A Horrible Crime.

On Friday of last week the Jord borhood was excited beyond measile by the report that Mrs. Susan A. Johnson a lady highly esteemed in the community, had a lady N. Y. been, in the broad light of day, dung her husband's absence, attacked by a gro ruf-fian, robbed and mercilessly bee h. Nor was the excitement calculated to be essened when the report was corroborated by the lady's bleeding person and her pit at tale. These are the facts as far as we can gather them from those present: Mrs. Joi son was in her house with her sister-in-law and in-In her house with her sister-in-inwand infant, when she was confronted but burly negro, who demanded money, with threat to kill her unless it was product. Mrs. Johnson got seventy-five cents all the money in the house, and gave to but, telling him she had no more. This inraged the mother when he had no more. This inraged the mother when he had no more than the more more than the more than th the wretch, who no doubt expected much larger sum, and feeling securing his position, he assaulted Mrs Johnsor with a purpose too maddening to here relact Failing in his intentions and crazed by ter resistence, the brute attacked Mrs. Johnson with an are, but by a super-human effort she escaped from his grasp and fled after her sister, who had, in the meantime left with her sister, who had, in the meantime left with the infant for assistance. Mrs. Johnson, D. BENTSCHNER & CO. says, while the man was in the house she saw two other negroes outside, evidently watching, and that if she saw them, or her assailant, again, (none of whom she recognized) she would know them.

Suspicion rested on James Conners and Ladson Conners, two disreputable loiterers in the community. They were taken up and on being examined confessed that they were the parties who stood in the road, while John Butler, a notoriously bad negro, for whom there is now a bench warrant, did the devilish work. The citizens of Jordan with a respect for the law, worthy of the highest commendation, brought their prisoners to Manning and delivered them to the officials. They have since been identified by Mrs. Johnson. John Butler is still at large, but, we are satisfied, if diligence and activity can aveil anything, our Sheriff will soon have him, the companion of his fellows, behind the bars, where he will be in good keeping 'till the day of reckoning.

Announcement.

The undersigned has prepared n manuscipt, some Chronicles of St. Mark's Parish and Santee Circuit, including brief mention of the earliest settlement of the Province of Carolina, establishment of the Church of England; P. E. and M. E. Churches, with a list of ministers for this Parish and Circuit, from the first to the present time. The religious and educational privileges of the whites, and African slaves under the Proprietary and Royal governments, and Church of England. Establishment of P. E. and M. E. al knowledge. It is desired to publish in connection a limited number of advertisements, and persons willing to make use of this medium will please address

JAMES M. BURGESS, Greeleyville, S. C.

The following timely and pointed truth is copied from an exchange: "A man who pays nothing for his preaching cannot be greatly benefitted by the preaching he hears. Too many men are sponging their way through the church, but they can't sponge their way into Heaven.'

The following is said to have been the way actually used by a mother to remove from the mind of her son the idea of which he was strongly possessed. William X. was an awkward country boy, with immensely large feet and with less than the average amount of mental ability. He had in some way got it into his head that he was intended by Providence for a clergyman, and no amount of reasoning by his mother and friends could per-

Opening her Bible at chapter LII of Isaiah she read to her son the verse commencing: 'How beautiful upon land & Co. colored. May the reflection of the mountains are the feet of him the Light radiate in the heartsof our colored that bringeth good tidings, that pubbrethren to their delight and elightenment. lisheth peace. Then, turning to her the Son front of the Court House in Manning to the highest bidder for cash, son, she said: 'Now, William, you Manning to the highest bidder for cash, the following described property to with the followin know that your feet are not beautiful; they are too large to be beautiful. This argument was convincing, and William has never since mentioned Messrs C. Bart & Co., fruites, and also the idea of studying for the ministry. -Boston Journal.

ROBERT SMEDLEY'S

Testimony as to Cancer Cure. For many years I was a sufferer with cancer of the nose, and having been cured by the use of S. S. S., I suffering bumanity to make this statement of my case. I first discovered the sore on my cer, during the year 1863, while in the army of Tennessee, stationed at Bull Gap. At first it gave me but little trouble, still I could not get rid object, as will be seen by his addressement, of it, and though I tried hundreds of remedies it gradually grew worse, and during the last two years troubled me greatly. Something over a year ago I was advised to take S. S., and was finally induced to try a dozen bottles. When the dozen bottles were taken up, though my general health was much benefitted, the cancer remained much benefitted, the cancer remained in legal bours, on Monday. January 4th on my nose.
