do will be watched with the deepest solicitude, not only by those who are near and dear to you, but by the whole nation besides.

"For this great war draws us all together, makes us all comrades, as brothers, as all true Americans felt themselves to be when we first made good our national independence.

"The eyes of the world will be upon you, because you are in some special sense the soldiers of freedom. Let it be your pride, therefore, to show all men, not only what good soldiers you are, but also what good men you are, keeping yourselves fit and straight in everything and pure and clean through and through.

"Let us set for ourselves a standard so high it will be a glory to live up to it and add a new laurel to the crown of America.

"My affectionate confidence goes with you in every battle and every test.

"God keep and guide you."
Woodrow Wilson.

LARGE CONGREGATIONS ATTEND SERVICES IN A. R. P. CHURCH

The services being held this week in the A. R. P. church have been well attended, and the large congregations have been delighted with the sermons of the visiting minister, Rev. J. L. Oates, of York. The services will continue through Sabbath with morning services at 11 o'clock and the evening services at 8 o'clock. The regular union service will be held in the A. R. P. Church Sabbath evening which will close this unusually interesting series of sermons.

PROSPERITY AUXILIARY OF THE RED CROSS

A public meeting of the Prosperity Auxiliary of the Red Cross was held on Monday night in the town hall. The following program was carried out:

Prayer, Rev. J. M. White.
History of the Red Cross, Rev. J. M. White.
Whither goeth the dollar, Mr. T. A. Dominick.
Song, Red, White and Blue.
Work of Misses Florence Nightingale and Clara Barton, Mrs. Leonard.
Song, Star Spangled Banner.

The meeting closed with the Benediction.

This auxiliary now has 106 members and 31 hospital shirts have been made.

The next public meeting will be held on the first Tuesday night in October at 7:30.

Dr. J. E. Boozer, whose wife died in Columbia Monday morning, is a son of Mrs. Martha C. Boozer of Newberry and the brother of Mr. Julius B. Boozer of Newberry.

The barn of Mr. S. L. Fellers at Prosperity was burned Wednesday night, destroying the building, two mules, two yearlings, a wagon, 1600 bundles of fodder, etc.

It is being reported around over the State that John T. Duncan will run for governor next year—Anderson Mail. We have an idea that the Mail would like to take the can from Duncan, but it can't.

The Red Men of this State are entitled to be counted among the blue hen's chickens—Anderson Mail. That newspaper has been keeping up with the movements of Newberry's live and up-to-date sheriff, Cannon G. Blease.

The Pocahontas will give an ice cream festival at Willowbrook park on Saturday evening and the proceeds will go to the Red Cross unit of the Pocahontas. Everybody is invited to come and get some good cream and have a good time and help a good cause.

SAVINGS BANK HAS SECURED VALUABLE ASSET

Money is not the only valuable asset that a corporation, or for that matter any institution, public or private, can secure. There are other assets more valuable and more important to the success of the enterprise than money. These assets should not be hard to procure, but sometimes they are not so easy to find. They are generally inherent in the men who possess them and sometimes seem almost impossible of acquisition and yet if not inherent it is possible for more of the human family to possess themselves of them, if they only would.

Efficiency is essential in the handling of any business, public or private, but the efficiency that counts most is the efficiency which gives the best service. In other words, the test of efficiency is service. A man may know all of the rules and the little details as well as the big ones of a business, and yet, if he fails in rendering a service that really serves the public, he is not in fact efficient.

To know how to meet the public pleasantly, and to make the man who has business with your institution feel good when he comes, and feel like he wants to come again and not have a dread of going into your office—politeness, courtesy—these are the things that count. And these are the things that the Newberry Savings Bank has gotten in securing Robert M. Lominack, and he will prove a big asset for the institution. Efficient not only as a bookkeeper and accountant, but efficient in the larger and better sense that he knows how to serve the public. Always pleasant and nice and courteous and polite, it will be a pleasure to go to the bank and have business with it. We congratulate the bank on securing his services. He went with the institution on the first. We miss him from this side. He had been with the Purcell company for some years.

DESERTERS FROM THE ARMY ABRESTED IN NEWBERRY

Two young white men were turned over to the police department here by the railroad authorities Wednesday morning as hoboes beating their way from Alston on the freight arriving here at 11 o'clock. They were put in the lock-up, where they spent Wednesday night, and are still detained. They first gave their names as Irvin Self and Roy Hackly, claiming they were from Charleston. The officers told the boys that that wouldn't go, as their talk didn't indicate that city as their home. Being questioned more closely the boys owned up and acknowledged that they had tried to deceive the officers. They then gave their right names, Paul Samuel Gooden and Richard Harris, confessing to desertion from the 167th U. S. infantry at Montgomery, Ala.

