

The Manning Times.

Publishes All County and Town Official Advertisements.

WANNING, S. C., APRIL 21, 1915.

Dr. Hess's STOCK IONIC FOR Horses, Cattle and Hogs.

Panacea makes hens lay and poultry healthy.

Instant Louse Killer kills lice, fleas and ticks.

Give it a fair trial according to directions and if not satisfactory your money refunded.

LEON WEINBERG

"Everything Good to Eat."

Rev. L. B. McCord went to Columbia yesterday.

Col. D. W. Brailsford of Panama, spent Monday in town.

Rev. S. A. Nettles of Spartanburg, was in Manning Monday.

The crowd here Field Day was estimated at 3000 or more.

The Manning basketball team licked Summerton last Friday 20 to 5.

We call special attention to the big Styleplus ad of D. Hirschmann in this issue.

Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Harvin of Privater, were visitors to our town last week.

Manning and Pinewood crossed bases here last Friday, the former winning 9 to 8.

Miss Alice and Estelle Connor of Greenville, visited Miss Augusta Appelt last week.

Mr. J. H. Timmons left Monday night for Charleston, where he has a very sick son.

Mrs. Morris Ness, who has been quite ill at her home in Manning, is much improved.

Mr. A. G. Harriot went to Columbia yesterday to see his mother, who is very ill in that city.

All those interested in the library, will meet in the court house Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Ervin visited their daughters at Wintrop this week, returning home last night.

Mr. Joseph M. Chandler of Sumter, spent last Friday in Manning, taking orders for his well known firm.

A large crowd attended the unveiling exercises of the late Robert Ridgill Sunday afternoon at Fellowship church.

Sheriff Gamble returned home from the Columbia hospital Saturday, it is thought now, that he will soon be himself again.

Mr. S. W. Thompson has accepted a position in Lessees meat market, succeeding Mr. G. M. Smith, who is now in the firm of the Manning Dry Goods Co.

Died at the home of his daughter Mrs. C. B. Yeadon in Sumter last Friday, Mr. William C. Bull, a traveling salesman, who was well known in Manning.

The postoffice at Scranton was entered last Wednesday night by burglars and the safe blown, the robbers got away with $700.00 in stamps and $25.00 in cash.

Master Charles Wilson, son of Dr. Sumter, was taken to a hospital in Sumter this morning for an operation involving the lungs, for a condition arising from pneumonia.

A dramatic play in five acts will be given in the Jordan Academy, Friday night April 23rd. Admission, adults 25 cents, children 15 cents. Everybody cordially invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. McFaddin, and Mrs. Louis Appelt are in Columbia at the bedside of Senator Appelt, who was operated on there Monday, and is in a very critical condition.

Dr. J. P. Golden, colored, was convicted in the town court last week, on the charge of selling malt, and sentenced to $50.00 or thirty days. The case was appealed to the circuit court.

Read the page advertisement of The Wreck Store in this issue. Their April Shower Sale starts next Friday and it will pay you to look over the wonderfully low prices they are offering.

The commissioners of waterworks and sewerage let the contract for the building of the water and sewer system yesterday to Walton and Wagner of Atlanta, out of some fifteen or twenty bids, this firm was the lowest bidder, their figures being $32,690.24 for both.

John Louis, a Frenchman, who has been coming to Manning for the past eight or ten years, working over sewing machines, died here last Saturday, aged 74 years. He was a stranger in a strange land, having no relatives anywhere. He was cared for by some of our citizens, and given a decent burial in the Manning cemetery Sunday morning.

The home of Mrs. Hinson, near Alcolu known as Beach Hill, was destroyed by fire Sunday a. m. between nine and ten o'clock. Everything that was done to save the old home, when found it could not be saved the kind friends then saved what they could out of the two front rooms down stairs. There was some insurance on the dwelling, not any on the furniture.

We feel under many obligations to the conductor and engineer of the A. C. L. railroad for telling the people at Alcolu, also to our Alcolu friends for their assistance at the fire. The loss is great, all of the occupants had some things saved except Miss Beulah M. Edge, she being away spending the week-end with the family of Judge Wilcox of Manning.

Mr. and Mrs. Hinson.

Honor Roll—Manning School.

