PURELY PERSONAL

The Movements of Many People, Newberrians and Those Who Visit Newberry

Miss Byrd Wright of Greenville arrived Wednesday afternoon for a visit to her aunt, Miss Carrie Grenker.

Miss Willie Belle Duckett has returned home from a very pleasant visit to her aunt, Mrs. J. F. Riser, at Osceola, Fla.

Here is a bright little bit of sunshine just let in: Mr. P. L. Rikard, a former Newberry boy making good in Atlanta, sends in his renewal to The Herald and News, cash accompanied by the remarks that "Should we miss the paper for a single issue, the whole 'bunch of us,' (wife and kids) feel that a letter from home has been misplaced in the mail. I myself read every line in the paper every edition."

The Laurens papers of this week contain notices of a county educational rally to be opened in that city Saturday. Newberry will have a part in the meeting, as we see on the program that Col. E. H. Aull, superintendent of education of Newberry county, is to be one of the speakers, his subject being: "What can be done to relieve the situation regarding school deficits."

Dr. Geo. K. Hutchinson spent Wednesday very pleasantly in Columbia where he likes to take occasional trips.

Mr. Frank R. Higgins of Columbus, Ga., is visiting relatives in Newberry.

Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Wright of Greenville made a visit Thursday to the home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. T. W. Smith.

Mrs. A. C. Jones and daughter, Mrs. Clifford Boatright, of Spartanburg are visiting relatives in Newberry.

Mrs. James Emlon Houseal of Cartersville, Ga., is visiting her brother-in-law, W. P. Houseal, at 1717 Hampton street. Mrs. Houseal is accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. W. F. Wright, Jr., and son, James W. Houseal, who drove over with them in his motorcar from Wimborsboro, where he is engaged in engineering work for Lockwood, Greene & Co. After their stay in Columbia they will go to Newberry to visit Dr. W. G. Houseal and family.—The State, 27th.

The many friends of Mr. Jos. L. Keitt, Jr., will be glad to know that he is doing well after undergoing operation at the Columbia hospital for gall stones.

"Tomorrow the sun may be shining, although it is cloudy today."

The fellow who thinks he is having the hardest time doesn't know how it is with the other fellow.

WHITMIRE'S MOTTO IS "UNITED WE STAND"

Whitmire, July 27.—The colors of our ball team are trailing in the dust and the boys are in sack cloth and ashes. Victory heretofore perching upon our bats has flown to Shelby. If you want a scrap just come to Whitmire and call the name of that "Tar Heel" town. Seven to one was the score. The largest crowd of the season attended, and everybody on the "tip top of expectation"—when down went McGinty.

Many of our people are in the mountains taking a rest, but they have done nothing to make them tired, unless they are tired resting.

A revival meeting backed by all our churches begins here August 2. It is to be in the Methodist church, conducted by a Baptist minister, the leader of the music being a Presbyterians. Whitmire's motto is, "United we stand." The Laymen's Brotherhood had a real treat Sunday night from Ed Smith of Union. His address was a "gem of purest ray serene."

A WORD TO THE GOOD WOMEN OF COLONY CHURCH

To the good women of Colony church and elsewhere:

Bear in mind the outlook for the largest gathering at Colony church next Sunday—our Home Coming day—is almost a certainty, if weather is favorable.

So when you go to prepare your dinner baskets don't say, that is more than enough for our family. But say, I don't mean for any one to go home hungry.

We have never failed to feed the people when they came to Colony and this occasion shall be no exception.

Yours very respectfully,
T. J. W.

CANDIDATE McCRAVY FAVORS FARM BLOC

Editor Herald and News:

In your account of the meeting of the candidates for congress at Newberry last Saturday you state that I endorse Mr. Dominick's position on the farm bloc. I agree with Mr. Dominick as to the tariff, but in his speech he did not refer, as I remember, to the farm bloc at all. I have not heard him mention it in the campaign as yet. I did hear him, however, refer to it, in the state Democratic convention, at which time, he denounced it as being a Republican high tariff organization.

I find him to be entirely wrong about it, because it is a non-partisan organization for the purpose of bringing about legislation for the benefit of the farmers, and is not a unit at all on the question of the tariff. Unless Mr. Dominick has changed his views on the subject since I heard him discuss the farm bloc, then I don't agree with him at all.

