SECOND RACE FOR BLEASE AND MCLEOD

RETURNS INDICATE WIN FOR JACKSON AND CRAIG

Second Race May Be Necessary for Attorney General and for State Supt. of Education

The State, 31st.

Continued tabulation yesterday of returns from Tuesday's Democratic primary in South Carolina brought no material changes from results as announced yesterday morning.

With 93 of the 1,307 precincts in the state yet to be reported, the total vote counted was 160,670. The outstanding precincts will doubtless not add more than 5,000. This would indicate that not more than 75 per cent of the total enrollment of 226,581 cast ballots last Tuesday.

The tabulated vote at midnight last night, for governor: Cole L. Blease, 71,796; Thomas G. McLeod, 61,896; George K. Laney, 20,638; William Coleman, 3,469; John T. Duncan, 1,692, and J. J. Cantey, 1,179. A second race will be run by Blease and McLeod with the second primary September 12.

On the face of incompleting returns E. B. Jackson of Wagener has apparently been nominated lieutenant governor, he having a majority of 2,460 over both his opponents. The tabulated vote in the race was: Jackson, 71,393; Dr. E. C. L. Adams, 34,987; J. K. Owens, 33,946.

R. E. Craig has been nominated adjutant and inspector general over T. B. Marshall. Mr. Craig has a lead of more than 10,000 over his opponent. The vote last night stood: Craig, 82,064; Marshall, 73,036.

A second race will be run for state superintendent of education, apparently between John E. Swearingin incumbent, and J. H. Hope. The vote for this office was: Swearingin, 40,509; Hope, 34,566; Mrs. Bessie Rodgers Drake, 32,790; Mrs. E. B. Wallace, 21,240; C. H. Seigler, 8,401; O. D. Seay, 8,070.

Another race in which a second vote may be required for a decision is that of attorney general. Latest returns give Mr. Wolfe a majority of only 597 over his two opponents. The votes counted give: Wolfe, 81,838; Harold Eubanks, 40,356; D. M. Winter, 40,885.

W. Banks Dove was renominated for secretary of state, Walter E. Duncan for comptroller general, and B. Harris for commissioner of agriculture, by large majorities.

S. T. Carter was renominated for state treasurer without opposition.

W. Turner Logan was renominated from the First district for congress, as was Fred H. Dominick in the Third and H. P. Fulmer in the Seventh. A second primary will be necessary between P. H. Stoll, incumbent, and A. H. Gasque in the Sixth. James F. Byrnes in the Second and John J. McSwain in the Fourth and W. F. Stevenson in the Fifth were renominated without opposition.

Dominick Goes Back

Greenwood, Aug. 30.—Fred H. Dominick was renominated for congress from the Third district in the Democratic primary yesterday by a majority of approximately 800 votes over his two opponents, Sam H. Sherard and E. P. McCravy, according to returns this afternoon from every county in the district, received by The Index-Journal. Dominick led in Newberry, McCormick, Oconee, Pickens, Greenwood and Anderson counties. Sherard led in one county, Abbeville.

IS STILL IN PRISON

No Move Made to Obtain Release of Mittle

The State. No move to procure the release of E. N. Mittle from the penitentiary has been made as yet. So far as prison officials have been advised, Col. A. K. Sanders, superintendent, said yesterday. Mittle has been regularly committed and is serving time the same as any other prisoner. Some move to have him released has been expected, but none has been made, it was said yesterday.

NEWBERRY BOOSTERS TO VISIT WHITMIRE SEPT. 6TH

Preparations Being Made to Storm Neighboring City With Merchants and Business Men

"On to Whitmire! Wednesday, September 6th, we want every automobile owner in the city to fill his automobile with people and assemble at the Newberry chamber of commerce promptly at 2:00 p. m. to join the happy throng that's going to Whitmire. Get acquainted with your neighbor, you may like him."

The above message has been sounded to citizens of Newberry on posters placed in various places in the city. It conveys the fact that the Newberry boosters plan to stoop down on the city of Whitmire for the purpose of getting better acquainted with the good people of that city, and at the same time, it urges the citizens of Newberry to join them on this trip.

The trip to Whitmire will be the second of its kind staged by the merchants and business men of Newberry, the first being made to Chappells on August 24th, and truly this trip was one to be long remembered by all those participating, as well as the citizens of Chappells and surrounding communities. The trip resulted in the cementing of the friendship which exists between Newberry and Chappells, and the making of new friends from both ends of the line.

