PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS PROSPEROUS PROSPERITY

Prosperity, Dec. 11.—The Literary Sorosis held its December meeting Friday afternoon with Miss Blanche Kibler at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Quattlebaum. An informal arrangement of potted plants lent an air of charm to the rooms. The vice president, Mrs. J. D. Quattlebaum, presided over a short business session. In the study of Famous Women, Mrs. S. W. Hahn, Mrs. O. S. Miller, Mrs. J. F. Browne and Miss Effie Hawkins contributed interesting sketches on Lady Astor, Louisa of Prussia and Her Times, Emmaline Pankhurst, and The Little Grandmother of the Russian Revolution. The history of suffrage in England was told by Mrs. T. A. Dominick. Following the program the hostess, assisted by her little nieces, Misses Julia, Rosalyn and Sara Quattlebaum served a tempting menu.

The following, taken from The State December 8, will be read with interest by the many friends of Mr. Wise: "K. A. Wise, a graduate of the Harvard law school and Newberry college, has opened law offices at 1221 Washington street for general practice. Mr. Wise was formerly a resident of Prosperity, but has made Columbia his home for some time. He is an enthusiastic booster for Columbia."

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Wheeler announce the engagement of their daughter, Ruby, to Jesse Phillips Garner of Jacksonville, Fla., the wedding to take place during the holidays.

The School Improvement association of Saluda school will give a play entitled, "Adventures of Grandpa," Dec. 21. Full program will appear in next week's issue.

Under the auspices of the Community league the following interesting program will be given at the town hall Dec. 15, beginning promptly at 7:15 p. m.:

The story, Why the Chimes Rang, will be told by Mrs. J. D. Quattlebaum, with dramatization by school children in costume.
Community singing.
Primary grade orchestra.
A silver offering will be taken. Everybody is cordially invited to attend.

Last Tuesday Mr. D. M. Langford had the misfortune to lose a fine mule. Mr. Langford had lent the mule to Rev. R. E. Sharp to plow his garden, and in some manner the mule became frightened, jumped over the garden fence, falling head foremost, breaking his neck.

At the regular monthly meeting of Prosperity Masonic lodge held Monday evening the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: J. A. Price, W. M.; J. F. Browne, S. W.; E. W. Werts, J. W.; B. B. Schumpert, treasurer; J. A. Counts, secretary; B. T. Young, S. D.; E. W. Bowers, J. D.; and S. C. Taylor, tyler.

On Tuesday evening the Eastern Star met and officers elected for the coming year are:

The Christmas joy that's in the air; Just settle down and be impressed—You listen. We will do the rest.

Pomaria News

The past week Pomaria had several treats along the line of Education. Tuesday was Patriotism day. Dr. Jno. B. Setzler, accompanied by Clifton Graham, Jno. D. Wedaman and Mrs. Jno. Wicker, presented the school a flag. Dr. Setzler in his usual graceful manner gave the school an instructive talk in regard to the salutation of the flag. Master Harold Hentz responded with an original and very fitting poem in rendering thanks for the flag. As the flag was being hoisted by Master Hentz the school stood at attention and sang the Star Spangled Banner very creditably.

Again on Friday morning after devotional service by Rev. Doggett, Prof. Bedenbaugh introduced Senator Alan Johnstone whom Pomaria had never had the pleasure of having with them before. A more educational and instructive talk was never heard than that of Senator Johnstone. He was a stranger in one way, since this was his first visit to the school, but not a stranger for everybody who does not know Mr. Johnstone knows of him and what he has done for the county in the way of education, and I don't think too much appreciation can be shown to him. Sorry so few saw fit to come out to hear him and show their appreciation of such a brilliant man.

Mrs. R. E. Bedenbaugh had a birthday dinner Sunday. The table was a beautiful picture. In the center was the birthday cake, elegantly trimmed by the skillful hand of Mrs. Emma Hipp and topped with 70 yellow birthday candles. A toothsome turkey with all that goes with it, was served. Her children and grandchildren were the partakers with the honor guest, Mrs. L. B. Folk, her sister-in-law. All the children were present except Mrs. J. A. Williams, nee Miss Annie Mae, who resides at Elliott, S. C.

Mrs. L. B. Folk of 1,000 Maple street, Columbia, is visiting her sister-in-law, Mrs. R. E. Bedenbaugh, at Kiblers.

H. W. Lominack and J. L. Swafford were business visitors in Columbia Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Ruff and children visited at his old home in Ballentines last week.

