KNOW a little old woman of 70 whose heart is as young as ----- though she were in the twenties. Her hair is as white as snow, but in her eyes there burns the fire and vim of youth. She has worked hard all her life and has saved quite a sum of money. Her people are anxious that she should stop working and live comfortably on her savings for the rest of her days; but she says she is too young to give up work yet for a while.

So she trots cheerfully about the kitchen. She is a cook. and makes the best ples in the country.

She has a keen sense of humor, and her laugh rings out a dozen times a day as gay and merry as a girl's. She likes to have young people about her, "For," she says, "Sure, Miss, are all young together, and do be having a fine time.'

Dear little old woman! Her heart is as sweet and pure and kindly as a baby's, and that is what keeps her so young. Time could not have the heart to do other than deal gently with her.

You can all keep young, if you keep from getting into a rut and keep your interest in people and things alive.

Gray hairs and wrinkles will come, but it is the spirit that really keeps you young. If your heart gets dried and old it will show in your face, for the eyes are the windows of the soul and the truest index to your character.

If you are an unmarried woman, don't sink into the typical old maid existence.

Don't be kittenish. Nothing is more objectionable than the kittenish But keep young. woman.

Keep abreast with the times. Be interested in young people and their doings, and don't withdraw yourself into a shell of reserve. Go out and visit your friends, and if you have ailments, keep them to yourself.

Don't get into one way of doing things and imagine that your way is the only way; and don't fail to appreciate a joke, even when it is at your own expense

Look for the sunshine of life, for nothing so preserves youth as cheer fuiness.

The mere fact that you are over 50 need not make you an old man or oman. If you take care of yourself and live sensibly, getting plenty of sleep and fresh air, you will be able to hold Father Time at bay for years.

Train yourself to take a cheerful view of life. Don't worry over triffes, and don't lose your temper. Frowns are great wrinkle builders.

I know that this is a true recipe for youth, for has not my little old friend proved it ?- New York Evening Journal.

The main reasons they don't marry are twofold: First, they cannot afford to keep a wife, and second, most of the marriageable women are not fit to become wives.

ple or because they can live cheaper in that state? I think

Why can't they afford to keep a wife? Simply because the various trades are so overrun with female labor that the man hasn't a chance, to earn a man's wages. A woman's sphere is the home, a man's sphere is business.

Why are most of the marriageable women unfit to become wives? I am sure I don't know. It certainly isn't the man's fault that a woman doesn't know how to sew, cook, made a bed correctly, and in fact keep a house in the way a house should be kept.

Every man likes to have a home, a place where he may rest from his labors, a wife and children to welcome him. Give a man a decent position and a woman who knows how to run a home and he will get married every time.

WAR ON "BLACK HAND."

Brutal Murder of Italian Detective Stirs New York Police-Other Cities Asked to Aid in the Extermination of the Criminals.

New York, Special. — Relentless warfare will be waged against the "Black Hand" societies by the police of this, and it is hoped, other cities as a result of the murder of Lieutenant Joseph Petrosini, the noted detective of New York, in Palermo, Friday night. For years Petrosini had been active in his work to bring to justice members of his own race who carried on blackmailing operations in this country through threats of murder made in the name of the "Black Hand." It is believed here that his murder was the result of a plot that had its incepion in the United States and that the persons indirectly responsible for his death are still within the reach of the American police. If so, every effort will be made to bring about their arrest and conviction, and with this end in view Inspector McCafferty, head of the New York detective bureau, sent telegrams Saturday to the authorities in the principal cities of the country asking that increased activity be exerted against all "Black Hand" suspects. Immediate orders were given to arrest at once all men in New York City who are believed to have connection with "Black Hand" operations. Petrosini's murderer, who was a member of the "Black Hand," fired four shots from a revolver. Petrosini arrived in Sicily only a short time ago and was engaged in conducting an investigation regarding Italian criminals.

Inspector McCafferty said Saturday that he was anxious to know whether Petrosini had been robbed after being shot. He intimated that Petrosini had some papers valuable some papers valuable to the police here in running down Black Hand and other Italian offenders.

TWO TRAINS COLLIDE PREPARING FOR ROOSEVEL "Darkest Africa" Will Welcome the Ex-President With Open Arms.

Mombasa, East Africa, By Cable .- | to a dispatch received here a record given a decided impetus to the interest in the present hunting season. The governor of the protectorate. Lient. Col. Sir James Sadler, is getting up entertainment for the distinguished visitor, but in spite of these arrangements, the greeting to Mr. Roosevelt will be more to the great sportsman whose fame is well known to local hunters than to the former president.

East African sportsmen were highly gratified to learn that Mr. Rooserefused the offer of the authorities to grant him a special hunting license that would have permitted him to kill game to an unlimited extent instead of confining himself to the wo elephants, two rhinoceroses, two appopotami, etc. Lions and leopards are classed as vermin and consequently no license to kill them is required. The white population of Mombasa has heard much of Mr. Roosevelt's personality and in a joking way frequent references to the "big stick" are being made.

The prospects for good hunting this season are considered excellent. Many settlers in the outlying districts, realizing the increasing interest in the prospects for good sport because of untarily sending in information about the movements of game. According ly to extend him a welcome.

Four families of giraffs have been seen at Makindu, 200 miles inland from here, on the line of the Uganda railroad, and elephants have been seen at Elburgon, 475 miles inland on the railroad and along the Sabaki river, not far to the north of Mombasa

R. J. Cunningham, the noted English big game hunter and naturalist, who is to be guide to and general manager of the Roosevelt party, has been here for some time completing the preparations for the trip into the wilderness as well as the shooting and collecting excursions along the line of the railroad. He is selecting and hiring native porters for the excursion. He takes only experienced men who are known to be couragoous and to possess great physical strength. The safari kit, in other words, the camp equipment for the work in the open, is to come from London and will be in readiness when Mr. Roosevelt arrives.

Everything points to a successful stay in British East Africa and Ugnda for Mr. Roosevelt; the natives are the coming of Mr. Roosevelt, are vol- peaceful; game is plentiful and the people of Mombasa are waiting eager-sometimes have a diameter of a dozen feet. The cedars, in particular, reach a vast girth, and in the valley by the roadside was one with a circumference at the ground of 63 feet, and nearby was another that had a Gothic arch cut through it affording easy passage for a man on horseback. But the tallest trees are the firs. Two hundred feet is a very moderate height, and some shoot up to above three hundred. The fall of one of the monsters when the woodsmen have cut through its base is something appalling. As the tree begins to give the sawyers hustle down from their perch and seek a safe distance. Then they look upward along the giant column and listen. "She's workin' all the time," says one.

"Yes," agrees the other, "you can hear her talkin';" and he gives a loud cry of "Timber!" to warn any fellow laborers who may be in the neighborhood.

The creaking and snapping increase, and the tree swings slowly at first, but soon with tremendous rapidity, and crashes down through the forest to the earth. There is a flying of bark and broken branches, and the air is filled with slow-settling dust. The men climb on the prostrate giant and walk along the broad pathway of the trunk to see how it lies. What pigmies they seem amid the mighty trees around! The ancient and lofty forest could well look down on them and despise their short-lived insignificance; yet their persistence and ingenuity are irresistible, and the woodland is doomed .--The Outing Magazine.
