Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Shockley spent a couple of days this week in Newberry with relatives and friends.—Clinton Gazette.

Mr. Eugene Sligh, who has been connected with the office of The Herald and News for some time has gone to Columbia to work for the Lutheran Board of Publication. He is a good hand in a printing and job office.

Mrs. T. J. McCrackin and two little boys spent last week in Kinards.

Prof. Gilbert P. Voigt of Newberry college returns Saturday from Columbia, after spending vacation.

Mr. John Peterson and Mr. Ned Parcell in Mr. Peterson's Ford made a trip on Sunday as far as Tryon, N. C., taking dinner at Woodruff and making stops at Saluda, N. C., and Spartanburg, S. C. They made the trip the same day.

Mr. T. W. Gary of Florida is on a visit to relatives in Newberry. He is a son of Maj. M. H. Gary and moved to Florida a good many years ago and is prospering in his adopted home. He is returning by Charleston to enter his son as a student of the Citadel Academy of which institution he graduated.

Mrs. Walter Cameron has returned to her home in Newberry after spending some time with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Smith.—Pacolet cor. Union Times, 14th.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Blease of Newberry spent Tuesday night in the city as the guests of Mrs. Glasgow, en route to Greenville.—Greenwood Index, 13th.

A. C. Underwood, roller coverer for the Mollohon Mfg. Co., Newberry, S. C., has left to take a position with the West Roller Covering Co., Greenwood, S. C.—Mills News.

H. Frazier, from Whitmire, S. C., has taken the roll covering work at the Mollohon mill, Newberry, S. C.—Mills News.

Miss Julia Murray of Kinards, Newberry county, is here on a visit to Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Murray in North Main street.—Dorchester (Samuel George) Eagle, 14th.

Miss Clara Bowers has gone to Richburg to teach school.

Misses Hattie Roebuck and Ruth Price, two charming young ladies of Gainesville, Fla., stopped over in Newberry for a few days with Mrs. Julius R. Elson on their way home from the mountains.

Miss Estelle Bowers has returned to Campobello to resume her school teaching.

Mrs. Jesse Howard has returned to her home in Concord, N. C., after a visit here to Mrs. W. F. Ewart, who accompanied her home on a visit, for several weeks.

Mr. D. D. Connelly of Ninety Six is visiting his son, Mr. Hugh Connelly.

Mr. F. W. Webster of Atlanta spent the week-end in Newberry, returning home with Mrs. Webster, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Schumpert.

Messrs. T. J. McCrackin and H. H. Abrams returned last week from a business trip to Hendersonville. Mr. James Johnson of Johnson-McCrackin company and the Newberry cannery returned last week from a trip into Northwestern Texas, which is some country, with the accent on the country, according to Mr. Johnson.

Mr. C. L. Hattaway has brought his family from Savannah to live in Newberry, for the present at the Central house, Mr. Hattaway having accepted a position with Dr. Mayes at the drugstore.

Mr. L. W. Floyd has been appointed by Governor Manning as one of the delegates to attend the 12th International Farm congress, to be held in Peoria, Ill., September 25-26.

A Newberry farmer has shipped a hog to Texas, and we'll bet that swine makes the Texas hogs stand around.—Anderson Mail. You bet.

The Herald and News reporter can't go to the Rocky Mountains, but he left Saturday for the rocky hills of Laurins county.

The new and all-right linotype operator in The Herald and News office, Mr. L. E. Brookshire, left Saturday for Greenville to return Sunday with his family, to live here, occupying a cottage in Caldwell street just beyond Scott's creek, near the street where there are more children to the square yard than in any other street of the city.

There will be confirmation as well as preaching by Bishop W. A. Guerry at St. Luke's Episcopal church Wednesday night, beginning at 8:30 o'clock.

The union services will close for the season next Sunday night.

You will see "What Money Can Buy" by Jack Pickford and Louise Huff, at the opera house Thursday.

Sessue Hayakawa, one of the most talented characters and emotional actors of the screen is now appearing in the photoplay "Forbidden Paths," which will be at the opera house Tuesday, supported by a notable cast, including his co-star, Vivian Martin, and others. This is the first picture in which these two brilliant Paramount stars have even been seen together. The play is a strongly vital story of a Japanese man and an American maid. The former realizes his case is hopeless on account of the difference in race, but stands by his colors.

The newspaper office shown in "The Food Gamblers," which will be on Wednesday at the opera house, is no product of a director's imagination or a stage carpenter's manufacture. It is the actual office of the New York Globe. Miss Millar had her first taste of printer's ink in this office, which immediately cast its spell over her. Miss Elda Millar takes the character of June Justice, reporter on the Globe, who makes a sensational arraignment of several prominent business men in New York city, charging them with vicious and unlawful "food gambling," and declaring that she will produce evidence branding them as traitors to their country. Miss Justice reveals pitiful conditions in the homes of New York Eastsiders, where, she says, the people are actually in the grip of starvation.
