PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS PROSPEROUS PROSPERITY

Prosperity, Nov. 6.—John N. Parrott, a venerable citizen of this community, died at his home Sunday afternoon, and his remains were laid to rest in the Corinth Lutheran cemetery Monday afternoon. Mr. Parrott was in his 89th year and had been confined to his room with heart trouble for several months. He was held in high esteem by all who knew him. At the outbreak of the Confederate war he entered the service of his country. Mr. Parrott is survived by his wife, formerly Miss Mary Oxner, and the following children: Mrs. S. A. Price, Prosperity; Mrs. S. L. Boozer, Haines City, Fla.; Mrs. S. E. Amick, Leesville; Mrs. J. R. Glenn, Leesville; and Albert and Avery Parrott of Saluda county. Funeral services were conducted at the cemetery by the Rev. J. B. Harmon of White Rock.

The Epworth leagues of Zion and Wightman Methodist churches honored their beloved pastor and wife, Rev. and Mrs. J. D. Griffin, with a surprise party given Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Dominick. The home thrown open to young folks who numbered about sixty, was informally arranged with potted plants and vases of chrysanthemums. The party was called, "An Excursion to Epworth," and by changing cars occasionally partners were gotten for the different games. The climax to the evening's pleasure was the presentation by Miss Elizabeth Barnes of a handsome purse to Pastor Griffin from the leagues. Rev. Griffin in his usual pleasing manner expressed profound gratitude on behalf of himself and Mrs. Griffin. A salad course with hot chocolate was served by Misses Vida Counts, Vera Barnes, Annie Bowers, Margaret Griffin and Salome and Bernice Dominick.

The October meeting of the William Lester chapter, U. D. C. met Friday afternoon with Mrs. M. C. Morris. During the routine of business Miss Grace Sease was elected leader of the children's chapter. The following were chosen to represent the Prosperity chapter at the state convention which convenes at Greenwood Dec. 6-8: Miss Ethel Saner and Mrs. E. W. Werts, with Mrs. M. C. Morris and Miss Bessie Bowers alternates. In the absence of the leader, the regular literary program was dispensed with. A sweet course was served.

On Saturday afternoon the James D. Nance C. of C. was entertained by Misses Rosalyn, Madge and Frances Miller. Miss Rosalyn Miller had charge of the program which was on Jack Jouett. Miss Ethel Saner, president of the William Lester chapter, gave the life of Jack Jouett, followed by the story of the Ride of Jack Jouett by Miss Julia Quattlebaum. A tempting sweet course was served.

Rev. J. D. Griffin leaves this week for conference at Gaffney, and the following shows the esteem in which he is held by the Epworth leagues of Prosperity charge:

him to speak for his ardent and unselfish devotion to duty.

"The church, during his pastorage, has had unusual prosperity. Many members have been added to the church and those who were already

"Rev. J. D. Griffin's four years are out this year, and we all feel we are losing one whose place will be hard to fill. He leaves many works behind in the church, taking the zest and zeal from him, have become active leaders.

"But the place that he seems to fill best of all is the place among the young people. He seems especially endowed to unite, control and lead the young people and it is this spirit of his character which seems to have borne so much fruit during his stay here.

"By untiring effort and by his leadership, he at the very first gained the love of the young people, thus laying the foundation of the Epworth league.

"This organization of our church was organized during his stay here, and today it is a working factor going hand in hand with the church and training the young for active leadership.

"So, while we feel deeply our loss in losing such a spirit, we realize that there are other fields where he is needed, other young people whose spiritual need will become the gainers by this guiding spirit of usefulness.

"A good pastor, an ardent worker for the communities' good, a staunch friend of the young, and an able preacher is leaving us; but in other fields he will find his work. Thus the Kingdom of God is broadened.

"Epworth Leagues of Prosperity Charge."

Miss Effie Hawkins entertained with a Hallowe'en party Monday afternoon complimenting her Sunday school class of little boys of Grace Lutheran church. There was the witch, who foretold the future of the guests. After enjoying all sorts of Hallowe'en games a sweet course was served. The favors were pumpkins filled with mints. Leslie Hartman, who has not been absent during the year from Sunday school, received an attendance prize.

SUCCESSFUL ENTERTAINMENT AT VAUGHNVILLE SCHOOL

One of the enjoyable social features of the Vaughnville community was the entertainment given by the school at the spacious new building. There was not a single hitch in the program from the beginning to the finish. Each child did his part remarkably well, especially the beginners, who successfully dramatized the nursery rhyme of Lucy Locket. The play, "Mother Goose Up to Date," was a great success.

