I've heard many a strain that has thrilled mo

with joy.
But none, I wilsay, since the day I was born.
Has pleased me so much as when a small boy.
I heard, on the farm, the old dinner horn. The trumpet was tin, a yard or so long, And was blowed for "the boys" at noon and at morn.

The monotone strain was piercing and strong,
But sweet, for all that, was the old dinner
horn. then building the fence or tossing the hay,
Or reaping the grain or plowing the corn,
With appetite keen, at the noon of the day,
Oh, sweet to my soul was the old dinner horn!

A mother's fond lips pressed the trumpet of And blew her full soul through the barley on, I hear even yet the "Welcome, come in, Come in, my dear boys, to the sound of the

Those lips are now still, and the bosom is Which sent to us boys the blast of the horn; She is waiting in sleep, beneath the dark mold.

The archangel's trump and eternity's morn.

—Joel Swartz, D. D.

THE CABIN-BOY.

On my way across the Sound I fell in with two old sea-captains—John Streeter and Asa Morton—with whom I had some slight acquaintance. Streeter was about three-score, and had followed the sea during most of his life. Morton was considerably younger, but still a seaman of much experience. The subject of the abolition of flogging in our navy came up in course of conversation, and Captain Morton expressed himself very decidedly in favor of keeping up that time-honored institution, the cat-o'-nine-tails. "I am not prepared to say," remarked Captain Streeter in reply, "that the condition of our men-o'-wars-men will be in every case benefited by the abolition of flogging, though I am sure that it might be so. I mean that the officers have it within their power to do away with nearly all kinds of punishment-that is, of course, for such offenses as are usually punished on shipboard."

"For my part," returned Morton, "I should not care to take command of a ship if the power to punish refractory seamen as I thought proper were taken from me."

"Well," resumed Captain Streeter,
"I used to think just so. In fact, there were few masters more passionate or severe than I was. Men used to run away from me, and, on more than one occasion, my very life has been in danger from the vengeance of men whom I had abused. I used the cat and the rope's-end almost as freely as I used my tongue; and I often wondered how it happened that I always had the luck to get such bad men.
"When I was about forty years of age I took ommand of the ship Petersham. She was an old craft, and had seen full as much service as she was capable of seeing with safety; but her dis owners were willing to trust a valuable cargo in her, so I would not refuse to trust myself. We were bou erpool, and nothing unusual happened until about the eighth day out, when we ran foul of a small iceberg. It was early in the morning, before sunrise, and not above six or eight feet of the ice was out of the water, it having been nearly all melted away in the warmer water of the Gulf-stream. I did not think that we had sustained any injury, for the shock was very slight; but I was angry, and gave the look-out a severe punishment, without stopping to inquire whether he could have seen the berg in season to escape

My eabin-boy was named Jack Withers. He was fourteen years of age, and this was his first voyage. I had taken him from a widowed mother, and had promised her that I would see him well treated-that was, if he behaved himself. He was a bright, quick, intelligent lad, but I soon made disposition. I fancied that he was the most samborn piece of youthful humanity that I had ever come across. I made up my mind that he had never been properly governed, and I forth-with resolved to break him in. I told him I'd curb his temper for him before I had done with him. In reply he told me that I might kill him if I liked; and I flogged him with the end of the mizzen-topgallant halliards till he could hardly stand. I asked him if he had had enough, and he told me that I might flog more if I wished it. I felt a strong temptation to throw the boy overboard, but at that moment he staggered back against the mizzenmast from absolute weakness, and I left him to himself. When I reasoned ealmly about that boy's disposition I was forced to acknowledge that he was one of the small and most faithful lads I ha When I asked him at he would start off a rocket; but when I roughly or-red him to do it, then came the disosition with which I found fault. "One day, when it was very near noon, I spoke to him, and told aim to go below and bring up my quadrant. He was looking over the quarter-rail, and I knew that he did not hear me, and the next time I spoke I ripped out an oath, and intimated that if he didn't move I'd help him. " I didn't hear ye,' he said, with rather an independent tone.

" 'No words,' said I. " 'I s'pose I can speak,' he retorted,

his

moving slowly towards the companion-

"His look and his words, and the slow, careless manner in which he moved, fired me in a moment, and I grasped him by the collar. Speak to me again like that,' said I, and I'll flog you within an inch of your life!'

