Our coulums are filled this week with Capt.

Tillman's speech before the Agricultural Society, which is published by request.

It is rumored that Man in the capt.

It is rumored that Mr. Robert Machem once well known in Manning as a good printer, was found on last Thursday or Fri-day frozen to death.

Found by Mr. Chas. Reynolds a nickeled key, which closes like a knife, near Mr. N. A. Ridgiil's, on the public road leading from Packsville to Manning. The owner will have his property restored on paying the cost of this notice

On December 28th, Mr. J. J. Barfield, the keeper of the Poor House, left home telling his wife that he was going to visit a neighbor near by, and would return soon. This is the last heard of Mr. Barfield, except a vague rumor that on the evening of leaving STARKE'S DIXIE PLOUGHS, home he was seen at the Manning depot. Having always borne a reputable name in the community, his friends are unable to account for his strange conduct, and still hope that he may yet turn up from a trip of his own business.

A NARROW ESCAPE FOR AIKEN.

(Special Dispatch to The News and Courier.) AIKEN, January 10 .- A scrious fire took place here to-day on Main street. It occurred about 11.30 o'clock, when all the different congregations were at their respective churches. The bell at the town hall gave the first alarm, and very soon throngs of citizens crowded the streets. The fire took place in the store of W. J. Mosely, Sr., and soon spread pidly. It appears that during yeste. Ly's severe gale a portion of the chimney a tached to Mosely's store was blown down. He did not know of this accident and last night built a fire as usual. In the night the fire must have caugut and smouldered until to-day and broke out at 11.30 A M.

The Aiken Steam Engine was out soon after the alarm of fire, but in consequence of the extreme severity of the weather was all frozen up and could not get to work until the fire had been under way over three-quarters of an hour. Our fire company and the citizens worked bravely, and it is due to their exertions that at least one-half of the business portion of the town was not burnt up. Help was asked from Augusta, and soon a special train brought over an engine and hose carriage with a full complement of men. This aid arrived too late to be of much avail, but was duly appreof a general conflagration, which we feared, would have enabled us to save
