SUDDEN DEATH OF MR. RIKARD SHOCKS COMMUNITY

Getting Ready For Home Coming Day at Colony—Worthy Colored Man Gets Home to Die

The very sudden death of Mr. B. B. Rikard which occurred at the home of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Kinard, at West End on Tuesday, the 4th, brought quite a feeling of sadness to the entire community.

He left his home on Tuesday morning in his usual health as many others did, to enjoy the pleasures which the good people of our Newberry city had arranged and carried out for the pleasure of the public at large. He stayed in the city until about eleven o'clock and then went over to take dinner and spend a few hours with his daughter. When he arrived he told her that he had a pain in his head and lay down across the bed to rest. His daughter gave him an aspirin tablet and in a short while he told her he was feeling better. She prepared dinner and at one o'clock they ate. He ate a hearty dinner and told his daughter how he enjoyed her good dinner. He again lay down and complained of his head and it was not long before his daughter heard him breathe in a strangling way and she and her husband hurried to the bed, raised him up, and in a few minutes he died in their arms.

Mr. Rikard was a member of Bachman Chapel Lutheran church and was for many years found faithful in attendance both in Sunday school and divine worship. Bery was loved by all who knew him. You never found him without a smiling countenance, and the very large audience that attended his funeral which numbered at least 500, bore evidence to the high esteem in which he was held. His body was laid to rest in Bachman Chapel cemetery on Wednesday afternoon following his death. The funeral service was conducted by his pastor, Rev. S. P. Koon, assisted by the Rev. W. H. Dutton. The words of the text which were so appropriate should be a warning to us all: "Be ye therefore ready for in such an hour as ye think not the Son of Man cometh." He died at the age of 60 years and 8 months.

I have been requested by the sorrowing wife and children to say to one and all who rendered their service and showed their sympathetic love in these bitter hours that their deeds of kindness and words of comfort have sunk deep down in their hearts, which will never be forgotten, and may they find just such help as they rendered us in their hours of sorrow.

Pastor Boland has already announced for a home coming day at Colony church on the 5th Sunday of this month. It is especially desired that all who have been formerly associated with the church to come. All the present members come, and everybody else who will come. We are going to make an effort to have all the former pastors and those who went out from the church and became pastors to be present. Pastor Boland will write each one a special invitation and this being a fifth Sunday we hope they will arrange to come. Come, dear people, and let us talk, preach, sing and pray and think of the good old by-gone days. A program will be arranged later.

We are proud to notice, Col. Aull, that your father has planned to be there. You always love to honor your father and mother. So bring them down. It will be an all day service and we are going to try and make it profitable to those who come. This invitation is not only extended to the Lutherans, but it means you, it matters not what your religious affiliation may be.

William Sondley, son of Rev. Pleze Sondley, colored, who lives on Mr. E. L. Strauss's place near Gallman colored school, died on June 22nd. He was buried at St. John's colored church near Halfacres on the day following his death, age 22 years. William was a quiet, peaceable, law-abiding boy. He had lived in North Carolina for the past two years and had been in lingering health for the past four or five months, and had just come home on a visit two weeks previously. The Lutheran Church of the Redeemer was the scene of a very beautiful wedding Thursday evening, the sixth of July, when the nuptials of Miss Rosalyn Hipp and Mr. A. J. Bowers, Jr., were solemnized, the officiating minister being the groom's father, Dr. A. J. Bowers of Greenwood, assisted by Dr. C. A. Freed.

The church decorations were of green and white and the whole scene was one of great beauty. On either side of the platform was a hedge of miniature pine trees fashioned from pine boughs, in graduating effect. The chancel was covered with Southern smilax against a background of white and bowls of shasta daisies rested on graceful pedestals and the white covered altar. The picture was brightened by myriads of twinkling tapers. Miss Mazie Dominick presided at the pipe organ, and under her master touch the mellow tones of the organ pealed forth in a prenuptial program beginning with the organ solo, "Fantaisie" from "Faust" by Gounod. Another number was the "Bridal Chorus" from "Rose Maiden" (Cowen), by Mrs. W. K. Gotwald, Mrs. Jesse O. Willson, Mrs. J. Ernest Thorpe, T. L. Hicks and Dr. John B. Setzler. Mrs. Jesse O. Willson sang two solos, "For You Alone" by Gahl, and "Thank God for a Garden" by Teresa del Rilgo. Mrs. Willson possesses a wonderfully rich and beautiful voice and her singing delighted the large congregation. A quartet composed of Mesdames Gotwald and Thorpe, Mr. Hicks and Dr. Setzler sang the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin as the bridal party entered.

The pages, Ernest Thorpe, Jr., of Aiken, and Edward McCrackin, each carrying a shepherd's staff with a large bow of ribbon at the top, entered first and untied the ribbons for the other members of the bridal party. They were followed by the ushers, Dr. Edward Hipp of Charlotte, Dr. Jesse O. Willson of Spartanburg, Mr. Homer W. Schumpert and Prof. James C. Kinard.

