

IMPORTANT NOTICE FROM CONGRESSMAN DOMINICK

The Herald and News had received the following letter from Congressman Dominick which we gladly publish. Returned soldiers will be interested in what Mr. Dominick says and those who did not get the allotment to which they were entitled will communicate with Mr. Dominick at once.

Gentlemen—Under an act of congress, every enlisted man in the American army in the recent war was entitled, upon honorable discharge, and return to civilian life, to permanently retain the following property:

One overseas cap (for all enlisted men who have had service overseas) or one hat and one hat cord for all other enlisted men.

- One olive drab shirt.
- One service coat and ornaments.
- One pair breeches.
- One pair shoes.
- One pair leggings.
- One barrack bag.
- Three scarlet chevrons.
- One waist belt.
- One set toilet articles, (if in possession when discharged.)
- One slicker.
- One overcoat.
- Two suits underwear.
- Four pairs stockings.
- One pair gloves.
- One gas mask and helmet (if issued overseas.)

If any soldier did not secure all of the above property on discharge, he is now entitled to receive it. Upon request of any soldier I will send the necessary blank to be filled out to enable him to obtain any property which was not given to him upon his discharge. Officers and enlisted men who have returned the gas mask or helmet may make similar application for these articles that they may be issued if available.

Under the same act of congress, each enlisted man honorably discharged since November 11, 1918, and before the passage of the act of February 28, 1919, is entitled to five (5) cents per mile from the place of his discharge to his actual residence; and, if he did not receive this mileage upon his discharge, he may obtain it upon filing proper application.

I would appreciate it if you would publish this letter in your paper, giving the soldiers this information, as I am confident that a great many, upon their discharge, did not secure the full equipment to which they were entitled, and I desire to obtain for them any articles above enumerated which they failed to receive.

Yours very truly,
Fred H. Dominick.

WILSON PLANS TO PUT NEW LIFE IN DEAD TREATY

start another bitter fight in the new session, reviving many issues of the peace treaty controversy, but if it is passed the constitutional authority of congress to take such a step is sure to be questioned. In the opinion of some officials a situation will result which only the supreme court can untangle.

Concurrent Resolution.

As presented by Senator Lodge, the peace resolution is a "concurrent" measure of the nature which under senate practice for many years does not require the signature of the president.

Foremost of all the domestic problems waiting on some sort of peace declaration, is prohibition. Hopes have about disappeared for an end of the war-time act by senate ratification of the treaty in time to permit a wet season before the constitutional amendment becomes effective January 16. With a constitutional controversy developing about a declaration of peace by resolution, that avenue begins to look almost equally inaccessible.

The hope of the wets therefore has been transferred to the supreme court, before which proceedings to test the validity of the war-time law were argued today.

But liquor is by no means the only consideration involved in the continuance of a technical state of war. Until peace is declared formally the war-time food control powers of the executive are in full force and the espionage act operates unimpaired.

Members of congress are mindful also that the war legislation authorizing government operation of railroads gave the president power, if he chose, to hold the railway systems until twenty-one months after peace shall have been accomplished. He has announced, however, that he will return the roads on January 1.

U. S. Troops in Germany.

It was pointed out that the effect of the senate's failure to act would be of a negative character only with regard to the American troops in occupied portions of Germany. War department officials said it would mean no change in the present disposition, which had been based entirely on the terms of the armistice and which did not depend in any respect on the terms of the treaty.

In a military sense, the senate delay continues a state of "suspended hostilities," say the war department officials, some of whom are turning over in their minds the possibilities of the situation should a separate peace with Germany be necessary.

During the senate debate, Administration Leader Hitchcock declared if the treaty failed and a separate peace became necessary the United States would find it awkward to attempt to enact drastic requirements from Germany.

Among republican senators this position has been ridiculed, however, and in the war department is said gross violation of the armistice agreement by Germany, such as a military movement into one of the neutral zones would be the only contingency which would lead to resumption of military effort on the part of the United States.