From the hundreds of inquires we received yesterday about Senator Appelt's condition, the people in general are very much concerned, and we expect our heartfelt appreciation to those who were so kind to offer their aid in any available way. The latest report we got was that he was resting well, and while on yesterday morning the physicians had no hope whatever, they now say he has a very fair chance of recovery. On the wonderful constitution he withstood the operation exceptionally well. The Columbia Record of yesterday says: His surgeon said the condition of Senator Appelt was very satisfactory and that he would recover should the severe shock of the operation not prove too great for him to withstand. The senator made his will before going to the operating table, which was witnessed by two men from the hospital. Mrs. Appelt and all the members of the senator's immediate family are in Columbia and were visitors during the day at his bedside. When it became known today in official circles, it was a great relief to the community, as the State officials and personal relations. The senator is one of the leaders of the upper branch of the legislature, where he has had an experienced record of years. He added in framing a number of important laws of statewide effect now on the statute books and assumed an aggressive part in all deliberations on the floor of the senate. Later, at 10 o'clock Senator Appelt reported dying.

Col. Brailsford Raps Pension Board.

Mr. Editor:—I have no desire to engage in a newspaper controversy, but I don't propose to allow the pension commissioners of Clarendon to reject my application for a pension, without ventilating the matter considerably. My pecuniary condition entitled me for several years past to a pension, but I never applied. When the recent legislation increased the pension to three hundred dollars, A. J. Riechbour, one of the board, wrote me saying I should apply now, and sent me the form of application filled out and I had only to sign and have it witnessed and to return it with a blank form for Mr. Henry Inman to make out, being a wounded veteran of the western army. They were both carried to him by Mr. Inman to be laid before the board the day after. He did so and Mr. Inman's was readily granted and mine rejected. Mr. Riechbour says he met bitter opposition from D. J. Bradham and one Geiger who straggled over here from Orangeburg. They referred to the auditors books, no land, but only four mules, upon which I pay taxes. The truth is, two of them belonged to the generous and considerate firm of David Levi Company of St. Paul, to whom I surrendered five and the junior partner, M. A. Nelson, secured the pension and returned to me to be paid for when able. I am still not able but the mules are here. The other pair belong to my brother bachelor W. M. Graham, without a dollar paid on them and the two are here to stay. That disposes of the mules. I bought an old ramshackled buggy four years ago for ten dollars and have not paid a dollar on it. I have been making strenuous efforts to buy a cow for five years, but it is clear to me now I will have to be content with a nanny goat. The home I occupy was the property of the late Hon. George R. Jones, my kind friend and brave comrade. Upon the division of his estate, it is now owned by his worthy son, L. M. Jones of Alcolu, who will sorrowfully testify I owe him two years rent. Now this is my financial condition today. Now lets look over the condition of those veterans the board has clasped their breast and put in class A., and given a modest little bonus of $95.00—S. J. Bowman is head of the class. He has been receiving for a quarter of a century five salaries as postmaster and court house official. He was a diligent and efficient officer, his predominant trait was economy and sobriety. It is natural therefore to presume that in this long term of years he salted down a fine bank deposit. In addition to this he owns houses and lots in Manning. Yet our county board of commissioners in forwarding his name to the State board at Columbia swore that his income would not amount to seventy five dollars, the limit.

The next of the deservute old soldiers in class A. is one Turbeville. He is one of the family of Turbevilles who own the town of Turbeville and the Bank of Turbeville. As a part owner of a town and a bank, it is clear to infer that his income would exceed by several thousand the sum that a veteran is allowed? But the board of pensioners again swears it does not.

There are three more favored ones of this class, but we will pass them with the fair presumption that their incomes will equal the two we have discussed, for a wise and considerate board would not mix class A. and class C.—No. 4 they could not be congenial.

Now I will show some of the discrimination of the board for and against applicants. T. R. Brailsford was told Sumter was working for an operation involving the lungs, for a condition arising from pneumonia.

A dramatic play in five acts will be given in the Jordan Academy, Friday night April 23rd. Admission, adults 25 cents, children 15 cents. Everybody cordially invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. McFaddin, and Mrs. Louis Appelt are in Columbia at the bedside of Senator Appelt, who was operated on there Monday, and is in a very critical condition.

Dr. J. P. Golden, colored, was convicted in the town court last week, on the charge of selling malt, and sentenced to $50.00 or thirty days. The case was appealed to the circuit court.