The bridesmaids, Miss Margaret Mackey of Greenville and Miss Estelle Bowers, sister of the groom, entered next. They wore beautiful costumes of yellow chiffon and lace and carried graceful baskets of shasta daisies, the handles being tied with yellow tulle. The maids were fol-

Only 12 More Days To Enroll for the Democratic Primary

The Democratic enrollment books have been open over a month, but only a small per cent of the men and women of Newberry have written their names on the rolls. There remain 12 days in which you may enroll. The books will close on the afternoon of Tuesday, July 25th, and you cannot vote in the Primary unless your name is signed by your own hand, on your precinct roll before that date.

Do not confuse registering with enrolling, you can register any first Monday to vote in the general election in November. If you already have a county registration certificate obtained during the past two years, you need not register again. But no matter how many registration certificates you have, nor how many times you have enrolled before this year, you cannot vote in the Democratic Primary this year unless you write your name on the Democratic club roll of your precinct between June 5th and July 25th, 1922.

Women, as well as men, are urged to enroll.

J. D. WHEELER, County Chairman.

MARRIAGE OF MISS HIPPI AND MR. A. J. BOWERS, JR.

The Lutheran Church of the Redeemer was the scene of a very beautiful wedding Thursday evening, the sixth of July, when the nuptials of Miss Rosalyn Hipp and Mr. A. J. Bowers, Jr., were solemnized, the officiating minister being the groom's father, Dr. A. J. Bowers of Greenwood, assisted by Dr. C. A. Freed.

Mrs. Willson possesses a wonderfully rich and beautiful voice and her singing delighted the large congregation. The pages, Ernest Thorpe, Jr., of Aiken, and Edward McCrackin, each carrying a shepherd's staff with a large bow of ribbon at the top, entered first and untied the ribbons for the other members of the bridal party. They were followed by the ushers, Dr. Edward Hipp of Charlotte, Dr. Jesse O. Willson of Spartanburg, Mr. Homer W. Schumpert and Prof. James C. Kinard.

The bridesmaids, Miss Margaret Mackey of Greenville and Miss Estelle Bowers, sister of the groom, entered next. They wore beautiful costumes of yellow chiffon and lace and carried graceful baskets of shasta daisies, the handles being tied with yellow tulle. The maids were followed by the groomsmen, Messrs. Malcolm Johnstone and Ivans Bowers of Greenwood. The bridesmaids, Huldah Summer and Martha Nuel Summer looked very pretty in their dresses of yellow rose-petal organdie with gold baskets of daisies on their arms. Miss Laura Reilly of Charlotte was the maid of honor and she was dressed in gold lace and chiffon and also carried a basket of the daisies. Just preceding the bride came the dear little ring bearer, Mary Hipp Willson, a niece of the bride, who wore a dainty frock of white rose-petal organdie, and carried the rings in the heart of a white Easter lily.

The bride entered with her mother, Mrs. Edward R. Hipp, by whom she was given in marriage, and they made a very lovely picture—the mother and the daughter—as they approached the altar. They were there met by the groom and his best man, Mr. H. Grady Goggans of Texas. Mrs. Hipp's gown was a very becoming model of georgette and radium lace, with silver trimmings. Her flowers were a sorsage of white roses and valley lilies and fern. The bride's girlish figure was draped in lustrous white satin, the gown being elaborately embroidered in pearls and finished with touches of georgette. A long court train fell from the shoulders and her veil, worn coronet fashion, was caught with orange blossoms. Her bouquet was of white rosebuds, orchids and valley lilies in shower effect.

The ceremony was unusually impressive, the double ring ceremony of the Lutheran church being performed by Dr. Bowers, and the young couple knelt on the satin pillows before the altar as the benediction was pronounced by Dr. Freed. All during the ceremony Miss Dominick played very softly McDowell's "To a Wild Rose," and as the bridal party marched from the church in reverse order Mendelssohn's wedding march was played. After the ceremony a reception was held at the beautiful residence of the bride's mother in Main street. As the guests entered they were greeted by Mrs. P. G. Ellesor and Miss Sadie Bowers. The home was given an added attractiveness by the wealth of flowers used throughout the rooms in decorating. In the drawing room where the bridal party, with the bride's mother and the groom's parents, received, were light yellow marigolds and smilax, the chandelier being draped in white tulle and smilax. In the living room the guests were invited to register in the bride's book which was in charge of Mrs. Will Brown and Mrs. Ruth Reilly Wilkes. The decorations in this room matched those of the drawing room, except the blossoms were of a deeper shade of yellow. In the reception hall the light and deep yellow marigolds were combined very effectively with the smilax.

