IMPORTANT NOTICE

It has been the custom of The Herald and News for years to encourage the help in the office who so desired to attend the annual reunion of South Carolinians in Columbia, the State Fair, and with a small help we can not do so now except by pushing up the issue of Friday's paper to Thursday morning or Wednesday night, so the Friday paper will be printed some time Wednesday night instead of Thursday afternoon. Advertisers and others interested will please take notice and send in changes of ads and matter for the paper in accordance with this notice.

Only a few more days to sell the Liberty bonds. The committees appointed to do this work should present the matter to the people within the next few days so that Newberry may be on hand with her quota. There has been a sufficiency of talk. The time is here now for action. The man who does not now understand the bond would not understand if the president came down to explain it.

We had thought that our troubles were about over, and that we would have a brief respite, at least, but on last Saturday afternoon the linotype machine refused to go, and like an automobile, when it is dead it is the deadiest thing you ever saw, and when it runs it is the prettiest and the liveliest you ever saw. We were reminded by our operator at our friend Frank Hammond was at Clinton, and we immediately phoned him that we were in trouble and asked if he would come down and help us. He said he would be glad to do so if Mr. Jacobs would let him off, and we phoned Mr. Jacobs and he kindly consented, and then the train was a couple hours late, but Mr. Hammond got in about 9 o'clock. By 12 he had the machine running pretty again and then he wanted to go home that night, so we kindly hooked up 111 and our mascot and left for Clinton at 1 o'clock and made the trip beautifully, and until we were just this side of Jalapa on the return when the lights went out. It was come on to town without lights or camp in the road until morning, so we drove carefully and got in town just about 4 o'clock without damage.

Speaking of Frank Hammond, he is a genius. He operated this machine for us about a year and we never had but 30 cents expense during the time for repairs or parts. We think that beats any record for a machine that has been run as long as this machine had. If the factory can beat that we would like to hear of it.

Then on Monday we had an overflow of advertisements which is not an unmixed blessing, but we hate to have them come in late on press day, because we can not turn them down in these times and they frequently make us late with the paper. This time we missed all our mail except the up mail the next day. We hope not to be late again.

But we are glad to have the ads and will do our best for the advertiser, but we beg that you give us the copy early.

We are running a couple editorial paragraphs that were written and put in type for a couple issues back. And then you must read every page of The Herald and News to get all the good things that are printed for your benefit. We sometimes run locals and other live news on the inside pages. We were so rushed in the last issue that we did not have space to write a local about the big sale that Minnaugh has on this week, but then every reader saw it by reading his ad. And then there was The Hub Store with a whole page of good things for the buying public and there was Copeland Bros. and L. Morris and the big land sale of Dr. Hunter and a whole lot more real good reading in the advertising columns. So to get what's really going on in this busy community just read every page of The Herald and News, because they all contain something worth while for you. And this was written for the Friday issue.

The government requires all newspapers to publish a list of the owners and the names of those it owes, and that is all right so far as we are concerned, but now it wants to know how many papers you print and what you do with them and how many are sent to subscribers and how many to advertisers and how many exchanges and what you do with the rest and then it wants to know whether you offer clubs and whether you pay commissions and how much. Well, that is all right, we do not object to giving this information to any one who wants to know it. But why not make other corporations publish the list of their stockholders and creditors just the same as the newspapers. This is an inquisitorial age in which we live.

By the way, what has become of the old split log drag? Wonder if any one is using him when the weather is favorable. We are inclined to think and to fear that in this age of getting rich the people have forgotten so faithful and so useful a friend as the old split log. Better get busy and use him the next time the weather conditions are favorable. You will need the good road on which to drive that new car you are going to buy while cotton remains around thirty cents.

Death of Mrs. Luther Dennis.

Mrs. Luther H. Dennis, after a lingering illness of cancer, died at her home in the Hatford community Thursday night at 9 o'clock, and was buried at Smyrna on Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The service was conducted by the Rev. T. C. Croker. Mrs. Dennis was 52 years old. Besides her husband, she is survived by one son, Mr. A. T. Dennis, and eight grandchildren, also by two sisters, Mrs. Becky Pitts and Mrs. Thomas Reeder, two half sisters, Mrs. Os Dawkins and Mrs. Albert Schroeder, and by two brothers, Mr. Henry Hendrix and Mr. L. P. Hendrix, the latter living in Greenville. Her brother Henry has been helpless since his last stroke of paralysis. Before marriage Mrs. Dennis was Miss Annie Lee Hendrix. Mrs. Dennis had been a great sufferer from that dread disease cancer. She had undergone treatment at the hospital in Columbia and everything possible was done for her, but the fatal disease could not be checked, and death came to her relief and ended her sufferings.