The fun provoking part was the "tacky party," some of the characters of which caused no end of merriment.

After the entertainment by the children, the ladies of the School Improvement association served oysters, hot chocolate, coffee, candy and cake in one of the rooms which had been fitted up into a splendid dining room. The decorations of black cats and witches were combined with yellow and white chrysanthemums.

At a late hour all departed for their homes, expressing a wish to have another entertainment in the near future.

OFFICERS IN AIKEN RAID DISTILLERY

Outfit of Large Capacity With Beer, Sugar and Meal Captured

The State.

Aiken, Nov. 3.—Aiken county officials raided one of the biggest stills Thursday ever found in this county. The operators of the still had selected an almost inaccessible place in the Edisto river swamp. The only way of approach was by boat and even then the officers were forced to wade knee deep in water. The still was located close to the Pine Log bridge. A 200 gallon copper still, with a brick furnace was found and 13 barrels of 60 gallon capacity filled with beer and a large quantity of sugar and corn meal.

The operators were not present but their living quarters were raided and the entire outfit destroyed by fire, it being impossible to remove any part of it from the swamp. The sheriff is now on the trail of the operators and arrests are expected to follow.

The raid was made by Sheriff Howard, Deputies Robison, Samuels and Busbee and Frank Demars, deputy United States marshal of Charleston.

FORWARD!! MARCH!!!

Attention is called to the parade which will be put on in Newberry in connection with the Armistice day celebration on Friday, November 10. The order in which the various organizations will form in the parade has not yet been decided but will be announced later. Sure, there will be plenty of good music to march by when the parade moves off from Mower's garage. All three of Newberry's excellent bands will be asked to participate. The ex-service men of the county will, of course, form the main part of the parade, but other organizations will be there to take part.

The school children of the city schools will form on Main street between Mays' Drug store and the Carolina Auto company. All school children from the country who attend in a body or otherwise are asked to park trucks and form in line at the high school building at ten o'clock. Some one will be there to direct them to a place reserved for them on Main street. The school children will not march in the parade but will form lines on both sides of the street.

The parade will form at ten o'clock at Mower's garage and move off at ten-thirty sharp. The line of march will be down Main street to Mays' Drug store and on to the opera house where the crowd will gather to listen to an address by Col. J. Monroe Johnson, one of the "fightingest" men in the state and a dandy good speaker, too.

Everybody who is to take part in the parade is urged to be on hand ready to fall in promptly at ten a. m.

At one o'clock all ex-service men will be treated to a turkey dinner by the ladies of the Legion Auxiliary, assisted by the ladies of other organizations of the city. Admission to

ARMISTICE CELEBRATION PREPARATIONS FOR

Parade and Exercises in Morning—
Ball Game in Afternoon and Play at Night

Armistice day will go off with a bang here next Friday and from the hour of ten until late in the night amusement will be provided for the great crowd which will gather in Newberry to witness the celebration.

To mention the events in the order in which they will come will give those interested a better idea of the many things which will be provided for the pleasure of those who come to witness this fine event.

At ten o'clock the parade will start to form, with the head of the column forming at Mower's garage and extending as far back as necessary. At ten-thirty Herman Wright's committee will start the column moving, so that there will be no delay in the march and no long wait for those who parade or the throng who will gather to view it. As the column moves down the main part of the city they will march between the escort of honor, formed by more than a thousand school children and move on to the opera house, where the parade will disband and then all will gather in the opera house for at eleven o'clock the exercises at that place. Colonel J. M. Johnson of Marion will make the addresses of the day and those who come to hear him will be repaid for Colonel Johnson is a speaker of great ability and knows what to say on such occasions. During the World War Colonel Johnson led the Engineer regiment of the famous Rainbow (42nd) division. He was the first choice of the executive committee of the legion and his acceptance was received with great pleasure by the local post, for Colonel Johnson is a busy man and he is in great demand on such days. From this city he will go to Sumter where on Saturday he will be the principal speaker at their Armistice day celebration. Music for the eleven o'clock program will be special for the day and will be greatly enjoyed. Just here it may be stated that a committee of ladies will call on the merchants, banks and offices of the city and ask that all places of business be closed between the hours of ten-thirty and one, which will allow many to participate in the parade as well as enjoy the program at the opera house.

