PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS PROSPEROUS PROSPERITY

Prosperity, Sept. 18.—All the town churches of Prosperity except the Lutheran were closed Sunday night in order to extend a welcome to the Rev. S. W. Hahn, the new pastor of Grace Lutheran church. Rev. J. A. McKeown, pastor of the A. R. P. church, welcomed the new minister on behalf of the A. R. P.'s of the town. He was followed by Rev. J. E. Williams who extended the welcome to the Baptist church, while Rev. J. D. Griffin brought a hearty welcome from the Methodist church. Rev. Mr. Hahn responded with a splendid sermon, having as his text, "Your Soul." Rev. Hahn is a man of imposing personality and visible strength of character, humorous and possessed of all the characteristics which make for convincing and interesting speaking, and those who heard him were amply repaid for going to church to hear him. Strangers who were present said they did not believe that there was any such thing as denominational differences in Prosperity.

An enjoyable meeting of the Literary Society was held Monday afternoon with Mrs. J. F. Brown as hostess, at her home on Main street. The guests were entertained on the wide porch which was attractively arranged with ferns, hanging baskets and jardinières of zinnias. In accordance with the year's study on "South Carolina," a most interesting program was carried out as follows:

Roll call was answered with names of minor poets of South Carolina. Paper, "Paul Hamilton Hayne," Mrs. J. D. Quattlebaum. Reading, "By the Grave of Timrod," Mrs. O. S. Miller.

During the social hour a salad course with Japanese punch was served, the hostess being assisted by Mrs. A. G. Wise and Mrs. L. W. Harmon.

The Luther league of Grace church was entertained Friday evening by Miss Willie Mae Wise in compliment to the members who leave this week for college. The handsome home, thrown open to young folks, was beautifully decorated in garden flowers and ferns. The "Polly Anna" game was the main feature of the evening's pleasure, after which ice cream and cake were served.

The members of the Epworth league motored to Prosperity's country club Thursday afternoon where, after enjoying the sports of the water, a delicious picnic lunch was served. Again on Saturday afternoon Miss Willie Mae Wise proved herself a charming hostess when she entertained in honor of Miss Alyne Richburg of Laurens. In the card room beautiful with summer flowers, three tables were arranged for rook. After the games the hostess served an ice course.

The Newberry Booster club, under the auspices of the chamber of commerce, were given a warm reception in Prosperity Friday afternoon. Dr. E. N. Kibler presided. The welcome address was made by Dr. C. T. Wyce, mayor of the town, followed by the response by J. M. Kinard of Newberry. Then followed a talk by J. B. Hunter, a former Prosperity boy. Dr. G. Y. Hunter pledged that Prosperity would willingly cooperate with Newberry in rebuilding the county. Rev. J. A. McKeown spoke of the Power of Vision and of the necessity of cooperation in accomplishing results. The last but not least was the talk given by Dr. J. W. Carson of Newberry.

Willie L. Moore died Friday at his home in Fairfield community, after an illness extending over 18 months. Mr. Moore was 61 years old, and a progressive farmer. The funeral was held Saturday afternoon at Mt. Olivet Lutheran church, the service being conducted by his pastor, the Rev. Cromer. AMERICAN LEGION NOTES.

The executive and entertainment committees held a joint meeting last Wednesday evening to discuss local American legion affairs. After discussion it was decided to call a joint meeting of the post and auxiliary for tonight, Monday, at 8 o'clock. The business sessions of the two organizations will be held separately after which they will unite for the entertainment part of the program, which by the way, will be in charge of the auxiliary. "Nuf sad."

Were you present at the last meeting of the post? If not you missed a good meeting. Make some sacrifice if necessary and come out to this meeting. Post No. 24 has the reputation throughout the state of being one of the liveliest posts in the state. Legionnaires, let's live up to our reputation.

Some of the business to be considered at this meeting will be: Plans for Armistice day celebration; the proposition of fostering a troop of boy scouts; whether or not the post desires to put on a local talent show; shall we organize a "40 Hommes et Chevaux," the fun making society in the legion. Come out and "spress yourself" on these and any other subjects that may come up for the "good of the order."

Let's go to the national convention to be held in New Orleans Oct. 16 to 20. Have you considered it seriously? If you go I will guarantee that you will never regret having made the sacrifice necessary for the trip. Our auxiliary has set the pace by sending three representatives. Can't we do as well? Be thinking about it.

