THEY SOLD WIVES IN NORTH CAROLINA IN 1804

An Old Record Shows That Just Before Christmas, 1804, One Wife Was Sold For Couple Dollars. Beaufort, N. C., Sept. 9.—In rummaging through the records at the court house here and other public records in the eastern part of the State, occasionally some remarkable documents are found. Such an instance occurred a few days ago when B. M. Potter, a civil engineer of New Bern, was examining some records in the clerk's office here. He ran across a document which sets forth the fact that in December, 1804, one Abner Willis sold his wife for the sum of $2, furthermore he states that he was "truly satisfied."

The bill of sale which was probated by the clerk of the court of pleas and quarter sessions reads as follows:

"This indenture made this 14th day of December, eighteen hundred and four, between Abner Willis, of the State of North Carolina, and county of Carteret, the one parte, and William W. Oliver, of the other parte.

"Witnesseth: That I, Abner Willis, have bargained and delivered unto Wm. W. Oliver one serten white woman by the name of Marce, which is or was formerly my wife, for the sum of two dollars, the receipt I hereby acknowledge myself truly satisfied. In witness hereof I place my hand and seal the day and year first written.

HOLDS COTTON PICKING CHAMPIONSHIP OF STATE

Aiken, Sept. 20.—Friends of Wardlaw Cherry, of Elleton, Aiken county, claims he hold the South Carolina record for picking cotton.

Mr. Cherry, it is stated, picked 466 pounds last Tuesday and on Friday beat his mark by picking 497 pounds. This is said to be the record for the State. The feat was accomplished on the farm owned by H. W. Buford and C. S. Buford.

Another Word.

A teacher was reading to her class when she came across the word "unaware." She asked the meaning. One little girl timidly raised her hand and gave the following definition. "Unaware is what you put on first and take off last."

Inquisitive.

The precocious infant had just returned from his first day at school, registering intense ennui. The anxious family gathered around.

"Donald," asked his mother, "what did you learn today?"

"Nothing."

"What, nothing at all?"

"Nope; there was a woman there who wanted to know how to spell cat, so I told her. That's all."

at 11:00 o'clock a. m. - - Rain or Shine

12 -- SMALL FARMS -- 12

This farm is located on both sides of the V. & C. S. R. R. (THE RAILROAD RUNS RIGHT THROUGH THE HEART OF THE FARM) between Hope Mills and St. Paul, North Carolina, two miles north of St. Paul and about twenty miles from Fayetteville, fourteen miles from Parkton, adjoining the lands of J. H. Ballance, McRainey, McCormick and others. A good road leads from St. Paul to the farm. There are 600 acres open and in a high state of cultivation, one good dwelling house and seventeen tenant houses, a large warehouse with a cement floor located by the railroad, one store building, sufficient barns and stable for the use of the farm, in a healthy locality, plenty of good water, good neighborhood, good schools and churches convenient.

This land is adapted to the growth of cotton, tobacco and all kinds of grain crops. Will average a bale of cotton, weighing 500 pounds per acre this year. It is especially fine land, so experienced tobacco growers say, for the production of bright leaf tobacco. There are two tobacco warehouses at St. Paul, at which place the grower of tobacco can find a ready and lucrative market.

St. Paul, the nearest town, is a very thriving town, it gained in population more than 173 per cent in the last ten years.