Read the page advertisement of The Wreck Store in this issue. Their April Shower Sale starts next Friday and it will pay you to look over the wonderfully low prices they are offering.

The commissioners of waterworks and sewerage let the contract for the building of the water and sewer system yesterday to Walton and Wagner of Atlanta, out of some fifteen or twenty bids, this firm was the lowest bidder, their figures being $32,690.24 for both.

John Louis, a Frenchman, who has been coming to Manning for the past eight or ten years, working over sewing machines, died here last Saturday, aged 74 years. He was a stranger in a strange land, having no relatives anywhere. He was cared for by some of our citizens, and given a decent burial in the Manning cemetery Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Hinson.

Summerton.

It was our pleasure to have with us last Monday evening, the 12th, Hon. John L. McLaughlin, state warehouse commissioner, and Hon. E. J. Watson, commissioner of Agriculture, who addressed a large crowd at the graded school auditorium. Senator McLaughlin was the first speaker, and was introduced by his old friend, the Hon. A. J. Riechbour, who presented him to the people as one of South Carolina's grandest sons.

Mr. McLaughlin began his address by saying that he was indeed glad to have the pleasure of addressing the good people of this section of Clarendon county, that about twenty years ago, when this county was a part of the sixth congressional district, that he made a speech at Silver and passed through this place and at that time there was only about three or four buildings here, and that he was glad to see that so much progress had been made, and that this place now had fine church buildings and an elegant school building, and that had the people of this section not been robbed of what was justly theirs in the sales of cotton these past twenty years that God alone knows what Summerton would have been by this time.

This audience was representative of all factions of politics that greeted Mr. McLaughlin and listened with intense interest for more than one hour, to the explanation of the state warehouse system, and the reasons for its existence and the necessity for its continuance.

At the close of the address Mr. McLaughlin asked for criticisms of the plan, and offered to answer any question that any one wished to ask. No question was asked and the only response made was by our local insurance man, Mr. Ellison Capers, who spoke for the community in thanking Mr. McLaughlin for coming among us and promised co-operation in getting the insurance rates down to the lowest rate obtainable. Mr. Capers assured Mr. McLaughlin that this community was a unit in support of him and his warehouse plan. Your correspondent made special note of this statement and decided not to report this meeting until he had the opportunity to find out if Mr. Capers' statement was correct.

And I have questioned men in every walk of life, since the meeting and have not found any criticism or objection to the lowest rate obtainable. Mr. Capers assured Mr. McLaughlin that this community was a unit in support of him and his warehouse plan. Your correspondent made special note of this statement and decided not to report this meeting until he had the opportunity to find out if Mr. Capers' statement was correct.

Mr. Watson was next introduced by Mr. Riechbour, and presented to the people as a man who was endeavoring to teach the people how to live at home.

Mr. Watson began his address by saying that he thanked God that the European war was going on, and that he thanked God that the shoe had pinched the people, and pinched them hard, and that he hoped that it would take some of the farmers in this community two or three years yet to pay their fertilizer bills. For such a man like this was the only thing that would ever learn our people to raise what they needed at home, and stop having their dairy garden and other things for their bill of fare up at the grocery store on the shelf in a tin can.

Mr. Watson told a number of good jokes and kept the crowd in a good humor throughout his whole address, and we do not doubt but what the good work Mr. Watson is doing, will prove

Blissful to the people of this State.

Miss Olive Williams of Sumter, is spending some time with Mrs. E. E. Riechbour.

Messrs. J. C. and N. H. Williams, of this place motored to Columbia and back Sunday.

Miss Viola Benbow of Sumter, spent last week with friends and relatives in this place.

Mr. W. A. Anderson and daughter, of Darlington, spent several days here last week with the former brother, J. W. Anderson.

Mr. Grier Skinner of Charleston, was a visitor in this neighborhood Sunday and Monday.

Mrs. Jeff Davis, who was quite ill Saturday and Sunday, is much improved at this writing.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Jeffords of Lamar spent last week here with their daughter, Mrs. C. C. Derrick.

Mr. F. W. Truluck, one of our hustling live stock dealers has set a very worthy example for the rest of our people to follow, having white-washed all the trees on his resident lot, this does not only beautify a place but keeps insects from breeding so plentiful.