Jno. Wedaman and W. S. Martin made a business trip to Columbia this week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Bedenbaugh returned from Branchville accompanied by Miss Marion Comer who left Monday for Greenville.

Mrs. L. B. Bedenbaugh being indisposed Monday, Rev. S. P. Koon taught for her.

Mrs. Virgil Sheeley spent several days with her father, Mr. J. B. Koon, the past week.

Dr. and Mrs. R. J. Johnson and Mrs. Z. T. Pinner were in Columbia Wednesday on business.

Mrs. L. H. Senn of Chappells who has been visiting her mother, Mrs. J. J. Crook, for several days, returned to her home Wednesday.

Tommy Crook and W. J. Hentz of Broad River were in town Wednesday on business.

Mrs. Ida Harris visited Mr. and Mrs. Burr Martin of Newberry last week.

Mr. J. W. Alewine who has been confined to his room with rheumatism for several days is able to be out again.

Messrs. J. C. Berley and R. H. Hipp, Jr., motored to Greenville Wednesday. Mr. Berley is having his eyes treated.

Mr. E. S. Sheeley and Mrs. J. W. Alewine motored to Aiken Wednesday to visit their brother, Mr. Edgar Sheeley, returning Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Swafford and Mr. Clyde Koon spent from the 3rd to the 5th in Gaffney.

HOME DEMONSTRATION

Community Market

Proceeds from the market for the past week were $170.23, $99.00 of which came from the sale of turkeys. More produce is needed on Wednesday, green vegetables being in demand. Plenty of fresh sausage, backbone, etc., will be on sale the coming Wednesday. Mrs. Senn will bring it. Parties having beef engaged will please be careful of your engagements. If you are uncertain as to the date please phone 398-W or write to the community market.

Home Demonstration

Itinerary:
O'Neal—Tuesday, December 12th 3:00 p. m., at La Fuchia Long's.

Tranwood—Wednesday, Dec. 13, 3:00 p. m., at Mrs. James Sease's.

Pomaria—Thursday, Dec. 14, 1:00 p. m., at Mrs. Wedaman's.

Smyrna—(Girls and Women), Friday, December 15, 2:30 p. m. at Mrs. Clayton Boezer's.

Miss Berrie, home demonstration agent, will leave on December 21st to spend the holidays with her home folk in Aiken, S. C. On January 3rd and 4th she will attend a joint conference of home demonstration agents and county farm agents in Columbia at the Jefferson hotel. She goes to Rock Hill on January 5th to attend the annual conference for ten days or two weeks, after which she will return to her post of duty at Newberry.

Young-Lindsay

Whitmore, Dec. 10.—A marriage of much interest Wednesday afternoon in the Methodist church was that of Miss Lena Young of this place and Samuel Ashe Lindsay of Columbia. The popularity of the bride was attested by the presence of hundreds of friends who witnessed the ceremony. The church was beautiful in the dim light of many candles, decorated with ferns and Southern smilax. The four brothers of Miss Young acted as ushers. Mrs. Louis Young was the dame of honor and Miss Lena Copeland of Reno, the only attendant of the bride, while Dr. Jennings of Columbia was the best man.

Thirteen little girls, members of the bride's Sunday school class, first entered the church, bearing a lighted candle in each hand to the chancel, where the officiating minister, the Rev. J. F. Lupo, waited. Miss Lila Teal played the violin, accompanied by pipe organ, played by Professor Albrecht. Mrs. C. G. sang "Until." E. E. Child sang "I Love You Truly." The ring service was used, the ring being borne by little Tom Young Jr.

The color scheme was white and yellow.

The bride wore a traveling suit of navy blue velour with accessories to match.

Immediately after the ceremony the couple left for Columbia where they will be at home to their friends.

INDIAN CAGERS TO OPEN AT ALBANY

Newberry Basketball Team Will Go Into Ohio and Pennsylvania to Play

The Newberry college basketball team will begin its season by playing a series of games on foreign soil. The first games will be played during a trip into Georgia. The team will leave next Thursday and immediately after returning from the Georgia trip, Dutch MacLean and his cagers will start on a trip into Ohio and Pennsylvania. The only stop going and coming will be in North Carolina. Durham, N. C., offers the resistance on the way up, and Trinity will entertain on the return journey.

