

RESOLUTIONS CALL FOR PERMANENT HIGHWAYS

Columbia, Nov. 10.—Directors of the South Carolina Automotive association meeting in Columbia Thursday passed resolutions strongly urging the passage of the next session of the general assembly of a measure providing the construction of permanent highways in the state. The resolutions declared that if South Carolina is to keep pace with her sister states that funds must be provided by the legislature at its next session for highway work.

It was the unanimous opinion of the directors of the association that the general assembly should not stop with the passage of the proposed bill providing for the maintenance of highways, but that it should go one step further and provide the highways, as one of the directors put it. The directors pledged support of the association to any movement looking to the construction of permanent highways in the state.

The meeting Thursday was the first one held by the board of directors of the South Carolina Automotive association, the association having been formed at a meeting held here Thursday October 31. A Mason Gibbes, of Columbia, president of the association presided and there were present at the meeting: Charles E. Cumander of Florence, first vice president; Otis P. Mills of Greenville, second vice-president; Santo Sotille of Charleston, W. P. Law of Darlington, J. W. Canfield of Greenwood and R. D. Lambert of Columbia.

Harold C. Brooker of Columbia was elected secretary of the association and the offices of the association will be located at 203 Liberty National Bank building of this city. E. V. Plane of Columbia was chosen treasurer.

The directors decided to adopt an emblem for the association and this emblem will be a guarantee of fair treatment. This emblem will be adopted within the next few days and all members of the association will be asked to use it on their stationary in their advertisements and to display it conspicuously in their place of business.

An effort will be made to have all responsible dealers in the state affiliate with the association and a special membership campaign will be inaugurated.

Mr. Sotille reported that the dealers of Charleston had perfected an organization with enthusiasm. Mr. Commander reported that the dealers of Florence county are preparing to perfect an organization. Mr. Mills brought the application of a large number of Greenville dealers for membership in the association.

John E. Cannon of Spartanburg, Senator Neils Christensen of Beaufort and Paul Hardin of Chester members of the board were unable to be present at the meeting.

The resolution urging the passage of a bill at the next session of the general assembly providing for the construction of permanent highways follows:

"Whereas it is generally recognized that permanent highways are, absolutely essential to the progress of a development of any state, and

"Whereas, a very great majority of the states in the union are now engaged in road construction and those which are not are sure to suffer because of their inactivity along that line, therefore, be it

"Resolved, That we urge that the general assembly of South Carolina and that we pledge our support to any movement looking to the construction of these permanent highways in our state because we believe this step one that we are obliged to take if we are to keep pace with sister states.

RESTORING TO USEFULNESS THE CRIPPLES OF INDUSTRY

In the interests of the common good no congress ever assembled has framed and passed a law so worthy as the cripples of industry bill which has passed both houses of the present congress.

It is estimated that fully 300,000 persons in the United States are injured in the pursuits of industry each year. More than 10 per cent. of that number require complete retraining because of the nature of their disability, which does not permit of their return to their old positions.

More than 30 per cent. of these unfortunate have dependents. In numerous cases these dependents have become a charge upon the community.

The law provides that half a million dollars will be available the first year. The second year $750,000 will be available, and the third year the government will allow $1,000,000 for the rehabilitation of the handicapped men, women and children.

Of the money so appropriated the government will give a dollar every time the State gives one to reeducate the disabled man. The State, however, must enact laws based upon the federal act if they desire to receive the benefits of this money. The States are to have their own examining boards to determine who is eligible to reeducation and training, the kind of training necessary, and the institution to which the handicapped person will be sent. The federal bill expressly provides that the State treasurer must be designated as the custodian of all State funds. Each State will proceed independently under a plan agreed upon by the State and the federal government.

It has been the experience of the federal board for vocational education that the legislative bodies of the various States have been quick to meet the government in all acts which have provided for the good of the people of their communities in the past. There is every reason to believe that every State will hasten to enact legislation which will permit it to secure benefits under the federal bill.

The desire to reclaim the disabled man has always received attention at the hands of legislative bodies. A number of States have already enacted laws modeled on that of the federal act, some giving three or four dollars for every dollar offered by the government to carry on this great work.

Just as soon as this bill comes out of conference it will be presented to the president for his signature. There is little doubt as to the attitude of the president when the bill reaches him. Further action is squarely up to the various States.

Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I was very weak, always tired, my back ached, and I felt sickly most of the time. I went to a doctor and he said I had nervous indigestion, which added to my weak condition kept me worrying most of the time—and he said if I could not stop that, I could not get well. I heard something about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound my husband wanted me to try it. I took it for a week and felt a little better. I kept it up for three months, and I feel fine and can eat anything now without distress or nervousness."—Mrs. J. WORTHLINE, 2842 North Taylor St., Philadelphia Pa.
