Not Required to Kiss Bible.
The president of the United States is not required to kiss the Bible on taking the oath of office. The custom grew out of the fact that an early law of Maryland made that ceremony part of a legal oath, and the custom was continued in the District of Columbia, but it is not essential, nor is any particular form of oath. Jews are sworn on the Pentateuch, keep on their hats and conclude their oath with "so help me Jehovah," and if a Jew were elected president he would be permitted to take the oath of office in that form.

Child Liable to Be Spoiled.
At Zarananto, there has just occurred a case which is probably unique of its kind. A child has been born while its father, grandfather, great-grandfather and great-great-grandfather are all living. The child's name is Urriticoechea, and the family are Basque farm laborers. The great-grandfather and great-great-grandfather have acted as godfather to the child. The united family constitute nearly a whole village.