" You can flog away,' he replied, as firm and undaunted as a rock. "And I did flog him. I caught up the end of the first rope that came handy, and beat him till my arm fairly ached. But he never even winced.

" 'How's that?' said I. "There's a little more life in me yet that you'd better flog out,' was his "And I beat him again. I beat him till he sank from my hand against the rail; and then I sent one of the men after my quadrant. When it came, and I had adjusted it for my observation, I found that the sun was already

IANNING, CLARENDON COUNTY, S. C., WEDNESDAY OCTOBER 14, 1885.

"And there he had sat, with his feet Some of the Latest Sayings and Doings in Facts of Interest, Gathered from Various winter travel.

thus braced, for four-and-twenty long, dreary hours, with the water spurting in tiny streams all over him, drenching him to the skin. He had thought several times of going to the hatehway and calling for help; but he knew that the broken plank would be forced in if he left it, for he could feel it heave be- the murder of W. C. Moore, at Lanneath him. His strength was railing caster. him; his limbs were racked with pain; but he would not give us. I asked him if he should not have given up if I had not come as I did. He answered me that he could not have done it while he and that I was too | for help.

fuel to the fire of my

ickly seizing the lad

ed him to the main

d the hatch taken off.

him there until his broken. The hatch

and I went into the

a good deal that af-

ne, but with my own

ness. It made me

could not conquer

ald not break down

sition. But I will rent to the hatch-

self. I did not

ral Ad the

ie that

I called

he would make the same men

heard him talk

le seemed to be

him. He would

he would not

'll starve,' I

prosed he had

recustie bulasailors hear

asked to be d look after reatened to

lared to go d as he resolved

atchway

moro.

ilities

his

irtyforty

any compunctions

down, and swore self. By the heav-tarve him into it, or had life in him. He said he thought he operation! hot of himself—he was ready to die— but he would save the ready to die but he would save the rest if he could; and he had saved us -surely saved us -from a watery grave.

"That boy lay sick in the cabin for many days-sick almost unto death; but I nursed him with my own handsnursed him all through his delirium; and when his reason returned, and he could sit up and talk, I bowed myself before him, and humbly asked his pardon for all the wrong I had done him. ntil the next morn- He threw his arms about my neck, and hatchway after | told me if I would be good to nim he to him once would never give me cause for off-nee; lim, nor seen him and he added, as he sat up again, I am not a coward—I could not be a deg!"
"From that hour I never forgot those words; and from that hour I have never struck a blow on board my ship. I make my men feel that they are menthat I so regard them, and that I wish to make them as comfortable and happy as possible; and I have not failed to eak him into it. gain their respect and confidence. I give no undue license, but make my nined that he crew feel that they have a friend and a superior in the same person. For nine years I sailed in three different ships, and had the very same crew all the while. A man could not be hired to leave me save for an officer's berta.

"And Jack Withers remained with week. me thirteen years. He was my cabin boy; one of my foremast hamis; my second mate; and the last time he sailed with me he refused the command of a new barque because he would not be separated from me. But he is a captain now, and one of the best this country ever afforded. Such, gentlemen, is my experience in government and discipline on shipboard."

Some Superstitioss.

At Smithill's hall, near B.lton-le-Moors, there is still to be seen-an object of interest and curiosity to a large of visitor ... wint of a x It is said

THE NEWS OF THE STATE.

-The Citadel Academy is well under way, with excellent prospects. -Newberry College has opened under very favorable anspices. -B. F. Welsh has been acquitted of culation.

-The Green Pond, Walterboro and much comment.

Branchville railroad is in a fair way to -President G be built. -Z. M. Wolfe, of Orangeburg, has been acquitted of the homicide of -An amalgamation of the Huguonot and Camperdown mills at Greenville is proposed.

-Abbeville is to have a bank and Major A. B. Wardlaw has been elected President. -The New Brighton Hotel on Sullivan's Island is being put in trim for

-The executive committee of the Piedmont Fair Association is booming the coming enterprise. -David Miller and James Carson had each a hand and arm lacerated by cotton gins in Spartanburg. -Congressman Tillman will address the survivors of Colleton at Walterboro on the 17th of November.