Mrs. W. C. Williams returned home Saturday night after spending several weeks with relatives and friends in Camden.

Messrs. Austin James and Fred

Summerton.

It was our pleasure to have with us last Monday evening, the 12th, Hon. John L. McLaughlin, state warehouse commissioner, and Hon. E. J. Watson, commissioner of Agriculture, who addressed a large crowd at the graded school auditorium. Senator McLaughlin was the first speaker, and was introduced by his old friend, the Hon. A. J. Riechbour, who presented him to the people as one of South Carolina's grandest sons.

Honor Roll—Manning School.

From the hundreds of inquires we received yesterday about Senator Appelt's condition, the people in general are very much concerned, and we expect our heartfelt appreciation to those who were so kind to offer their aid in any available way. The latest report we got was that he was resting well, and while on yesterday morning the physicians had no hope whatever, they now say he has a very fair chance of recovery. On the wonderful constitution he withstood the operation exceptionally well. The Columbia Record of yesterday says: His surgeon said the condition of Senator Appelt was very satisfactory and that he would recover should the severe shock of the operation not prove too great for him to withstand. The senator made his will before going to the operating table, which was witnessed by two men from the hospital. Mrs. Appelt and all the members of the senator's immediate family are in Columbia and were visitors during the day at his bedside. When it became known today in official circles, it was a great relief to the community, as the State officials and personal relations. The senator is one of the leaders of the upper branch of the legislature, where he has had an experienced record of years. He added in framing a number of important laws of statewide effect now on the statute books and assumed an aggressive part in all deliberations on the floor of the senate. Later, at 10 o'clock Senator Appelt reported dying.

Col. Brailsford Raps Pension Board.

Mr. Editor:—I have no desire to engage in a newspaper controversy, but I don't propose to allow the pension commissioners of Clarendon to reject my application for a pension, without ventilating the matter considerably. My pecuniary condition entitled me for several years past to a pension, but I never applied. When the recent legislation increased the pension to three hundred dollars, A. J. Riechbour, one of the board, wrote me saying I should apply now, and sent me the form of application filled out and I had only to sign and have it witnessed and to return it with a blank form for Mr. Henry Inman to make out, being a wounded veteran of the western army. They were both carried to him by Mr. Inman to be laid before the board the day after. He did so and Mr. Inman's was readily granted and mine rejected. Mr. Riechbour says he met bitter opposition from D. J. Bradham and one Geiger who straggled over here from Orangeburg. They referred to the auditors books, no land, but only four mules, upon which I pay taxes. The truth is, two of them belonged to the generous and considerate firm of David Levi Company of St. Paul, to whom I surrendered five and the junior partner, M. A. Nelson, secured the pension and returned to me to be paid for when able. I am still not able but the mules are here. The other pair belong to my brother bachelor W. M. Graham, without a dollar paid on them and the two are here to stay. That disposes of the mules. I bought an old ramshackled buggy four years ago for ten dollars and have not paid a dollar on it. I have been making strenuous efforts to buy a cow for five years, but it is clear to me now I will have to be content with a nanny goat. The home I occupy was the property of the late Hon. George R. Jones, my kind friend and brave comrade. Upon the division of his estate, it is now owned by his worthy son, L. M. Jones of Alcolu, who will sorrowfully testify I owe him two years rent. Now this is my financial condition today. Now lets look over the condition of those veterans the board has clasped their breast and put in class A., and given a modest little bonus of $95.00—S. J. Bowman is head of the class. He has been receiving for a quarter of a century five salaries as postmaster and court house official. He was a diligent and efficient officer, his predominant trait was economy and sobriety. It is natural therefore to presume that in this long term of years he salted down a fine bank deposit. In addition to this he owns houses and lots in Manning. Yet our county board of commissioners in forwarding his name to the State board at Columbia swore that his income would not amount to seventy five dollars, the limit.

The next of the deservute old soldiers in class A. is one Turbeville. He is one of the family of Turbevilles who own the town of Turbeville and the Bank of Turbeville. As a part owner of a town and a bank, it is clear to infer that his income would exceed by several thousand the sum that a veteran is allowed? But the board of pensioners again swears it does not.