Mrs. J. E. Thorpe and Mrs. W. K. Gotwald invited the guests into the dining room and this room was adorned with shasta daisies and asparagus fern. The bride's table was set beneath the chandelier veiled in airy white tulle and delicate sprays of asparagus fern. A handsome cluny cloth covered the table and in the center was a large graceful basket of daisies and fern, the handle tied with a white tulle bow. The daisies and fern were artistically arranged on the mantel, buffet and serving table. Presiding at the table were Mrs. Robert Owens and Miss Mary Wright, and the guests were served block cream with orange ice hearts in the center, angel cake, yellow and white mints and salted almonds. Those who assisted in serving were Misses Troxelle Wright, Nancy Fox, Nan Booser, Ruth Leavelle, Frances Jones, Martha Vance Ellesor, Evelyn Summer and Mary Hipp Willson. Souvenirs of tiny white ribbon bows were presented by Mrs. J. C. Hipp, Jr., and Mrs. R. H. Wright.

Miss Minnie Gist and Mrs. P. E. Way invited the guests upstairs where the extremely handsome array of wedding gifts received by this popular couple was on display. Among other gifts the bride received lowed by the groomsmen, Messrs. Malcolm Johnstone and Ivans Bowers of Greenwood. several especially beautiful garments for her trousseau sent by her brother, Lieut. Earl Hipp of the United States navy, from China, Japan and other countries which he has visited. He was unable to attend the wedding, being now stationed in the Philippine Islands. Receiving in the upper hall were Misses Teresa Maybin and Lillian Kibler and Mrs. W. J. Willson, and out on the roof garden punch was served by Misses Cornelia Mayer, Marion Jones, and Julia Kibler. The roof garden was very beautiful, being adorned with pine boughs, pot plants and ferneries filled with daisies and fern. It was a pretty picture and the cool breezes blowing here made it an ideal spot.

Mr. and Mrs. Bowers left for a wedding trip to the mountains, after which they will make their home here, Mr. Bowers being the postmaster at Newberry. Both of these young people are well beloved by their hosts of friends who wish for them every happiness.

STRIKE TROUBLE CAUSES DEATH

BOY KILLED AT CLINTON, ILL., SHOPS

Father of Slain Lad Suffers Wounds in Both Legs—Troops Called Out

Clinton, Ill., July 8.—First trouble in the railroad shopmen's strike occurred here today when a guard, employed by the Illinois Central railroad, shot and killed James Fitzgerald, 12, wounded his father, a striker, by shooting him through the leg and wounded a passerby. The latter was shot through both legs.

It is said the trouble started when the guard told a number of strike sympathizers to keep off the right of way, declaring he would "shoot the first man who stepped over the dead line." Fitzgerald, it is claimed, stepped over, whipped out a pistol and invited the guard to "begin shooting."

Early tonight about 600 strikers and sympathizers were collected near the shops. Sheriff J. W. Persons sent the telegram to Lieutenant Governor Sterling at Rockford, which resulted in troops being ordered here.

The railroad guard who fired the shots was arrested by Sheriff Persons, who drove him out of the county. All men walking out of the Clinton shops have deserted their jobs and the guards stationed at the shops have fled.

The Clinton shops employed about 500 men before the strike and 400 of those walked out July 1. No strike breakers were imported by the roads, it is said, and outside of those who remained at work only a few came in to augment their forces. Between 70 and 75 guards were stationed about the shops.

Stories of how the trouble started vary. The strikers claimed the guards started it, and the guards claim the strikers were the first to become ugly.

After the shooting, strikers and sympathizers started for the city for guns. Word preceded them and by the time they reached the business section two of the Laree hardware stores in town had succeeded in hiding their stock, and inside the third were police and deputy sheriffs. Their attempts to keep the men out were futile and the men, it is said, took every gun and cartridge in the store and started for the railroad yards.

Postmaster Cline arrived just as the men were leaving, talked with them and asked them to stop and think before they committed murder or shed unnecessary blood. The men listened and returned arms and ammunition they had taken. The strikers returned to the railroad yards but later came to town and gathered in groups about the street corners waiting the arrival of troops.

WHITMIRE WINS OVER WARE SHOALS IN PITCHERS' BATTLE

Whitmire, July 8, 1922.—Ware Shoals and Whitmire staged a regular pitchers' battle here this afternoon. Gotshaw for Whitmire was in good form and allowed the visitors only two hits, while the Whitmire lads were more in luck and landed 5 in the safety zone on Sweeneyburg. It is agreed by local fans that this was one of the snappiest fast games seen here in some time, the time of playing being only 1 hour and 10 minutes. Lominick and Rhinehart as outfielders showed a fast, fighting, fielding spirit, getting them from under, over and above. The umpires were Ross and Watson.

Poultry

Mr. Yancy Dickert will give a demonstration in caponizing young cockerels at his home on Friday, July 14th, beginning at 10 a. m. All farmers and poultry fanciers who are interested in this phase of poultry work are invited to be present for the demonstration. Mr. Dickert has been quite successful in breeding utility and fancy poultry and it is hoped that many farmers will avail themselves of this opportunity to see this demonstration and look over his poultry farm.