-The State Convention of the Women's Christian Temperance Union will be held in Greenville on the 15th

-Three prisoners escaped from Newberry jail a few nights ago by taking the lock off the door of their -Henry Butler, colored, accidentally shot and killed another colored man in Bordeaux, Abbeville county, last -The South Carolina College has opened with about 175 students. The prospects of the institution are brighter

Laurens county last week, and painfully injured. -Owing to the increase of business, from priestly functions.

two trains a day now run on the Abbeville branch of the Columbia & Greenville Railroad. -Mr. G. W. Williams, of Lancas-cendiary fire last week. Loss about $500. No insurance. -The Rev. H. M. Allen, of Hall

GENERAL NEWS ITEMS.

Quarters. -Germany in an official note rejects

Spain's claim to the Caroline Islands. -Fraudulent thousand dollar bonds on the District of Columbia are in cir-

-The resignation of Civil-Service Commissioner Eaton continues to evoke

-President Cleveland will go to New York in November to vote the Democratic ticket.

-Yale College is reported to be losing its students. Expensive living is the cause assigned.

forcing the farmers to take an oath that they will not pay rents. -The amount of standard dollars put into circulation during September, in the fregular course of business, was

-The Virginia contest seems to be attracting but little attention, though it is said to be waxing hotter each suceceding day.

The cholera in Spain is still diminishing—the new cases being less than two hundred per day and the deaths only a little over one hundred per day. -C. L. N. Reade, agent of the Southern Express Company, who ab-in Mississippi between Col. II. Evers, of England, and Thomas Watson, of Chicago, has just been decided in favor of the former. of the former. -The Rev. A. W. Moore, of Lan-caster, was thrown from a buggy in Mary's Catholic Church, Kansas City,

Mo., has been convicted of improper and indecent conduct and suspended

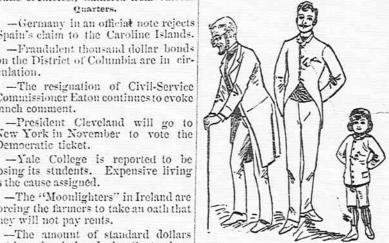

The Texas beardless mail robber has been arrested. He says he was out of money and had to rob some one, and thought that Uncle Sam could strength the terretain the promptly attended to.

Respectfully.

L. KINARD. ter, had his house destroyed by an in- stand it better than anyone else.

-Samuel A. Green, of Boston, has been authorized to act as General Agent of the Board of Managers of the And and county, was Peabody Fund, in place of J. L. M. Curry, appointed Minister to Spain.

SENSIBLE PEOPLE

ARE NOT EASILY DECEIVED, FOR they know quite well that good and bad clothing are alike made to sell; and who was ever known to advertise poor clothing?
They know how nearly all clothiers keep the finest and sell—on paper—at less than it cost to make them. Honest prices, well to enforce the point that I have ready for inspection the largest and best assorted stock of Fall and Winter Clothing for men, youths and boys, that can be found in the sconded from Morristown, Tenn., with $12,000, has been arrested in Mexico.

-The Supreme Court of Virginia has granted a writ of error in the Cluverius murder case. This brings up the case for hearing before that tribunal.

-The grand jury at Green River

State. They are peerless in variety and honestly good all the way through; even the underlinings are shrank and the trimmings used are meant to wear, not merely to help sell the goods, as every garment is warranted as represented. There are unassallable ramparts behind which I invite you to deal. I am not here for a season is the largest I have ever carried, and -The grand jury at Green River found "no bill" against the sixteen persons charged with complicity in the Chinese riots at Rock Springs, Wyowerk and the more than the merchant tailor work and it is made. I am willing to compare them with the merchant tailor work and it is made. ing.

A suit for 1,000,000 acres of land

Nice in the business of this EMPORIUM OF FASHION is steadily on the increase. My

To prove the truth of this I ask buyers to make their own comparisons, as I enjoy then a reputation above that and beyond that of all clothiers in this vicinity at least producing a superior class of regular Tailor-made Clothing and Gents' Furnish-ing Goods, Hats and Fine Shoes. This is

He begs to tender his thanks friends and patrons and asks a room for colored people.

ance of the same. Come one! Come all!! Remember that Polite serve you and every attention

NO. 44.

WARM

WELCOME

AWAITS YOU AT

"The Manning Palace.

