For fifteen years she has served as president, being a capable leader and faithful leader of the organization. She said that Newberry has been from the beginning a strong force in the work, and this convention was the fourth which has been held here.

In concluding her address she urged the delegates to go home with a new purpose in heart to make the W. C. T. U. better, remembering the motto, "For God, for home, and native land." She was given a rising vote of thanks.

Mrs. Richard Williams, president of the S. C. League of Women Voters, addressed the convention and held the close attention of the large audience. Cooperation was the keynote of her talk, the uniting of the woman power and one of their greatest works was to inspire a deeper respect for the laws of the land in the hearts of their children. She said that women should assume the duties of citizenship and study the vote intelligently.

Mrs. Fred S. Munsell, chairman of the Woman's Legislative council, made a very forceful address. She said that the preamble to the United States constitution could be summed up in the words, "To provide for the common welfare," and mentioned the legislative measures which women want enacted, namely: bills for repression of prostitution, provision for tuberculosis cases and the feeble-minded; poll tax for women; a bill similar to the Simonhoff bill of last session; education qualifications for voters in the primaries.

Saturday Morning

Following the meeting of the official board the convention was called to order by the president, and devotional service was conducted by Mrs. J. M. Workman. The work of the young people filled an interesting hour and Mrs. Leon Holly of Aiken, secretary of the department, gave her report. Following her report she made an earnest appeal for work among the young people.

Miss Leila Attaway, secretary of the Loyal Temperance legion, gave her annual report and urged the importance of getting boys and girls interested in the work.

An open discussion was held of the Young People's branch and several plans discussed whereby better work could be effected.

The temperance papers, Union Signal and Young Crusader, were presented by Miss Cleo Attaway.

The Palmetto White Ribbon, state official organ, was presented by the editor, Mrs. J. L. Mims. This paper is entering its 15th anniversary.

A very interesting feature was the budget system of finances, this being presented by Mrs. C. P. Robinson, state treasurer. The plan was explained and recommended to the convention body.

The morning session closed with a memorial to those who have passed to their reward.

NEWS OF WHITMIRE, THE TOWN THAT DOES THINGS

Whitmire, Oct. 24.—Our community was saddened this week by the death of Miss Maud Locke, a sweet and popular girl of 15 years of age. She had been ill for several months. So, while her death was not a surprise, it was a shock to her many friends. The funeral services were conducted at the Wesleyan Methodist church by her pastor, Rev. D. O. Powers of Spartanburg and Revs. Smith and Simpson of Whitmire. For a long time to come we will think of "a voice that is still and a hand that is vanished."

It seems as if a real estate deal of magnitude is to be consummated soon. P. B. Odell is considering the sale of his house and farm here to a real estate man from North Carolina, taking as part payment 600 acres of land at Myrtle Beach. Mr. Odell will continue to reside here conducting a garage and other business. It's said on the street that the prospective purchaser is a capitalist and will build another cotton mill here.

The cotton picking in this community is about over, and only 350 bales have been ginned. The average amount prepared for market here is 2,000 bales. I believe there's only one other gin this year in this township, that of W. C. Scott. So far he has turned out only 50 bales. These figures show an appalling shortage of the "Southern snow." What are we going to do about it? Echo answers, "What?" The situation is certainly serious. " 'Tis true, 'tis pity, 'tis pity 'tis true."

Haskell Miller and Tom Scott have just returned from another pilgrimage to Charlotte. Madam rumor has it that they went in search of housekeepers. One or two more visits to this sweet land of moonshine when the contracts will be closed, the party of the second part agreeing to "love, honor and obey" the party of the first part promising by great effort to provide sufficient water.

D., president of Newberry college, Newberry, South Carolina, took Dr. Luckey's subject and developed it along the lines of training men for service. His address was enthusiastically received and he was kept before the convention for a longer time than any previous speaker to date. His remarks were the subject of discussion and conference by pastors in educational centers led by Rev. C. P. Harry, student secretary, board of education."

MCLEOD ADDRESSES NEWBERRY AUDIENCE

OTHER INTERESTING SPEAKERS
ON PROGRAM

Sunday's Sessions of W. C. T. U.
Convention Largely Attended by People of Newberry

The climax of interest in the W. C. T. U. convention was reached on Sunday when the morning, afternoon and evening services were attended by large audiences of Newberrians.

At Central Methodist church in the morning the pulpit was filled by Mrs. Maude B. Perkins of New York, national secretary of the Young People's board of the W. C. T. U., who is a speaker of great force and ability. Dr. E. M. Lightfoot of Columbia, superintendent of the South Carolina Anti-saloon league, spoke at the First Baptist church along the lines of his work. Governor-elect Thomas G. McLeod was the speaker in the morning at the A. R. P. church and had as his subject "The Temptation in the Wilderness." The Rev. Luther M. Kuhns of Omaha, Neb., preached at the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer.

Sunday afternoon a mass meeting was held in the opera house when several speakers were heard, chief among whom was Mr. McLeod, governor-elect of the state.

Mrs. Sprout, state president of the W. C. T. U., presided with her usual grace and introduced the speakers.

Scripture and prayer by the Rev. Mr. Babb were followed by a special selection by a chorus, after which Dr. E. M. Lightfoot was introduced. Dr. Lightfoot spoke interestingly of the work of the Anti-saloon league and of the methods used by opposing forces to undo the work accomplished by temperance organizations.

As Thomas G. McLeod was introduced, the audience arose in respect to the man who is soon to pilot the ship of state, and in beginning his address Mr. McLeod paid a tribute to the women who have wrought so wonderfully in freeing our country of the curse of alcohol. The subject of his discourse was "Citizenship" and he handled this subject in a masterly manner, basing his remarks on a passage from the Scriptures, "With a great price obtained I this freedom." He declared that the challenge to the citizenship of today is for better laws and their enforcement, and pledged that he would do all within his power to aid in law enforcement.

A most interesting part of the program came in the introduction of Mrs. Milne of Scotland who is in this country to attend the international W. C. T. U. convention which meets in Philadelphia on November 10th. She is the president of the Woman's Christian Temperance association of Scotland and she brought a message of greeting from the women of Scotland.

Mrs. Maude B. Perkins was also introduced and spoke a few words to the audience.

At the Sunday evening service devotions were conducted by Dr. Gilbert Voigt of Newberry college. The address of the evening was made by Mrs. Maude B. Perkins of New York, who spoke in a forcible and interesting manner of the evils of intemperance. She outlined the five point program of the W. C. T. U. and stressed especially child welfare. Her address was wonderfully strong and she made a deep impression on her hearers.

MAP OF SOIL SURVEY OF NEWBERRY COUNTY

Congressman Dominick has a number of copies of the "Soil Survey of Newberry County" for distribution. This is a very interesting and valuable publication, and especially to farmers, as it describes the various soils of Newberry county, and the location of each on a large soil map of the county. There is not a sufficient number of copies for general distribution, but as long as the supply lasts Mr. Dominick will be glad to mail a copy to anyone who sends his name and address to him at his office in Newberry.

Would you understand "The Greatest Love?" Then go to the opera house Wednesday and see the picture.