This will be the same team that walloped Auburn in the Southern tournament at Atlanta last year, with the exception of Al Davis at guard. There are several able contestants for this vacancy, however, and it will be adequately filled. The old men are McPhee, center; Wallett and William, forwards; and Shealy at guard; Stodemire, Czarnitzski and others, who played in some of the intercollegiate games last year.

The schedule for these two trips is as follows:
Albany Y. M. C. A., Dec. 15.
Athletic club, Dec. 16.
Durham Y. M. C. A., Dec. 21.
Sharon, Pen-Elks, Dec. 25.
Lisbon, Ohio "Y," Dec. 27.
South, Ohio, Dec. 29.
Youngstown, Ohio, "Y," Jan. 1.
Trinity, N. C., Jan. 6.
The intercollegiate schedule is not complete at the present, but will be published as soon as completed.

Best Men Needed. The worst times need the best men.—Alexander Barclay.

Buttermilk "Spray" Is New. The buttermilk spree is a late sport. There are several places downtown where a person can drink buttermilk to repletion upon payment of a nickel, a perfectly safe venture for the vendor so far as the writer is concerned, by the way. This has been the impulse for a daring wager during the last few weeks.

Two neighbor ladies recently engaged in a sewing match, each concocting a shirt for her husband, the last to finish her task to buy the buttermilk for both.

Truly these are degenerate days, when respectable matrons can dissipate like that, unnoticed and unimproved. But, of course, the innocent husbands have to suffer the real penalty. They have to wear the shirts.—Portland Oregonian.

Land Reclaimed From Lake.

Montenegro will gain a navigable outlet to the sea and nearly 30,000 acres of rich new land, by negotiations pending between Jago-Slavia and Albania, which have as their objective the lowering to sea level of the ancient lake of Scutari.

The project involves a cost of $2,000,000 and will lower the level of Scutari lake by eight feet through the deepening of the River Bojana, from Scutari to the Adriatic.

Dates From Fifteenth Century.

Interesting discoveries have been made at "Ye Olde Griffin" hotel, Amersham, England, a coaching house dating back to the fifteenth century. The digging out of a leaking water pipe has brought to light a perfect example of an early Georgian fireplace. It has wide seats on either side and an immense hearthstone in the center, with an old-fashioned spit above it. On the hearth were some old coins, one with the date 1687. High up in the chimney is a recess which tradition says was used as a hiding place during the political persecutions of two hundred years ago.—Montreal Family Herald.

Harsh Criticism.

An unusually caustic critic was being shown through one of the Paris art salons by an enthusiastic friend. They stopped before some of the most modern of modern art.

It was the handwork of a woman, and might have been a lifelike portrait of anything from a sandstorm to a steam roller.

KIWANIS NOTES

Regular meeting of the Kiwanis club was held at the National hotel last Thursday with the Newberry college varsity football squad as honor guests. Rev. J. M. Steadman, the new pastor of Central Methodist church, and Rev. W. F. Gault, pastor of O'Neal Street Methodist church were present also, and responded in happy manner when called upon for a few remarks.

An interesting program had been arranged for this meeting. But perhaps the most enjoyable part of the program was the menu, which was as follows: Soup cream of fowl, celery hearts, mixed pickles, roast home-killed turkey, chestnut dressing, cranberry sauce, filet mignon aux champignons, vermicelli au gratin, steamed rice, spiced yams, escalloped potatoes, fruit salad, corn muffins, wheat bread, coconut custard pie, American cheese, crackers and coffee.

Dr. J. W. Carson, president of the club, in his usual happy manner responded to the toast, "Our Guests." "Our Host" was responded to by "Chuck" Wollett, captain of the team.

Callie Boyd Parr, the baby member of the club, was given the "glad hand." He gave the bunch a taste of the oratory they may expect from him in the future.

The election of officers resulted as follows: President, J. W. Carson; 1st vice president, C. A. Freed; 2nd vice president and district trustee, John B. Setzler; board of directors, T. K. Johnstone, O. B. Cannon, H. M. Bryson, J. H. Wicker, F. D. MacLean, W. K. Gotwald, J. N. McCaughin, J. M. Davis and John B. Setzler.

The club passed a resolution endorsing the sale of Christmas seals and health bonus and pledging the Tuberculosis association its cooperation. It voted to buy a health bond.

The favors, beautiful Christmas cards, were given by Will Cromer and Frank Davis. Marion Davis gave the attendance prize, "Lightning" Fulmer being the happy recipient.

The makers of foreign cabinets cannot be journeymen, for their work doesn't last.