American Legion Affairs by Ed Adams:

"American legion members from the various posts over the state are planning to attend the national convention to be held in New Orleans October 16 to 20. South Carolina should be well represented as the convention is not likely to be held so near home in many years. Cities in all parts of the country want the big meeting and it is right that it should be shifted around. Members in South Carolina who are contemplating attending the convention should get in touch with the department adjutant at Sparanburg and secure information with regard to rates and accommodations. All hotel reservations are to be made through the department adjutant.

"There are more than 100 posts in South Carolina. About twenty-five of these are on the inactive list. Veterans in the town where the legion is inactive have it in their power to render a service to their comrades and to the community by reorganizing the legion post. Any one who is interested will find the department officers, members of the state executive committee and other legion leaders ready to assist in any way possible. Get busy and reorganize your post in time to celebrate Armistice day.

"The Greenwood post and the auxiliary will present a play this week. Mrs. Sam Rosenberg is in charge of the affair and the legion members are optimistic over the outcome. Legion posts over the state will find the staging of minstrels and other amateur plays enjoyable to the members and of financial assistance to the organization.

"Charleston post met Wednesday night and took up many matters of interest to the membership. A committee was named to arrange for Armistice day. The post offered its assistance to the American Red Cross in the campaign to be put on in November. The report of the service officer showed that the post was doing much good for the disabled men."

Don't forget the joint meeting of the post and auxiliary tonight. Let's begin promptly at 8 so that those who desire to see "The Ship of Araby" may do so after the meeting.

John B. Setzler,
Publicity Officer.

It isn't really necessary to cross the ocean yourself. You can get the address of some Continental hotel keeper and send him the money.

DOES IT PAY TO SELL COTTON BELOW COST OF PRODUCTION

We now have about 200,000 bales of cotton held over from the 1921 crop and cotton is now selling for $50.00 a bale more than it was 12 months ago. Let's calculate a little and see if it pays to hold cotton. A great many are always ready to say that it does not pay to hold cotton but that the best way is to sell as fast as you get it ginned. By holding these 200,000 bales of cotton to date we have added $10,000,000 of wealth to the state. If this cotton had not been held off the market that amount of wealth would have gone into the hands of the speculators. Has it not paid to hold it?

The same thing can be done with the crop we are now gathering. I think that our state will not make over 600,000 bales this year and if held off the market for even six months at least 10c a pound can be added to the price it is selling for today. Another $50 a bale can be made, adding $30,000,000 of wealth to our state. Now, is this worth our while? I certainly think it is. Considering the condition of our state at present, the business interests of our state cannot afford to lose this great amount of money.

How can this enormous amount of money be saved and added to the wealth of the state. Cotton is one of the best collaterals in the world on which to have money advanced and it is doubly so now, for it is admitted by some of the best cotton men in the world that we have not enough cotton for the world's consumption in 1923 even if the consumption is no greater for next year than it has been this year. If this cotton is warehoused and the receipts turned over to the bankers, I believe that they can get money on them and I want to urge every farmer who has not signed his cotton to the Cooperative Marketing association to warehouse his cotton and keep it off the market. I think that you are bound to see higher prices in the near future. The world is no longer going to believe the big crop estimating lies. They are now beginning to realize that we will make under ten million bales this year and they are beginning to wonder where the cotton is coming from to clothe the people of the world. If not another bale of spot cotton were sold in the South for 30 days, you would see cotton sell above 25c, and I think you would even see 30c cotton. The cotton is growing shorter every day and the world is needing cotton cloth as it has never needed it before. A south-wide holding movement for better prices

SERVICE HELD AT HOME OF MR. MINICK

On Sunday afternoon, September 17, religious services were held at the home of Mr. S. C. Minick. His family and a large crowd of friends were present. The service consisted of a sermon by Rev. E. H. Seckinger and songs by those present. Rev. Seckinger chose as his text Matt. 11:28, "Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest." The songs were old and familiar.

For some time Mr. Minick has been failing in health and is no longer able to attend church.

It was a very touching scene, to hear his pastor preaching from the Word he loves, and see his friends grouped around him singing his favorite songs. All those who came must have gone away refreshed and inspired by the service.

NEWBERRY OPENS ATHLETIC FIELD

The State.

Newberry, Sept. 16.—When the Newberry college football squad reported for practice Monday Coach McLean led it out on the new athletic field, which, when completed, promises to be one of the largest and best fields in the state. It measures 700 by 350 feet and provides ample space for a football gridiron, a baseball field, a quarter mile track, and tennis courts. There will be, besides the bleachers, two stands with a combined seating capacity of about 2,000.

