

MEMORIAL COMMISSION APPEALS FOR SUPPORT

To the people of South Carolina:

November 21, 1919.
Various campaigns for money, a natural reaction from the high tension of war days, intense work due to transitional conditions in the economic world, and anxiety over the cost of living are among the factors which have slowed up the Memorial campaign in this State. We think it best to look these conditions squarely in the face, so that we may know what is to be overcome.

On the other hand, South Carolinians have never before been so prosperous. In asking for voluntary donations amounting to four hundred thousand dollars, the Memorial Commission, created by the General Assembly, is not asking for anything unreasonable. And when one stops to consider the purpose for which the campaign is being waged, the request takes on an aspect that is anything but unreasonable. The sons and daughters of this State, who fought and worked so well for the great cause of democracy must never be forgotten; moreover, there must be tangible, visible evidence of the State's gratitude to them. The campaign will not fail, for South Carolinians have never yet, and never will be unappreciative of splendid services rendered.

Because the campaign for four hundred thousand dollars, to supplement the one hundred thousand made available by the General Assembly, has been retarded, the Memorial Commission has decided to continue the time for solicitation of subscriptions up to the convening of the next session of the General Assembly. At that time the Commission should be able to report full and complete success.

The impression has prevailed that the proposed memorial building would, in effect, be but a college chapel on the University grounds;

Constipation.
Most laxatives and cathartics afford only temporary relief and should be used only for that purpose. When you want permanent relief take Chamberlain's Tablets and be careful to observe the directions with each package. These tablets not only move the bowels, but improve the appetite and strengthen the digestion.

this is incorrect. The proposed building would be a historic museum for South Carolina, and its location, while on grounds held by the University trustees, would not in any way hinder its use by the general public. It would not be in theory or in fact, merely a part of the University, but both in theory and fact, a State memorial. There also has been an effort to have the type of memorial changed to a hospital, but the soldiers, through the American Legion have spoken decidedly against this proposition.

We appeal to the various counties that have not yet raised their quotas to expedite the campaign. No community can have it said that when the State was seeking to perpetuate the memory of her noble sons and daughters, that it was indifferent. A permanent memorial is necessary to keep alive the facts, and to keep fresh the inspiration.

Cholera Reduced Three Fourths.
An example of the benefit which may come to a community from the well directed efforts of State and Federal agencies, coupled with the cooperation of farmers, for the control of hog cholera is shown in a recent report of a veterinary inspector of the Bureau of Animal Industry, United States Department of Agriculture.

Hog cholera control work was inaugurated in six counties in the northeastern section of North Carolina August 1, 1916. An intensive campaign was carried on for a period of 14 months. It included investigation of reported outbreaks, demonstrations in the use of serum and virus, and the disinfection of premises. As the services of practicing veterinarians were not available, a number of laymen were trained in the administration of the serum treatment for cholera. After that period of intensive activities the work was withdrawn to another section of the State, only general supervision being given to the original area.

During October a survey was made

A Rat That Didn't Smell After Being Dead For 3 Months.

"I swear it was dead at least 3 months," said James Sykes, Butcher, Westfield, N. J. "We saw this rat every day. Put a cake of RAT-SNAP behind a barrel. Months later my wife asked about the rat. Remembered the barrel, looked behind it. There was the rat—dead, not the slightest odor." Three sizes, 25c, 50c, $1.00. Sold and guaranteed by Harmon Drug Co.

of the counties comprising the district in question, and a questionnaire was submitted to as many of the farmers as could be reached. Answers received and tabulated indicate that there has been a reduction in losses from cholera of over 72 per cent, and an increase of over 150 per cent in swine production, due to the protection offered by the immunization of the animals. There has also been a marked improvement in the type of this class of animals, due to the knowledge that it is possible to raise more and better hogs without danger of having them destroyed by cholera.

666 has proven it will cure Malaria, Chills and Fever, Bilious Fever, Colds and LaGrippe. It kills the parasite that causes the fever. It is a splendid laxative and general Tonic.—Adv.