Credulochemistry.

Of all the "scientific" fibs dished up by our newspaper chefs, none enjoys more perennial popularity than the discovery of the "lost art" of hardening copper. Only lately our foremost journals were devoting columns to the World war veteran who, finding in an ashcan some leaves of an old encyclopedia dealing with an ancient metallurgist and his success in hardening copper, fell to experimenting on his own account, with the result that his process was bought by Judge Gary for $1,000,000 in cash plus 2 cents per pound royalty. A modest retiring denial subsequently appeared. For such newspaper crookery Chemical and Metallurgical Engineering suggests the apt name of credulochemistry, while the Engineering and Mining Journal intimates that the press might vary its menu by creating unbreakable glass for milk bottles and petrified wood for construction purposes. Certainly these would prove no less digestible than copper—even hardened copper.—Scientific American.

Had Good Reason for Smile.

John E. Milligan, chief clerk of the public utilities commission, breezed into his office Monday in high spirits. A broad smile adorned his face and he went about his work with the alacrity of a man who has just inherited a fortune.

His fellow-workers began to confer with one another as to the probable cause of the chief clerk's jubilation.

"I'll bet he just got a ton of coal," suggested one young statistician.

"Maybe he struck a gold mine out in his Maryland farm," another said.

Later in the day the truth leaked out. Milligan had become the papa of an eight-pound baby boy.—Washington Star.

Lifeboats on Rails.

Lifeboats arranged on deck on rails, so that they can be run to that part of the ship from which launching is possible, are features of the new steamship Mockbeurg, claimed to be the last word in safety ships, which has just made her initial trip between Baltimore and Flushing.

In many cases of disaster at sea it has been found impossible to launch all of the boats on a ship because of the list. By this new device this difficulty is said to be overcome.

A VISIT TO SCHOOLS IN THE POMARIA SECTION

Last Friday was Equality of Opportunity day in Education week and a committee composed of Miss Daisy Berrie, Miss Hortense Woodson, Col. E. H. Aull and Mr. Mooney set forth in the morning for a visit to schools in the Pomaria section.

The first stop was at St. Phillips and we were greeted by the principal of the school, Mr. Lominick, who escorted us over the building. It was later than the hour appointed for our arrival so we did not attempt any program, but just went through the rooms, speaking to the teachers and children. We were much impressed with the attractiveness of the rooms, all of them being adorned with seasonal decorations. This is a handsome and up-to-date building with an extensive playground around it.

On account of the inclement weather they had not put up the flag which the American Legion had presented them the preceding Tuesday. We found this to be the case at the other schools we visited and consider that this was more respectful than to leave the flag exposed to the bad weather.

The next school we visited was Fork, within walking distance of St. Phillips, and though the outside presented a rather dilapidated appearance, the inside was cozy and cheery, with eleven little tots keeping perfect order, their instructor being Mrs. Sligh. Mr. Aull has recommended that this school be made a part of St. Phillips, which certainly seems a wise suggestion. Miss Berrie gave the children an interesting talk.

We arrived at Pomaria high school at the recess hour, so just went with the teachers around the building. One particular thing, or thing, which attracted our attention were the many handsome potted plants which we found in all the rooms, even the auditorium, which add greatly to the appearance of any place. The building is of brick construction and is a very spacious and modern high school.

Central was the last school we visited and we found this to be an ideal one-teacher school, just recently finished. Everything was so fresh and attractive that we wished we might linger. Miss Wyndham, the teacher, had her walls appropriately adorned and she also had a shelf with numerous pot plants to brighten the room. Miss Berrie, with her usual ease, gave the children a helpful talk and Mr. Aull made a few remarks.

The general use of sand tables in the schools is very commendable and they must be a great help to the teachers in impressing historical events. All of those we saw were very skillfully arranged.

This was a most interesting trip, and if committees who visited other schools gained as much from their visits as at least one of this committee gained, then Education week will not have been in vain.

H. C. W.

Cromer-Carroll

A marriage of great interest to a wide circle of friends was that of Mattie Cromer and Roy G. Carroll, which took place Wednesday evening at the Methodist parsonage, the Rev. J. M. Steadman officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Cromer of this county. She is a graduate of Due West Woman's college, having been graduated there with distinction in 1915.

She was principal of the rural graded school near her home for three years. The bridegroom was formerly of York but at present is located at Greenville, where he is at the head of the Carroll Brothers Construction company.