I did not expect to bring the bonus question into the campaign, but after Mr. Dominick had devoted 20 minutes of his 40 minute speech in defense of his vote on the bonus bill, and after Mr. Sheard had stated his position, I felt it only due the voters of the district that I state my position on it. And I stated at Whitmire that my party, the Democratic party, at San Francisco wrote into its platform a plank pledging for a bonus for all ex-service men, I am loyal to my party and stand by its policies. That the San Francisco platform is the law of the party until repealed by a new platform. I might have said that two million, one hundred thousand ex-service men have already petitioned congress to adjust their compensation.

I note that Mr. Dominick asks why we have not paid a bonus out of our state treasury to the ex-soldier. It is because I thought nothing surer than that the United States government with all of its billions to let other countries have to bonus their ex-soldiers with, would surely do something for its own soldiers, who saved the world from being overrun by the Germans. I wonder if Mr. Dominick favors a bonus by our poor little state and yet opposes it by the great United States government, the richest of all nations upon the earth.

While we were sending the boys to the war we said, "Ask what you will and it will be given thee." But since their return we have offered "A stone for a loaf, and a serpent for a fish."

I thank you very much if you will be kind enough to publish the above.

Very sincerely yours,
Ed. P. McCravy,
Candidate for Congress.

GREENWOOD MOOSE TO HAVE PICNIC AND BARBECUE

Greenwood, S. C.,
July 22, 1922.

Secretary of L. O. O. M.
Newberry, S. C.

Dear Brother:

We are to hold our annual picnic and barbecue on Friday, July 28th, at noon. And it is with pleasure that on behalf of our Lodge No. 761 to extend to your lodge an invitation to be with us on this grand occasion.

We have arranged several prominent Moose to address us at this time and it is our desire that all of you will be our guests on this day. So make your plans to be with us.

Fraternally yours in O. A. P.,
Rufus A. May, Secretary.

All Loyal Moose who can go will please register on blackboard in Moose hall or confer with some of the officers not later than Thursday night, July 27. Cars will leave the Moose hall at 10 o'clock Friday morning, July 28.

Julius B. Boozer, Dictator.
E. M. Evans, Jr., Sec'y.

Jeter-Martin.

Special to The Herald and News.
Whitmire, July 26.—Miss Frances Jeter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Jeter, was married today to Mr. A. Rhett Martin of Gray Court. Only a few friends and relatives were present. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. P. Simpson.

Dominick Family Reunion

The third annual reunion of the Dominick family and their connections will be held at Young's Grove near Prosperity, S. C., on Friday, August 11th, 1922. All members of the family and their connections and their friends are cordially invited to be present. A barbecue dinner will be served on the occasion by John A. Nicholls.

J. S. Dominick.

Misses Lucy and Dorothy McIntosh of Columbia are here visiting their aunt, Mrs. W. H. Hunt.

MAKES LONG TRIP WITH HOOD SEALED

Mitchell Car Completes Almost Half of Heavy Program

The State, 26.

With its register showing 4,551 miles the Mitchell "White Streak" arrived in Columbia last evening for Atlanta and will go thence to states in the West. South Carolina is the 18th state the car has touched on its trip of 10,000 miles.

The "White Streak" left Chicago June 6, where the hood and crank case of the car were officially sealed by the county clerk. The sealing of the hood means that during the run no repairs nor adjustments on the engine will be possible. The car is being driven by F. X. Zirbes and M. J. Malloy. The car attracted much attention last evening as it stood on Main street.

The above car was seen in Newberry Tuesday morning where the drivers stopped to rest awhile before going on their journey.

WIN FOR WEST END

Ware Shoals Defeated in Mud—Werts Stars

West End defeated Ware Shoals on a muddy field here Friday afternoon in a one sided game of baseball. The feature of the contest was the good pitching of Werts for West End, who also had a good day at the bat, connecting for a home run. Werts struck out 11 men.

SMALL BOY IS KILLED BY LIGHTNING

Walterboro, July 26.—Fenn Ackerman, the thirteen year old son of Mr. J. O. Ackerman of Cottageville, was killed by lightning yesterday during a severe electric storm which visited this section. Fenn was out in the lot when a bolt struck a tree near which he was standing, killing him instantly. The only mark it left on the boy was a dark place near the temple. His mother was in the house with the smaller children and the bolt stunned her, throwing her to the floor in an unconscious condition.