There are three more favored ones of this class, but we will pass them with the fair presumption that their incomes will equal the two we have discussed, for a wise and considerate board would not mix class A. and class C.—No. 4 they could not be congenial.

Now I will show some of the discrimination of the board for and against applicants. T. R. Brailsford was told Sumter was working for an operation involving the lungs, for a condition arising from pneumonia.

A dramatic play in five acts will be given in the Jordan Academy, Friday night April 23rd. Admission, adults 25 cents, children 15 cents. Everybody cordially invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. McFaddin, and Mrs. Louis Appelt are in Columbia at the bedside of Senator Appelt, who was operated on there Monday, and is in a very critical condition.

Dr. J. P. Golden, colored, was convicted in the town court last week, on the charge of selling malt, and sentenced to $50.00 or thirty days. The case was appealed to the circuit court.

Read the page advertisement of The Wreck Store in this issue. Their April Shower Sale starts next Friday and it will pay you to look over the wonderfully low prices they are offering.

The commissioners of waterworks and sewerage let the contract for the building of the water and sewer system yesterday to Walton and Wagner of Atlanta, out of some fifteen or twenty bids, this firm was the lowest bidder, their figures being $32,690.24 for both.

John Louis, a Frenchman, who has been coming to Manning for the past eight or ten years, working over sewing machines, died here last Saturday, aged 74 years. He was a stranger in a strange land, having no relatives anywhere. He was cared for by some of our citizens, and given a decent burial in the Manning cemetery Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Hinson.

Summerton.

It was our pleasure to have with us last Monday evening, the 12th, Hon. John L. McLaughlin, state warehouse commissioner, and Hon. E. J. Watson, commissioner of Agriculture, who addressed a large crowd at the graded school auditorium. Senator McLaughlin was the first speaker, and was introduced by his old friend, the Hon. A. J. Riechbour, who presented him to the people as one of South Carolina's grandest sons.

Mr. McLaughlin began his address by saying that he was indeed glad to have the pleasure of addressing the good people of this section of Clarendon county, that about twenty years ago, when this county was a part of the sixth congressional district, that he made a speech at Silver and passed through this place and at that time there was only about three or four buildings here, and that he was glad to see that so much progress had been made, and that this place now had fine church buildings and an elegant school building, and that had the people of this section not been robbed of what was justly theirs in the sales of cotton these past twenty years that God alone knows what Summerton would have been by this time.

This audience was representative of all factions of politics that greeted Mr. McLaughlin and listened with intense interest for more than one hour, to the explanation of the state warehouse system, and the reasons for its existence and the necessity for its continuance.

At the close of the address Mr. McLaughlin asked for criticisms of the plan, and offered to answer any question that any one wished to ask. No question was asked and the only response made was by our local insurance man, Mr. Ellison Capers, who spoke for the community in thanking Mr. McLaughlin for coming among us and promised co-operation in getting the insurance rates down to the lowest rate obtainable. Mr. Capers assured Mr. McLaughlin that this community was a unit in support of him and his warehouse plan. Your correspondent made special note of this statement and decided not to report this meeting until he had the opportunity to find out if Mr. Capers' statement was correct.

And I have questioned men in every walk of life, since the meeting and have not found any criticism or objection to the lowest rate obtainable. Mr. Capers assured Mr. McLaughlin that this community was a unit in support of him and his warehouse plan. Your correspondent made special note of this statement and decided not to report this meeting until he had the opportunity to find out if Mr. Capers' statement was correct.

Mr. Watson was next introduced by Mr. Riechbour, and presented to the people as a man who was endeavoring to teach the people how to live at home.

Mr. Watson began his address by saying that he thanked God that the European war was going on, and that he thanked God that the shoe had pinched the people, and pinched them hard, and that he hoped that it would take some of the farmers in this community two or three years yet to pay their fertilizer bills. For such a man like this was the only thing that would ever learn our people to raise what they needed at home, and stop having their dairy garden and other things for their bill of fare up at the grocery store on the shelf in a tin can.

Mr. Watson told a number of good jokes and kept the crowd in a good humor throughout his whole address, and we do not doubt but what the good work Mr. Watson is doing, will prove

Blissful to the people of this State.

Miss Olive Williams of Sumter, is spending some time with Mrs. E. E. Riechbour.