The trip to Whitmire is being looked forward to by those going to Chappells and many others who did not go, for the spreading of the fact that the trip was so successful has worked up much enthusiasm for all trips that will be made in the future, which of course, means that a much larger number of citizens will join the happy automobile caravan on their tour to Whitmire. As previously stated, these trips have been planned by the retail trade committee of the Newberry chamber of commerce, the activities of which committee have done much to draw the membership of the organization closer together.

The committee is holding a meeting Thursday afternoon (the 31st of August) for the purpose of completing plans for the Whitmire trip. Come on, good citizens of Newberry, let's journey to Whitmire for they are making preparations for our coming and they are going to have a large crowd to welcome us. Don't forget the date, time and place to meet—September 6th at 2:00 p. m. Place of assembly, Newberry chamber of commerce. Time of leaving, 2:15 promptly. Time due in Whitmire, 3:30. Time due to leave Whitmire—when you have made as many friends as possible.

The papers have contained notices of the accident befalling Miss Emily Maffett, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Maffett of Atlanta, after they had returned home from a visit here to Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Half-acre and other relatives. The little girl, who was 13 years old, never recovered from the injuries she received when thrown from a horse and striking against a tree. All that could be done for the little sufferer at home and at the hospital, before and after several operations, could not avail and death ended her agony on last Saturday afternoon. This is sad news to the many friends of the bereaved parents, all of whom were attracted to Emily because of her sunny disposition and friendly ways, and they sympathize deeply with all the sorrowing ones in the passing away of this sweet and gentle child.

STATE CAMPAIGN

Columbia, S. C., Aug. 29.—All state candidates had filed their expense accounts with the secretary of state tonight except William Coleman, in the race for governor, and J. H. Hope, who is running for state superintendent of education. It cost the candidates $147,514.46 to make the campaign, which is exceeding eight for a biennial campaign. George K. Laney, in the race for governor, had the heaviest expenses, expenditure of $1,425, and Samuel M. Wolfe running to succeed himself as attorney general, footed the list with a total of $252.01.

GREAT NATIONAL TRIBUTE IS PAID "MIKE" COLLINS

Rests in Soil of Free State for Which He Died Fighting—Whole Nation Mourns

Dublin, Aug. 28.—Michael Collins rests in the soil of the Irish Free State for which he died fighting. He was buried today in the Glasnevin cemetery, where lie the bodies of Arthur Griffith, Parnell and other patriots and many of his comrades in the struggle for Irish freedom.

The whole nation mourned; the thousands at the graveside and those who sorrowed in Dublin were only a fraction of the whole. Dublin might have been a city of the dead; a great hush was everywhere, yet almost a million people were there standing or kneeling on the streets, gentry from the fire houses in the suburbs and the poor from the slums; women wrapped in their shawls carrying their infants or leading their awe-stricken children.

A multitude were grouped in windows, assembled on roof-tops, or clung uncertainly to chimneys, while others climbed stone walls and monuments—all to catch a glimpse of Ireland's greatest hero and pray for one of Ireland's greatest patriots.

"Dear him to that hallowed place, Where our deathless dead are resting, Where the spokesmen of the race, Gather for the final questing.

"Chivalrous he fought his fight, Kindly, patient, unreviling, Hospital that the dawning light Would reveal a nation smiling.

"Lay his body in the earth, Giant frame and soul are given; Think of Collins in his death, And his prayer: 'Be They Forgiven.'"

This sang the Irish bard today while they carried Michael Collins through the streets of Dublin. It was only one of a thousand tributes to this young man and remarkable Irish genius, who in his short thirty years had given Ireland her place among the nations of the earth, but who, like Griffith and Parnell, was cut down before his work was crowned with complete victory.

While the requiem mass was being chanted in the Cathedral a military despatch-riding rode up to the edifice and entered by the main portal. He carried in his hand a single white lily, a token sent by Kitty Kiernan, the dead patriot's niece. It was placed on the coffin lid, and was tenderly laid there again when later the coffin was lowered to the grave.

The sun shone down upon the coffin, and soft blue Irish skies made a setting for the final picture which Michael would himself have chosen had his voice but spoken. Though he was buried in accordance with the rites of the Roman Catholic church, all religions, as all men, joined in today's wonderful national tribute.