ROTARY LUNCHEON

The faculty of the Newberry college summer school, several other invited guests, the Newberry Rotary club, an elegant luncheon served a la Pullock, and an attractive program: Result—One of the finest meetings that has ever come the way of the local Rotarians! The meeting was held in the grill room of the Newberry hotel on Tuesday at 1:30 o'clock, and for the hour and a quarter allotted there was something doing all the time, with Rotarian-President Haskell Kibler pulling the strings. Beautiful favors, bearing the Rotary emblem in colors, were presented to the Rotes and guests. The tables were decorated with pot plants and cut flowers, which were arranged only as Rotarian Hal Kohn can do it.

An innovation at this meeting was the flag salute, which was done while "America" was being sung by the assemblage. The American flag, which stood at the rear of the president, was raised as the Rotarians and guests stood at attention and sang "America," this feature being very impressive. This feature will be a regular part of the club's program in the future.

After thanks had been returned by Rotarian Earle Babb, original limericks were recited by Rotarian Bill Wallace, the premier "limericker" of the Newberry Rotary club, and Prof. Gilbert P. Voigt, of the summer school faculty, whose production places him in the front rank of limerick artists. It will be seen that the limericks, which follow, were very apropos—and it is needless to designate which was written by Rotarian Wallace and which by Prof. Voigt, guest:

We're not capitalists, statesmen, or stars,
We don't ride in the higher priced cars,
But we could not hope to find
A welcome more kind
Were we just now landed from Mars.

There's a college professor named Jim;
He does everything with a vim.
He directs the summer school
According to rule,
And not according to whim.

There is no telling how the secretary, Hal Kohn, is going to call the roll of the club. Sometimes he calls the names of the members, at other times he calls it by vocations. At Tuesday's luncheon he called the telephone numbers of the members and, actually some of the members did not know when to respond! Now, the Rotes are wondering just what method will be employed by the energetic secretary at the next meeting, but the likelihood is that the members will be called upon to respond to the roll call by standing on their heads!

The address of welcome was delivered by Rotarian Zach Wright—and it is needless to say that the guests felt perfectly "at home" after the warm words of welcome of this Rote had been spoken. The response was made by Dr. W. K. Gotwald of the summer school faculty who, in a few well chosen words, expressed the appreciation of the faculty and other guests of the Rotarians' hospitality.

"My Summer School Protoges" was the subject assigned to Rotarian Sid Derrick, and he proceeded, in his inimitably-jocular manner, to introduce the members of the faculty. In the most serious moments of this Rote's talk, he credited a large measure of the success of the summer school to Rotarian Jim Kinard, director of the school, who has been indefatigable in his efforts to make this second year of the school a pronounced success. The fact that the membership has increased from eighty last year to one hundred and fifty this session is evidence enough that Rotarian Kinard's efforts have been crowned with the success for which he has striven. This statement can be made without in the least detracting from the work of the very able faculty which he has associated with him. Rotarian Derrick's talk was greatly enjoyed, for, be it known, this Rotarian always "says a mouthful" when he gets up to speak.

Mrs. J. D. Quattlebaum of the faculty then made a talk in her usual happy manner on "Making Foot Prints." Transforming the Rotarians into a bunch of boys, Mrs. Quattlebaum proceeded to tell "the children" a nursery story with a moral, and to say that the "kiddies" enjoyed it is expressing the fact very mildly, indeed. Mrs. Quattlebaum has spoken before the Rotarians before, consequently they all knew that a treat was in store for them. True to expectations, the treat was there—and the Rotarian-kiddies regretted that she did not tell another "story."

"Random Recollections of a Former College President," by Rotarian Ben Cromer, gave that Rote a fine opportunity to make a few witty thrusts at the college professors present, and this he did to a "queen's taste." Rotarian Cromer is always at his best, but he is, perhaps, more so at a Rotary luncheon. His talk at Tuesday's luncheon was no exception, and the Rotes and guests were sorry that he called time on himself and considerably abbreviated his remarks.

shoes, gloves and other accessories also being in modish sand tint. They left for Lumberton, N. C., to spend the remainder of the summer, Mr. Peters being a pitcher for the Lumberton baseball team. In September they will return to Columbia to live at 1401 Elmwood avenue.

The bride, an exceptionally pretty and attractive young girl, was educated at Chicora college, and Mr. Peters was a student last year at the University of South Carolina where he was one of the star pitchers.

INJUNCTION MOVE BRINGS SURPRISE

Federal Court Order Served at Florence Meets No Objection

The State.