MANNING, SOUTH CAROLIN

Regardless of the high license

sells the very FINEST BRANDS of

LIQUORS, WINES and BEL

REMEMBER

The best LIQUORS for Less Me

LIQUORS FOR MEDICINAL POSES A SPECIALTY.

Agent for the leading Cigars of

NO CHARGE FOR

State. The John McCullough an

Eagle Brand; also the largest and stock of other Cigars and Tobac

BILLIARDS AND PO

On first-class tables, with

HOT FANCY DRI

than anywhere elsc.

Wm. Shepherd &

128 MEE2

CHARL

SCHWARTZ,

Who keeps Liquors of all sorts.

MANNING, S. C.

SEE HIS SELECTED STOCK OF WHISKIES, WINES, ETC.

The best at low prices to suit the times.

otton.

-Major Joseph Carter, trial justice mated at $500,000; insured for $150,- I have on hand the greatest variety of

TOBACCO IN TOWN.

LAGER BEER.

Cigars of all Brands and in fact everything kept in a first-class Saloon.

Being acquainted with the people of this county for the last twenty-five years, I understand their wants and -Mrs. Cole, of Madison county, N. keep goods to suit them. MY Lars. C., is the oldest woman in the United TO CUSTOMERS.

PLAIN AND FANCY DRINKS.

FREE POOL on a Fine Pool

Remember the Place. 21

M. SCHWARTZ is the spot, where the best and cheapest liquors can be

NEWSPAPER A book of 100 pages.
The best book for an advertiser to conadvertiser to conadvertiser to concontrol to the state of th cheed of otherwise.

It contains lists of newspapers and estimates of the cost of advertising. The advertiser who wants to spend one dollar, finds in it the in-wants to spend one dollar, finds in it the information he requires, while for him who will invest one hundred thousand dollars in advertising, a scheme is indicated which will meet his every requirement, or can be made to do so by slight changes easily arrived at by correspondence. 149 editions have been issued. Sent, post-paid, to any address for 10 cents. Write to GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING BUREAU, (10 Spruce St. Printing House Sq.), New York.

Notice is given to the public that I have secured the agency for this Country and South Carolina.

The Ply DONE of Carolina is given to the public that I have secured the agency for this Country as sell John P. Boyd's work on the Life of Carolina pleasure.

STOVES,

STOVES, STOVES,

WHOLESALE

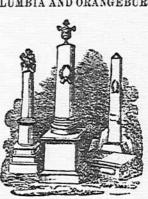

AND

Tinwares, House Furnishing Goods, Potware, Kitchen and Stove Utensils. Send for Price List and Circu-

TO THE

PEOPLE OF CLARENDON CO

C. MAYHEW & SON. COLUMBIA AND ORANGEBURG.

WORKS.

Manufacturers of and Dealers in all kinds of AMERICAN and ITALIAN MARBLE WORK.

orders promptly attended this modern legend another what different character may A good many years ago, at ck of the British Museum, there piece of waste ground called r low characters. There was a tration connected with it that two broths in the Monmouth rebellion took op-site sides and engaged each other in ght. Both were killed, and forty imressions of their feet were traceable the field for years afterward. The eld has long been built over, and the recise locality can not now be pointout But Southey went to see the prious sight, and has given a graphic escription of it in the second series of is "Commonplace Book." The im-ressions were about three inches deep the hard soil; no grass ever grew in e terrible hollows, and no cultivation the soil could obliterate them, for hen the ground was plowed they per-sted in reappearing. Southey men-ons that he saw no rrason to doubt he truth of the story, since it had been onfirmed by these tokens for more han a hundred years successively. It probably a fact with a circumstance the circumstance, to say the least, xtremely doubtful. Upon the legend, which was known far and wide, Jane

ama. - Blackwood's Maga-ying By Ear. topped at a little country was a hot day, and all the ere open. By the side of was a pasture, and here, with aid lazily upon the fence, was Soon the locomotive began ff steam, and this commotion ne donkey into giving an ex-of his prowess in the same di-Taking his nose down from e he winked his off eye, manipnoise that the passengers were mma," said a little girl, "what at horse make that noise for?" t's a donkey, my child, and he makes music." girl looke the donkey oly than be There was ook upon arace, and it that she could not quite She seemed to be lookeet music and wondering and it pinned to the oth-But suddenly her and she clapped her