Dr. Fogarty, bishop of Kilkane, was the celebrant of the mass, which was attended by a great gathering of clergy, including Archbishop Dunne of Brisbane, Australia. Archbishop Curley of Baltimore, who is visiting his aged mother at Atlanta, was not present but was represented by Father Edward A. Williams of St. Mary's church, Cantonville, Md.

On a catafalque by the high altar rested the coffin covered with a silk Irish shawl; the catafalque itself was draped in black upon the edifice; bullet holes in paintings of the church patron saints bore evidence that Ireland's war was not yet over.

Bishop Fogarty compared Michael Collins to Joan of Arc. "It seems to be God's way," he said, "but the names that exulted that her name's life did not destroy her work. So will it be with Michael Collins, the work he did is indestructible; he gave us more than Orleans."

The South Laurens Singing convention will meet at Oakland Mill church the second Sunday afternoon, September 10, 1922, at 2 o'clock. All singers and the public are cordially invited to meet with us.

42 ENTOMBED IN GOLD MINE HAVE LITTLE CHANCE

Fire Rages Between Surface and Imprisoned Men—Rescue Crews Working

Jackson, Cal., Aug. 28.—Mine rescue crews worked without avail today in the Argonaut gold mine in which 42 men were entombed at midnight by a fire. The men were thought to be between the 4,500 and 4,800 foot levels while the main body of the fire was more than 1,000 feet above them.

Employees of the mine were sent into the Kennedy mine which connects with the Argonaut mine through a tunnel but which is closed by a concrete bulkhead, with instructions to break down the bulkhead and enter the Argonaut.

It had been reported that the Kennedy tunnel had collapsed but the report was not verified. Early today V. S. Garbarini of the Argonaut succeeded in restoring the cut-off air supply to the 2,800 foot level and efforts were continued to extend the air supply.

The Argonaut mine, one of the famous gold producers in California, was opened 25 years ago. It is controlled by New York men and is a short distance from Martell, in Amador county. The Kennedy mine adjoining was opened in the '60's and always has been productive.

If the tunnel in the Kennedy has collapsed, little if any hope is expressed for the entombed men. During the day pipes were put into the Argonaut to carry water down to the burning timbers. Before that water had been sent down in skips.

Forty-two of the entombed men are said to be married.

CHURCH BARBECUE

The Lutheran Brotherhood and the Woman's society of the Silver-street Lutheran church will give a first class barbecue at the residence of Mr. J. M. Nichols Thursday, September 7th. The proceeds will be used for the piano fund. The dinner will be cooked by the noted "cucist," Mr. Jno. A. Nichols. This is sufficient guarantee for a dinner of quality. Light refreshments will be sold. Price for dinner, 65 cents.

As an appetizer we will have a speech at 11 o'clock by Dr. S. J. Derrick, president of Newberry college, one of our famous educators.

As a dessert, we will have a speech by E. S. Blease, Esq., ex-mayor and newly reelected member of the house of representatives.

Everybody come and enjoy a good dinner and at the same time help a good cause.

J. M. Nichols, Chairman Committee.

West End Defeats Whitmire

West End won from Whitmire Monday 6 to 2. Werts, after pitching 10 innings Saturday, came back and pitched excellent ball, allowing Whitmire to get to third in only one inning.

Rinehart for Whitmire and Bowen, Cromer and Shealy for West End were the hitters.

West End plays Laurens here Saturday, September 2nd, at 4 p. m.

This club gave Mellen two good batters this week so West End may expect another.

Amateur 20 and 30 cents. Music by band.

R. H. E. Whitmire 6-000 000 020—2 8 2 West End 3-000 110 01x—6 9 2 Gilliam and Miller; Werts and Oliver.

UNHAPPY MEDIUM. "Honesty—You're a big healthy man, why don't you go to work?"

"Tramp—Madam I'll tell you my trouble, I'm an unhappy medium."

"Honesty—Whatever is that?"

"Tramp—I'm too heavy for light work and too light for heavy work."

The new clerk was fresh from the country. When they told him to file a bundle of letters he said, "Wouldn't it be easier to trim them with a pair of scissors?"

