view school house on Tuesday night, the 23d, proceeds to go for school. Hope that every one may come and enjoy the evening with us. Mr. F. G. Able, Mrs. Suedella Oswald, Miss Nellie Turner and Mr. Eltson spent the day in Lexington Saturday, while there attended the County Teacher's Association. The weather has been very cold and disagreeable in this section for the past week. Mr. John Hayes of Alabama is visiting friends in and around Steedman for some weeks.

Hoping that every one in our vicinity may have good health and enjoy a bountiful Christmas. FEDERAL CONTROL OF RAILROADS MAY CONTINUE. Washington, Dec. 12.—It is reported that Director General Hines is opposed to the return of the railroads to their owners until after Congress has enacted permanent legislation regarding the matter. There is now apparently no possibility of railroad legislation before January 1, and the silence of the President regarding the matter leads to the belief that the Federal control of the roads will continue after the end of the year and until Congress has had ample time to pass the pending railroad bill. No direct statement to this effect has come from the White House, and no information is obtainable as to when the President will send to the capital the special message regarding the railroads which he promised in his general message at the opening of the present session on December 2. It is clear that the members of congress do not expect the President to carry out his purpose, announced some time ago, to return the railroads to their owners on January 1, and the leaders in both Houses of Congress would prefer that such action be postponed at least until June 30, 1920, the end of the present fiscal year, thus giving ample time for the adoption of carefully-considered permanent railroad legislation. The debate in the Senate yesterday on the Cummins bill disclosed strong opposition to that measure, and consequently all hope of passing it before the end of the year has been abandoned. BLACK EAGLE KILLED. Camden, Dec. 12.—While hunting in the Wateree swamp a few miles south of Camden a few days ago, Bronddus Thompson of the Hoyden section shot and killed a large black eagle. The big bird measured seven feet from tip to tip of wings. It is said to be the second large eagle killed in that section this season.—The State.