Immediately after the exercises at the opera house all former service men will repair to Mower's garage, where the Legion auxiliary, assisted by other organizations of the city will serve a bountiful turkey dinner, with all the trimmings, to the service men. During this meal there will be some lively singing and a short address by Dr. George B. Cromer. The dinner will be served by pretty girls and charming matrons and those fortunate enough to be gathered about the feast will have an hour or more of good time and an abundance of good things to eat.

After the dinner there will be an intermission before the legion's picture show opens and the football game begins. The picture show will interest those who do not care for football, but lovers of that sport will gather at the new athletic field at three-fifteen and witness a great game between Erskine and Newberry, which should be a great game and admirers of both teams will gather from far and wide to witness the struggle. For the picture fans the legion arranged some special films which will be of interest on Armistice day, showing scenes from France and other views of interest.

After the picture show and football game there will be an intermission until eight-thirty at which time "Sittin' Pretty" will be put on. This is a play of the A. E. F. and very appropriate to the day, giving a fitting end to a real celebration. The plot revolves about an A. W. O. L. soldier and the show moves rapidly from the first curtain until the good night sign is thrown on. Those who have seen the rehearsals state that "Sittin' Pretty" is the best local talent play ever to be staged here and it would seem that Director John Setzler gets better and better with each show that he presents.

All former service men are requested to register Friday morning at the New Book Store, at which time the German government has made a poor "rep" on the payment of reparations.

Some politicians will be put to sleep on their own bunk on Nov. 7.

they will be given tickets for the meal. All are requested to come in uniform for the parade and now would be a good time to get out the O. D. and look it over for moth holes and maybe get mother to put a crease in the trousers and freshen up the coat a bit. Last Armistice day the number of men in uniform was surprising and this year we hope to have the majority of them so dressed.

A late addition to the day's entertainment is the idea of having several booths on the square to be used for raffles and the like. The proceeds from this form of amusement will be used in the disabled soldier fund and it is hoped to realize a tidy amount from these attractions.

Miss Sadie Goggans, who is general chairman of the ladies' committee states that all the helpers will wear the Red Cross uniform and the very attractive head-dress coifs. These uniformed helpers will add a needed touch of color to the day's festivities. Any information regarding the parade or any other part of the day's program may be secured from the writer, who will furnish same or refer you to the proper person who will. Details of the parade may be had from Herman Wright at the Exchange bank and the schools of the county may get their information from Col. Aull.

NEWBERRY INDIANS WIN OVER CITADEL BULL DOGS

Battle Was Full of Thrills, With Supporters From Both Schools Present

(By Hal Kohn)

In a game that was full of thrills which kept the spectators breathless, Newberry defeated Citadel here Saturday afternoon by the score of 10 to 7. The game was viewed by an enthusiastic crowd of from 700 to 800 supporters of both schools. The game was one of the snappiest contests ever held in Newberry. Citadel scored their first touchdown early in the first quarter on repeated off-tackle plays and fake bucks through center. Lee scored the touchdown on a pass from Fuller. Fuller kicked goal. Citadel threatened to score again in the second half, the half ending with the ball on Newberry's 12 yard line.

In a second half Newberry came back strong and in three first downs took the ball for a touchdown. McPhee took the ball over and Wollett kicked the goal. The score at the end of the third quarter stood 7 to 7.

Again Newberry started a drive down the field using end runs mixed with passes. McPhee featured this drive with a brilliant run around end for 25 yards which placed the ball in position for the final score. Standing on the 35 yard line near the left side of the field, McPhee made a beautiful drop kick from a difficult angle which insured the game for the Indians.

During the last five minutes the Citadel tried numerous short passes, many of which were completed for ten and twelve yard gains, but they were unable to negotiate the required yardage and lost the ball on an intercepted pass by Butler. Newberry fullback, For Newberry the outstanding stars were McPhee, Butler and Eleazer. Shealy played a stellar game at tackle until he was taken out with a sprained ankle. White made several nice returns of punts, while Weirburg and Covington ran well off tackle for the Citadel.

The line up:

Citadel (7)	Newberry (10)
Lee	RE	Wollett
Hagener	RT	Derrick
Wagner	RG	Wollett
Temple	C	Stoudemire
Corley	LG	Eleazer
Holmes	LT	F. Shealy

Substitutions: Newberry, Fulmer for Shealy. Citadel, Wannamaker for Corley, McDowell for Fuller. Officials: Referee, Walter Johnson (Presbyterian); umpire, Holland; Headlinesman, "Rut" Osborne (Carolina).