NEWS OF WHITMIRE, THE TOWN THAT DOES THINGS

The Primary Over and Everybody Not Happy—Odeil Building New Garage—Sewage Bonds Sold

Whitmire, Aug. 30.—The primary is over and everybody is not happy. Let us suggest to those whose hopes are blighted to be of "good cheer" as they will not know the difference 100 years from now. Life is a "mingled form, good and evil together"—success and failure. If there be a sceptic who does not believe in prohibition and religion, he should have attended an election 25 years ago and now. He could not but be convinced of their merits. A lady could have been at our polls all day yesterday and not have heard an offensive word.

P. B. Odeil is breaking ground for the building of a handsome garage. It is on a very choice lot, corner of Railroad and Duncombe streets. Mr. Odeil is the popular agent for the Ford flivvers and but for the strike could sell them like hot cakes.

The bridge over Enoree and its approaches are being repaired. When completed the road from here to Union will be a race track.

Col. J. R. Earl, a prominent lawyer of Walhalla, and two handsome sons, are spending a few days with Dr. C. L. Busbee. The Colonel's teeth are not grinding properly, so he is consulting one of the best dentists in the country, Dr. Busbee.

$100,000 sewerage bonds of Whitmire were sold last week to the Trust company of Georgia. They brought one hundred and one.

Some of our folks just will partake of the forbidden fruit. Lewis Miller, a white man, was committed to Newberry jail a few days ago for transporting liquor, and his brother is in same place, being unable to pay the town $29.00 for some small offense.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Duckett was the scene of a family reunion the 28th. Six children and many grand children were present. The dinner table which groaned under its burden of food fit for the gods, conversation, and sweet music made the day one which will long be a green spot in memory.

J. W. Gary and splendid wife have just returned from a week's stay at Gary's Lane and Atlanta, visiting relatives and friends. J. W. could have talked to them over his radio but preferred to meet them face to face.

DIG DAY FOR COTTON MILL BANDS SEPTEMBER 9

The cotton mill bands in this section are arranging for a big meeting and get together day September 9th at Laurens, and a large number of musicians are expected to be present.

About 15 bands have signified their intention to join in making this the biggest day musically that has ever been staged in the state. The Laurens Country club has very generously donated the use of their fine club house and grounds, and this action is very much appreciated by the bands.

Mr. W. S. Nickerson, band master at Watts mill, Laurens, a musician of great ability and fine experience, is the prime mover in the matter, and is being aided by the different leaders and managers. The officials of the several mills are expected to be present. As the close of the concerts by the individual bands, they will all consolidate for a few numbers by the biggest band ever put together in this section. This is to be in no sense a contest of ability, but rather a fraternal gathering for the purpose of getting better acquainted and to stimulate a more active interest in music at the mills. These bands from Newberry, and bands from Laurens, Greenville, Greenwood, Spartanburg, Whitmire, Union, Pelzer, Abbeville, Columbia, Williamson, Anderson and perhaps others are expected.

Concert Saturday Night

The Oakland Mill Concert band will give a concert and ice cream supper Saturday night, starting at 7:30 p. m. The public is invited.

E. G. Waits, Band Manager.

CHURCH CALLED UPON TO AID IN ECONOMIC PROBLEMS

To Exert Its Greatest Efforts to Bring Spirit of Good Will Into the Economic Order

Washington, Aug. 28.—The church is called upon to exert its greatest efforts to bring the Christian spirit of fairness and good-will into the economic order, to teach Christian principles and to insist upon their application to industry, in the Labor day Sunday message of the commission on the church and social service of the federal council of churches.

The message deals with industrial conditions during the last year, and expresses sympathy with organized labor in the coal and railway situations, saying that because of the inadequacy of earnings of the men. That the financial conditions of certain of the railroads may have made the reductions for their employees appear desirable, it says, adds only to the seriousness of the situation.

The message declares that the shopmen are fighting for the very life of their union, and that there is such a war of extermination being waged, employers can only expect ultimate moral defeat. The message decries that the 12 hour working day is still in effect in the steel industry and asserts that "apparently it will require all the continued moral pressure of the church to complete the reformation of the industry."

After pointing out that health and happiness are, generally speaking, necessary to the attainment of the higher life and that the church cannot be indifferent to the physical well-being of its people, which depends so largely on their economic status, the message declares that Christian teachings as applied to industry include three cardinal principles: the worth of personality, brotherhood as between all those engaged in industry, and the motive of service.

