Columbia, Jan. 12 .- Convening at noon or Tuesday, the legislature got down to work immediately. Both Lieutenant Governor Wilison G. Harvey, in calling the senate to order, and Speaker J. B. Atkinson, in the house, spoke of necessity for relief in tax matters, and yesterday, in his annual message, Governor Cooper devoted a considerable portion of his remarks to financial recommendations.

Speaker Atkinson in his remarks paid a feeling tribute to the memory of the late Mr. George S. Mower, of Newberry, who died last year during his term of office.

Governor Cooper delivered his message in person from the speaker's stand in the hall of the house of representatives. He stressed the point that the state government is not too expensive, but said "that our method of raising revenue is intolerable and

AMERICAN LEGION NOTES. .

Our post enters upon the new year with bright prospects for a good year. It is stronger today, both numerically and financially, than it has ever been before. The paid up membership for 1921 was 135. The post's home, with tables, thairs, piane, etc., paid for, will compare favorably with that of any post in the state. And best of all the post retains the confidence and good-will of the citizens of this

Ferhaps the public will be interested in a resume of the activities of the post during 1921.

The post tendered its services to the families of our comrades from Newberry county who made the supreme sacrifice in Europe, upon the arrival of their bodies home, and in several instances had entire charge of the funeral arrangements. It contributed to the fund for decorating the graves on decoration day of our comrades who sleep in the A. E. F., and assisted in decorating the graves of those who lie in our home cemeteries. contributed to the fund for a fourth of July celebration for our boys "who lie sick and broken and for whom war can never cease," in the U.S. P.