Chief Rodelsperger wired to Montgomery and was informed by return wire that the regiment had left that city for Minneola, L. I. The chief was further instructed to turn the boys over to the nearest military authorities. We don't know but presume they will be sent to Camp Jackson without delay.

There is no doubt of the correctness of this, as the message from Montgomery stated that Gooden had been absent since the 29th and Harris since the 22nd of August.

On account of the all-day singing at Limestone Baptist church there will be no services at Draytonville at 11 a. m. Sunday morning.—Gaffney Ledger. My, how they are having these all-day singings all around by all denominations.

It was so noisy at the construction camp where a dam was being built in the Tennessee river that Brian Goodwin, son of the millionaire who was building the camp, couldn't sleep. So he bought a house boat and moored it some distance from the camp. He had a splendid christening party and at it he fell in love with pretty Jean Elliott. The christening party is one of the delightful scenes in "Youth," the new World picture made in which Carlyle Blackwell appears in the role of Brian Goodwin and charming June Elvidge is seen as Jean Elliott. See the great picture at the opera house Monday.

PERSONAL MENTION

Mrs. J. L. Dominick has returned to Newberry, after a few days visit to her sister, Mrs. A. O. Wilson, in Lexington.

Mr. Guy Goggans returned Tuesday from New York, in which city he has been undergoing treatment for rheumatism by his half-brother, Dr. Stanmore Cash. He is improved but not fully cured, and will continue the treatment at home for awhile.

Prof. J. W. Ballentine, the popular and efficient head of the school, and Mr. G. W. Duncan, chairman of the board of trustees of the Leesville district, also made excellent talks.—Leesville News' account opening city schools.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Q. Boozer and little daughter Carlton of Columbia, arrived in Greenville recently to visit Mrs. Boozer's brother, Mr. Humbert Aull, who is a member of the First South Carolina regiment stationed at Camp Sevier.—Greenville Piedmont, 5th.

Mr. and Mrs. William Meredith and two children of Atlanta and Mrs. Louise Meredith Peden and two children of Gray Court, Laurens county, were in Newberry Tuesday, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Bowers.

Captain M. M. Buford, former sheriff of Newberry, was in Columbia yesterday with the first contribution from his county to the National Army. Captain Buford marched with the Confederate veterans as an escort to the young soldiers.—The State, 6th.

Alan Johnstone, Sr., State Senator from Newberry county, was in Columbia yesterday. He was greatly impressed with the congested condition of the city. It looked as if an erasing place will have to be established on the State House grounds for the legislature, he said.—The State, 5th.

Prof. S. J. Derrick of Newberry has been spending some time with Hon. D. F. Efid at his elegant country home a few miles from town.—Lexington Dispatch-News, 5th. People in Newberry who have been seeing Prof. Derrick will think he is like the Irishman's flea when they read this.

Oscar Nance of Newberry is among the winners of the normal scholarship appointments from the State at large, as forwarded to State Superintendent of Education J. E. Swearingen by Dr. Patterson Wardlaw, chairman of the committee on normal scholarships, in his report to the State board of education, of which Prof. S. J. Derrick is a member.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Parr, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Baker and Mr. Will Brown of Newberry and Mrs. J. B. Paysinger of Rock Hill were among the out-of-town guests at the Brown-Griffin wedding near Cross Hill August 29, as reported through the marriage write-up in the Greenwood Index of September 4.

Dr. D. D. Wallace's family will spend four months from the 15th instant in Newberry with Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Wallace during Dr. Wallace's absence from Wofford college, in which time the chair of history at the University of Michigan will be filled by Dr. Wallace, who is justly regarded as one of the brightest and best of the historians, lecturers and educators produced by the South.

Mr. Taz Senn is cotton weigher at the Farmers' Warehouse. We got acquainted with him when he lived at Helena, occupying the same neighborhood with the reporter, and thought there was "nobody like Taz." Since then he has changed—his occupation, but he is "the same old Taz," always glad to see his friends and give them the joy look. He will be pleased to see as many of you farmers as can crowd around with your cotton bales.

Chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Evans, Jr., and Dr. and Mrs. D. L. Burns, the following couples and "near couples" attended the dance at Clinton Tuesday night: Ned Purcell, Miss Trent Keitt; Bob Pool, Miss Lucy Wallace; Ollie Brown, Miss Sadye Fant; Tincy Davis, Miss Mildred Purcell; Marion Blease, Miss Marie Doolan; Willie Reid, Miss Anna Coe Keitt; Pete Matthews, Miss Caro Wyche; Pat Wise, James Browning, Wilbur Sale, James Evans, John Peterson, Benedict Mayer.

Hawkins-Adams.

Married at the parsonage by the Rev. W. R. Bouknight on Sunday evening at 7 o'clock, Miss Mary E. Hawkins of Ebenezer and Mr. C. F. Adams of Pomaria, in the presence of a large crowd.

The reporter had the honor and pleasure of being present at the "war council" Tuesday afternoon when the "select" roll was called. Each man was there and answered promptly to his name. Chairman Derrick was, as usual, happy in his remarks in instructing the young men, who were placed under command of Mr. John C. Hipp, one of their number, for the trip to Columbia.

MR. S. L. FELLERS LOSES BARN AND STOCK BY FIRE

Several Recent Marriages Around Prosperity—Ladies Aid Society Entertained—People Coming and Going

Prosperity, Sept. 6.—Thursday morning at 1:30 o'clock the barn of Mr. S. L. Fellers was discovered on fire and before assistance could arrive two mules, two cows, one hog, and all of his food supplies were burned. Mr. Fellers' dwelling was saved with little difficulty because the air was very still at the time of the burning.

Last week Miss Bessie Bedenbaugh of Columbia and Mr. Evans Bowers were married. Also Miss Rodelsperger of Newberry and Mr. John Burr Harmon were married last week. Both of the grooms are young men of this community and are held in high esteem by a large circle of friends. Their many friends wish both couples much happiness.

Mrs. Z. W. Bedenbaugh entertained the Ladies Aid Society Thursday afternoon.

Miss Richards of Barnwell visited Mrs. Caro Wyche this week.

Mr. Roberson of Columbia and Mr. Stickley of Staunton, Va., are visiting Mr. Pat Wise for a few days.

Miss Mary Wright of Newberry is spending the week with Mrs. Z. W. Bedenbaugh.

Mrs. John Mills returned home from the Columbia hospital this week where she has been for treatment for the past four weeks. Her many friends will be glad to learn that she is getting along nicely.

Mrs. J. C. Schumpert and Mr. Schumpert's milliner, Miss Phillip, returned from the Northern markets this week.

Miss Ester Nichols and Mr. Raymond Lester were married on August 19 at the Lutheran parsonage of St. Luke's church. Only a few friends were present at the ceremony which was performed by their pastor, Rev. Ruff. The popular young couple have many friends who wish them much happiness.

Wicker-Livingston.

On last Sunday evening Mr. W. J. Wicker of Newberry and Miss Ethel Livingston of Pomaria, daughter of Mr. George Livingston, were married at St. Paul's parsonage. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. S. P. Koon.

Newberry county is going to have a singing convention. It is to be held at the mission church of Neal and Wallace the fifth Sunday in this month. Mr. M. C. Hallman, who is teaching voice and working up the convention, says it is hoped to get Charlie D. Tillman or A. J. Showalter to lead the singing. All singers in the county and surrounding territory are invited to be present. Dinner is expected to be served on the ground and a good time is promised.

We saw some fine samples of corn at the door of Summer Bros. Co., from one of their farms—the Crowell place—which is under the oversight of Mr. O. H. Peterson. The stalks bore four large ears each and were cut from the field without any attempt on the part of the producer to pick the best. He says there are better and fuller stalks in the field where those came from.

In mentioning that beautiful window at the store of Paul E. Anderson the writer gave the credit to Mrs. Theodore Long and her daughter, but it was another Miss Marie who helped Mrs. Long. It was Miss Marie Moore, who is also a saleslady in that store, where everything is so lovely and dainty and fine, each one of the boys being capable of arranging plays with good scenic effects. Now Miss Marie hasn't said a word about this, the reporter is correcting the error of his own accord. Here is how we fell into the pretty mistake: Mrs. Long, who did not want to take all the credit to herself, said to the reporter, "Marie helped." If she had said "Miss Marie" we would have had it right, but having seen her little daughter Marie there we gathered her in the make-up without taking time to think anything more about it in the rush of writing so many things all the time. We are glad we slipped up, as it gives us the chance to make the above remark about the "lovely and dainty"—things in that store.
