LIFE INSURANCE THE SURE PROTECTION.

Occasionally one runs across a man who declines to protect those dependent upon him by insuring his life. He thinks insurance on his residence and other personal property is necessary—but insure his life, never! This illogical and unwise man proudly boasts of his health and strength and of his ability to care for his family under any and all circumstances. Apparently he is unmindful of the fact that so often death comes without warning and that even a hard earned competence may fade away in a night.

It is the insurance policy alone that endures; it is the only sure barrier against the encroachments of poverty and want. No man in moderate circumstances can afford to ignore this stern fact. Self-reliance is a fine thing in life, but it is not a tangible asset in the hour of death.

THE BEST IN LIFE INSURANCE.

The best life insurance policy is that one which gives the greatest amount of protection for the money expended. Any agent can figure out an estimate showing that his company PROMISES the most, but any intelligent person can see for himself that the policies of the Greensboro Life Insurance Company GUARANTEE MORE than the policies of the other company.