Florence, July 24.—Announcement that the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad company had procured an injunction against the striking shopmen at Florence appears to have been received here with genuine surprise, since the company was said to have abandoned such a move early last week. As every thing here has seemed to be more quiet and orderly than usual, this action was the less expected. The shop crafts will employ counsel to represent them at the hearing July 31. A meeting has been called for tomorrow to discuss the new situation. Deputy United States Marshall Murphy of Charleston has arrived with about 700 copies of the federal court order. Inasmuch as the unions are not incorporated service upon the officers is not sufficient, and every individual member of the striking unions will have to be served. Officers of the union have furnished the deputy with an auto and are giving him all the assistance possible in reaching the men to serve the papers. Sheriff Burch, Deputy Sheriffs Connor and C. L. Magillis accompanied the marshal on his rounds this afternoon. Service was accepted in a very casual manner by practically everyone of the men seen, whose leaders declared they have never had any intention of breaking any law or creating any disorder in connection with the strike, and as far as that was concerned the injunction made no difference. It is true they said that two men have been at each picket post where only one was allowed but the extra man was being kept there only as a witness in case anything should have happened.

Local union officials maintain that there has been no disorder or other act here which would sustain the injunction.

The Best Eden Pastorate

The Joint Council of the pastorate will meet at the parsonage next Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. The Newberry conference will meet with St. James Thursday and Friday of this week, and not Wednesday and Thursday, as some have understood.

Next Sunday is the time for the old folks and home coming day of Colony, which will be an all day service. Dr. J. D. Kinard of Johnston, a former pastor, will preach at 11 o'clock. Dr. A. J. Bowers of Greenwood and Dr. Long of Little Mountain, former pastors, will talk in the afternoon. The public is cordially invited to these services, and all members, former members and former pastors are urged to meet and spend the day with the old mother congregation.

L. P. Boland.

Whitmire Beats Shelby

Whitmire, July 25.—In an intense interesting game of baseball played before a great crowd here yesterday afternoon, Whitmire defeated Shelby by a score of 7 to 1.

Revival Services at Smyrna Church

A series of revival services will begin at Smyrna Presbyterian church Sunday morning, July 30th, and continue through Sunday night, August 6th. Rev. C. T. Squires, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Laurens, S. C., will do the preaching. Services beginning in the morning at eleven o'clock, evening at eight-thirty.

To all of these services the public is most cordially invited.

Services at the St. Paul's Church

There will be services at the St. Paul's church next Sunday morning at eleven o'clock. This will be a farewell service to Mr. E. K. Counts who goes out from this congregation to take up permanent work in the ministry. The public is cordially invited.

S. P. Koon, Pastor.

GROOM SENDS TELEGRAM ANNOUNCING MARRIAGE

First Intimation of Happy Event Was Wired to Parents Informing of Wedding

At 5:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon the messenger boy handed the following wire to the parties directly interested:

"Green Pond, S. C.,
July 25, 1922.

"Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Wells,
"Care of Opera House,
"Newberry, S. C.

"Mary and I married today here home 1 o'clock. Spend awhile Charleston. Letter following.
"Burton."

"Mary," now Mrs. Henry Burton Wells, Jr., is Miss Mary Carter of Ruffin, in the lower part of the state. She taught school near her home, and had many friends in Newberry where she visited on occasions. She will be a charming addition to the young social circles of Newberry.

When Burton left Newberry last week for a visit "down the country" he gave no hint of the big step he was about to take. The engagement was known to some, and was no longer a secret, but the marriage was not expected to take place until some time later. Hence the news from Green Pond was somewhat surprising. It spread fast and created a ripple of pleasure throughout the city, as the happy groom is one of the most popular of Newberry's young men and his friends were glad to hear that he had won so lovely a bride.

The Herald and News reporter has been knowing Burton Wells since "that boy was a kid." About our first acquaintance with him was when we first saw him and his brother Fulmer down on Scott's creek after muskrats. It was a common sight to see the two boys almost daily, early in the morning, wading to their traps; and then and there the reporter "took a liking" to the little Wells boys, which liking has never waned. We used to watch for them on our way to work. With the same pleasant and agreeable dispositions they always exhibited along those times they grew up, and we have yet to hear the first man, woman or child speak otherwise than pleasantly of them; and now that Burton has just started out on the marriage journey we want to tell him this, to hand him this little bouquet.