The old field which now passes into history has been the scene of many close and exciting contests. In the 23 years of its existence, it has been used by three champion baseball teams—those of 1905, 1912, and 1917—besides other excellent aggregations. Around it cluster memories of such stars as college memories as Simpson, Cabanis, Crouch, Eidsen, Smeltzer, Baker, Renker, Epling, Taylor, Luther and many others who have represented the Scarlet and the Gray on the diamond. As a gridiron, it has witnessed some notable battles such as the 159 to 0 victory of "Dutch" McLean and his teammates over Bailey Military institute in the first interscholastic game ever witnessed in Newberry, the 53 to 0 victory over the Presbyterian college in 1918, the heart rending defeat of the Indians by the Bluesocks in 1916 by the margin of one field goal, and the victory of MacLean's charges over Presbyterian college last Thanksgiving day. Among the outstanding players who have cavorted over it with the pigskin are MacLean, Swanton, Baker, Taylor, Renkin, Dellin, McPhee, Beede and the Borts brothers. In a sense the old field was a monument to the well known chairman of the faculty athletics committee, Dr. E. B. Setzler, who was largely instrumental in securing and equipping it in 1900 and whose zeal for pure athletics has not abated a jot during the years that have passed.

should be started at once. So long as cotton is thrown on the market it will not go up.

I know Texas is selling her cotton about as fast as she gets it out. Texas will not make over 3 million bales this year and it is opening very rapidly. By Oct. 15 she will be through gathering. They will soon be through and out of the way this year. You must remember that Texas can make cotton at least 5 to 7c cheaper a pound than we can east of the Mississippi.

The farmers, bankers and business men of the South have the cotton situation in their own hands this year as they have not had it in fifty years. They can name the price at which they want to sell. I want to urge our bankers and business men to get behind the cotton and let's save South Carolina from financial ruin by all forces working together. We can add many million dollars to the wealth of our state. Single handed we can do nothing, together we can do everything that is right and I know that this is right. Cotton is our great money crop and when we get rid of what we now have on hand it will be a long time before we will have this much again. I believe we will save our country in the future as we have in the past. It is up to us.

B. Harris,
Commissioner of Agriculture.

STATE FAIR THIS YEAR TO BE BEST EVER HELD

Columbia, Sept. 16.—The coming South Carolina State fair gives promise of being a record breaker in each and every department. Early requests for stall and pen reservations insure the finest show of live stock ever staged in this state. The elegant new cattle barn now under construction will stable 500 head of cattle, while accommodations for 300 animals will be provided in the building formerly devoted to poultry show. Additional pens are being prepared for the swine exhibit, which in number and quality will far excel the magnificent show of last year. The poultry exhibit will require almost double the space of former years. The extension service of Clemson college, under the direct supervision of Dr. W. W. Long, will require 6,000 square feet of space for its educational displays. Clemson college, under the direction of President W. M. Riggs, will install an exhibit requiring approximately 3,000 square feet of space, while the Home Demonstration exhibit, under the direction of Miss Christine South, will require a similar amount of space. The premium exhibits in the agricultural and horticultural departments will be more numerous than in the past and the same is true of the displays in the art and woman's departments.

In keeping with the high standard of the educational features, the management has arranged an amusement program extraordinary. Harness and running races are programmed daily while between the heats of the races the visitors will be entertained with a complete circus program, including stellar acts of daring, skill, and comedy by stars of the sawdust arena. Five days will be devoted to horse racing. On the closing day, October 24, professional auto races will be staged. Among other famous drivers, Sig Haugdahl, champion dirt track driver of the world, will appear. The Johnny J. Jones shows, with its myriads of tented attractions and riding devices, will be found on the Joy Plaza. Each night a stupendous display of fireworks will be presented. The combined amusement program is the grandest ever attempted in South Carolina. The fair grounds proper will present a most pleasing appearance. On every side flowering embellishments will greet the eye, while permanent walkways shaded with stately palmetto trees will lead to the exhibit buildings and various points of interest. Visitors will note with pride the magnificent new buildings and the many park improvements. The management gives assurance that everything will be in complete readiness for the opening day, Monday, October 23, and is preparing to entertain vast crowds during the entire week.

Baseball

The all stars from Mollohon defeated Batesburg Saturday 1 to 0. This team was the champion of the Four Mill league losing only two games this season. This was a hard fought game from start to finish. The feature of the game was the pitching of Harmon who allowed the leguerra only four scattered hits.

Batteries: Mollohon: Harmon and Kohn; for Batesburg: Porter and Snyder.

These teams cross bats again Saturday afternoon in Newberry and a real game will be expected.

Come out and see these teams work.