Messrs. J. C. and N. H. Williams, of this place motored to Columbia and back Sunday.

Miss Viola Benbow of Sumter, spent last week with friends and relatives in this place.

Mr. W. A. Anderson and daughter, of Darlington, spent several days here last week with the former brother, J. W. Anderson.

Mr. Grier Skinner of Charleston, was a visitor in this neighborhood Sunday and Monday.

Summerton.

It was our pleasure to have with us last Monday evening, the 12th, Hon. John L. McLaughlin, state warehouse commissioner, and Hon. E. J. Watson, commissioner of Agriculture, who addressed a large crowd at the graded school auditorium. Senator McLaughlin was the first speaker, and was introduced by his old friend, the Hon. A. J. Riechbour, who presented him to the people as one of South Carolina's grandest sons.

Honor Roll—Manning School.

From the hundreds of inquires we received yesterday about Senator Appelt's condition, the people in general are very much concerned, and we expect our heartfelt appreciation to those who were so kind to offer their aid in any available way. The latest report we got was that he was resting well, and while on yesterday morning the physicians had no hope whatever, they now say he has a very fair chance of recovery. On the wonderful constitution he withstood the operation exceptionally well. The Columbia Record of yesterday says: His surgeon said the condition of Senator Appelt was very satisfactory and that he would recover should the severe shock of the operation not prove too great for him to withstand. The senator made his will before going to the operating table, which was witnessed by two men from the hospital. Mrs. Appelt and all the members of the senator's immediate family are in Columbia and were visitors during the day at his bedside. When it became known today in official circles, it was a great relief to the community, as the State officials and personal relations. The senator is one of the leaders of the upper branch of the legislature, where he has had an experienced record of years. He added in framing a number of important laws of statewide effect now on the statute books and assumed an aggressive part in all deliberations on the floor of the senate. Later, at 10 o'clock Senator Appelt reported dying.

Col. Brailsford Raps Pension Board.

Mr. Editor:—I have no desire to engage in a newspaper controversy, but I don't propose to allow the pension commissioners of Clarendon to reject my application for a pension, without ventilating the matter considerably. My pecuniary condition entitled me for several years past to a pension, but I never applied. When the recent legislation increased the pension to three hundred dollars, A. J. Riechbour, one of the board, wrote me saying I should apply now, and sent me the form of application filled out and I had only to sign and have it witnessed and to return it with a blank form for Mr. Henry Inman to make out, being a wounded veteran of the western army. They were both carried to him by Mr. Inman to be laid before the board the day after. He did so and Mr. Inman's was readily granted and mine rejected. Mr. Riechbour says he met bitter opposition from D. J. Bradham and one Geiger who straggled over here from Orangeburg. They referred to the auditors books, no land, but only four mules, upon which I pay taxes. The truth is, two of them belonged to the generous and considerate firm of David Levi Company of St. Paul, to whom I surrendered five and the junior partner, M. A. Nelson, secured the pension and returned to me to be paid for when able. I am still not able but the mules are here. The other pair belong to my brother bachelor W. M. Graham, without a dollar paid on them and the two are here to stay. That disposes of the mules. I bought an old ramshackled buggy four years ago for ten dollars and have not paid a dollar on it. I have been making strenuous efforts to buy a cow for five years, but it is clear to me now I will have to be content with a nanny goat. The home I occupy was the property of the late Hon. George R. Jones, my kind friend and brave comrade. Upon the division of his estate, it is now owned by his worthy son, L. M. Jones of Alcolu, who will sorrowfully testify I owe him two years rent. Now this is my financial condition today. Now lets look over the condition of those veterans the board has clasped their breast and put in class A., and given a modest little bonus of $95.00—S. J. Bowman is head of the class. He has been receiving for a quarter of a century five salaries as postmaster and court house official. He was a diligent and efficient officer, his predominant trait was economy and sobriety. It is natural therefore to presume that in this long term of years he salted down a fine bank deposit. In addition to this he owns houses and lots in Manning. Yet our county board of commissioners in forwarding his name to the State board at Columbia swore that his income would not amount to seventy five dollars, the limit.

The next of the deservute old soldiers in class A. is one Turbeville. He is one of the family of Turbevilles who own the town of Turbeville and the Bank of Turbeville. As a part owner of a town and a bank, it is clear to infer that his income would exceed by several thousand the sum that a veteran is allowed? But the board of pensioners again swears it does not.