Regretting that "we are still in a period where the dominant note in the industrial world is one of strife and controversy," the message says, "there probably never was a time when there was more bitterness and conflict, some of it due to misunderstanding between employers and workers and some of it unfortunately due to a very clear understanding of hostile aims and purposes."

After stating that the public is more conscious of the unpleasant and disastrous results of industrial disputes and is often ignorant of the major facts of its judgment dictated by considerations of self-interest rather than of justice and right, the message asserts many of the strikes which have occurred during the period of depression have resulted from a tendency to "deflate" labor—a tendency which, it adds, in part is to be taken for granted with the recession of prices and of living costs and a corresponding deflation of the farmer.

"It cannot be too often repeated," the message says, "that high wages during a war were by no means so general as believed and that the demand for a reduction of wages in proportion to the reduction in living costs has been made without reference to the fact that wages prior to the war were too low and cannot fairly be taken as a basis of wage determination."

Deploring as most unfortunate the fact that no more general effort has been made to approach a settlement of disputes in a cooperative spirit and to appeal to justice and fair play rather than to trial by economic combat, the statement says:

"In a moral world force can settle nothing permanently. The conferences by which most disputes would contribute much more to the stability of industrial relations if they were held at the beginning rather than at the end of a controversy. The tendency on both sides in industry to speak agreements, which indicate a lack of fundamental integrity, is all too prominent in the industrial world and augurs ill for the future."

Pointing to what is described as the serious aspect of the growing hostility of organized labor to the courts, especially the lower courts, the message states, however, that the courts have been by no means uniformly hostile to labor and that the labor unions have gained much during the year before the courts. The

BREAK BETWEEN ALLIES GROWS LESS PROBABLE

British and French Viewpoints on Moratorium Issue at Wide Variance

Paris, Aug. 28.—The reparations committee met again today in an effort to reach an unanimous agreement regarding the German request for a moratorium on her indemnity payments. At the end of several hours of discussion the British and French viewpoints were still widely at variance, with the Italians and Belgians merely trying to find some proposal which would meet the ideas of France and Great Britain.

Two projected solutions were seriously discussed. One of them was known as the Belgian plan and the other was an amplification of a last-minute suggestion offered by Germany just before Sir John Bradbury and Eugene Mauclere, British and French members of the commission, left Berlin for Paris last week.

The Belgian plan has been unofficially offered by the Belgian delegation as a means of preventing a break between England and France on the reparations issue. Under its terms Belgium would accept long-term notes in place of the remaining cash payments due this year, amounting to 150,000,000 gold marks. As a guarantee of ultimate payment of these installments, Germany would deposit 210,000,000 gold marks from the reserve of the Reichbank in the Bank of England. France has not definitely declared herself on this proposal, and M. de La Croix, Belgian member of the commission, and M. Dubois, president, are conferring in the hope that it might prove satisfactory. England and Italy already have approved the proposition.

The German plan, which probably will be the subject of conversations between the commission and German officials on Wednesday, would meet Premier Poincare's demand for allied control of a German state mines and forests by a guarantee to France of the products of these resources during the period of the moratorium. Failure to promptly deliver the stipulated timber and coal would result in the seizure of certain mines which would be designated in the agreement. British approval is behind this arrangement, which is regarded as giving France the productive guarantees she seeks without actually turning over political control of the mines and forests.

The British continue to emphasize their belief that Germany is doing everything she can to meet the French point of view and would be willing to give the productive guarantees which M. Poincare demands in return for a moratorium if such guarantees are of a strictly business character, and not political.

The French official continues to be that full control of the German mines and forests must be handed over to the allies in return for a moratorium. However, there is considerably less talk of threatened isolated action and more of the desire of France to reach a unanimous decision in the commission through a compromise.

Social Affair in the Country

Misses Leila, Elizabeth and Taithia Miller gave a delightful entertainment at their home near Pomaria last Saturday. A large number of their friends were present. During the evening a number of interesting games were enjoyed after which delicious ice cream and cake were served. Every one present enjoyed the evening very much.

RED CROSS

This is the first of September—the time appointed to finish Red Cross garments. The Woman's Work committee will be glad to have the garments sent in as soon as it is convenient, so as to get them shipped in time to get across before cold weather.

Fannie B. McCaughrin, Chairman.

lower courts are held largely responsible for the distrust.

The message closes with the declaration that "there are distinct signs of hope and progress in the industrial situation in America."