I know! He plays by in the last ppointed to atness trang toward -The Presbyterian Synod of South moraines and gray general

as the crowns window new used as to presence of ladies. -J. E. Elliott, of Lancaster county, on Thursday last. An imm fired two loads of bird shot into the made up of all classes in life, were in head of a negro named George Carter attendance, and the servi who had attacked him with the heavy especially impressive. end of a wagon whip.

man who had affiliated with the Democrats, died in Aiken last week, and ruined several farmers, has been set-was buried by his white friends, the tled, after an outlay of $20,000, The negroes having ostracised him. -Governor Thompson has offered a

-Henry Ashley, an aged colored gaged in the lynching of Culbreath, and has instructed Attorney-General Miles to assist in the prosecution. -An Orangeburg farmer has experimented in raising tobacco, and comes to the conclusion that it is a more val-

at Carter's, Colleton county, in coming down stairs on the evening of October _____ 7, stepped on a small dog and fell, breaking his arm in which he was

-Mr. Robert Brodie, of Aiken, ures, more severe than ever, will have seized an immense hawk by the wings to be employed. nd Anna Maria Porter based one of ular romances, called "The Fort Footsteps;" and the new took the same subject as it was endeavoring to carry off one of his chickens, when the savage bird insalted its talons in his legs and held on until Mrs. Brodie decapitated it with a hatchet. rith a hatchet. A late of the Rocky

The main statue for the Calhoun Mountains. This settles a long dismonument at Charleston has been fin- puted question. ished and will be shipped from Naples in a few days. The statue is of bronze and represents the great statesman in the act of rising from his senatorial chair. It will surmount the monument. -The Adjutant and Inspector-Gen-aral of the United States has prepared uniform rules for infantry, artillery and cavalry practice, and General Manigault will promulgate the rules at is ears vigorously and produced an early date in this State, with the hope of securing uniformity of practice here. -Mr. C. L. Payseur, of Lancaster, bought as old gold an old-fashioned medallion with the following inscription on it: "This is the picture of Edward Fenwick, Esq., of South Car-olins, grand son of Robert Fenwick, Esq., of Stanton in the County of Northumberland. Edward Fenwick was born in South Carolina January 22d, 1721, and died July 8, 1775." -A gentleman just from Charleston says that Dr. Bellinger will be acquitted if tried for the killing of Riley. He says that sufficient evidence to justify his action will be brought out by Dr. Bellinger. It is rumored that he consulted some of his personal friends before the difficulty, and was advised by them to follow the course that he afterwards pursued.

Carolina will meet at Chester on Wednesday, October 21, at 7:30 p. m. The Synod embraces five presbyteries, 115 ministers and licentiates and 192 churches. Among the interesting matters before the meeting will be the observance on Saturday, October 24, of the centennial of organized Presby-terianism in South Carolina, with ddresses by Dr. Girardeau, and especially impressive. -The lawsuit in Iowa, known as the Jones County calf case, which has been in litigation over eleven years and four calves were worth $50. -W. D. Newsome was convicted at reward for the arrest of parties en- Salt Lake City last week of two charges, polygamy and unlawful co-habitation. This is the first double conviction under the Edmunds law. He will be sentenced on October 17. -The immense wholesale stationery and printing establishment of H. S. uable crop, and that it would require less cultivation and less fertilizer than burned last week. Four men were

-The Irish Catholic Bishops counsel peace, and condemn all acts of violence and intimidation. Sir Richard Cross, wounded during the war. He is doing Home Secretary, says that unless well.

-The United States Geographical and Topographical Survey decides by measurement that Clingman's Dome, a peak of the Balsam Mountains, N. C.,

States, having been born in 1760, two years before the accession of King George to the throne, and has a vivid recollection of events which occurred then. She is a widow.

An Independent Newspaper of Democratic Principles, but not Controlled by any Set of Politicians or Manipulators; Devoted to Collecting and Publishing all the News of the Day in the most Interesting Shape and with the greatest possible Promptness, Accuracy and Impartiality; and to the Promotion of Democratic Ideas and Policy in the affairs of Government, Society and Industry.

Rates, by Mail, Postpaid:

DAY, per Year - - - $6 00

DAILY, per Month - - - 50 SUNDAY, per Year - - - - 1 00 DAILY and SUNDAY per Year - 7 00 WEEKLY, per Year - - - 1 00 Address, THE SUN, New York City.

BOYCE NELSON