

Fine Lands for Sale.

In our next issue, we will have a complete description of some fine productive, healthy, farming and cattle raising property to be sold at Marion Court House next salesday in December. These lands are divided into convenient tracts of from about 200 to 350 acres each, and are to be sold 1/4 cash; 1, 2 and 3 years with option of purchaser paying all cash. These lands are part the Est. Of W. C. McMillan, and situated ten miles below Marion at Tabernacle, and are directly on the line of railroad being built from Georgetown north. Timber is sold with usual farming privileges. For further information communicate with W. C. McMillan, administrator, Columbia, S. C., or Montgomery & Lide, Attys., Marion, S. C.

Mr. F. Andrews, who came to Dillon with the members of the Virginia-Carolina-Georgia Circuit, likes Dillon so well that he has decided to go out of the race horse business and settle here. Mr. Andrews is raffling off his racer, "Rex Hal," and will open a first-class bakery and restaurant in Dillon as soon as he can secure a suitable location. Mr. Andrews says Dillon is one of the best little towns he ever saw and he has knocked around the country a good deal while engaged in the race horse business. He is raffling "Rex Hal" for $1500. "Rex Hal" is a splendid animal and has a mark of 2:18.

The woods were full of hunters all day Thursday and quite a number of sportsmen report an excellent day's sport. Messrs. Earnest King and Jas. Sprunt joined a party of hunters down in Williamsburg county and in two days the party bagged 310 partridges. Mr. King says partridges are as plentiful in Williamsburg as dollars are in Dillon and that after the party had returned to the house at the close of the days' hunt a boy rushed in from the back way and said the garden was full of partridges. Whereupon the shooting party went out and sure enough they found a covey of birds in the spot indicated and bagged several of them also, although the day was pretty well spent. Birds are plentiful around Dillon and quite a number were killed last Thursday by local sportsmen.