There are three more favored ones of this class, but we will pass them with the fair presumption that their incomes will equal the two we have discussed, for a wise and considerate board would not mix class A. and class C.—No. 4 they could not be congenial.

Now I will show some of the discrimination of the board for and against applicants. T. R. Brailsford was told Sumter was working for an operation involving the lungs, for a condition arising from pneumonia.

A dramatic play in five acts will be given in the Jordan Academy, Friday night April 23rd. Admission, adults 25 cents, children 15 cents. Everybody cordially invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. McFaddin, and Mrs. Louis Appelt are in Columbia at the bedside of Senator Appelt, who was operated on there Monday, and is in a very critical condition.

Dr. J. P. Golden, colored, was convicted in the town court last week, on the charge of selling malt, and sentenced to $50.00 or thirty days. The case was appealed to the circuit court.

Read the page advertisement of The Wreck Store in this issue. Their April Shower Sale starts next Friday and it will pay you to look over the wonderfully low prices they are offering.

The commissioners of waterworks and sewerage let the contract for the building of the water and sewer system yesterday to Walton and Wagner of Atlanta, out of some fifteen or twenty bids, this firm was the lowest bidder, their figures being $32,690.24 for both.

John Louis, a Frenchman, who has been coming to Manning for the past eight or ten years, working over sewing machines, died here last Saturday, aged 74 years. He was a stranger in a strange land, having no relatives anywhere. He was cared for by some of our citizens, and given a decent burial in the Manning cemetery Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Hinson.

Summerton.

It was our pleasure to have with us last Monday evening, the 12th, Hon. John L. McLaughlin, state warehouse commissioner, and Hon. E. J. Watson, commissioner of Agriculture, who addressed a large crowd at the graded school auditorium. Senator McLaughlin was the first speaker, and was introduced by his old friend, the Hon. A. J. Riechbour, who presented him to the people as one of South Carolina's grandest sons.

Mr. McLaughlin began his address by saying that he was indeed glad to have the pleasure of addressing the good people of this section of Clarendon county, that about twenty years ago, when this county was a part of the sixth congressional district, that he made a speech at Silver and passed through this place and at that time there was only about three or four buildings here, and that he was glad to see that so much progress had been made, and that this place now had fine church buildings and an elegant school building, and that had the people of this section not been robbed of what was justly theirs in the sales of cotton these past twenty years that God alone knows what Summerton would have been by this time.

This audience was representative of all factions of politics that greeted Mr. McLaughlin and listened with intense interest for more than one hour, to the explanation of the state warehouse system, and the reasons for its existence and the necessity for its continuance.

At the close of the address Mr. McLaughlin asked for criticisms of the plan, and offered to answer any question that any one wished to ask. No question was asked and the only response made was by our local insurance man, Mr. Ellison Capers, who spoke for the community in thanking Mr. McLaughlin for coming among us and promised co-operation in getting the insurance rates down to the lowest rate obtainable. Mr. Capers assured Mr. McLaughlin that this community was a unit in support of him and his warehouse plan. Your correspondent made special note of this statement and decided not to report this meeting until he had the opportunity to find out if Mr. Capers' statement was correct.

And I have questioned men in every walk of life, since the meeting and have not found any criticism or objection to the lowest rate obtainable. Mr. Capers assured Mr. McLaughlin that this community was a unit in support of him and his warehouse plan. Your correspondent made special note of this statement and decided not to report this meeting until he had the opportunity to find out if Mr. Capers' statement was correct.

Mr. Watson was next introduced by Mr. Riechbour, and presented to the people as a man who was endeavoring to teach the people how to live at home.

Mr. Watson began his address by saying that he thanked God that the European war was going on, and that he thanked God that the shoe had pinched the people, and pinched them hard, and that he hoped that it would take some of the farmers in this community two or three years yet to pay their fertilizer bills. For such a man like this was the only thing that would ever learn our people to raise what they needed at home, and stop having their dairy garden and other things for their bill of fare up at the grocery store on the shelf in a tin can.

Mr. Watson told a number of good jokes and kept the crowd in a good humor throughout his whole address, and we do not doubt but what the good work Mr. Watson is doing, will prove